Russian "Warmonger" Resolution Shelved By Assembly In First Test Ballot On Moscow's Key Plan

LAKE SUCCESS, Oct. 25.—(AP)—The United Nations political committee tonight refused to send Russia's "warmonger" resolution to a drafting sub-committee, thus handing the Soviet Union a setback in the first test ballot on Moscow's key plan before the 1947 general assembly.

The vote was 29 to 12 with four Latin American countries, India and Ethiopia joining the Soviet bloc in the minority.

As a result, the Soviet resolution will now come before the 57-nation committee for vote on Monday with delegates saying there was no chance of passage.

Other ballots will be taken on the Australian, French and Canadian versions which run virtually countre to the Soviet proposal.

Dr. Carlos Stolk, of Venezuela, sponsor of the sub-committee motion, said he felt that delegations who opposed the step did not wish to conciliate the differences between Russia and other countries.

Czechoslovakia asked for adjournment immediately after the ballot, Russia agreed and their appeal carried over British objections, 36 to 9.

In the last hour before the test vote, Russia took a conciliatory stand and appealed for a joint resolution acceptable to all. Previously Russia had plumped strenuously for adoption of its proposal with a series of slashing attacks on "war propaganda" in the United States and on the American press.

British Municipal Elections Slated Against Background Of Tough Problems

LABOR PARTY LEADERSHIP REAL ISSUE OF BALLOTING

LONDON, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Britain's Labor government faces a new test of strength next week in municipal elections which will be held against a background of economic difficulties.

The vote will be for new borough councilmen, but both Laborites and Conservatives say the real issue will be national—how the people feel about their Labor leadership.

Balloting comes at a time of new cuts in the already skimpy food rations, of a government statement that the nation must scale down its critically needed housing program, of a dollar-saving ban on U. S. tobacco imports, and of generally deepening "austerity."

Both parties gave close attention to recent municipal elections in France and Norway, both of which showed trends toward the right.

Labor leaders here privately acknowledged they may take some losses. They said they doubted, however, whether their opponents could make inroads into "the hard core" of Labor voters, numbering some 7,000,000 to 8,000,000 who are supposed to be steadfast party supporters.

Conservative party sources said they expected big gains.

CIVIC CHEST GOAL NOT YET IN SIGHT

Another Week's Extension Needed; Barely 50% Raised

Another week of the annual Twin City Community Chest drive ended last night in disappointment when the goal set for $49,000 for the support of nine local agencies was barely half raised. J. S. Cage, president of the community chest, stated that the drive must be continued for another week at least.

He stated that it was decided at the outset that there must be a 10 percent increase in the goal this year because of the increased living expenses. But many persons to date have pledged no more this time than they gave a year ago, and this to some extent explains why the goal is so far from reached. Mr. Cage urges that those who still make contributions keep in mind the need for larger contributions.

One of the chief causes of the slow process of collecting is still attributable to the delays in receiving returns from group captains. In some cases they report that heads of business houses have failed to come through with results obtained from pledges from employes.

The goal will positively be reached.

2 DIE IN CLEVELAND PAINT PLANT BLAZE

CLEVELAND, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Two men were killed and three firemen turned into human torches as a $400,000 fire punctuated by explosions of paint products swept a shingle manufacturing plant early today.

Two bodies, burned almost beyond identification, were recovered from the smouldering ruins of the Perma Products Co (7001 Morgan Ave. S. E.)

Charles Bastar, 63, night watchman at the plant, was identified positively as one of the victims through keys found alongside his body.

William Chevin, 49, a shipping clerk, was believed to be the other dead man.

PIGIRON PRODUCTION TO BEGIN IN TEXAS

DAINGERFIELD, Tex., Oct. 25.—(AP)—The first production of pigiron from East Texas ore will start here officially next Thursday at noon.

Plans for a ceremony christening the blast furnace at that time were announced today by E. B. Germany of Dallas, president of the Lone Star Steel Company, operator of the Daingerfield plant. Germany said at a news conference that the furnace is being named for a woman or girl whose identity is being kept secret until she unveils her name-plate on the furnace at the noon ceremony.

TEXAS TRAIN WRECK KILLS ONE, 36 HURT

MARSHALL, Tex., Oct. 23.—(AP)—Six cars and the locomotive of a west-bound Texas & Pacific passenger train left the track near Jefferson, Tex., station early today, killing fireman W. W. Darr, 30, of Dallas, and injuring 36 others.

The injured, most of whom suffered slight hurts included the engineer, W. C. Allison of Fort Worth, taken to the T. & P. hospital in MarsVhall with a fractured arm.

Thirty-two persons received hospital treatment; three were given first aid on the train or in the station. The railroad said "eight or ten" appeared hurt worse than the others, but none of the injuries were serious.

Jim White, Pullman porter, estimated the train was moving about 20 or 30 miles an hour as it neared the Jefferson station. He said his car suddenly stopped; there was a moment's silence, and then the darkness was filled with screams and the sound of breaking glass.

Only one car was left on the track. A baggage car and a chair car toppled on their sides. One chair car remained upright, but was reversed from its original position in the tain.

NEWS OF DEFLATION IN ITALY MAKES NEWSPAPER HEADLINES

ROME, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Italian newspapers of center and right political sympathies used their biggest headlines today to tell the people that prices were coming down.

"Don't buy, don't buy," said the big type in Giornale Della Sera. "Prices are coming down."

This was the biggest news, economic or political, an Italian newspaper could publish in this post-war period that has been marked by soaring prices, plunging currency and lagging wages.

But most of the press of the far left, which was kicked out of Premier Alcide de Gasperi's Christian Democrat government earlier this year and only a few weeks ago attempted his parliamentary overthrow on the issue of rising prices, treated the story with stony indifference.

The Socialist organ Avanti mentioned it only to brush off the price decline as a "trick" of the "interests."

Despite the efforts of every post-war government to check rising prices and halt currency depreciation, the Italian's food cost him in July, the last month for which statistics are available, 61 times the number of lire it did in 1938, clothing 68 times as much, fuel and light 48 times as much. Prices rose 25 to 33 per cent from January to July, and were still rising early in October.

Meanwhile, the average Italian's pay increased only 15 to 40 times its 1938 figure—the smaller increases go-

PRESIDENT MAPS CONTROL PROGRAM FOR FOOD GRAINS

CLAIM TRUMAN OUTWITTED GOPS ON INFLATION PLAN

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—(AP)—White House advisers were reported today at work on blueprints for rigid federal controls over grain and other world-shortage foods, while Republicans drafted their own plan of battle against high prices.

An informed official, who withheld the use of his name, told a reporter of the developing controls plan.

One Republican, Senator Flanders of Vermont, said that President Truman has outwitted the GOP by grabbing a prime 1948 political issue—the high cost of living—before Rpublicans awakened to its voter appeal.

Flanders and Senator Ferguson, Republican, Michigan, revealed in separate interviews that Republican lawmakers are drafting anti-inflation plans to match those which will be offered by Mr. Truman to the special session of Congress opening November 17.

At a closed session of the 19-member foreign aid committee headed by Secretary of Commerce Harriman, it was learned meanwhile, a demand for food allocations at the producer and distributor levels was made by Chester Davis, president of the Federal Reserve Bank.

By regulating the flow of wheat, corn and other foods into the hands of industry and exporters, the administration might hope to curtail total demand and thus indirectly depress prices—while simultaneously earmarking quantities for Europe.

In the wake of Mr. Truman's broadcast plea last night for "prompt and courageous action" by Congress to combat inflation and provide an estimated program of foreign aid this winter, came these developments:

1. A nine-member House committee, fresh from Europe, declared "continued aid should be immediately furnished." Seven of the signers of the statement, including Chairman Dewey Short of Missouri, are Republicans.

2. The Harriman committee, working on the long-range Marshall plan, was reported to be arriving at the conclusion that it cannot make any appreciable net cut in the $22,400,000,000 request delivered by 16 European countries.

3. At least 95 per cent of the distilling industry—whisky makers and industrial alcohol manufacturers alike

BRAZILIANS STILL UNDER RED GUARD IN MOSCOW HOTEL

Visa Permits Denied Pending Safe Departure Of Soviet Staff From Rio

KREMLIN REPORTS RUSSIAN DIPLOMATS WERE INSULTED

MOSCOW, Oct. 25.—(AP)—The former Brazilian Ambassador to Russia and his staff were still confined to their hotel today under "surveillance" of Soviet plainclothes guards pending a decision by the Russians on when to issue them exit visas after the Russo-Brazilian diplomatic break.

A Soviet statement by Tass news agency yesterday said the visas would not be issued until safe departure had been assured for the Soviet embassy staff in Brazil. The statement charged that Russians had been insulted and attacked by "Hooligans" in the Brazilian capital.

(Informed government sources at Rio de Janeiro expressed surprise over the detention of the Brazilian diplomats in Moscow. These sources said there had never been any indication that 32 Russians, including six diplomats, would be prevented from leaving Brazil and that preparations to this end had already started. The Russian diplomats themselves said they had expected to leave today but that they might be delayed pending word the Brazilians were leaving Moscow.)

Members of the Brazilian embassy staff said in a telephone interview to-

Paul Stinson, Jonesboro, To Oppose Incumbent For State Upper House Post

Entrance of a second candidate in the forcoming district senatorial race was announced yesterday by Travis B. Pardue, chairman of the 29th Senatorial Democratic committee, who said that Paul Stinson of Jonesboro qualified just one hour before the 5 p. m. Friday deadline.

Pardue said he had received a letter from Stinson postmarked 4 p. m. Friday and that the candidate had thereby officially qualified. Up to that time, John F. McCormick, Monroe attorney and incumbent senator from the Ouachita-Jackson district had been the only one to announce.

A native of Jonesboro, Stinson is vice-president of the Jackson Parish bank, having served previously as cashier of that institution.

BAR HARBOR, Me., Oct. 25.—(AP)—The entire state of Maine was a disaster area tonight—so proclaimed by President Truman—as forest fires spread new destruction in the northeastern states.

JAPAN IS SCENE OF UNDERCOVER POWER STRUGGLE

Clashes Between Ancient Tradition, Young Freedom Still Goes On

LITTLE CHANCE FOR SWING TO LEFT BELIEVED LIKELY

TOKYO, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Japan, after more than two years of alien occupation and five months under a Socialist Premier, is the scene of undercover struggles for power and clashes between ancient tradition and young freedom, but as a nation remains politically moderate and economically conservative.

No appreciable movement towards the left is likely under the present circumstances and the current balance of political power.

Top occupation officials and many foreign diplomats agree in forecasting for this conquered country a continued long plodding along parallel roads of reform and economic rehabilitation. Both roads are rocky.

A series of basic reforms now is in preparation at direction of supreme occupation headquarters, calling for decentralization of the still-vast economic and political power held by the oligarchs and aimed at stimulating a trend towards a competitive economy and autonomous local governments.

The Japanese Communist party remains an active minority, with considerable influence in key labor unions but with little political power. This spearhead of Soviet interests has

ARMY, ILLINOIS, CALIFORNIA FALL FROM UNBEATEN CLASS

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Army and Illinois, which played to a dramatic tie only weeks ago, were toppled today while Michigan, Notre Dame, California, Baylor, West Virginia, Wake Forest and Penn all lost some of the lustre they had gathered in college football circles this fall.

Army's skein of 32 games without a defeat was ended abruptly by a daring band of Columbia Lions, who completed 20 of 30 passes while marching to a 21 to 20 triumph. That was the first defeat suffered by the Cadets since the Navy game of 1943. Gene Rossides was the Columbia pitcher and Jack Mackmull will be remembered as the Cadet who failed to kick the extra point that would have given Army its third tie in the unbeaten string.

It was Purdue, the team that gave Notre Dame such a workout on Oct. 11, that bounced Illinois, 14 to 7. The Illini, big nine defending champions, hadn't lost since half way through the 1946 when Indiana did the trick.

To the Purdue line goes the credit for fashioning the upset which leaves Michigan as the lone unbeaten, untied outfit in the Midwest Conference.

The Wolverines, however, along with Notre Dame and Pennsylvania lost caste by having to worry for victories over opponents they were expected to handle with ease. Michigan had to hurry all the way to subdue, Minnesota, 13 to 6, while Notre Dame needed a last period touchdown period to make its score over Iowa 21 to 0. That also was the score of the Penn-Navy encounter at Philadelphia where Tony Minisi, a one-

HEAVY RED ATTACKS IN CHINA REPORTED

NANKING, Oct. 25.—(AP)—The Communists were reported making a determined attack today on the big Manchurian hydroelectric plant at Hsiaofengman.

Pro-government Chinese press accounts said the Communist drive was by two full divisions (possibly 30,000 men). They gave no details of progress, but mentioned that 1,700 workers and staff members at the plant had been given arms to help the defense, indicating it might be strenuous.

The plant, 65 miles southeast of Changchun, is the source of power for that capital city and much of southern Manchuria.

In China proper the navy and air force joined with the army in a drive aimed at ejecting Communist raiders from the Yangtze river's north bank and restoring traffic on that important artery deep within government territory.

Her husband was assigned to Selman field and their wartime romance brought together two remarkable musicians, he also being outstanding in the same line. At the present time he is professor of piano at the University of Chattanooga, in Chattanooga, Tenn.

Money that is received from the concert will be placed in the building fund of the First Methodist church, the program being under auspices of the building committee.

A Monroe man, who had purchased a ticket in advance for the recent rodeo, proceeded to the gate at Gentry arena, and carelessly pulled out what he thought was his ticket to the show. But instead he pulled out a card which W. O. (Bill) Causey had given him in connection with his present race for Ouachita parish sheriff. "Oh, I forgot, I have given the wrong thing," he mumbled to the ticket taker. "Oh that's all right, Mr. Causey. I'll let you right in on that piece of pasteboard," and he motioned for him to enter. The man, nonplussed, obeyed the gesture. Now he still has the rodeo ticket that he

MARSHALL, Tex., Oct. 23.—(AP)—Six cars and the locomotive of a west-bound Texas & Pacific passenger train left the track near Jefferson, Tex., station early today, killing fireman W. W. Darr, 30, of Dallas, and injuring 36 others.

The injured, most of whom suffered slight hurts included the engineer, W. C. Allison of Fort Worth, taken to the T. & P. hospital in MarsVhall with a fractured arm.

Thirty-two persons received hospital treatment; three were given first aid on the train or in the station. The railroad said "eight or ten" appeared hurt worse than the others, but none of the injuries were serious.

Jim White, Pullman porter, estimated the train was going about 20 or 30 miles an hour when it neared the Jefferson station. He said his car suddenly stopped; there was a moment's silence, and then the darkness was filled with screams and the sound of breaking glass.

Only one car was left on the track. A baggage car and a chair car toppled on their sides. One chair car remained upright, but its direction was reversed from its original position in the tain.

NEWS OF DEFLATION IN ITALY MAKES NEWSPAPER HEADLINES

ROME, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Italian newspapers of center and right political sympathies used their biggest headlines today to tell the people that prices were coming down.

"Don't buy, don't buy," said the big type in Giornale Della Sera. "Prices are coming down."

This was the biggest news, economic or political, an Italian newspaper could publish in this post-war period that has been marked by soaring prices, plunging currency and lagging wages.

But most of the press of the far left, which was kicked out of Premier Alcide de Gasperi's Christian Democrat government earlier this year and only a few weeks ago arranged his parliamentary overthrow on the issue of rising prices, treated the story with stony indifference.

The Socialist organ Avanti mentioned it only to brush off the price decline as a "trick" of the "interests."

Despite the efforts of every post-war government to check rising prices and halt currency depreciation, the Italian's food cost him in July, the last month for which statistics are available, 61 times the number of lire it did in 1938, clothing 68 times as much, fuel and light 48 times as much. Prices rose 25 to 33 per cent from January to July, and were still climbing early in October.

Meanwhile, the average Italian's pay increased only 15 to 40 times its 1938 figure—the smaller increases go-

PRESIDENT MAPS CONTROL PROGRAM FOR FOOD GRAINS

CLAIM TRUMAN OUTWITTED GOPS ON INFLATION PLAN

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—(AP)—White House advisers were reported today at work on blueprints for rigid federal controls over grain and other world-shortage foods, while Republicans drafted their own plan of battle against high prices.

An informed official, who withheld the use of his name, told a reporter of the developing controls plan.

One Republican, Senator Flanders of Vermont, said that President Truman has outwitted the GOP by grabbing a prime 1948 political issue—the high cost of living—before Republicans awakened to its voter appeal.

Flanders and Senator Ferguson, Republican, Michigan, revealed in separate interviews that Republican lawmakers are drafting anti-inflation plans to match those which will be offered by Mr. Truman to the special session of Congress opening November 17.

At a closed session of the 19-member foreign aid committee headed by Secretary of Commerce Harriman, it was learned meanwhile, a demand for food allocations at the producer and distributor levels was made by Chester Davis, president of the Federal Reserve Bank.

By regulating the flow of wheat, corn and other foods into the hands of industry and exporters, the administration might hope to curtail total demand and thus indirectly depress prices—while simultaneously earmarking quantities for Europe.

In the wake of Mr. Truman's broadcast plea last night for "prompt and courageous action" by Congress to combat inflation and provide an estimated program of foreign aid this winter, came these developments:

1. A nine-member House committee, fresh from Europe, declared "continued aid should be immediately furnished." Seven of the signers of the statement, including Chairman Dewey Short of Missouri, are Republicans.

2. The Harriman committee, working on the long-range Marshall plan, was reported to be arriving at the conclusion that it cannot make any appreciable net cut in the $22,400,000,000 request delivered by 16 European countries.

3. At least 95 per cent of the distilling industry—whisky makers and industrial alcohol manufacturers alike

BRAZILIANS STILL UNDER RED GUARD IN MOSCOW HOTEL

KREMLIN REPORTS RUSSIAN DIPLOMATS WERE INSULTED

MOSCOW, Oct. 25.—(AP)—The former Brazilian Ambassador to Russia and his staff were still confined to their hotel today under "surveillance" of Soviet plainclothes guards pending a decision by the Russians on when to issue them exit visas after the Russo-Brazilian diplomatic break.

A Soviet statement by Tass news agency yesterday said the visas would not be issued until safe departure had been assured for the Soviet embassy staff in Brazil. The statement charged that Russians had been insulted and attacked by "Hooligans" in the Brazilian capital.

(Informed government sources at Rio de Janeiro expressed surprise over the detention of the Brazilian diplomats in Moscow. These sources said there had never been any indication that 32 Russians, including six diplomats, would be prevented from leaving Brazil and that preparations to this end had already started. The Russian diplomats themselves said they had expected to leave today but that they might be delayed pending word the Brazilians were leaving Moscow.)

Members of the Brazilian embassy staff said in a telephone interview to-

SECOND CANDIDATE IN SENATE RACE

Paul Stinson, Jonesboro, To Oppose Incumbent For State Upper House Post

Entrance of a second candidate in the forcoming district senatorial race was announced yesterday by Travis B. Pardue, chairman of the 29th Senatorial Democratic committee, who said that Paul Stinson of Jonesboro qualified just one hour before the 5 p. m. Friday deadline.

Pardue said he had received a letter from Stinson postmarked 4 p. m. Friday and that the candidate had thereby officially qualified. Up to that time, John F. McCormick, Monroe attorney and incumbent senator from the Ouachita-Jackson district had been the only one to announce.

A native of Jonesboro, Stinson is vice-president of the Jackson Parish bank, having served previously as cashier of that institution.

At a meeting of the First Regional Clearing House Association here Friday, he was named one of the directors of the organization.

Besides his banking position, Stin-

PARIS, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Three Paris newspapers published dispatches today saying the U. S. army was planning to send troops to Greece.

JONES LASHES OUT AT CAMPAIGN FOES

Gubernatorial Candidate Cites Record At Rally Held In West Monroe

Lashing out against "those who would describe the past two administrations as do-nothings, "gubernatorial candidate Sam Jones last night cited a record of achievements in the past eight years which, he asserted, "have enabled Louisiana to "take its rightful place among the progressive states of the nation."

"Only the selfish grasping politicians who have robbed you and kept you in economic slavery now want you to foresake these gains," the former governor told a West Monroe political rally, adding:

Fires Reported Still Spreading

20 Perish As Forest Blazes Sweep Northeastern States; Property Loss Set At $27,000,000

BAR HARBOR, Me., Oct. 25.—(AP)—The entire state of Maine was a disaster area tonight—so proclaimed by President Truman—as forest fires spread new destruction in the northeastern states.

New outbreaks in New England came as rising daytime winds threatened the defense gains made during a calm night.

The forest fire death toll mounted from 18 to 20 in the nation and in New England property loss now stands at $27,000,000.

Sixty families fled from sections north of this center at Ireson Hill and Salisbury cove, spared in the wide flame paths which drove 3,500 out of here Thursday night and destroyed summer mansions of the nation's notables.

BOSTON, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Flames razed most of the tiny Maine village of Dayton tonight and swept on toward the industrial city of Saco as forest fires raged relentlessly across the northeastern states.

City officers said Saco was in no immediate danger, but the city's 8,600 residents were alerted as the blaze reached within five miles of the community.

White Plains, N. Y., reported two fresh fires nearby as other parts of the state listed their blazes as out or under control.

The situation by states was this:

CALDWELL YOUTH DIES OF INJURIES

Clyde Allen, Jr., Victim Of Motorcycle-Truck Collision Near Grayson

COLUMBIA, La., Oct. 25.—(Special)—Nineteen-year-old Clyde Allen, Jr, of Clarks, died in a local clinic early this morning following injuries received when his motorcycle collided head-on with a truck near Grayson late yesterday afternoon.

Young Allen, reported enroute to Grayson to pick up a leather jacket he had left in a shoe shop for repairs, was taken by a passing motorist to the Caldwell clinic where he succumbed shortly after midnight.

According to reports, the truck, operated by Phillip Kinneson of Grayson, was executing a left turn into a side road just outside the Grayson city limits when the accident occurred. Kinneson was reported to have escaped the crash uninjured.

Allen, an employe of the Louisiana Central Ice Company, is survived

LEPER-HEALTHY GIRL PLAN TO BE MARRIED

CARVILLE, La., Oct. 25.—(AP)—Authorities at the United States Leprosarium told the story today of a healthy, attractive girl who has decided to marry one of the patients, a handsome war veteran afflicted with leprosy.

Dr. Frederick A. Johansen, medical director of the leprosarium, said the couple plans to live in New York, although the man is not completely cured.

JAPAN IS SCENE OF UNDERCOVER POWER STRUGGLE

LITTLE CHANCE FOR SWING TO LEFT BELIEVED LIKELY

TOKYO, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Japan, after more than two years of alien occupation and five months under a Socialist Premier, is the scene of undercover struggles for power and clashes between ancient tradition and young freedom, but as a nation remains politically moderate and economically conservative.

No appreciable movement towards the left is likely under the present circumstances and the current balance of political power.

Top occupation officials and many foreign diplomats agree in forecasting a prove for this conquered country a continued long plodding along parallel roads of reform and economic rehabilitation. Both roads are rocky.

A series of basic reforms now is in preparation at direction of supreme occupation headquarters, calling for decentralization of the still-vast economic and political power held by the oligarchs and aimed at stimulating a trend towards a competitive economy and autonomous local governments.

The Japanese Communist party remains an active minority, with considerable influence in key labor unions but with little political power. This spearhead of Soviet interests has

'FUNERAL SHIP' ARRIVES IN N. Y.

Over 100 Bodies Of Louisiana Servicemen Returned Home For Burial

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—(Special)—Flags were lowered to half-mast throughout New York City today and the harbor was cloaked in mourning as the U. S. Army Transport Joseph V. Connolly, slowly slipped into her berth bearing the bodies of over 100 Louisiana servicemen who lost their lives in the Battle of the Bulge and other European actions.

Special trains waited to carry the Connelly's heroic passengers to 15 distribution centers throughout the nation from which they will be returned individually to their families who requested their transfer from military cemeteries abroad.

Most of the Louisiana bodies will be taken to Memphis, Tenn., general distribution point for return to their home locations. Some, however, will go to Atlanta and one or two to Fort Worth and Philadelphia.

HEAVY RED ATTACKS IN CHINA REPORTED

NANKING, Oct. 25.—(AP)—The Communists were reported making a determined attack today on the big Manchurian hydroelectric plant at Hsiaofengman.

Pro-government Chinese press accounts said the Communist drive was by two full divisions (possibly 30,000 men). They gave no details of progress. But mentioned that 1,700 workers and their families at the plant had taken up arms to help the defense, indicating it might be strenuous.

The plant, 65 miles southeast of Changchun, is the source of power for that capital city and much of southern Manchuria.

In China proper the navy and air force joined with the army in a drive aimed at ejecting Communist raiders from the Yangtze river's north bank and restoring traffic on that important artery deep within government territory.

ARMY, ILLINOIS, CALIFORNIA FALL FROM UNBEATEN CLASS

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Army and Illinois, which played to a dramatic tie only weeks ago, were toppled today while Michigan, Notre Dame, California, Baylor, West Virginia, Wake Forest and Penn all lost some of the lustre they had gathered in college football circles this fall.

Army's skein of 32 games without a defeat was ended abruptly by a fighting band of Columbia Lions, who completed 20 of 30 passes while marching to a 21 to 20 triumph. That was the first defeat suffered by the Cadets since the Navy game of 1943. Gene Rossides was the Columbia pitcher and Jack Mackmull will be remembered as the Cadet who failed to kick the extra point that would have given Army its third tie in the unbeaten string.

It was Purdue, the team that gave Notre Dame such a workout on Oct. 11, that bounced Illinois, 14 to 7. The Illini, big nine defending champions, hadn't lost since that wild hay through the 1946 when Indiana did the trick.

To the Purdue line goes the credit for fashioning the upset which leaves Michigan as the lone unbeaten, untied outfit in the Midwest Conference.

The Wolverines, however, along with Notre Dame and Pennsylvania lost caste by having to worry for victories over opponents they were expected to handle with ease. Michigan had to hurry all the way to subdue, Minnesota, 13 to 6, while Notre Dame needed a last period touchdown to make its score over Iowa 21 to 0. That also was the score of the Penn-Navy encounter at Philadelphia where Tony Minisi, a one-

DR. MARY MIMS TO SPEAK HERE

Noted Sociologist To Give Address At N. J. C. Tonight

Dr. Mary Mims, of Louisiana State University, will speak in the Northeast Junior College auditorium tonight at 7:30 o'clock in a service sponsored by the Wesleyan Guild of the Memorial Methodist Church. She is one of the nation's leading women speakers and founder of Louisiana's own system of community work and folk schools. She has made a wide reputation as rural sociologist in her connection with the state university.

Audiences in 46 states have listened to and applauded Miss Mims when she spoke so picturesquely and convincingly concerning the great value of community work and folk schools to a state, and many are looking forward to hearing her at this meeting.

Miss Mims is no ordinary person. Loved by almost every citizen of Louisiana and affectionately known in every nook and corner of the state as "Miss Mary," she has attained nation-wide fame and her name is often found on the list of speakers at important national gatherings. Miss Mary studied in nine foreign countries with special study in Denmark.

Her office is in Baton Rouge at the Louisiana State University, but one might say that her headquarters are out in the state wherever there are communities with a problem and a job to be done. She now has some 1,000-odd communities in Louisiana organized into cohesive groups working for the mutual benefit of all concerned.

Her first bit of community work was done in the Ringgold community in Bienville parish, Louisiana, back in 1918 when she was the principal of the two-room school there. Realizing the needs of that section, she began a campaign for a better school for the community and within a few years' time a $40,000 brick school had been erected.

Her efforts with the Ringgold school and subsequent work attracted the attention of Louisiana State University authorities who asked her to do similar work throughout the state. Soon she was organizing communities all over the state, encouraging all the people in communities to meet together, to analyze their big problems, and set up goals that all could work toward together.

Her talents lie, not in the oratorical field alone, for her writings are seen in state and national journals and have brought her further recognition. She is author of "The Awakening Community," a book which brought a letter of commendation to her from the late Associate Justice Brandeis of the United States supreme court. This book is being used by Harvard and other large universities in courses in sociology.

She is a member of the state library board of Louisiana, member of the commission of the School for Deaf and Blind, member of the board of directors of the Louisiana Federated Women's Clubs, was the first woman principal in Louisiana, first woman president of the Louisiana Teachers Association, and is the possessor of other honors.

STATE LABOR CHIEF WILL VISIT MONROE

E. H. 'Lige' Williams, president of the Louisiana State Federation Of Labor, will be in Monroe Tuesday night to assist in organization of local labor voting strength, according to an announcement by Leon Johnston, chairman of the Better Citizen's Council.

Williams, Johnston said, would be present at a meeting of the council at City Hall, scheduled to start at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Labor leaders of Monroe said that Williams has been president of the state A. F. of L. for over 15 years. They credit Williams with the growth of federated crafts and unions in Louisiana during that time. Well informed labor officials said that he had been primarily responsible for the present 250,000 state membership in the A. F. of L.

Williams is a member of the Shreveport Barber's Union, and a resident there. He is, however, a full-time president. A great part of his time, Johnston said, is spent in traveling about the state in an effort to keep in close contact with local unions.

No formal speech has been scheduled for the Tuesday meeting, Johnston said. Registration cards will be accepted and plans are being made to select ward captains and groups.

According to Johnston, Williams, in his duties as president of the A. F. of L., is spearheading the current drive to consolidate labor votes in the January elections.

GIRL SCOUTS TO OBSERVE WEEK

Will Have Public Program At O. P. H. S. Sunday Afternoon

Members of the 30 Girl Scout troops of the Twin Cities will participate in a public program to be held at the Ouachita Parish High School auditorium Sunday at 3 p.m. This will be the opening feature of Girl Scout Week which is being celebrated here in conjunction with a national observation.

The Rev. Lea Joyner, assistant pastor of the First Methodist Church will give an inspirational talk as a feature of the "Scout's Own" program.

Mrs. F. O. Seymour will serve as pianist for the occasion. The pledge to the flag will be given by the audience and an introduction to Scouting will be rendered by Pat Powless. Intermediate and Brownie troops will render the "Scout's Promise," while troops 13 and 17 will lead the Lord's Prayer. All of the Girl Scouts present will participate in a rendition of "Taps."

Mrs. Rodney Cline, program chairman, made arrangements for the Sunday program which will be followed by other individual troop observances throughout the week. The climax of the anniversary celebration will be the opening of the Girl Scout House to the public on Friday afternoon with a program scheduled for Scouts and their leaders on Saturday.

NEXT MISSISSIPPI GOVERNOR KNOWN

Wright Faces Two More Elections But Is Certain Of Office

By Carl Corbin

JACKSON, Miss., Oct. 25.—(AP)—In this state where predicting the outcome of a political race is as risky as picking weekly football winners, it is safe to say who will be the next governor.

You can make that prediction now, even though two elections must be held before he takes office.

That is because Mississippi is so predominantly a Democratic party state.

Nomination in the party primary is tantamount to election. Everybody realizes that.

The general election, on November 4, will be an endorsement of the Democratic candidate. Everybody realizes that, too. There is only a handful of non-Democrats in the state.

What many do not realize, however, is that the candidate nominated in the primary and declared winner in the general election is still not technically elected until a third voting is held.

That is the casting of the electorial vote in the house of representatives.

The state constitution provides that "the person found to have received a majority of all the electorial votes, and also a majority of the popular vote, shall be declared elected."

If no such majority is obtained, the constitution continues, the house shall proceed to choose a governor from the two persons who shall have received the highest number of popular votes.

This electorial-vote check was inserted in the constitution of 1890 to provide a means for keeping Negroes, who conceivably could receive a larger popular vote, from being elected.

There has never been an occasion for the check to be used. Always the electorial vote has been a reflection of the popular vote.

But during the reconstruction days there had been Negroes in state offices. And the white-supremacy minded writers of the constitution were determined that the mechanics would be available to block an overwhelming popular vote for a Negro candidate if it occurred.

Under the electorial arrangement, each county or legislative district is entitled to as many electorial votes as it has members in the house.

The candidate receiving the highest vote in the county or district is entitled to its electorial votes.

The electorial arrangement would act as an advantage to the counties with a fewer number of voters. The county would carry weight in the electorial voting in a proportion greater than of its popular vote.

The speaker of the house within one day after he has been elected receives the certified election returns from the secretary of state. Then, says the constitution:

"The speaker shall, on the next Tuesday after he shall have received said returns, open and publish them in the presence of the house of representatives, and said house shall ascertain and count the vote of each county and legislative district and decide any contest that may be made concerning the same, and said decision shall be made by a majority of the whole number of members of the house of representatives concurring therein."

Mississippi's next governor, incidentally, will be Fielding L. Wright. He was nominated in the first Democratic primary in the summer.

NEXT MISSISSIPPI GOVERNOR KNOWN

Wright Faces Two More Elections But Is Certain Of Office

Uniform Air Safety

It is fortunate that the Civil Aeronautics Board is investigating the non-scheduled, or charter, airlines against a background of narrow escape rather than tragedy. But the rescue of the 69 persons aboard the Bermuda Sky Queen in the storm-swept North Atlantic does not make the forced landing of that flying boat more excusable, or the investigation less necessary.

Two sets of CAB regulations now govern the operation of scheduled and non-scheduled airlines. The commercial lines, for instance, must carry a three-hours' supply of extra fuel on overseas flights. Their pilots must have had at least 1,200 hours' flying experience to obtain a license. There are other rules regarding maximum loads, runway lengths, and so on.

The non-scheduled carrier need have only an extra 45 minutes' fuel supply, which is why the Sky Queen had to be ditched. Its pilots are required to have only 200 hours of experience. Load and runway rules do not apply.

Human lives, of course, are involved in both types of operation. But, for reasons of economy, the CAB seems to have assumed that the lives of the paying passengers are considerably more important.

There are reports of many illegal operations under minimum safety rules, since the CAB forbade the carrying of passengers by charter lines. This ban arose from the CAB's decision that, with faster and more frequent scheduled service by domestic and foreign carriers, there was not enough business to warrant the non-scheduled lines' carrying passengers.

Since that ban went into effect Sept. 10, some non-schedule operators, if reports are true, have been getting away with potential murder. They are said to have leased their ships and crews to foreign travel agencies or airlines, or to have set up phony corporations here.

There are other questions that need answering. For one thing, why has the CAB been so lax in enforcing its rules? Is it shortage of manpower, inefficiency, or something more sinister? The board was one of the government agencies hardest hit in the last budget cut by Congress. If that is the reason for a situation which is a threat to the lives of air passengers, then certainly the CAB should be given enough money to carry out its duties.

Is it better to maintain two sets of safety regulations or to permit charter airlines to carry passengers under a uniform set of rules? Whatever the answer, any who have violated the present ban on the trans-oceanic transport of passengers by charter plane should be dealt with severely.

Another obvious need is for the adoption of uniform legal, economic and safety regulations by all governments which operate, or whose nationals operate, passenger flights outside their boundaries. This would prevent the type of dodge that is charged in the present situation. International air authorities have recommended such a step, but the governments have failed to take it.

The harrowing experience of the Bermuda Sky Queen's passengers has done all aviation an injustice. This near-tragedy is bound to stick in the public mind, despite the remarkable safety record in trans-oceanic flight established by the armed forces' transport services and by commercial carriers. The least that aviation authorities and operators can do is offer the international air traveler reasonable assurance of safety, by whatever line or plane he travels.

HOSPITALITY

The behavior of some of our people at times makes us wonder if Darwin wasn't right, William Jennings Bryan to the contrary notwithstanding.

The latest exhibition which brings about this observation occurred between the halves of the Ouachita-Fair Park football game Thursday night. Fair Park brought along its very fine band, which we are sure was appreciated by Ouachita school officials and many others. During the intermission the band paraded, played beautifully and formed several intricate figures on the playing field. During this exhibition one local "host" continually bore down on an old-style Klaxon horn; another did his best to spoil the effects of a firefly number by turning a powerful flashlight on the Fair Park maneuver. But to cap the climax, when the band members marched off the field there was a chorus of boos which was almost as vociferous as the applause.

We sincerely hope that there weren't many out-of-town spectators present to witness this display of boorishness.

DRAWBACK FOR "LIBERALS"

Prime Minister Attlee of Britain was not giving out with an original thought when he said that England will rise or fall according to how hard the people work. But his remark was a revealing commentary on the efforts of the liberals. The labor government in England is doing everything in its power to divide up the country's wealth between its followers. Unfortunately, the followers, realizing they have a lead-pipe cinch on jobs and wages, are cheating by refusing to do a fair day's work.

The British worker, having been given every advantage in the form of shorter hours and higher pay, cannot understand that unless these benefactions are worked for, they cannot be continued. He sees no crisis in his country today and doesn't believe it when told there is one.

The thing that keeps a man at the peak of efficiency is the necessity for striving. Let the "liberals," who want to make everything peaches and cream for the "common" man, draw a blueprint to get around that economic truth.

Jimmie Fidler IN HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 25.—The Motion Picture Research Society, which has campaigned against divorced screen stars, is now asking for a California state law, obliging all citizens to file a record of their past marital crashes . . . Time out for cowboy hero Tim Holt, on crutches as the result of a kick from his new $6,000 palomino . . . I hear Republic has inked a deal with Mickey Walker, the retired middleweight champ, to film his life story . . . Wotzis about Marlene Dietrich planning a divorce suit against her long-estranged spouse, Rudolph Sieber?

If you've wondered about a "dog's life" in Hollywood, be advised that Lassie's new term contract with MGM calls for a weekly wage of $2,000! . . . The Marjorie Liszt, currently screen-testing for a role in the Wagner-Liszt film to be produced by Nat Finston, is actually a great grand-daughter of Franz Liszt . . . Catherine McLeod, recently wed to a San Franciscan, is asking Republic for a release from contract; she wants to live in the Bay City and work only occasionally in pictures . . . Brian Aherne is excited over geologists' reports of a huge coal deposit on his ranch near Ephraim, Utah. Elizabeth Groudge, author of "Green Dolphin Street," is said to be critically ill in London. . . . Liquor interests are making a concerted drive to break down the long-time studio ban against screen star endorsements of alcoholic drinks . . . Add Hollywood fashion notes: Filmville's best-dressed gals are ordering skirts made of squirrel skins from their favorite furriers.

Preview Nights: Pic of the Week: MGM's "Green Dolphin Street" (Lana Turner-Van Heflin-Donna Reed). Big enough to justify studio superlatives, and gripping enough to keep every audience engrossed . . . Recommended: "Girl of the Canal" (English made). A semi-documentary film, showing a little-known phase of British life—and a picture that will win cheers from discerning fans . . . Good: Universal-International's "The Exile" (Douglas Fairbanks-Paule Croset-Maria Montez). Historical fact takes a brutal beating, but the picture's fast pace will please action lovers . . . Columbia's "The Swordsman" (Larry Parks-Ellen Drew-George Macready). A horse opera in kilts, with a mile-a-minute plot . . . So-So: Columbia's "When a Girl's Beautiful." (Adele Jergens-Marc Platt). Featherweight supporting fare . . . Best Performance: Richard Hart in "Green Dolphin Street."

According to a film trade paper, Howard Hughes, when and if he ever completes his current picture, "Vendetta," plans to retire permanently from movie-making. He says that what with soaring costs, unnecessary delays and confusing censorship, he's "plumb disgusted" with producing. Well, if that's the why he feels, he shouldn't be lonesome. A lot of people who saw his last production, "The Outlaw," are also plumb disgusted—period!

The other day, I'm informed, one of Hollywood's biggest studios, now preparing a new vehicle for its most famous star, instructed writers to capitalize on the sensational Overell murder case by making many of the scenes in the film correspond with actual incidents of the trial. What a disgusting recommendation for a picture! If Hollywood's ingenuity has become so exhausted that it must draw material from one of the most thoroughly distasteful "sensations" of recent years, it's high time for the studios to start looking for fresh talent and new imaginations.

"Heaven Only Knows" is certainly anything but a mile-post in movie progress, but I'm ready to hail it as one of the outstanding events of the year if it brings Stuart Erwin back into the prominence he desrves. To date, I haven't talked with one Hollywoodite who, after seeing Erwin's performance in "Heaven Only Knows," has failed to wonder why the picture makers have neglected a comic with such remarkable ability. His role is comparatively small but he makes it sparkle. I've never seen him turn in bad work in all the years he's been before the cameras.

Cara Williams, a 20th Century-Fox starlet got her name into print last week by announcing that she is "fed up—because all the boys you meet in Hollywood are the same." Now that's what I'd call a perfect case of the pot calling the kettle black; the girls of Hollywood, thanks to studio "glamourizing" formulas, are such remarkable carbon copies that it takes a discerning eye to tell them apart. If Miss Williams, or any other starlet who finds Hollywood boys "all the same," would strive to be different, herself, she might find that her escorts would show considerable individuality, also.

These Days
By George E. Sokolsky

THE HOLLYWOOD SMEARBUND

Everything and everybody can be investigated in this country except the mummers and puppets of Hollywood who have set themselves up as intellectuals par excellence. These hoofers and literary hacks and imitators of gangsters have for so long been above the law, they have for so long lived as though a class apart, elevated socially beyond all fitness.

The Thomas committee is now investigating just what has been going on in Bedlam and some smart lawyers and publicity men are rearing to make an honest dollar yelling and screaming and imitating some of those who have misbehaved before congressional committees. In a word, Hollywood has written a script to make the Thomas committee's investigation ridiculous. Howard Hughes and Johnny Meyer did that to Senators Brewster and Ferguson who, unaccustomed to vaudeville, discovered themselves smeared for trying to find out what happened to the money of the American taxpayer—$40,000,000 of it. Or is that too small an item to notice?

Now comes a group of Hollywood mimics and such and they plan to reject investigation as a violation of freedom of speech. They hire Robert W. Kenny and Bartley Crum as their lawyers and they will put on a show unless the committee sits on them properly. The right of a congressional committee to investigate practically anything has been well substantiated by supreme court decisions. The committee acts not as a trial court but as a grand jury and therefore may employ discretions beyond the rules of evidence which limit trial procedures in a court of law. A committee may or may not permit counsel to assist but rarely, if ever, tolerates cross-examination, for that process is useful to protect innocence but does not serve to uncover the precise truth. The committee does not find them guilty or absolve them; it seeks to determine what is for the general welfare.

Larry Parks apparently assumes the role of leader among those who have hired counsel to raise constitutional questions which they, as lawyers, know have already been answered. According to the "Daily Worker," among those who have joined Parks in this effort are Paulette Goddard, Henry Fonda, Gregory Peck, Van Heflin, Myrna Loy, Katharine Hepburn, Burgess Meredith, David Gardner, Dorothy McGuire, Marsha Hunt and Paul Henreid.

What the Thomas committee wants to find out is why so many motion pictures contains gobs of Communist propaganda. This is very difficult to establish either for the motion picture or the radio.

I once had a curious experience about that. I was listening to one of my favorite programs on the radio, over the more conservative network, sponsored by probably the most capitalistic of American business groups and issued by an advertising firm whose head has fought Communism tooth and nail. Yet the script was straight Communist propaganda as though issued by the Comintern. I sent for the script and underlined the tricky lines and showed just how it was done. That happens all the time.

In an unrealistic decision, Judge Fuld, of the Court of Appeals of the state of New York, declared it libelous to call any person a Communist. As very few Communists are provably members of the party, which is an international conspiracy for world revolution in the interest of Soviet Russia, many persons can serve that party, perform its tasks, damage the United States, corrupt our children, debase their minds, pervert our textbooks, radio scripts and motion pictures, and pose as Republicans, Democrats, and even as church members. They change their names as they change their faces and hide their crimes under the protection of the law which is designed to safeguard decent persons from the excesses of police power.

The public has, of course, recourse. I personally purchase no goods manufactured Behind the Iron Curtain. I go to no movies in which known Communists are stars or which are written by Communists. I buy no products advertised on the radio whose manufacturers sponsor what I accept as Communist-inspired programs. That is my privilige and choice. Nobody can force me to pay for what I do not wish to purchase. I can fight Communism with my consumer's dollar.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By William E. Gilroy, D. D.
Stripture: James 3:1-6; 4:4-10

The word "standards" has at least two meanings.

In the one sense, it refers to an ideal of perfection, or correctness, by which all other things in the same class are measured or tested. It is in this sense, and for this purpose, that our government has established a Bureau of Standards, and that Greenwich, in Britain, established a center for the measuring of time and longitude.

In the other sense, the standard has been the flag, or banner, under which men fought in battle; to be defended with all the courage, and the very lives, of the brave.

When we speak of Christian standards we may be sure that there is reference to both these meanings. Jesus said: "Be ye perfect, even as your Father which is in heaven is perfect." Paul set up Love as the test of the perfect life. Everywhere through the Bible, in the Old Testament and in the New, the marks and qualities—the standards—of the good life are set forth.

Similarly, though the references are not many in Scripture, they are specific to banners, or ensigns, as standards or rallying symbols of loyalty to God, His leaderships and commands. The Psalmist (Psalm 60:4) represents God as giving a banner to them that fear Him, "that it may be displayed because of the truth." And there are various references, as in Isaiah 5:26, to "an ensign to the nations," and in Isaiah 11:10, to "an ensign of the people."

True standards of conduct, therefore, are not alone for the individual; they are social, for the people and for the nations. How greatly today we need these ancient conceptions, so emphasized by the Hebrew prophets in the heroic age of Israel! How different history might have been, if that prophetic ideal of one world, established in peace, and brotherhood and righteousness, had become a reality! Yet how sadly the world, even today, is neglecting the prophetic factors without which that "one world" can never be realized. "Let judgment run down as waters, and righteousness as a mighty stream" (Amos 5:24).

Can anything less purge the world of its evils, its violence, and its hates? And social, world-wide and international as this righteousness must be, it must have its source and rise in individual lives. So, standards of Christian conduct must be the essential foundation of a new and better world.

Nor are "Christian" standards to be thought of as opposed to anything of good that any other religion has taught. The standards of conduct that Christianity emphasizes are not arbitrary, or artificial. They are inherent in the basic condition of good life among men—honesty, sincerity, justice, mercy, and all the things to accord others that one might with reason desire from others toward one's self. The standards of conduct are comprised in the Golden Rule: "As ye would that men should do toward you, do ye even so toward them."

CHARITY, BLACKMAIL, OR WAR?

I don't know how the rest of you folks in the South feel about it, but as for me, I am getting mighty tired of having this continual bug-a-boo or scare or threat, or whatever you want to call it, thrown up to us that certain nations will go Communist if we don't pour into them, gratis, our material resources. I sometimes feel like we ought to tell them that if that's the way they feel about it, if they think that's the best way to solve their troubles—then go ahead and go Communist!

After all, what is back of all this talk about "foreign aid?" Let's at least be honest about it. Is it charity to people in dire need? or are we being blackmailed into helping these nations for fear of the spread of Communism? Or are we just outright fighting a cold war with the group of nations centered in totalitarian Communist Russia?

We can rather quickly dismiss the thought that it's simply charity to starving people. If it were, our whole attention and aid would not be centered on the countries of western Europe. Charity knows no national boundaries or places or races—and if all reports are true, there is much more starving going on in China and India than in all the nations of Europe.

As a matter of fact, of course, President Truman himself has indicated to us that the purpose of even the emergency aid contemplated is a combination of politics and charity. So, when he states that, ". . . . the food-saving program . . . offers an opportunity to each of you to make a contribution to peace . . . An essential requirement of lasting peace in the world is the restoration of the countries of western Europe as free, self-supporting democracies . . .," it is only natural to wonder just how many bushels of wheat it takes to "restore a democracy." Or, to ask the question, if democracy can be bought, how long will it stay bought?

Since this is not primarily a question of charity, the actual fact must then be that we are either being scared into extending this "aid to Europe," or we are actually at war with Russia and its satellites just short of shooting. There is no sound basis of reason for it, if it's the former; there should be no "beating around the bush" about it, if it's the latter.

The administration leader, Senator Barkley, is reported to have said in Rome the other day that we must feed these nations of Europe because "an empty stomach is a Communist workshop." That is a catchy phrase, but is it true? Personally, I like better a statement attributed to General MacArthur lately, in which he said, "It is a false concept that democracy can thrive only in plenty. On the contrary, history proves that it thrives on struggle and hardship and toil."

These two views, it seems to me, represent the difference between politicians and statesmen. General MacArthur has been studying his history. He was no doubt thinking of the struggling thirteen colonies which combined to form the American Republic. He was perhaps thinking of th states of the South, which were left as desperate and as destitute after the War Between the States as any region at any time. Did the thirteen colonies form a Communist Totalitarian Government? They did not! Did the Southern people turn their backs on the ideals and principles of democracy which they had always cherished, and go Communist in their thinking? They did not! In both cases, the ideals of democracy thrived on "struggle and hardship and toil."

If we are to continue pouring out money and food and materials all over the face of the globe, we at least need to know why we are doing it. If it's charity, it should be handled on a humanitarian basis. If it's blackmail—well, the American people don't scare easily. If it's war, then just talk and half-way measures will not suffice.

These are my personal views. I should like to know how others in the South feel about it.

L. T. I. ESCAPEE IS RECAPTURED

McKinney Taken By West Monroe Police On Illinois Central

Youthful Jesse James McKinney's brief bid for freedom ended early Saturday morning with his apprehension by West Monroe police on the Illinois Central railroad near the Plum Street crossing in West Monroe. McKinney's home is on Pearl Street, only a short distance from the place of capture.

The 17-year-old youth, an inmate of the Louisiana Training Institute here, had been the object of a small-scale manhunt since his escape from the institution early Friday night.

West Monroe officers said McKinney was captured after word had been received that he was hiding beneath a house just south of the railroad tracks. A search of the vicinity failed to disclose McKinney. Later the officers were notified that the youth had hidden in the attic of another home. By the time patrol cars had been dispatched, however, he had left. He was captured only a short distance away, as he ran along the railroad, by Officers H. J. Lawrence and J. B. Hinnon who said that he made no effort to resist capture.

McKinney, described by police as a known car thief, had been placed in the local institution for juvenile boys a week ago following his return to Monroe from Gurdon, Ark., for the theft of an automobile belonging to L. M. Ray, local contractor. Police said McKinney had spent a previous term at L. T. I. after conviction of the theft of a motorbike last year.

West Monroe police said McKinney escaped from L. T. I. at around 7 p.m. Friday. His absence was discovered a short time later and he was immediately made the subject of an intensive search by local officers.

SINGING MEET

The Church of God, located on Montgomery Avenue, in the Ransom Addition of West Monroe, will have a singing convention there this afternoon from 2 to 4 p.m.

The public is cordially invited to attend.

Our Children

FAMILY FRIEND

There are many homes without fathers, where an adolescent boy is growing up and worrying his mother into the sanitorium. The mothers of such boys—and girls, oftener than not—have to do outside work to support their children, send them through school and college, prepare them for the future of usefulness all good mothers have in mind for their children.

These half-grown boys—girls are not so troublesome in most cases—need a fatherly direction that a mother in this position, indeed in any position, cannot give. The boy begins to feel himself a man. He is not a man, nor is he a child, but a fledgling that is out of the nest but still dependent upon its shelter, comfort and care.

But this boy resents any counsel from his mother. "What can she know about a man's world? Isn't she a woman? She doesn't do the things men do—swearing, smoking, slamming things about and shouting down anybody who crosses them. Only men understand such things."

You see he is very young—so young he does not know that it is a woman who mothers a man from cradle to grave, sharing his burdens and lending full strength to his hopes, plans and labors. Dramatic talk and action attract all children, and adolescent boys are always taken by the extremes of manners, clothes, speech and action. The gentle, the quiet, the ordinary people and things have scant appeal for them; yet it is the ordinary happenings of life that will be his way of life in days to come. How is his mother to get him to see that?

Usually she cannot. Boys like this will listen to a stranger—that is, an outsider—sooner than to his mother. Mother knows too much about him. He cannot pose before her, and at this stage of his growth he must pose. He must assume the virtues that he has not. The virtue that he is seeking is manliness—and he does not know it when he sees it.

This is where the family friend comes in. Some man for whom the boy has admiration and respect should be asked to interest himself in the boy, someone who is on the mother's side in helping the child to grow up worthily. Maybe an uncle, perhaps the clergyman, the Y leader, the Scout leader, the teacher, an old family friend who knew his father and liked him, someone who wants to help and who knows how to do wonders for the boy. Widowed mothers need such help and so do their boys. A father has a very important role in the life of his children, and when he is lost we must do something to meet the need.

"The Baby Carriage; It's Importance to Baby," is the subject of a helpful leaflet, P-20, which Dr. Patri has written.

POSTAL AUXILIARY HOLDS MEETING

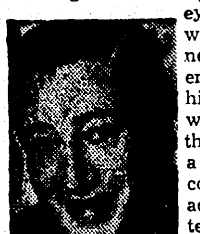
The Women's Auxiliary of the Post-office Clerk's Local No. 792, met in the home of Mrs. J. F. Jones, Jr., when the president, Mrs. J. N. Davis, presided. Ten members answered the roll call and Mrs. John Gates, state president of the auxiliary was a guest of honor.

An open discussion of the bingo party was held. It was reported that $54 was cleared and this money will be used in connection with the expenses of the state convention. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. W. W. Neese, 202 Hood Street, in West Monroe.

Delicious refreshments were served to the following: Mesdames J. F. Jones, Jr., F. U. Hammett, L. R. Morgan, Jr., F. J. Hayes, C. W. Dent, Jr., W. W. Neese, C. V. Calderone, Brown, John Gates and J. N. Davis.

Pitching Horseshoes
By Billy Rose

Hugh Taylor is a fattish, balding little man, and a sucker for an inside straight. Maybe you've seen him on the stage. He usually plays the sad-eyed shorty who winds up with the neck of the chicken. Hugh has made himself a lot of white meat playing these roles and has a fairish bank account and ten acres in Westchester to prove it.



Billy Rose

There has only been one clam shell in his chowder—a lady named Mrs. Hugh Taylor. In most ways, Ruth is a nice enough gal. She keeps the house reasonably clean and has a light touch with a strudel. But she hasn't made Hugh happy. Shortly after they were married, she developed a fixation. She convinced herself that her husband wasn't to be trusted. When Hugh was a few minutes late getting home from the theatre, she would sniff at his coat for tattletale perfume. When he was playing cards with the boys at The Lambs Club, she'd call every hour and see if he was really there. It got so silly that one morning when Hugh nicked himself shaving, Ruth accused him of having strange lipstick on his neck.

Recently the actor arrived home almost an hour late. He told his wife that the stage manager had kept the company after the show to brush up one of the scenes. While Hugh was in the kitchen uncapping a bottle of beer, Ruth sneaked out to the car to look for evidence of philandering. She found nothing. Even the ash tray was empty. But fixations are funny things. Ruth marched into the kitchen and snapped, "You cleaned out the ash tray to get rid of the evidence."

Our nag-happy hero sighed and finished his beer. Then he did what he had done in the third act of so many of his plays. He went to his room, threw some things into a bag and drove off.

"Good riddance," thought Ruth. "No man is going to two-time me." The next day she located him at a hotel in White Plains and went about the business of getting evidence for a divorce. A week and two hundred dollars later, a detective reported that his snooping had only uncovered a tryst with six poker players.

A month passed and no word from Hugh. Ruth began to lose interest in the divorce evidence. Rattling around the house alone wasn't much fun. One night she got Hugh on a backstage telephone and told him she wanted to talk things over. The actor told her he'd rather skip it. He suggested she go out and have some fun, and hung up. That night Ruth looked up at the ceiling until she knew every brush mark in the paint. By 5 a. m., she had worked herself into a fair case of jimjams.

She dressed and phoned for a cab. But at the door of the hotel in White Plains, she lost her nerve. For the next hour she walked up and down trying to figure out what she'd say to Hugh when she saw him. Then she spotted his car in the parking lot across from the hotel. She climbed in and decided to wait for Hugh until he came out.

In the car, Ruth found the evidence she had always been looking for. The ash tray loaded with lipsticked cigarette butts. On the rug she found some bobby pins.

There it was. No doubt about it. Her fattish kewpie doll looked good to some woman and Hugh had gotten himself involved.

For quite a while Ruth sat and sizzled. But about the time White Plains woke up, so did the lady with the fixation. Ruth realized she was stuck on her sad-eyed shorty.

Hugh had been unfaithful. So what! Somehow it didn't seem important. What did seem important was that some other gal had discovered how cute he was.

At ten that morning when Hugh opened the door of his car, Ruth was still inside waiting for him.

"To whom do I owe this honor, Mrs. Taylor?" the actor asked.

"I've been sitting here since five o'clock," said his wife. "I'd like you to drive me home."

The actor liked what he saw in Ruth's eyes. It reminded him of the first few days of their marriage. "How about this other woman stuff?" he asked cautiously.

"I know there's another woman," his wife said, "but I don't care."

The actor smiled, "Maybe I could break it off," he mused, "but it'll take time. You'll have to be patient."

Late that afternoon he kissed Ruth good-bye and set out for the theatre. Just before he got to the parkway he stopped at a bungalow and picked up a middle-aged woman.

"I can't tell you, Mr. Taylor, how much I appreciate these rides," she said as she got into the car. "When I took the job as wardrobe mistress I didn't know it included a ride into town every night with the star."

The wardrobe lady mashed a lipsticked butt into the ash tray. "I hope you don't mind my smoking," she said.

The actor grinned. "Not at all, Mrs. Wilson," he said. "In fact I was thinking of buying you a carton of cigarettes."

BIBLE THOUGHTS

For, lo, the winter is past, the rain is gone;
The flowers appear on the earth, the time of the singing of birds is come, and the voice of the turtle is heard in our land.—Song of Solomon 2:11, 12.

Once more the Heavenly Power
Makes all things new,
And domes the red-plough'd hills
with loving blue;
The blackbirds have their wills,
The throstles too.

Uniform Air Safety

It is fortunate that the Civil Aeronautics Board is investigating the non-scheduled, or charter, airlines against a background of narrow escape rather than tragedy. But the rescue of the 69 persons aboard the Bermuda Sky Queen in the storm-swept North Atlantic does not make the forced landing of that flying boat more excusable, or the investigation less necessary.

Two sets of CAB regulations now govern the operation of scheduled and non-scheduled airlines. The commercial lines, for instance, must carry a three-hours' supply of extra fuel on overseas flights. Their pilots must have had at least 1,200 hours' flying experience to obtain a license. There are other rules regarding maximum loads, runway lengths, and so on.

The non-scheduled carrier need have only an extra 45 minutes' fuel supply, which is why the Sky Queen had to be ditched. Its pilots are required to have only 200 hours of experience. Load and runway rules do not apply.

Human lives, of course, are involved in both types of operation. But, for reasons of economy, the CAB seems to have assumed that the lives of the paying passengers are considerably more important.

There are reports of many illegal operations under minimum safety rules, since the CAB forbade the carrying of passengers by charter lines. This ban arose from the CAB's decision that, with faster and more frequent scheduled service by domestic and foreign carriers, there was not enough business to warrant the non-scheduled lines' carrying passengers.

Since that ban went into effect Sept. 10, some non-schedule operators, if reports are true, have been getting away with potential murder. They are said to have leased their ships and crews to foreign travel agencies or airlines, or to have set up phony corporations here.

There are other questions that need answering. For one thing, why has the CAB been so lax in enforcing its rules? Is it shortage of manpower, inefficiency, or something more sinister? The board was one of the government agencies hardest hit in the last budget cut by Congress. If that is the reason for a situation which is a threat to the lives of air passengers, then certainly the CAB should be given enough money to carry out its duties.

Is it better to maintain two sets of safety regulations or to permit charter airlines to carry passengers under a uniform set of rules? Whatever the answer, any who have violated the present ban on the trans-oceanic transport of passengers by charter plane should be dealt with severely.

Another obvious need is for the adoption of uniform legal, economic and safety regulations by all governments which operate, or whose nationals operate, passenger flights outside their boundaries. This would prevent the type of dodge that is charged in the present situation. International air authorities have recommended such a step, but the governments have failed to take it.

The harrowing experience of the Bermuda Sky Queen's passengers has done all aviation an injustice. This near-tragedy is bound to stick in the public mind, despite the remarkable safety record in trans-oceanic flight established by the armed forces' transport services and by commercial carriers. The least that aviation authorities and operators can do is offer the international air traveler reasonable assurance of safety, by whatever line or plane he travels.

HOSPITALITY

The behavior of some of our people at times makes us wonder if Darwin wasn't right, William Jennings Bryan to the contrary notwithstanding.

The latest exhibition which brings about this observation occurred between the halves of the Ouachita-Fair Park football game Thursday night. Fair Park brought along its very fine band, which we are sure was appreciated by Ouachita school officials and many others. During the intermission the band paraded, played beautifully and formed several intricate figures on the playing field. During this exhibition one local "host" continually bore down on an old-style Klaxon horn; another did his best to spoil the effects of a firefly number by turning a powerful flashlight on the Fair Park maneuver. But to cap the climax, when the band members marched off the field there was a chorus of boos which was almost as vociferous as the applause.

We sincerely hope that there weren't many out-of-town spectators present to witness this display of boorishness.

DRAWBACK FOR "LIBERALS"

Prime Minister Attlee of Britain was not giving out with an original thought when he said that England will rise or fall according to how hard the people work. But his remark was a revealing commentary on the efforts of the liberals. The labor government in England is doing everything in its power to divide up the country's wealth between its followers. Unfortunately, the followers, realizing they have a lead-pipe cinch on jobs and wages, are cheating by refusing to do a fair day's work.

The British worker, having been given every advantage in the form of shorter hours and higher pay, cannot understand that unless these benefactions are worked for, they cannot be continued. He sees no crisis in his country today and doesn't believe it when told there is one.

The thing that keeps a man at the peak of efficiency is the necessity for striving. Let the "liberals," who want to make everything peaches and cream for the "common" man, draw a blueprint to get around that economic truth.

Jimmie Fidler IN HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 25.—The Motion Picture Research Society, which has campaigned against divorced screen stars, is now asking for a California state law, obliging all citizens to file a record of their past marital crashes . . . Time out for cowboy hero Tim Holt, on crutches as the result of a kick from his new $6,000 palomino . . . I hear Republic has inked a deal with Mickey Walker, the retired middleweight champ, to film his life story . . . Wotzis about Marlene Dietrich planning a divorce suit against her long-estranged spouse, Rudolph Sieber?

If you've wondered about a "dog's life" in Hollywood, be advised that Lassie's new term contract with MGM calls for a weekly wage of $2,000! . . . The Marjorie Liszt, currently screen-testing for a role in the Wagner-Liszt film to be produced by Nat Finston, is actually a great granddaughter of Franz Liszt . . . Catherine McLeod, recently wed to a San Franciscan, is asking Republic for a release from contract; she wants to live in the Bay City and work only occasionally in pictures . . . Brian Aherne is excited over geologists' reports of a huge coal deposit on his ranch near Ephraim, Utah.

Elizabeth Groudge, author of "Green Dolphin Street," is said to be critically ill in London. . . . Liquor interests are making a concerted drive to break down the long-time studio ban against screen star endorsements of alcoholic drinks . . . Add Hollywood fashion notes: Filmville's best-dressed gals are ordering skirts made of squirrel skins from their favorite furriers.

Preview Nights: Pic of the Week: MGM's "Green Dolphin Street" (Lana Turner-Van Heflin-Donna Reed). Big enough to justify studio superlatives, and gripping enough to keep every audience engrossed . . . Recommended: "Girl of the Canal" (English made). A semi-documentary film, showing a little-known phase of British life—and a picture that will win cheers from discerning fans . . . Good: Universal-International's "The Exile" (Douglas Fairbanks-Paule Croset-Maria Montez). Historical fact takes a brutal beating, but the picture's fast pace will please action lovers . . . Columbia's "The Swordsman" (Larry Parks-Ellen Drew-George Macready). A horse opera in kilts, with a mile-a-minute plot . . . So-So: Columbia's "When a Girl's Beautiful." (Adele Jergens-Marc Platt). Featherweight supporting fare . . . Best Performance: Richard Hart in "Green Dolphin Street."

According to a film trade paper, Howard Hughes, when and if he ever completes his current picture, "Vendetta," plans to retire permanently from movie-making. He says that what with soaring costs, unnecessary delays and confusing censorship, he's "plumb disgusted" with producing. Well, if that's the why he feels, he shouldn't be lonesome. A lot of people who saw his last production, "The Outlaw," are also plumb disgusted—period!

The other day, I'm informed, one of Hollywood's biggest studios, now preparing a new vehicle for its most famous star, instructed writers to capitalize on the sensational Overell murder case by making many of the scenes in the film correspond with actual incidents of the trial. What a disgusting recommendation for a picture! If Hollywood's ingenuity has become so exhausted that it must draw material from one of the most thoroughly distasteful "sensations" of recent years, it's high time for the studios to start looking for fresh talent and new imaginations.

"Heaven Only Knows" is certainly anything but a mile-post in movie progress, but I'm ready to hail it as one of the outstanding events of the year if it brings Stuart Erwin back into the prominence he desrves. To date, I haven't talked with one Hollywoodite who, after seeing Erwin's performance in "Heaven Only Knows," has failed to wonder why the picture makers have neglected a comic with such remarkable ability. His role is comparatively small but he makes it sparkle. I've never seen him turn in bad work in all the years he's been before the cameras.

Cara Williams, a 20th Century-Fox starlet got her name into print last week by announcing that she is "fed up—because all the boys you meet in Hollywood are the same." Now that's what I'd call a perfect case of the pot calling the kettle black; the girls of Hollywood, thanks to studio "glamourizing" formulas, are such remarkable carbon copies that it takes a discerning eye to tell them apart. If Miss Williams, or any other starlet who finds Hollywood boys "all the same," would strive to be different, herself, she might find that her escorts would show considerable individuality, also.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

THE HOLLYWOOD SMEARBUND

Everything and everybody can be investigated in this country except the mummers and puppets of Hollywood who have set themselves up as intellectuals par excellence. These hoofers and literary hacks and imitators of gangsters have for so long been above the law, they have for so long lived as though a class apart, elevated socially beyond all fitness.

The Thomas committee is now investigating just what has been going on in Bedlam and some smart lawyers and publicity men are rearing to make an honest dollar yelling and screaming and imitating some of those who have misbehaved before congressional committees. In a word, Hollywood has written a script to make the Thomas committee's investigation ridiculous. Howard Hughes and Johnny Meyer did that to Senators Brewster and Ferguson who, unaccustomed to vaudeville, discovered themselves smeared for trying to find out what happened to the money of the American taxpayer—$40,000,000 of it. Or is that too small an item to notice?

Now comes a group of Hollywood mimics and such and they plan to reject investigation as a violation of freedom of speech. They hire Robert W. Kenny and Bartley Crum as their lawyers and they will put on a show unless the committee sits on them properly. The right of a congressional committee to investigate practically anything has been well substantiated by supreme court decisions. The committee acts not as a trial court but as a grand jury and therefore may employ discretions beyond the rules of evidence which limit trial procedures in a court of law. A committee may or may not permit counsel to assist but rarely, if ever, tolerates cross-examination, for that process is useful to protect innocence but does not serve to uncover the precise truth. The committee does not find them guilty or absolve them; it seeks to determine what is for the general welfare.

Larry Parks apparently assumes the role of leader among those who have hired counsel to raise constitutional questions which they, as lawyers, know have already been answered. According to the "Daily Worker," among those who have joined Parks in this effort are Paulette Goddard, Henry Fonda, Gregory Peck, Van Heflin, Myrna Loy, Katharine Hepburn, Burgess Meredith, David Gardner, Dorothy McGuire, Marsha Hunt and Paul Henreid.

What the Thomas committee wants to find out is why so many motion pictures contains gobs of Communist propaganda. This is very difficult to establish either for the motion picture or the radio.

I once had a curious experience about that. I was listening to one of my favorite programs on the radio, over the more conservative network, sponsored by probably the most capitalistic of American business groups and issued by an advertising firm whose head has fought Communism tooth and nail. Yet the script was straight Communist propaganda as though issued by the Comintern. I sent for the script and underlined the tricky lines and showed just how it was done. That happens all the time.

In an unrealistic decision, Judge Fuld, of the Court of Appeals of the state of New York, declared it libelous to call any person a Communist. As very few Communists are provably members of the party, which is an international conspiracy for world revolution in the interest of Soviet Russia, many persons can serve that party, perform its tasks, damage the United States, corrupt our children, debase their minds, pervert our textbooks, radio scripts and motion pictures, and pose as Republicans, Democrats, and even as church members. They change their names as they change their faces and hide their crimes under the protection of the law which is designed to safeguard decent persons from the excesses of police power.

The public has, of course, recourse. I personally purchase no goods manufactured Behind the Iron Curtain. I go to no movies in which known Communists are stars or which are written by Communists. I buy no products advertised on the radio whose manufacturers sponsor what I accept as Communist-inspired programs. That is my privilige and choice. Nobody can force me to pay for what I do not wish to purchase. I can fight Communism with my consumer's dollar.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By William E. Gilroy, D. D.
Stripture: James 3:1-6; 4:4-10

The word "standards" has at least two meanings.

In the one sense, it refers to an ideal of perfection, or correctness, by which all other things in the same class are measured or tested. It is in this sense, and for this purpose, that our government has established a Bureau of Standards, and that Greenwich, in Britain, established a center for the measuring of time and longitude.

In the other sense, the standard has been the flag, or banner, under which men fought in battle; to be defended with all the courage, and the very lives, of the brave.

When we speak of Christian standards we may be sure that there is reference to both these meanings. Jesus said: "Be ye perfect, even as your Father which is in heaven is perfect." Paul set up Love as the test of the perfect life. Everywhere through the Bible, in the Old Testament and in the New, the marks and qualities—the standards—of the good life are set forth.

Similarly, though the references are not many in Scripture, they are specific to banners, or ensigns, as standards or rallying symbols of loyalty to God, His leaderships and commands. The Psalmist (Psalm 60:4) represents God as giving a banner to them that fear Him, "that it may be displayed because of the truth." And there are various references, as in Isaiah 5:26, to "an ensign to the nations," and in Isaiah 11:10, to "an ensign of the people."

True standards of conduct, therefore, are not alone for the individual; they are social, for the people and for the nations. How greatly today we need these ancient conceptions, so emphasized by the Hebrew prophets in the heroic age of Israel! How different history might have been, if that prophetic ideal of one world, established in peace, and brotherhood and righteousness, had become a reality! Yet how sadly the world, even today, is neglecting the prophetic factors without which that "one world" can never be realized. "Let judgment run down as waters, and righteousness as a mighty stream" (Amos 5:24).

Can anything less purge the world of its evils, its violence, and its hates? And social, world-wide and international as this righteousness must be, it must have its source and rise in individual lives. So, standards of Christian conduct must be the essential foundation of a new and better world.

Nor are "Christian" standards to be thought of as opposed to anything of good that any other religion has taught. The standards of conduct that Christianity emphasizes are not arbitrary, or artificial. They are inherent in the basic condition of good life among men—honesty, sincerity, justice, mercy, and all the things to accord others that one might with reason desire from others toward one's self. The standards of conduct are comprised in the Golden Rule: "As ye would that men should do toward you, do ye even so toward them."

DOWN SOUTH

By Thurman Sensing
Director of Research, Southern States Industrial Council

CHARITY, BLACKMAIL, OR WAR?

I don't know how the rest of you folks in the South feel about it, but as for me, I am getting mighty tired of having this continual bug-a-boo or scare or threat, or whatever you want to call it, thrown up to us that certain nations will go Communist if we don't pour into them, gratis, our material resources. I sometimes feel like we ought to tell them that if that's the way they feel about it, if they think that's the best way to solve their troubles—then go ahead and go Communist!

After all, what is back of all this talk about "foreign aid?" Let's at least be honest about it. Is it charity to people in dire need? or are we being blackmailed into helping these nations for fear of the spread of Communism? Or are we just outright fighting a cold war with the group of nations centered in totalitarian Communist Russia?

We can rather quickly dismiss the thought that it's simply charity to starving people. If it were, our whole attention and aid would not be centered on the countries of western Europe. Charity knows no national boundaries or places or races—and if all reports are true, there is much more starving going on in China and India than in all the nations of Europe.

As a matter of fact, of course, President Truman himself has indicated to us that the purpose of even the emergency aid contemplated is a combination of politics and charity. So, when he states that, ". . . . the food-saving program . . . offers an opportunity to each of you to make a contribution to peace . . . An essential requirement of lasting peace in the world is the restoration of the countries of western Europe as free, self-supporting democracies . . .," it is only natural to wonder just how many bushels of wheat it takes to "restore a democracy." Or, to ask the question, if democracy can be bought, how long will it stay bought?

Since this is not primarily a question of charity, the actual fact must then be that we are either being scared into extending this "aid to Europe," or we are actually at war with Russia and its satellites just short of shooting. There is no sound basis of reason for it, if it's the former; there should be no "beating around the bush" about it, if it's the latter.

The administration leader, Senator Barkley, is reported to have said in Rome the other day that we must feed these nations of Europe because "an empty stomach is a Communist workshop." That is a catchy phrase, but is it true? Personally, I like better a statement attributed to General MacArthur lately, in which he said, "It is a false concept that democracy can thrive only in plenty. On the contrary, history proves that it thrives on struggle and hardship and toil."

These two views, it seems to me, represent the difference between politicians and statesmen. General MacArthur has been studying his history. He was no doubt thinking of the struggling thirteen colonies which combined to form the American Republic. He was perhaps thinking of th states of the South, which were left as desperate and as destitute after the War Between the States as any region at any time. Did the thirteen colonies form a Communist Totalitarian Government? They did not! Did the Southern people turn their backs on the ideals and principles of democracy which they had always cherished, and go Communist in their thinking? They did not! In both cases, the ideals of democracy thrived on "struggle and hardship and toil."

If we are to continue pouring out money and food and materials all over the face of the globe, we at least need to know why we are doing it. If it's charity, it should be handled on a humanitarian basis. If it's blackmail—well, the American people don't scare easily. If it's war, then just talk and half-way measures will not suffice.

These are my personal views. I should like to know how others in the South feel about it.

L. T. I. ESCAPEE IS RECAPTURED

McKinney Taken By West Monroe Police On Illinois Central

Youthful Jesse James McKinney's brief bid for freedom ended early Saturday morning with his apprehension by West Monroe police on the Illinois Central railroad near the Plum Street crossing in West Monroe. McKinney's home is on Pearl Street, only a short distance from the place of capture.

The 17-year-old youth, an inmate of the Louisiana Training Institute here, had been the object of a small-scale manhunt since his escape from the institution early Friday night.

West Monroe officers said McKinney was captured after word had been received that he was hiding beneath a house just south of the railroad tracks. A search of the vicinity failed to disclose McKinney. Later the officers were notified that the youth had hidden in the attic of another home. By the time patrol cars had been dispatched, however, he had left. He was captured only a short distance away, as he ran along the railroad, by Officers H. J. Lawrence and J. B. Hinnon who said that he made no effort to resist capture.

McKinney, described by police as a known car thief, had been placed in the local institution for juvenile boys a week ago following his return to Monroe from Gurdon, Ark., for the theft of an automobile belonging to L. M. Ray, local contractor. Police said McKinney had spent a previous term at L. T. I. after conviction of the theft of a motorbike last year.

West Monroe police said McKinney escaped from L. T. I. at around 7 p.m. Friday. His absence was discovered a short time later and he was immediately made the subject of an intensive search by local officers.

SINGING MEET

The Church of God, located on Montgomery Avenue, in the Ransom Addition of West Monroe, will have a singing convention there this afternoon from 2 to 4 p.m.

The public is cordially invited to attend.

Our Children

FAMILY FRIEND

There are many homes without fathers, where an adolescent boy is growing up and worrying his mother into the sanitorium. The mothers of such boys—and girls, oftener than not—have to do outside work to support their children, send them through school and college, prepare them for the future of usefulness all good mothers have in mind for their children.

These half-grown boys—girls are not so troublesome in most cases—need a fatherly direction that a mother in this position, indeed in any position, cannot give. The boy begins to feel himself a man. He is not a man, nor is he a child, but a fledgling that is out of the nest but still dependent upon its shelter, comfort and care.

But this boy resents any counsel from his mother. "What can she know about a man's world? Isn't she a woman? She doesn't do the things men do—swearing, smoking, slamming things about and shouting down anybody who crosses them. Only men understand such things."

You see he is very young—so young he does not know that it is a woman who mothers a man from cradle to grave, sharing his burdens and lending full strength to his hopes, plans and labors. Dramatic talk and action attract all children, and adolescent boys are always taken by the extremes of manners, clothes, speech and action. The gentle, the quiet, the ordinary people and things have scant appeal for them; yet it is the ordinary happenings of life that will be his way of life in days to come. How is his mother to get him to see that?

Usually she cannot. Boys like this will listen to a stranger—that is, an outsider—sooner than to his mother. Mother knows too much about him. He cannot pose before her, and at this stage of his growth he must pose. He must assume the virtues that he has not. The virtue that he is seeking is manliness—and he does not know it when he sees it.

This is where the family friend comes in. Some man for whom the boy has admiration and respect should be asked to interest himself in the boy, someone who is on the mother's side in helping the child to grow up worthily. Maybe an uncle, perhaps the clergyman, the Y leader, the Scout leader, the teacher, an old family friend who knew his father and liked him, someone who wants to help and who knows how to do wonders for the boy. Widowed mothers need such help and so do their boys. A father has a very important role in the life of his children, and when he is lost we must do something to meet the need.

"The Baby Carriage; It's Importance to Baby," is the subject of a helpful leaflet, P-20, which Dr. Patri has written.

POSTAL AUXILIARY HOLDS MEETING

The Women's Auxiliary of the Post-office Clerk's Local No. 792, met in the home of Mrs. J. F. Jones, Jr., when the president, Mrs. J. N. Davis, presided. Ten members answered the roll call and Mrs. John Gates, state president of the auxiliary was a guest of honor.

An open discussion of the bingo party was held. It was reported that $54 was cleared and this money will be used in connection with the expenses of the state convention. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. W. W. Neese, 202 Hood Street, in West Monroe.

Delicious refreshments were served to the following: Mesdames J. F. Jones, Jr., F. U. Hammett, L. R. Morgan, Jr., F. J. Hayes, C. W. Dent, Jr., W. W. Neese, C. V. Calderone, Brown, John Gates and J. N. Davis.

Pitching Horseshoes

By Billy Rose

Hugh Taylor is a fattish, balding little man, and a sucker for an inside straight. Maybe you've seen him on the stage. He usually plays the sad-eyed shorty who winds up with the neck of the chicken. Hugh has made himself a lot of white meat playing these roles and has a fairish bank account and ten acres in Westchester to prove it.

Billy Rose

There has only been one clam shell in his chowder—a lady named Mrs. Hugh Taylor. In most ways, Ruth is a nice enough gal. She keeps the house reasonably clean and has a light touch with a strudel. But she hasn't made Hugh happy. Shortly after they were married, she developed a fixation. She convinced herself that her husband wasn't to be trusted. When Hugh was a few minutes late getting home from the theatre, she would sniff at his coat for tattletale perfume. When he was playing cards with the boys at The Lambs Club, she'd call every hour and see if he was really there. It got so silly that one morning when Hugh nicked himself shaving, Ruth accused him of having strange lipstick on his neck.

Recently the actor arrived home almost an hour late. He told his wife that the stage manager had kept the company after the show to brush up one of the scenes. While Hugh was in the kitchen uncapping a bottle of beer, Ruth sneaked out to the car to look for evidence of philandering. She found nothing. Even the ash tray was empty. But fixations are funny things. Ruth marched into the kitchen and snapped, "You cleaned out the ash tray to get rid of the evidence."

Our nag-happy hero sighed and finished his beer. Then he did what he had done in the third act of so many of his plays. He went to his room, threw some things into a bag and drove off.

"Good riddance," thought Ruth. "No man is going to two-time me." The next day she located him at a hotel in White Plains and went about the business of getting evidence for a divorce. A week and two hundred dollars later, a detective reported that his snooping had only uncovered a tryst with six poker players.

A month passed and no word from Hugh. Ruth began to lose interest in the divorce evidence. Rattling around the house alone wasn't much fun. One night she got Hugh on a backstage telephone and told him she wanted to talk things over. The actor told her he'd rather skip it. He suggested she go out and have some fun, and hung up. That night Ruth looked up at the ceiling until she knew every brush mark in the paint. By 5 a. m., she had worked herself into a fair case of jimjams.

She dressed and phoned for a cab. But at the door of the hotel in White Plains, she lost her nerve. For the next hour she walked up and down trying to figure out what she'd say to Hugh when she saw him. Then she spotted his car in the parking lot across from the hotel. She climbed in and decided to wait for Hugh until he came out.

In the car, Ruth found the evidence she had always been looking for. The ash tray loaded with lipsticked cigarette butts. On the rug she found some bobby pins.

There it was. No doubt about it. Her fattish kewpie doll looked good to some woman and Hugh had gotten himself involved.

For quite a while Ruth sat and sizzled. But about the time White Plains woke up, so did the lady with the fixation. Ruth realized she was stuck on her sad-eyed shorty.

Hugh had been unfaithful. So what! Somehow it didn't seem important. What did seem important was that some other gal had discovered how cute he was.

At ten that morning when Hugh opened the door of his car, Ruth was still inside waiting for him.

"To whom do I owe this honor, Mrs. Taylor?" the actor asked.

"I've been sitting here since five o'clock," said his wife. "I'd like you to drive me home."

The actor liked what he saw in Ruth's eyes. It reminded him of the first few days of their marriage. "How about this other woman stuff?" he asked cautiously.

"I know there's another woman," his wife said, "but I don't care."

The actor smiled, "Maybe I could break it off," he mused, "but it'll take time. You'll have to be patient."

Late that afternoon he kissed Ruth good-bye and set out for the theatre. Just before he got to the parkway he stopped at a bungalow and picked up a middle-aged woman.

"I can't tell you, Mr. Taylor, how much I appreciate these rides," she said as she got into the car. "When I took the job as wardrobe mistress I didn't know it included a ride into town every night with the star."

The wardrobe lady mashed a lipsticked butt into the ash tray. "I hope you don't mind my smoking," she said.

The actor grinned. "Not at all, Mrs. Wilson," he said. "In fact I was thinking of buying you a carton of cigarettes."

BIBLE THOUGHTS

For, lo, the winter is past, the rain is gone;
The flowers appear on the earth, the time of the singing of birds is come, and the voice of the turtle is heard in our land.—Song of Solomon 2:11, 12.

Once more the Heavenly Power
Makes all things new,
And domes the red-plough'd hills
with loving blue;
The blackbirds have their wills,
The throstles too.

PLAN Y. M. C. A. AT UNIVERSITY

State-Wide Project To Be Launched, States Dr. S. A. Caldwell

A state-wide campaign to raise $300,000 to finance the construction of a student Y. M. C. A. on Louisiana State University campus will be launched in Baton Rouge and throughout the state in November, it was announced Saturday by Dr. S. A. Caldwell, dean of L. S. U. junior division and president of the L. S. U. student Y. M. C. A. board of directors.

The decision to launch a state-wide drive for public subscriptions to the building fund was made jointly by the L. S. U. board of supervisors and the student Y. M. C. A. board, Dean Caldwell said.

W. Preston Barnes, Jr., Baton Rouge, will serve as general chairman of the campaign, it was announced. In accepting appointment as leader of the state-wide program, Mr. Barnes declared: "I cannot conceive of a more essential project than one designed to provide wholesome recreation, spiritual guidance, moral stimulus and physical development for the youth of our state.

"I am confident that my fellow alumni of Louisiana State University as well as business and professional leaders and corporation executives who were educated in other institutions agree that the support of this project is a matter of paramount concern to all of us who live in Louisiana and whose children will gain their education and form their characters in our schools."

The student Y. M. C. A. which was established on L. S. U. campus in 1892 is the administrative co-ordinating department of the university for campus religious work, Dean Fred C. Frey, a member of the Y. M. C. A. board, pointed out.

"Our student Y. M. C. A. is presently housed in a small, one-story, frame building which must be demolished within the year to make way for campus road rerouting necessitated by construction of our new, men's dormitory. We must complete our plans to build a new and adequate student Y. M. C. A. and enable this great agency for religious and moral guidance to present itself to students and faculty with the same material pride as the academic colleges," Dr. Frey stated.

Contrasting with the existing temporary structure, the proposed student Y. M. C. A. will be a two-story, brick and stone building with large, airy, well-lighted and attractive game rooms and social assembly rooms. A feature of the plans is a chapel for interfaith worship and fellowship. Other modern facilities include a physical development room, handicraft room, library, faculty lounge, bowling alleys, bedrooms for visiting parents, a kitchen and a commodious auditorium with stage.

It is planned to build the new structure between the Pentagon building and the Greek theater, a location exceptionally convenient to all students.

A Weak, Run-Down Feeling Is Often A Warning

That The Red-Blood Is Getting Low

If you do not feel like your real self, do not have the urge to be up and doing, why not check-up on your blood strength? Look at the palms of your hands, your fingernails, your lips, the lobes of your ears—are they pale and off color?

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloat and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on SSS Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm flesh fill out hollow places. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle from your drug store. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

Government regulation on financing automobiles will be removed in a few days . . . You can buy on longer terms!

THE NATION TODAY

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Here's an ABC on why President Truman has called Congress into special session to help France and Italy.

This winter France and Italy will be badly in need of things like coal, wheat and oil. They'll have to buy them to get them.

This country has those things. But Americans who sell them to France and Italy want to be paid in dollars.

France and Italy, although they have money of their own, have run out of dollars.

They could use their own money to buy things here if Americans would take their money, such as the French franc. But the Americans want dollars.

France and Italy, using their own money, might be able to buy from their European neighbors the things they need—

If those neighbors had the coal and wheat and oil to sell. But they're hard up, too.

This country is the one which can spare the things France and Italy need.

But how can they get American dollars to buy what they need here? That is what Mr. Truman has called Congress into session to solve.

Should this country let France and Italy have the needed dollars as a gift or a loan? Congress will decide.

Between now and next April France will need about $357,000,000 and Italy about $285,000,000, or a total of about $642,000,000.

This money for France and Italy is, as noted, just stop-gap aid to get them through the bitter winter months ahead.

But this help for those two countries is not the Marshall plan. So Congress will have a double job:

1. When it comes into special session in November it will work out the stop-gap aid for France and Italy.

2. Then, at its regular session which starts in January, Congress will tackle the Marshall plan and probably not finish working on it until late in the spring.

The Marshall plan is a long-range program to get Europe, including France and Italy, on its feet.

Aid under the Marshall plan would continue four or five years and may cost us about $16,000,000,000.

Sixteen European nations, including France and Italy, are taking part in the Marshall plan. This is how that got started:

The help this country has been giving Europe since the war ended hasn't put Europe back on its feet.

If we stop helping Europe, the leaders in this country fear that some of those European nations will turn Communist out of desperation.

So the problem was: How to continue helping Europe in such a way that the help really would get Europe straightened out.

Last June 5, in a speech at Harvard University, Secretary of State Marshall said something like this:

"Europe, we want to help you. But our help can't go on forever. Before we give you any more, you'll have to show signs of being willing and able to help yourselves.

"So get together. Try to work out a deal by which, over a number of years, you'll work together for the good of all of you.

"One country should try to spare as much of something—say coal—as it can for a neighbor who needs it. You can work together in many ways.

"If you get together and draw up a plan of self-help, then you can ask us for the remaining help you need."

Sixteen nations took Marshall at his word and met for weeks in Paris. They worked out a twofold plan:

1. For helping themselves and one another.

2. The amount of additional help, about $16,000,000,000, they'd need from us over the next four years.

Once Congress finishes with the business of stop-gap aid for France and Italy it wil take on the Marshall plan.

CHARGED WITH DRUNK DRIVING

George Huey Deason, 40, of Sterlington, is being held in parish prison today on charges of driving while under the influence of liquor. Deason was arrested ten miles north of Monroe on highway 165 by state police Friday at 4 p.m. He is being held under $350 bond awaiting disposition of his case.

M. P. BOOSTERS START ON YEAR

E. A. Porter, Jr., New Chief Officer, Presides At Session

The Missouri Boosters held their first meeting of the fiscal year Thursday night with about 200 members and their friends present.

E. A. Porter, Jr., newly-elected chief booster, presided at the meeting and asked cooperation to help make this the greatest year in the Booster Club's career.

Nelda Monroe favored with two vocal selections. She was accompanied by John Ann Lewis at the piano.

C. F. Longstreth, of the Missouri Pacific's publicity department, told of the one million dollar car building plant at DeSota, Mo., now putting out eight to 10 boxcars a day costing about $5,600 each. Also of the success in cutting down the grade over Tip Top mountain between Monroe and St. Louis, of which some of the cuts are 165 feet deep. He also advises delivery soon of the new streamlined Sunshine Eagle coaches, the engines have already been received and are now being broken in between Fort Worth and St. Louis on the three sections of the Sunshine Special.

Chief Booster Porter next presented retiring Chief Booster Edward Morris with a gift from the Booster Club. Mr. Morris responded by saying he would do all in his power to help Mr. Porter make a success of the club during the coming year.

Miss Violet Wilbanks of West Monroe next favored with two readings, which were heartily received.

Jim G. Blaine, chief booster of McGehee, Ark., told the members of the Booster Club's activities at that point and promised to help the Monroe club in every way possible.

Jerry Harper and Arthur Vancil, students of Luke Morris, Hewitt-Dew Music Company, gave two electric guitar selections, after which Mr. Morris followed with two selections.

The highlight of the evening was an address by Rev. John J. Rasmussen, who is pastor of the Trinity Methodist Church of Ruston. Rev. Rasmussen spoke on his observations in a recent visit to Poland in connection with his membership in the World Council of Churches. It was one of the most interesting and sincere addresses ever given in the Booster Club here in many years. He stressed the influence of the Communists in that country, and the living conditions which are deplorable.

DENTISTS HONOR VETERAN MEMBER

Dr. R. L. Wood got the Fifth District Medical Society together the past week for a testimonial dinner in the Devil's Kitchen to Dr. P. M. Gayle, veteran Monroe dentist. A party was held which was attended by 30 or more dentists from all over the area.

A bounteous evening meal was served, Wood Thompson, prominent Monroe attorney, gave a short talk and an informal evening was enjoyed.

Dr. Gayle, who is noted as a first-class story teller, did his part in the entertainment of the assemblage.

FARMERVILLE FACES SUIT FOR $12,600

FARMERVILLE, Oct. 25.—(Special)—Suit has been filed against the town of Farmerville by Rufus W. Everett, Union parish engineer, for judgment of $12,600 allegedly owed him by the town for a sanitary drainage system survey.

Named as defendants in the action are Dr. Charles C. Francis, mayor of Farmerville, and Palmer Dean, A. C. Dykes, Fred Preaus, and O. O. Cummings, the town councilmen.

The complaint, filed for Everett by Monroe Attorney George Fink, charges that although the town specifically commissioned Everett to complete the survey on two occasions—in 1935 and again in 1946—at a guarantee of eight per cent of the total engineering cost, it has refused to pay Everett the fee.

Instead of awarding Everett the contract for the project as originally agreed, the petition continues, the town council last July advertised for bids and subsequently let the contract to the Baton Rouge firm of Barnard and Burk.

On the basis of the survey made by Everett, the complaint contends, the town obtained a $5,000 grant from the federal government.

Charging that the council has disregarded Everett's demands for payment, the petition requests judgment of $12,000—eight per cent of the $180,000 total estimated of the project—or, as an alternative the $5,000 procured from the federal government as a result of Everett's work.

Through careless use of the land 50,000,000 acres have been destroyed in the United States and another 50,000,000 acres are almost in as bad condition.

PLAN Y. M. C. A. AT UNIVERSITY

State-Wide Project To Be Launched, States Dr. S. A. Caldwell

A state-wide campaign to raise $300,000 to finance the construction of a student Y. M. C. A. on Louisiana State University campus will be launched in Baton Rouge and throughout the state in November, it was announced Saturday by Dr. S. A. Caldwell, dean of L. S. U. junior division and president of the L. S. U. student Y. M. C. A. board of directors.

The decision to launch a state-wide drive for public subscriptions to the building fund was made jointly by the L. S. U. board of supervisors and the student Y. M. C. A. board, Dean Caldwell said.

W. Preston Barnes, Jr., Baton Rouge, will serve as general chairman of the campaign, it was announced. In accepting appointment as leader of the state-wide program, Mr. Barnes declared: "I cannot conceive of a more essential project than one designed to provide wholesome recreation, spiritual guidance, moral stimulus and physical development for the youth of our state.

"I am confident that my fellow alumni of Louisiana State University as well as business and professional leaders and corporation executives who were educated in other institutions agree that the support of this project is a matter of paramount concern to all of us who live in Louisiana and whose children will gain their education and form their characters in our schools."

The student Y. M. C. A. which was established on L. S. U. campus in 1892 is the administrative co-ordinating department of the university for campus religious work, Dean Fred C. Frey, a member of the Y. M. C. A. board, pointed out.

"Our student Y. M. C. It is planned to build the new structure between the Pentagon building and the Greek theater, a location exceptionally convenient to all students.

A Weak, Run-Down Feeling Is Often A Warning

That The Red-Blood Is Getting Low

If you do not feel like your real self, do not have the urge to be up and doing, why not check-up on your blood strength? Look at the palms of your hands, your fingernails, your lips, the lobes of your ears—are they pale and off color?

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloat and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on SSS Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm flesh fill out hollow places. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle from your drug store. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

M. P. BOOSTERS START ON YEAR

E. A. Porter, Jr., New Chief Officer, Presides At Session

The Missouri Boosters held their first meeting of the fiscal year Thursday night with about 200 members and their friends present.

E. A. Porter, Jr., newly-elected chief booster, presided at the meeting and asked cooperation to help make this the greatest year in the Booster Club's career.

Nelda Monroe favored with two vocal selections. She was accompanied by John Ann Lewis at the piano.

C. F. Longstreth, of the Missouri Pacific's publicity department, told of the one million dollar car building plant at DeSota, Mo., now putting out eight to 10 boxcars a day costing about $5,600 each. Also of the success in cutting down the grade over Tip Top mountain between Monroe and St. Louis, of which some of the cuts are 165 feet deep. He also advises delivery soon of the new streamlined Sunshine Eagle coaches, the engines have already been received and are now being broken in between Fort Worth and St. Louis on the three sections of the Sunshine Special.

Chief Booster Porter next presented retiring Chief Booster Edward Morris with a gift from the Booster Club. Mr. Morris responded by saying he would do all in his power to help Mr. Porter make a success of the club during the coming year.

Miss Violet Wilbanks of West Monroe next favored with two readings, which were heartily received.

Jim G. Blaine, chief booster of McGehee, Ark., told the members of the Booster Club's activities at that point and promised to help the Monroe club in every way possible.

Jerry Harper and Arthur Vancil, students of Luke Morris, Hewitt-Dew Music Company, gave two electric guitar selections, after which Mr. Morris followed with two selections.

The highlight of the evening was an address by Rev. John J. Rasmussen, who is pastor of the Trinity Methodist Church of Ruston. Rev. Rasmussen spoke on his observations in a recent visit to Poland in connection with his membership in the World Council of Churches. It was one of the most interesting and sincere addresses ever given in the Booster Club here in many years. He stressed the influence of the Communists in that country, and the living conditions which are deplorable.

DENTISTS HONOR VETERAN MEMBER

Dr. R. L. Wood got the Fifth District Medical Society together the past week for a testimonial dinner in the Devil's Kitchen to Dr. P. M. Gayle, veteran Monroe dentist. A party was held which was attended by 30 or more dentists from all over the area.

A bounteous evening meal was served, Wood Thompson, prominent Monroe attorney, gave a short talk and an informal evening was enjoyed.

Dr. Gayle, who is noted as a first-class story teller, did his part in the entertainment of the assemblage.

FARMERVILLE FACES SUIT FOR $12,600

FARMERVILLE, Oct. 25.—(Special)—Suit has been filed against the town of Farmerville by Rufus W. Everett, Union parish engineer, for judgment of $12,600 allegedly owed him by the town for a sanitary drainage system survey.

Named as defendants in the action are Dr. Charles C. Francis, mayor of Farmerville, and Palmer Dean, A. C. Dykes, Fred Preaus, and O. O. Cummings, the town councilmen.

The complaint, filed for Everett by Monroe Attorney George Fink, charges that although the town specifically commissioned Everett to complete the survey on two occasions—in 1935 and again in 1946—at a guarantee of eight per cent of the total engineering cost, it has refused to pay Everett the fee.

Instead of awarding Everett the contract for the project as originally agreed, the petition continues, the town council last July advertised for bids and subsequently let the contract to the Baton Rouge firm of Barnard and Burk.

On the basis of the survey made by Everett, the complaint contends, the town obtained a $5,000 grant from the federal government.

Charging that the council has disregarded Everett's demands for payment, the petition requests judgment of $12,000—eight per cent of the $180,000 total estimated of the project—or, as an alternative the $5,000 procured from the federal government as a result of Everett's work.

Through careless use of the land 50,000,000 acres have been destroyed in the United States and another 50,000,000 acres are almost in as bad condition.

THE NATION TODAY

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Here's an ABC on why President Truman has called Congress into special session to help France and Italy.

This winter France and Italy will be badly in need of things like coal, wheat and oil. They'll have to buy them to get them.

This country has those things. But Americans who sell them to France and Italy want to be paid in dollars.

France and Italy, although they have money of their own, have run out of dollars.

They could use their own money to buy things here if Americans would take their money, such as the French franc. But the Americans want dollars.

France and Italy, using their own money, might be able to buy from their European neighbors the things they need—

If those neighbors had the coal and wheat and oil to sell. But they're hard up, too.

This country is the one which can spare the things France and Italy need.

But how can they get American dollars to buy what they need here? That is what Mr. Truman has called Congress into session to solve.

Should this country let France and Italy have the needed dollars as a gift or a loan? Congress will decide.

Between now and next April France will need about $357,000,000 and Italy about $285,000,000, or a total of about $642,000,000.

This money for France and Italy is, as noted, just stop-gap aid to get them through the bitter winter months ahead.

But this help for those two countries is not the Marshall plan. So Congress will have a double job:

1. When it comes into special session in November it will work out the stop-gap aid for France and Italy.

2. Then, at its regular session which starts in January, Congress will tackle the Marshall plan and probably not finish working on it until late in the spring.

The Marshall plan is a long-range program to get Europe, including France and Italy, on its feet.

Aid under the Marshall plan would continue four or five years and may cost us about $16,000,000,000.

Sixteen European nations, including France and Italy, are taking part in the Marshall plan. This is how that got started:

The help this country has been giving Europe since the war ended hasn't put Europe back on its feet.

If we stop helping Europe, the leaders in this country fear that some of those European nations will turn Communist out of desperation.

So the problem was: How to continue helping Europe in such a way that the help really would get Europe straightened out.

Last June 5, in a speech at Harvard University, Secretary of State Marshall said something like this:

"Europe, we want to help you. But our help can't go on forever. Before we give you any more, you'll have to show signs of being willing and able to help yourselves.

"So get together. Try to work out a deal by which, over a number of years, you'll work together for the good of all of you.

"One country should try to spare as much of something—say coal—as it can for a neighbor who needs it. You can work together in many ways.

"If you get together and draw up a plan of self-help, then you can ask us for the remaining help you need."

Sixteen nations took Marshall at his word and met for weeks in Paris. They worked out a twofold plan:

1. For helping themselves and one another.

2. The amount of additional help, about $16,000,000,000, they'd need from us over the next four years.

Once Congress finishes with the business of stop-gap aid for France and Italy it wil take on the Marshall plan.

CHARGED WITH DRUNK DRIVING

George Huey Deason, 40, of Sterlington, is being held in parish prison today on charges of driving while under the influence of liquor. Deason was arrested ten miles north of Monroe on highway 165 by state police Friday at 4 p.m. He is being held under $350 bond awaiting disposition of his case.

REHEARSE DAILY FOR MINSTREL

Kiwanis Planning Big Show November 6; Funds Aid Underprivileged

The Kiwanis Club of Monroe will present its annual minstrel extravaganza, "Say It With Music," at Neville auditorium November 6 at 8 p. m.

This is a John B. Rogers production and he has prepared specially written scores, new and modern, and the costumery and scene settings will be delightful, it is assured by those in charge.

Ray Updegraff, general chairman of the show committee, stated Saturday that he was well pleased with the show and with the progress that is being made with the daily rehearsals.

Last year when the Kiwanis minstrel played to a capacity house, the audience was most appreciative in their praise and he anticipates this year's show will achieve greater praise from the audience.

Director Lehr M. Knowles has had years of experience with the John B. Rogers company. Since he arrived in Monroe to direct the play to be given here, he has received high commendation in letters received from such men as Senator Thomas O. Berry and from Kenneth C. Royall, secretary of the army, lauding his work when he recently staged a week-long historical pageant spectacle in Goldsboro, N. C., his last assignment before he came to Monroe.

The minstrel will delight a local audience, Kiwanians assert, and also will provide funds needed for many youth activities of the club such as shoes and glasses to the underprivileged, sponsoring of scouting, maintaining Key clubs in high schools and junior police in grammar schools.

AMATEUR RADIO WEEK SLATED FOR OCT. 27

This week amateur radio operators in this city, numbering about fifty men and women, are joining with other units of the communications world in celebrating National Radio Week. The local unit, the Ouachita Valley Amateur Radio Club, will signalize National Radio Week by playing host at its clubhouse at Selman field.

The nation's largest radio service licensed by the Federal Communications Commission, 75,000 strong, "hams" feel a fatherly interest in the radio art. In the beginning, every "wireless" experimenter was an amateur—Marconi himself was proud to be called one. And so, from the very earliest days of the art, radio amateurs have been pioneers.

Now, "hams" have turned their energies to new fields—providing emergency communications service in time of disaster, handling personal messages between American servicemen overseas and their families and friends back home, and affiliating with the army and navy communications reserve units.

The Ouachita Valley Amateur Radio Club members recently played an active part in the Texas City disaster, Oklahoma and Texas tornadoes and the Florida hurricane which paralyzed communications over this entire area.

Eire occupies about four-fifths of the island of Ireland.

Mackenzie's Column

By DeWitt Mackenzie
(Associated Press Foreign Affairs Analyst)

The final and crucial battle for western Europe between bolshevism and democracy is about to be joined—and the outcome of this engagement will go far toward determining whether free men shall continue to be free.

The strategy of the democracies is to provide the nations of western Europe with the sinews for self-defense against Red aggression. Eastern Europe for the time being must be considered as under Soviet domination, but while communism has made much headway in Italy and France, there still may be time to rescue these two important countries and protect the rest.

This strategy is encompassed in the Marshall plan. President Truman now has summoned Congress for a special session which will consider implementation of this plan, as well as pressing home problems.

The Bolshevist strategy is to smash the Marshall plan and thereby render western Europe impotent before the Red drive. The Communists also have called upon all the countries of Europe to be steadfast in opposing "American slave loan conditions" and thereby precipitate (according to Moscow) an economic crisis in the United States. After that, says Moscow, anti-capitalist Russia can cooperate with capitalistic European nations.

This scheme was laid on the line by General Andrei Zhdanov, one of bolshevism's head men, at the recent conference in Poland between the Soviet Union and the countries under its domination in eastern Europe. The meeting was, in fact, a briefing for the battle of western Europe.

Events are moving rapidly as both sides get set for the big showdown. Yesterday saw two interesting developments, both of which may have an important bearing on the situation.

One of these was Moscow's announcement that Nikolai V. Novikov, Soviet ambassador at Washington, has been removed from his post. There was no explanation. All we know is that Novikov was regarded as an advocate of Russo-American friendship and cooperation. In fact he told the Chicago Council of American-Soviet Friendship on June 19 that America and Russia could live together peacefully, despite their different economic systems. On July 27 he departed for Moscow, apparently in good health, but later Russia notified Washington that he was ill.

The other development was Turkey's charge in the United Nations that Russia was carrying on "psychological aggression," "nefarious propaganda," "warmongering" and "interfering in Turkish internal affairs." The significance of this, of course, lies in the fact that ever since the war Moscow has been trying to compel Turkey to give Russia a share in control of the Dardanelles—strategic waterway between the Black sea and the Mediterranean. The Communists are putting more heat on the Turks, coincident with the preliminaries to the battle of western Europe.

And how do we evaluate this battle? As this column has said before, if the Communists overrun western Europe to the English channel, nothing can prevent another world war—or so it seems to me. If they can be held to their present empire, the chances of ultimate conflict will be greatly lessened. Indeed, time may take a decisive hand and remove the threat by changing—in one way or another—the nature of totalitarian communism.

K. OF C. DESIRE RETREAT HOUSE

Approval Is Given By Local Group Of Bishop's Project

The local council of Knights of Columbus met in special session Thursday night and gave unanimous approval of the plan of the Most Rev. Charles P. Greco, bishop of the Alexandria Diocese, for the establishment of a retreat house and youth camp.

The advantages of the summer retreat house were outlined by several speakers, headed by Msgr. J. C. Marsh, pastor of St. Matthew's Church. This retreat house, he pointed out, would provide approximately for the laity of the diocese to spend some time in prayer and meditation and close study of God's law, away from distractions of the world and by so doing bringing themselves closer to Almighty God and to their salvation.

The retreat house, to be located on the camp grounds would, it is said, contribute to both physical and spiritual welfare.

Grand Knight Harold A. Shanas, of the Monroe council appointed the following committee to carry out the program planned: George Tonore, chairman; Allan Ritter, Dr. F. P. Rizzo, Stanley Hodges and Daniel Guillory.

Members of this committee will contact the members of the council as well as the Catholics of the parish to secure voluntary contributions to the cause.

PHILOSOPHIES

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Maxims by the poor man's philosopher:

Nobody will think you crazy for wearing a fur coat in your bathtub if you just don't brag about it.

It takes a great man to laugh at himself. But if he laughs at himself every day he is probably only a gag writer.

Nothing gives a man the feeling of mortality more than losing a tooth.

The world is in a bad way when a sense of rumor replaces its sense of humor.

Justice wasn't always blind. Yet every man denies he put the bandage over her eyes.

You have to trust the other fellow some. No one with his shoes on can swear he doesn't have a hole in his stocking.

No man ever lived cunning enough to unbend a pretzel.

A biting dog never barks—while his mouth's full.

A woman without jealousy is an angel. A dead angel.

The surest way for a husband to give his wife insomnia is to tell her that he couldn't possibly be jealous over her.

Love differs from law by a fraction. Possession is only nine-tenths of the law.

The two things that have done most to keep men honest are the eighth commandment of Moses—and the invention of the cash register.

I have met rich men who said they wished they were poor again, but none ever handed me a signed blank check.

A woman on her birthday prefers a surprise instead of cash—unless it is a surprising amount of cash.

Suspicion is all that is left for people who aren't smart enough to find out.

A cynic is a man who thinks nobody in a revolving door is pushing.

One reason there are fewer flagpole sitters today is they can make more money as baby sitters.

A hermit who talks to himself never listens. If he did he couldn't get a word in edgewise.

A bird in the butcher's hand isn't worth two in the farmer's bush, but there's nothing you can do about it.

A man can lead the most blameless kind of life and still pick up lint on his blue serge suit.

The wisest advice my father gave me: "Son, anytime in life you can take your shoes off for 15 minutes, do so."

A girl shouldn't date a wolf in sheep's clothing if she doesn't want the wool pulled over her eyes.

A bald-headed man doesn't want to be philosophical. He has to be.

People who say they can judge other people at first glance take a vacation when they look in the mirror.

A wife has a right to doubt a husband who talks in his sleep but ties a handkerchief around his mouth before going to bed.

All the other citizens of the pasture look like freaks to a two-headed calf.

No one who stands last in a line thinks the world is fair.

All candidates having opposition must enter the Democratic primary of January 20. Victors in that election will be declared party nominees and as stated, elected in the general election of April.

BUFORD EATMON IS CLUB PRESIDENT

Buford Eatmon will head the Economics-History-Sociology Club of Northeast Junior College this year. At a recent re-organization meeting of the E. H. S., the following additional officers were chosen: Lucille Smith, vice-president; Richard Jones, secretary-treasurer, and Lee Tarver, reporter. L. C. Byrd was chosen chairman of the social committee and S. M. Svoren, chairman of membership.

Under sponsorship of Dr. W. R. Hammond, head of the department of social sciences, the club aims to promote a better understanding of economic and social problems and to encourage fellowship among students who are interested in similar affairs and projects.

The Economics-History-Sociology Club is affiliated with the International Relations Club and the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace. The organization will receive books and periodicals from Town Hall, the Chicago Round Table and other organizations interested in economic and social problems.

All students of social and political sciences are eligible to membership in this campus club.

3-DOLLAR WHEAT NOW OFF MARKET

Other Major Commodities Slump Over Truman's Anti-Inflation Announcement

(By Associated Press)

Three-dollar wheat evaporated on the Chicago board of trade Saturday in the breeze of speculation over the government's anti-inflation program.

Prices of the most other major commodities also slumped for the second successive day and the New York stock market finished its first losing week since mid-September.

After dropping the 10 cents permissible maximum Friday in reaction to President Truman's call for a special session of Congress, wheat dipped below $3 a bushel today for the first time in a week.

The cereal closed 1 7/8 to 5 5/8 cents lower, December selling at $2.97 1/4-1/2. Corn was 2 1/8 lower to 2 cents higher, December $2.20 3/4 to $2.21. Oats finished unchanged to 1 3/4 lower, December $1.13 3/4. Soybeans fell the 8 cents limit, November $3.39.

The Associated Press wholesale index of 35 basic commodities scored its second consecutive daily decline from the all-time high of 200.67 recorded Thursday. The index, using 1926 prices as 100, dropped from 200.01 on Friday to $198.59 on Saturday. A year ago the index was 156.84 and at the height of the depression, on Feb. 4, 1933, it stood at 41.44.

Scattered showers in major winter wheat states and an agriculture department report showing heavy Oct. 1 stocks of wheat also tended to depress prices of the bread cereal.

Cash wheat was quoted nominally 3 to 5 cents lower in Chicago, down 5 3/4 to up 2 3/4 cents at Kansas City and weak in New York.

However, cotton futures staged a comeback after slumping yesterday. Closing prices were 55 cents to $1.60 a bale higher in New York and 90 cents to $1.70 a bale more in New York.

All classes of livestock were nominally steady at Chicago and meat in the New York and Chicago wholesale markets finished the week generally lower.

The English flag was planted at the southern tip of Africa, near the present site of Cape Town, in 1620.

ENDOM MUST SERVE 30-DAY JAIL TERM

Frank Endom, 31, of Monroe, whose 60-day sentence for drawing and displaying a knife was suspended by Judge W. N. Harper upon Endom's agreement to leave Monroe permanently, was back in jail following his appearance near Five Points Saturday morning.

Judge Harper said Endom would be forced to serve the full sentence since he had failed to live up to his agreement.

Endom was released from parish jail September 29 after charges of theft of a fifty-dollar bill had been dropped by H. C. Colvin, of Vienna.

According to local police Endom was convicted and sentenced in federal court in 1936 to serve two years for violation of the drug act. In addition he has been fined three times in city court for drunkenness and disorderly conduct.

On February 1, 1940, Endom was arrested by local police as a suspect in a highway robbery case near Alexandria. He was not convicted on this charge.

He had been sentenced to 60 days in city jail in the recent offense involving the drawing and displaying of a knife during a fight at the Three-Way Pool Hall, 518 DeSiard.

REHEARSE DAILY FOR MINSTREL

Kiwanis Planning Big Show November 6; Funds Aid Underprivileged

The Kiwanis Club of Monroe will present its annual minstrel extravaganza, "Say It With Music," at Neville auditorium November 6 at 8 p. m.

This is a John B. Rogers production and he has prepared specially written scores, new and modern, and the costumery and scene settings will be delightful, it is assured by those in charge.

Ray Updegraff, general chairman of the show committee, stated Saturday that he was well pleased with the show and with the progress that is being made with the daily rehearsals.

Last year when the Kiwanis minstrel played to a capacity house, the audience was most appreciative in their praise and he anticipates this year's show will achieve greater praise from the audience.

Director Lehr M. Knowles has had years of experience with the John B. Rogers company. Since he arrived in Monroe to direct the play to be given here, he has received high commendation in letters received from such men as Senator Thomas O. Berry and from Kenneth C. Royall, secretary of the army, lauding his work when he recently staged a week-long historical pageant spectacle in Goldsboro, N. C., his last assignment before he came to Monroe.

The minstrel will delight a local audience, Kiwanians assert, and also will provide funds needed for many youth activities of the club such as shoes and glasses to the underprivileged, sponsoring of scouting, maintaining Key clubs in high schools and junior police in grammar schools.

AMATEUR RADIO WEEK SLATED FOR OCT. 27

This week amateur radio operators in this city, numbering about fifty men and women, are joining with other units of the communications world in celebrating National Radio Week. The local unit, the Ouachita Valley Amateur Radio Club, will signalize National Radio Week by playing host at its clubhouse at Selman field.

The nation's largest radio service licensed by the Federal Communications Commission, 75,000 strong, "hams" feel a fatherly interest in the radio art. In the beginning, every "wireless" experimenter was an amateur—Marconi himself was proud to be called one. And so, from the very earliest days of the art, radio amateurs have been pioneers.

Now, "hams" have turned their energies to new fields—providing emergency communications service in time of disaster, handling personal messages between American servicemen overseas and their families and friends back home, and affiliating with the army and navy communications reserve units.

The Ouachita Valley Amateur Radio Club members recently played an active part in the Texas City disaster, Oklahoma and Texas tornadoes and the Florida hurricane which paralyzed communications over this entire area.

Eire occupies about four-fifths of the island of Ireland.

The Bridge of Memory

A beautiful memorial is a bridge of memory, spanning the years between the present and the past. Therefore, beauty of material and design should be of first consideration. It is important, too, to know that the gleaming stone so carefully fashioned will withstand the test of time.

Mackenzie's Column

By DeWitt Mackenzie
(Associated Press Foreign Affairs Analyst)

The final and crucial battle for western Europe between bolshevism and democracy is about to be joined—and the outcome of this engagement will go far toward determining whether free men shall continue to be free.

The strategy of the democracies is to provide the nations of western Europe with the sinews for self-defense against Red aggression. Eastern Europe for the time being must be considered as under Soviet domination, but while communism has made much headway in Italy and France, there still may be time to rescue these two important countries and protect the rest.

This strategy is encompassed in the Marshall plan. President Truman now has summoned Congress for a special session which will consider implementation of this plan, as well as pressing home problems.

The Bolshevist strategy is to smash the Marshall plan and thereby render western Europe impotent before the Red drive. The Communists also have called upon all the countries of Europe to be steadfast in opposing "American slave loan conditions" and thereby precipitate (according to Moscow) an economic crisis in the United States. After that, says Moscow, anti-capitalist Russia can cooperate witn capitalistic European nations.

This scheme was laid on the line by General Andrei Zhdanov, one of bolshevism's head men, at the recent conference in Poland between the Soviet Union and the countries under its domination in eastern Europe. The meeting was, in fact, a briefing for the battle of western Europe.

Events are moving rapidly as both sides get set for the big showdown. Yesterday saw two interesting developments, both of which may have an important bearing on the situation.

One of these was Moscow's announcement that Nikolai V. Novikov, Soviet ambassador at Washington, has been removed from his post. There was no explanation. All we know is that Novikov was regarded as an advocate of Russo-American friendship and cooperation. In fact he told the Chicago Council of American-Soviet Friendship on June 19 that America and Russia could live together peacefully, despite their different economic systems. On July 27 he departed for Moscow, apparently in good health, but later Russia notified Washington that he was ill.

The other development was Turkey's charge in the United Nations that Russia was carrying on "psychological aggression," "nefarious propaganda," "warmongering" and "interfering in Turkish internal affairs." The significance of this, of course, lies in the fact that ever since the war Moscow has been trying to compel Turkey to give Russia a share in control of the Dardanelles—strategic waterway between the Black sea and the Mediterranean. The Communists are putting more heat on the Turks, coincident with the preliminaries to the battle of western Europe.

And how do we evaluate this battle? As this column has said before, if the Communists overrun western Europe to the English channel, nothing can prevent another world war—or so it seems to me. If they can be held to their present empire, the chances of ultimate conflict will be greatly lessened. Indeed, time may take a decisive hand and remove the threat by changing—in one way or another—the nature of totalitarian communism.

K. OF C. DESIRE RETREAT HOUSE

Approval Is Given By Local Group Of Bishop's Project

The local council of Knights of Columbus met in special session Thursday night and gave unanimous approval of the plan of the Most Rev. Charles P. Greco, bishop of the Alexandria Diocese, for the establishment of a retreat house and youth camp.

The advantages of the summer retreat house were outlined by several speakers, headed by Msgr. J. C. Marsh, pastor of St. Matthew's Church. This retreat house, he pointed out, would provide approximately for the laity of the diocese to spend some time in prayer and meditation and close study of God's law, away from distractions of the world and by so doing bringing themselves closer to Almighty God and to their salvation.

The retreat house, to be located on the camp grounds would, it is said, contribute to both physical and spiritual welfare.

Grand Knight Harold A. Shanas, of the Monroe council appointed the following committee to carry out the program planned: George Tonore, chairman; Allan Ritter, Dr. F. P. Rizzo, Stanley Hodges and Daniel Guillory.

Members of this committee will contact the members of the council as well as the Catholics of the parish to secure voluntary contributions to the cause.

PHILOSOPHIES

3-DOLLAR WHEAT NOW OFF MARKET

Other Major Commodities Slump Over Truman's Anti-Inflation Announcement

(By Associated Press)

Three-dollar wheat evaporated on the Chicago board of trade Saturday in the breeze of speculation over the government's anti-inflation program.

Prices of the most other major commodities also slumped for the second successive day and the New York stock market finished its first losing week since mid-September.

After dropping the 10 cents permissible maximum Friday in reaction to President Truman's call for a special session of Congress, wheat dipped below $3 a bushel today for the first time in a week.

The cereal closed 1 7/8 to 5 5/8 cents lower, December selling at $2.97 1/4-1/2. Corn was 2 1/8 lower to 2 cents higher, December $2.20 3/4 to $2.21. Oats finished unchanged to 1 3/4 lower, December $1.13 3/4. Soybeans fell the 8 cents limit, November $3.39.

The Associated Press wholesale index of 35 basic commodities scored its second consecutive daily decline from the all-time high of 200.67 recorded Thursday. The index, using 1926 prices as 100, dropped from 200.01 on Friday to $198.59 on Saturday. A year ago the index was 156.84 and at the height of the depression, on Feb. 4, 1933, it stood at 41.44.

Scattered showers in major winter wheat states and an agriculture department report showing heavy Oct. 1 stocks of wheat also tended to depress prices of the bread cereal.

Cash wheat was quoted nominally 3 to 5 cents lower in Chicago, down 5 3/4 to up 2 3/4 cents at Kansas City and weak in New York.

LIQUOR INDUSTRY OKAYS SHUT DOWN

95 Per Cent Agree To Aid Food Program; Four-Year Supply On Tap

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Distilleries making up more than 95 per cent of the country's alcohol capacity tonight are halting production for 60 days, it was announced today, but one distiller said it would take Americans four years to drink up the stocks on hand.

Chairman Charles Luckman of the Citizens' Food Committee made the announcement. He predicted that the other 5 per cent of the industry, from which he has not yet heard, will "join wholeheartedly" in the shutdown to save grain for Europe.

But the AFL Distillery Workers International union, contending that 10,000 to 12,000 workers will be laid off, "urgently requested" employers to meet with union leaders in Chicago October 30.

Joseph O'Neill, union president, said the session is "for the purpose of refining the union's position." Previously, officials of the union have indicated they may file damage suits, request "standby pay" for displaced workers, or file unfair labor practices charges with the National Labor Relations Board on grounds of lockout.

Luckman has offered his services, if necessary, as a neutral agent in helping get workers reassigned to jobs in the bottling, labeling, shipping, maintenance and other departments which will continue to operate.

Announcing that all distilleries of Publicker Industries, Inc., are complying with the voluntary shutdown request, President L. J. Gunson of the Kinsey Distilling Corp. estimated that there are nearly four years' supplies in warehouses.

A spokesman for the distilled spirits institute, representing 60 per cent of the industry, has stated:

"There will be no shortage of liquor, we expect none, and there is no excuse for raising prices."

Industrial alcohol plants as well as beverage distillers are joining in the shutdown. A spokesman for the Luckman committee said firms representing 97 per cent of the commercial alcohol capacity and 94 per cent of the whisky production have sent confirmations of their closing.

Between 10,000,000 and 20,000,000 bushels of grain, mostly corn, will be saved, Luckman has estimated. This is 10 to 20 per cent of the goal for President Truman's entire food conservation campaign.

The nation's 450 brewers of beer and ale have said they will go on a voluntary grain-saving basis November 1, by halting the use of wheat, table-quality rice, and feeding barley for 90 days; reducing the use of corn 25 per cent from last month's consumption; and buying no sorghum grains until Feb. 1. If the savings fall short of 1,000,000 bushels a month, the industry is pledged to reduce further its use of corn.

QUARTER-MILLION AT STAKE IN SUITS FOR RICHLAND OIL

$189,172 Court Judgment Demanded By George Franklin Of Rayville

RAYVILLE, Oct. 25.—(Special)—Court battles over oil-lush Richland parish lands rose to the fore here this week with close to a quarter-million dollars in mineral and property rights at stake.

The major suit involved demand by George B. Franklin of Rayville for an $189,172.25 judgment against the Arkansas Fuel Oil Company for what Franklin charges was illegal prospecting on 8,000 acres of his property near Holly Ridge.

Franklin contends that information gathered by the Arkansas company in its unauthorized surveys was later made available to the Pan-American Production company which in turn leased portions of Franklin's lands at a price of only $15 an acre.

Citing prices prevailing at the time of the sale as approximately $50 an acre, Franklin charges that the advantage obtained by the Pan American company resulted in a $35-an-acre loss to him.

The case was submitted on briefs after conclusion of two days testimony.

In January of this year, the Richland parish grand jury indicted the Arkansas Fuel company and eight of its employes with unlawfully prospecting on Franklin's lands and adjacent public highways. The company and each of the employes was fined $1,000 and costs with the alternative of 12 months in jail. An appeal on the decision is now pending in the Louisiana Supreme Court.

Acting in his own interests, Franklin drilled five wells on the Holly Ridge property. All of them, the last of which was completed last month, have been abandoned as dry.

Another case last week involved the sale of a 40-acre tract, now containing one producing well ,on the northwest edge of the Delhi field.

The plaintiff is Marcus Fried, who acting on behalf of himself and other heirs of Sol Fried, contends that the 40 acres acquired by Tom Bradley of Delhi were sold to Bradley unauthorizedly by the executors of Fried's estate.

The petition asks that all mineral and royalty sales be set aside. The land, in one of the richest sections of the Delhi field, is valued at an aggregate of approximately $40,000, based on the current price of about $1,000 an acre for royalty and mineral rights.

Counsel for both sides were ordered by Judge Carey J. Ellis to submit their claims by brief.

Continued until the December term of civil district court is the concursus action of the Sun Oil company against S. M. Smith. Purpose of the suit is to determine the legal ownership of mineral derived from a 40-acre tract in the Big Creek field. The land is now producing oil from a well drilled by the Sun company, but that firm has refused to pay for the oil until ownership has been judicially decided. Revenues from the property are being retained in the registery of the court until a decision has been made.

ORA PRODUCERS NOW NUMBER 64

13 More Successes In New Field Reported During Past Week

In the most active period of its less than five months' existence, Ora field last week registered 13 new producers and only three failures.

Listed by the Monroe district conservation office in its weekly report yesterday were four completions by the Lion Oil Company of El Dorado, Ark., three by the Marine Oil Company, two by Sellers-Ewing, and one each by H. L. Hunt, Jr., C. H. Murphy, Jr., Shell Oil Company, and the Guy Mabee Drilling Company.

The total number of producers in the field now stands at 64—with three interests owning 45 of them. Leader in the development so far is the Shell Company with 22; next are Sellars-Ewing with 12 and the Lion Company with 11.

Of the four Lion wells completed last week—all in section 34-22-1W, the southwest extension of the field—the Farrar No. 4 was guaged at 259 barrels daily through a 16/64-inch choke from 2,121-34 feet. Perforated from 2,123-31 feet, the Farrar No. 6 was tested as pumping 132 barrels a day. The Farrar No. 7, guaged through a 16/64-inch choke at 165 barrels daily, and the output of the Farrar No. 8 was put at 231 barrels daily through a 16/64-inch choke from 2,104-19 feet.

The Marine Oil Company's Monzingo-Rivers No. 12, in section 23-22-1W, a pumper, was guaged at 446 barrels daily, perforated from 2,144-54 feet. The same company's S. L. Smith No. 2, in section 27-22-1W, was reported producing 312 barrels a day from 2,126-43 feet; and the output of the S. L. Smith No. 3, in the same tract, tested through a 20/64-inch choke, was given as 194 barrels a day from 2,126-40 feet.

The Sellars-Ewing J. R. Price No. 2 and No. 5, in section 4-21-1W, were both reported as pumpers—the Price No. 2 with a daily output of 239 barrels from 2,126-43 feet, and the Price No. 5, 132 barrels from 2,136-44 feet. The Sellars-Ewing Price No. 9, reported as dry, was converted to a salt disposal well.

The H. L. Hunt, Jr., Compton Unit No. 3 in section 3-21-1W was reported as pumping 259 barrels a day from 2,162-78 feet; C. H. Murphy, Jr.'s., Norris No. 2 in section 34-22-1W was guaged as pumping 373 barrels daily from 2,131-45 feet; the Guy Mabee S. L. Smith No. 3 in section 34-22-1W, another pumper, was guaged at 373 barrels a day from 2,132-44 feet; and the Shell Company's Jessie F. Tucker No. 1, was reported as pumping 214 barrels daily from 2,093-2,116 feet.

Two abandonments were reported in the district, one in the Madison parish wildcat field and the other in the Delhi field in Richland parish.

The first is the Murphy-Sun Bailey Ward No. 1 in section 13-17-11E, a tight well. The second is the same company's J. E. Holt No. 48 in section 32-17-9E, with a total depth of 3,630 feet.

In the Ora field the Shell Company has temporarily abandoned its Frost Lumber Industries No. A-3 and A-6, both in section 23-22-1W.

The Shell Jessie F. Tucker No. 2 in section 34-22-1W has been completed and is waiting on casing, having reached a total depth of 2,131 feet. Also completed and waiting for casing are the Marine Company's S. L. Smith No. 4 in 34-22-1W; the C. H. Murphy Williams No. 1 in 27-22-1W; and the Lion Company's Ballard No. 5 in section 27-22-1W.

New locations in the field were made by the Lion Company for the Verna No. 1 in section 33-22-1W; C. H. Murphy, Jr., for the Clyde No. 1, 27-22-1W; and the Arvis No. 2 in section 14-22-1W; and the Shell Company for the G. H. Tucker No. 1 and the J. F. Tucker No. 4, both in section 34-22-1W.

The only other completion in the district was the Tidewater Associated Oil Company's B. L. Warner No. 9 in section 12-16-7E in the Big Creek Field, tested at 152 barrels a day through a 5/32-inch choke with perforations from 2,812-32 feet.

GOP CONVENTION PLANS UNDERWAY

Philadelphia To Be Site Of Biggest Republican Rally In History

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Arrangements for the 1948 Republican convention here were set up today by a 31-member committee geared to handle problems of a conclave that promises to be the biggest in G. O. P. history from the standpoint of attendance and news, radio, motion picture and for the first time, television coverage.

Walter S. Hallanan, national committeeman from West Virginia who heads the arrangements group, said he was "pleased" with convention hall accommodations. He announced appointment of a seven sub-committees which he said "will coordinate all necessary details of making this the best Republican convention in history."

The chairmen of these sub-committees, Hallanan said, will meet once a month in Philadelphia after Jan. 1, acting as an executive committee on arrangements. All committee chairmen are national Republican committeemen.

The chairmen and their committees are: Tickets—Werner Schroeder of Illinois; music and decorations—Mrs. Horace Sayre of Oklahoma; badges—Col. R. B. Creager of Texas; television and motion pictures—Guy Gabrielson of New Jersey; program and concessions—Harrison Spangler of Iowa; press and radio—John E. Jackson of Louisiana; housing—J. Kenneth Bradley of Connecticut.

At a dinner honoring the committee, Gov. James H. Duff of Pennsylvania said the 1,083 delegates to the convention next June should have a free hand in selecting the G. O. P. presidential nominee.

"The Republican party has the presidency within its grasp," Duff said. "If it escapes us it will be because of our own ineptitude. The nominee should be selected only as a result of spontaneity at the time of the convention."

3 REPORTED INJURED IN FLORIDA WRECK

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., Oct. 25.—(AP)—The last 10 cars on the northbound Champion, fast Miami-New York streamliner, were reported by the Florida east coast railway to have jumped the tracks near here today and three cars overturned.

Three persons were hospitalized but there were no fatalities, the railroad reported.

The train left Miami at 9 a. m. with a "fairly heavy" load of passengers. The derailment occurred at 2:20 p. m.

The diesel-electric locomotive and five cars remained on the rails as the following cars left the tracks.

—are shutting down tonight for 60 days to conserve grain, Chairman Charles Luckman of the citizens food committee announced.

4. Three-dollar wheat fell off the board of the Chicago grain exchange, in further apparent response to Mr. Truman's special-session proclamation and the threat of government control. Wheat for December delivery dropped to $2.97 1/4-1/2 at the close.

5. Some 90 business, labor and government leaders—containing a high proportion of advertising men—were invited to an "off-the-record" meeting at the White House Monday by Presidential Assistant John R. Steelman. The plan was said to be to swap ideas on foreign aid.

6. The commerce department's national summary of business conditions reported that wholesale prices in October kept their high September levels, wheat hit a new high, and butter, corn and meats declined—presumably in response to Mr. Truman's voluntary "self-denial" campaign among consumers.

7. The president's speech was front-page news in all European countries save those in the Soviet sphere. It was haled in foreign offices and finance ministries. "Excellent, excellent!" said one French foreign office official.

Senator Flanders said that food allocation system might be the most effective anti-inflation program. He suggested Canada's plan as a possible pattern.

"The Canadian government bought the entire wheat crop," he said. It then sold it at fixed prices and controlled the mark-up or profit margin all down the line."

Flanders and Ferguson agreed that food prices will be a major issue in next year's presidential campaign and reported the development of Republican plans to deal with the problem.

Senator Taft, Republican, Ohio, newly declared candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, has called a meeting of the Senate-House congressional economic committee for Nov. 14, Flanders reported. The committee has been holding nation-wide hearings on the high cost of living.

Flanders suggested that Mr. Truman has "grabbed the ball that Senator Baldwin was running with." Baldwin, Republican, Connecticut, was author of the resolution which started the price investigation.

Senator Ferguson agreed that "prices are the No. 1 problem, and foreign aid is the No. 2 problem and exaggerates No. 1."

No one, said Flanders, is planning a return to consumer rationing and price ceilings.

The nine-member House group headed by Rep. Short, despite its urging of quick foreign aid, added the warning that American resources "are not inexhaustible."

"Communism thrives on chaos, misery, hunger and discontent," said the group, in its formal report on a 12-country tour. While Italy gives "every promise of preventing the spread of Communism," it added, the totalitarian idea has "made rather sizeable inroads."

"Continued aid should be immediately furnished Europe," it concluded, "not only from a humanitarian and philanthropic point of view, but also because it is essential for our own peace and prosperity."

From the C. I. O.'s full employment committee came a statement saying that the Truman administration and the Republican-controlled Congress must "act vigorously to control prices." It said rising prices has driven millions "into increasingly bad situations."

Few details emerged from the two-day meeting of the Harriman committee, which hopes to deliver its report on the Marshall plan to the White House by the first week in November. Members now have a partial draft but big sections are missing.

3 VENEZUELANS HIT DALLAS IN MODEL-T

DALLAS, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Three Venezuelans, enroute to Detroit in a 19-year-old Ford after travelling 10,000 miles through nine Latin American countries, passed through Dallas today.

The two mechanics and a newspaperman ferried six waterways on their trip over the Pan American route since leaving their native Maracaibo January 26.

They speak no English. They eat and sleep in the auto, a Model A with a home-made body.

Their names are Jose Joaquin, mechanic, Jose Domingo Marquez, mechanic, and Regulo Diaz, 41, reporter on El Panorama in Maracaibo.

95 Per Cent Agree To Aid Food Program; Four-Year Supply On Tap

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Distilleries making up more than 95 per cent of the country's alcohol capacity tonight are halting production for 60 days, it was announced today, but one distiller said it would take Americans four years to drink up the stocks on hand.

Chairman Charles Luckman of the Citizens' Food Committee made the announcement. He predicted that the other 5 per cent of the industry, from which he has not yet heard, will "join wholeheartedly" in the shutdown to save grain for Europe.

But the AFL Distillery Workers International union, contending that 10,000 to 12,000 workers will be laid off, "urgently requested" employers to meet with union leaders in Chicago October 30.

Joseph O'Neill, union president, said the session is "for the purpose of refining the union's position." Previously, officials of the union have indicated they may file damage suits, request "standby pay" for displaced workers, or file unfair labor practices charges with the National Labor Relations Board on grounds of lockout.

Luckman has offered his services, if necessary, as a neutral agent in helping get workers reassigned to jobs in the bottling, labeling, shipping, maintenance and other departments which will continue to operate.

Announcing that all distilleries of Publicker Industries, Inc., are complying with the voluntary shutdown request, President L. J. Gunson of the Kinsey Distilling Corp. estimated that there are nearly four years' supplies in warehouses.

A spokesman for the distilled spirits institute, representing 60 per cent of the industry, has stated:

"There will be no shortage of liquor, we expect none, and there is no excuse for raising prices."

Industrial alcohol plants as well as beverage distillers are joining in the shutdown. A spokesman for the Luckman committee said firms representing 97 per cent of the commercial alcohol capacity and 94 per cent of the whisky production have sent confirmations of their closing.

Between 10,000,000 and 20,000,000 bushels of grain, mostly corn, will be saved, Luckman has estimated. This is 10 to 20 per cent of the goal for President Truman's entire food conservation campaign.

The nation's 450 brewers of beer and ale have said they will go on a voluntary grain-saving basis November 1, by halting the use of wheat, table-quality rice, and feeding barley for 90 days; reducing the use of corn 25 per cent from last month's consumption; and buying no sorghum grains until Feb. 1. If the savings fall short of 1,000,000 bushels a month, the industry is pledged to reduce further its use of corn.

QUARTER-MILLION AT STAKE IN SUITS FOR RICHLAND OIL

$189,172 Court Judgment Demanded By George Franklin Of Rayville

RAYVILLE, Oct. 25.—(Special)—Court battles over oil-lush Richland parish lands rose to the fore here this week with close to a quarter-million dollars in mineral and property rights at stake.

The major suit involved demand by George B. Franklin of Rayville for an $189,172.25 judgment against the Arkansas Fuel Oil Company for what Franklin charges was illegal prospecting on 8,000 acres of his property near Holly Ridge.

Franklin contends that information gathered by the Arkansas company in its unauthorized surveys was later made available to the Pan-American Production company which in turn leased portions of Franklin's lands at a price of only $15 an acre.

Citing prices prevailing at the time of the sale as approximately $50 an acre, Franklin charges that the advantage obtained by the Pan American company resulted in a $35-an-acre loss to him.

The case was submitted on briefs after conclusion of two days testimony.

In January of this year, the Richland parish grand jury indicted the Arkansas Fuel company and eight of its employes with unlawfully prospecting on Franklin's lands and adjacent public highways. The company and each of the employes was fined $1,000 and costs with the alternative of 12 months in jail. An appeal on the decision is now pending in the Louisiana Supreme Court.

Acting in his own interests, Franklin drilled five wells on the Holly Ridge property. All of them, the last of which was completed last month, have been abandoned as dry.

Another case last week involved the sale of a 40-acre tract, now containing one producing well ,on the northwest edge of the Delhi field.

The plaintiff is Marcus Fried, who acting on behalf of himself and other heirs of Sol Fried, contends that the 40 acres acquired by Tom Bradley of Delhi were sold to Bradley unauthorizedly by the executors of Fried's estate.

The petition asks that all mineral and royalty sales be set aside. The land, in one of the richest sections of the Delhi field, is valued at an aggregate of approximately $40,000, based on the current price of about $1,000 an acre for royalty and mineral rights.

Counsel for both sides were ordered by Judge Carey J. Ellis to submit their claims by brief.

Continued until the December term of civil district court is the concursus action of the Sun Oil company against S. M. Smith. Purpose of the suit is to determine the legal ownership of mineral derived from a 40-acre tract in the Big Creek field. The land is now producing oil from a well drilled by the Sun company, but that firm has refused to pay for the oil until ownership has been judicially decided. Revenues from the property are being retained in the registery of the court until a decision has been made.

ORA PRODUCERS NOW NUMBER 64

13 More Successes In New Field Reported During Past Week

In the most active period of its less than five months' existence, Ora field last week registered 13 new producers and only three failures.

Listed by the Monroe district conservation office in its weekly report yesterday were four completions by the Lion Oil Company of El Dorado, Ark., three by the Marine Oil Company, two by Sellers-Ewing, and one each by H. L. Hunt, Jr., C. H. Murphy, Jr., Shell Oil Company, and the Guy Mabee Drilling Company.

The total number of producers in the field now stands at 64—with three interests owning 45 of them. Leader in the development so far is the Shell Company with 22; next are Sellars-Ewing with 12 and the Lion Company with 11.

Of the four Lion wells completed last week—all in section 34-22-1W, the southwest extension of the field—the Farrar No. 4 was guaged at 259 barrels daily through a 16/64-inch choke from 2,121-34 feet. Perforated from 2,123-31 feet, the Farrar No. 6 was tested as pumping 132 barrels a day. The Farrar No. 7, guaged through a 16/64-inch choke at 165 barrels daily, and the output of the Farrar No. 8 was put at 231 barrels daily through a 16/64-inch choke from 2,104-19 feet.

The Marine Oil Company's Monzingo-Rivers No. 12, in section 23-22-1W, a pumper, was guaged at 446 barrels daily, perforated from 2,144-54 feet. The same company's S. L. Smith No. 2, in section 27-22-1W, was reported producing 312 barrels a day from 2,126-43 feet; and the output of the S. L. Smith No. 3, in the same tract, tested through a 20/64-inch choke, was given as 194 barrels a day from 2,126-40 feet.

The Sellars-Ewing J. R. Price No. 2 and No. 5, in section 4-21-1W, were both reported as pumpers—the Price No. 2 with a daily output of 239 barrels from 2,126-43 feet, and the Price No. 5, 132 barrels from 2,136-44 feet. The Sellars-Ewing Price No. 9, reported as dry, was converted to a salt disposal well.

The H. L. Hunt, Jr., Compton Unit No. 3 in section 3-21-1W was reported as pumping 259 barrels a day from 2,162-78 feet; C. H. Murphy, Jr.'s., Norris No. 2 in section 34-22-1W was guaged as pumping 373 barrels daily from 2,131-45 feet; the Guy Mabee S. L. Smith No. 3 in section 34-22-1W, another pumper, was guaged at 373 barrels a day from 2,132-44 feet; and the Shell Company's Jessie F. Tucker No. 1, was reported as pumping 214 barrels daily from 2,093-2,116 feet.

Two abandonments were reported in the district, one in the Madison parish wildcat field and the other in the Delhi field in Richland parish.

The first is the Murphy-Sun Bailey Ward No. 1 in section 13-17-11E, a tight well. The second is the same company's J. E. Holt No. 48 in section 32-17-9E, with a total depth of 3,630 feet.

In the Ora field the Shell Company has temporarily abandoned its Frost Lumber Industries No. A-3 and A-6, both in section 23-22-1W.

The Shell Jessie F. Tucker No. 2 in section 34-22-1W has been completed and is waiting on casing, having reached a total depth of 2,131 feet. Also completed and waiting for casing are the Marine Company's S. L. Smith No. 4 in 34-22-1W; the C. H. Murphy Williams No. 1 in 27-22-1W; and the Lion Company's Ballard No. 5 in section 27-22-1W.

New locations in the field were made by the Lion Company for the Verna No. 1 in section 33-22-1W; C. H. Murphy, Jr., for the Clyde No. 1, 27-22-1W; and the Arvis No. 2 in section 14-22-1W; and the Shell Company for the G. H. Tucker No. 1 and the J. F. Tucker No. 4, both in section 34-22-1W.

The only other completion in the district was the Tidewater Associated Oil Company's B. L. Warner No. 9 in section 12-16-7E in the Big Creek Field, tested at 152 barrels a day through a 5/32-inch choke with perforations from 2,812-32 feet.

GOP CONVENTION PLANS UNDERWAY

Philadelphia To Be Site Of Biggest Republican Rally In History

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Arrangements for the 1948 Republican convention here were set up today by a 31-member committee geared to handle problems of a conclave that promises to be the biggest in G. O. P. history from the standpoint of attendance and news, radio, motion picture and for the first time, television coverage.

Walter S. Hallanan, national committeeman from West Virginia who heads the arrangements group, said he was "pleased" with convention hall accommodations. He announced appointment of a seven sub-committees which he said "will coordinate all necessary details of making this the best Republican convention in history."

The chairmen of these sub-committees, Hallanan said, will meet once a month in Philadelphia after Jan. 1, acting as an executive committee on arrangements. All committee chairmen are national Republican committeemen.

The chairmen and their committees are: Tickets—Werner Schroeder of Illinois; music and decorations—Mrs. Horace Sayre of Oklahoma; badges—Col. R. B. Creager of Texas; television and motion pictures—Guy Gabrielson of New Jersey; program and concessions—Harrison Spangler of Iowa; press and radio—John E. Jackson of Louisiana; housing—J. Kenneth Bradley of Connecticut.

At a dinner honoring the committee, Gov. James H. Duff of Pennsylvania said the 1,083 delegates to the convention next June should have a free hand in selecting the G. O. P. presidential nominee.

"The Republican party has the presidency within its grasp," Duff said. "If it escapes us it will be because of our own ineptitude. The nominee should be selected only as a result of spontaneity at the time of the convention."

3 REPORTED INJURED IN FLORIDA WRECK

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., Oct. 25.—(AP)—The last 10 cars on the northbound Champion, fast Miami-New York streamliner, were reported by the Florida east coast railway to have jumped the tracks near here today and three cars overturned.

Three persons were hospitalized but there were no fatalities, the railroad reported.

The train left Miami at 9 a. m. with a "fairly heavy" load of passengers. The derailment occurred at 2:20 p. m.

The diesel-electric locomotive and five cars remained on the rails as the following cars left the tracks.

DEATHS

DAVID GREENBURG

David X. Greenburg, assistant engineer at St. Louis formerly instrument man in Monroe, died at St. Louis, Missouri Pacific Hospital Thursday night. He had many friends at Monroe.

LAKE PROVIDENCE, La., Oct. 25.—(Special)—Services for Edward Milikin Frost, 68, prominent East Carroll parish planter who died Friday at his plantation home after a lengthy illness, was held Saturday at 3 p.m. at the Walters Funeral Home. Rev. Frank Levy, rector of Grace Episcopal Church, officiated. Interment was in the Lake Providence Cemetery.

Mr. Frost was a native of East Carroll parish, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Frost and he had lived here all his life. For 25 years past he had been associated with the Schneiders operators of the Winterfield plantation. He was unmarried.

He is survived by three brothers, Cliff Frost, of Lake Providence; Albert Frost, of Atlanta, Ga.; LeRoy Frost, of Quincy, Fla., and a sister, Mrs. T. H. Estes, of College Park, Md.

MRS. T. H. JAMES

Funeral services for Mrs. T. H. James, the former Eva Guise, 62, who died at her home in Shreveport early Friday night, will be held at the residence of Mrs. Mosie Berry in Winnsboro at 2 p. m. Sunday with the Rev. M. S. Robertson officiating. Interment will follow in Winnsboro under the direction of the Mulhearn Funeral Home.

Survivors include four brothers, W. M. Guice, J. A. Guice of Shreveport and Haywood Guice and M. L. Guice of Winnsboro; four sisters, Mrs. L. O. Lord and Mrs. Otis Harris of Shreveport and Mrs. Mosie Berry and Miss Rebecca Guice of Winnsboro; an aunt, Mrs. W. W. Sheafe of Shreveport, and several nieces and nephews.

JIM B. BERRYHILL

OAK GROVE, La., Oct. 25.—(Special)—Funeral services for Jim B. Berryhill, 67, of Oak Grove, who died in a Monroe hospital Saturday morning will be held at the Oak Grove Cemetery Sunday at 2 p. m. with the Rev. R. L. Clayton officiating. The Catron-Gay Funeral Home of Oak Grove will be in charge of interment.

Mr. Berryhill is survived by six children.

EUGENE G. PHARES

COLUMBIA, La., Oct. 25.—(Special)—Funeral services for Eugene G. Phares, 52, who died at his residence in Columbia Friday midnight, will be held at the Palestine Baptist Church Sunday at 2 p. m. with the Rev. George Walls officiating. Interment will follow in the Palestine Cemetery under the direction of the Riser Funeral Home of Columbia.

Mr. Phares, born in Rue, Ark., is survived by his wife, Mrs. Alice Phares of Columbia, and many nieces and nephews.

Pallbearers will be Homer Meredith, Carl Dukes, Sam McHenry, Clyde May, Clarence Railey and Seburn Gregory.

The first blast furnaces were run on charcoal.

PRESIDENT

—are shutting down tonight for 60 days to conserve grain, Chairman Charles Luckman of the citizens food committee announced.

4. Three-dollar wheat fell off the board of the Chicago grain exchange, in further apparent response to Mr. Truman's special-session proclamation and the threat of government control. Wheat for December delivery dropped to $2.97 1/4-1/2 at the close.

5. Some 90 business, labor and government leaders—containing a high proportion of advertising men—were invited to an "off-the-record" meeting at the White House Monday by Presidential Assistant John R. Steelman. The plan was said to be to swap ideas on foreign aid.

6. The commerce department's national summary of business conditions reported that wholesale prices in October kept their high September levels, wheat hit a new high, and butter, corn and meats declined—presumably in response to Mr. Truman's voluntary "self-denial" campaign among consumers.

7. The president's speech was front-page news in all European countries save those in the Soviet sphere. It was haled in foreign officies and finance ministries. "Excellent, excellent!" said one French foreign office official.

Senator Flanders said that food allocation system might be the most effective anti-inflation program. He suggested Canada's plan as a possible pattern.

"The Canadian government bought the entire wheat crop," he said. It then sold it at fixed prices and controlled the mark-up or profit margin all down the line."

Flanders and Ferguson agreed that food prices will be a major issue in next year's presidential campaign and reported the development of Republican plans to deal with the problem.

Senator Taft, Republican, Ohio, newly declared candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, has called a meeting of the Senate-House congressional economic committee for Nov. 14, Flanders reported. The committee has been holding nation-wide hearings on the high cost of living.

Flanders suggested that Mr. Truman has "grabbed the ball that Senator Baldwin was running with." Baldwin, Republican, Connecticut, was author of the resolution which started the price investigation.

Senator Ferguson agreed that "prices are the No. 1 problem, and foreign aid is the No. 2 problem and exaggerates No. 1."

No one, said Flanders, is planning a return to consumer rationing and price ceilings.

The nine-member House group headed by Rep. Short, despite its urging of quick foreign aid, added the warning that American resources "are not inexhaustible."

"Communism thrives on chaos, misery, hunger and discontent," said the group, in its formal report on a 12-country tour. While Italy gives "every promise of preventing the spread of Communism," it added, the totalitarian idea has "made rather sizeable inroads."

"Continued aid should be immediately furnished Europe," it concluded, "not only from a humanitarian and philanthropic point of view, but also because it is essential for our own peace and prosperity."

From the C. I. O.'s full employment committee came a statement saying that the Truman administration and the Republican-controlled Congress must "act vigorously to control prices." It said rising prices has driven millions "into increasingly bad situations."

Few details emerged from the two-day meeting of the Harriman committee, which hopes to deliver its report on the Marshall plan to the White House by the first week in November. Members now have a partial draft but big sections are missing.

3 VENEZUELANS HIT DALLAS IN MODEL-T

DALLAS, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Three Venezuelans, enroute to Detroit in a 19-year-old Ford after travelling 10,000 miles through nine Latin American countries, passed through Dallas today.

The two mechanics and a newspaperman ferried six waterways on their trip over the Pan American route since leaving their native Maracaibo January 26.

They speak no English. They eat and sleep in the auto, a Model A with a home-made body.

Their names are Jose Joaquin, mechanic, Jose Domingo Marquez, mechanic, and Regulo Diaz, 41, reporter on El Panorama in Maracaibo.

VETERAN CLUB FORMED IN N. J. C.

Paul Cook, Four Years In Marines, Is Elected President

By a large majority of the 329 veterans enrolled at Northeast Junior College, Paul Cook, of Monroe, a marine veteran of four years was elected president of the Veterans Club. Maurice LeBlanc was chosen vice-president; Rivers "Toni" Dean, secretary; Donald Henry, treasurer, and Bill Bowen and Joanne Bailey, reporters.

John Hassion will head the social committee comprising George Franklin, Jr., Henry Hoffman, Orville Elkin, Bob Stricklin, James DeMoss, and Ray Alleman. Others will be named to supplement this group at the meeting on November 6.

Serving as rifle and pistol instructor at Camp Matthews in San Diego, Calif., in 1942, Cook broke the marine corps' rifle record by scoring 242 bulls eyes in a possible 250 with the 30-03 rifle. He also won his battalion pistol championship with the .45 calibre pistol, and in the same year placed second in the national rifle contest with a score of 19 out of 20 bulls eyes from 1,000 yards.

LeBlanc received training as a paratrooper at Ft. Benning, Ga. Following his graduation from Automotive Mechanics School, Atlanta, he transferred to AAF for cadet training, but was eliminated by an eye injury. His next assignment was to Airplane Mechanics School, Keesler Field, Miss. Serving as boxing instructor there, LeBlanc coached three airforce championship teams.

After graduating at Keesler, he was assigned to the troop carrier command at Las Vegas, as an aerial engineer. From there he was shipped to CBI and served in this theater until his discharge.

Miss Dean served as a nurse in North Africa, Italy, and the European theater of operations. Henry was distinguished as the shortest tail gunner in the 8th Air Force where he served in the European theater.

Bowen was assigned to Aviation Mechanics School, Norman, Okla. Later he was transferred to the Naval Academy Preparatory School, Bainbridge, Mr., where he was on duty until his discharge.

Faculty sponsors A. S. Huffman and E. C. Whatley, spoke enthusiastically of the high morale and standards of the Veterans Club's membership. The organization will include in the year's program the showing of battle films, talks on current significant topics and sponsorship of dances and other social activities.

STATE POLICE NAB 19 FOR VIOLATIONS

Among the 19 persons arrested by members of Troop "F" of the La. state police with headquarters in Monroe, six were charged with speeding and four with driving a motor vehicle while under the influence of an intoxicating liquor. Other violations included driving with improper lights and brakes and reckless driving causing property damage.

The six defendants charged with speeding are: Jack Hollingsworth, 30, Rayville; Hubert J. Sullivent, 26, West Monroe; Leland G. Kiech, 26, Macon, Ga.; Horace D. Lovelace, 22, Hattiesburg, Miss.; Eugene Randolph, 25, Negro, Monroe, and Willie Whitmore, 32, Negro, Ruston.

Those charged with driving a motor vehicle while under the influence of an intoxicating liquor were: Jess Sims, 48, Winnsboro; George H. Deason, 40, Sterlington; M. L. Stanford, 32, Jonesboro, and Ed Miller, 40, of 604 Grammont street, Monroe.

Bee Jenkins, 40, Negro, Gallion; G. W. David, 65, West Monroe; Jim Murphy, 31, West Monroe; Abe Fields, 23, Negro, West Monroe; R. R. Lively, 57, Columbia, and S. H. Bailey, 26, of Jena, were charged with driving with improper lights, while Chester L. Brewster, 24, Baskin, was booked with reckless driving causing property damage.

It is estimated that the walled terraces on Inca farms represented an investment of about $18,000 an acre in terms of modern labor costs.

CANDIDATES ARE TRADING PUNCHES

Former Governor Jones Begins Talking About 'Louisiana Scandals'

BATON ROUGE, La., Oct. 25.—(AP)—The candidates for governor, if they haven't actually started slugging, are at least trading solid punches after the preliminary sparring of the campaign.

Former Governor Sam Jones has begun talking about the "Louisiana Scandals" that preceded his administration and caused the reaction which had much to do with electing him in 1940.

Judge Robert Kennon, who insists he's the only real independent in the race, has been characterizing his opponents impartially as machine candidates.

Former Governor Earl K. Long has been bearing down on his $50 old age pension proposal—a live issue in view of the present difficulties of the state's welfare recipients.

And Representative James H. Morrison has centered much of his fire on the state road system, which admittedly suffered much under wartime traffic and post-war maintenance conditions.

A useful fund of political savvy was withdrawn from the governor's office with the departure of Lee L. Laycock as Governor Jimmie Davis' secretary.

A fixture on the staff of the house of representatives, a perennial campaigner, campaign arranger and meeting expediter first for one candidate then for another since the early days of the late Huey P. Long, later secretary to two governors, Laycock is literally at home in any town in Louisiana big enough to support a roadside sign. He knows everybody and his particular brand of impudent wit usually can jar a chuckle—and often an unguarded bit of information—from almost anybody.

There naturally has been much speculation as to who will get the benefit of Laycock's singular combination of experience and talents, now that the governor has decided to dispense with them.

Present indications are that they will serve Laycock's candidacy for state auditor and that only. Announced possibly with tongue in cheek, his campaign to be elected to a job he promises to help abolish has become intensely serious to the sometimes flippant clerk of the house of representatives.

He says the response from people who earnestly want the abolition of what he calls a useless office has been impressive and that he is determined to go through with it.

And Laycock so far seems determined to go the route—at least through the first primary—as an independent candidate. He has had some feelers about ticket affiliations and has rejected them.

Two gubernatorial tickets have a vacancy for a candidate for auditor—Earl Long's and Sam Jones'. But there is no doubt that D. Ross Banister announced for the post with the blessing of Jones forces, reportedly at Governor Davis' urging rather than Jones'. The governor has never shown much enthusiasm for Laycock's candidacy.

The delay in taking Banister formally on the ticket has caused a few cocked eyebrows, but it seems unlikely that Laycock now can become the Jones candidate.

If he doesn't, he probably won't be Long's or anybody's. As a complete independent, he can cultivate his staggering list of acquaintances of all shades of political sympathy on his own behalf, carefully saying nothing for or against any gubernatorial candidate. And that is exactly what he is likely to do.

If any gubernatorial candidate is in need of a full set of explosive issues—which is unlikely—he can find them in the proceedings of the recent Alexandria meeting of the Louisiana Parent-Teacher Association board.

The board went on record favoring the basic distribution of state school funds among the parishes in proportion to the number of children in each actually attending public schools, instead of the present "per educable" division.

The present system bases the ratio on the number of children in each parish of school age, whether they are attending public school, private school or no school.

The change would cut down state school apportionment to New Orleans, where a high proportion of children attend parochial or private schools, and to some other parishes, especially those rural ones with a high proportion of Negroes and a low proportion of school attendance.

The parent-teacher board also heard recommendations for passage of a stiff natural gas tax—one of the few proposals that really led to battle in the 1946 legislature; for relinquishment by the state to the parishes of the ad valorem tax, and for abolition of the ten-year tax exemption for new or industrial plants.

WARN MERCHANTS OF 'HOT CHECK' ARTISTS

Monroe police issued a warning yesterday to local merchants to be on the lookout for two "hot check" artists said to be working the larger cities of central and northern Louisiana.

The pair, police said, were in Alexandria last Friday and Saturday. Several checks made against the Ross Motor Company, Bunkie, and signed by William Ross were passed on Alexandria stores. All checks later proved to be "hot."

Merchants of Shreveport fell victims to the two last Tuesday. This time, police said, the checks were drawn against the Ross Motor Company of Minden but were signed by the same William Ross.

According to information furnished local officers the pair, a young man and woman, work as a husband and wife combination. They enter women's furnishings stores, buy a dress, then cash checks in payment.

Police said that the man was about 30, weighed 150 pounds and was 5 feet and 8 inches tall. He has thick shoulders, a dark complexion, gray eyes and dark hair. The woman was described as being 25 years old, weighing 120 pounds, with long dark hair and a dark complexion.

In every instance, police said, checks have been made out for exactly $48.65. The woman is said to wear a size 14 dress.

IN MOVIELAND

By Bob Thomas

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 24.—(AP)—When Katharine Hepburn replaced Claudette Colbert in "State of the Union," some folks thought Katie was doing an unwilling favor. She assures that's not the case.

"The play was originally written for Helen Hayes," Katie told me.

When Miss Hayes turned it down, it was offered to Hepburn who also refused, foreseeing a two-year run and not wishing to get tied up. She campaigned vainly to have M.-G.-M. buy the film rights for her.

The play was sold to Liberty Films and earmarked for Colbert, much to Katie's disappointment. Then Claudette balked at working past five o'clock and Katie jumped at the chance to play the role.

Hume Cronyn is the latest to leave the M.-G.-M. talent roster. The studio figures it can hire that capable actor per film and avoid between-picture salary. That seems to be the new pattern. Danny Thomas, for example, has no contract with M.-G.-M. He is paid only when he's in a picture. But being a comic, he can earn money elsewhere, unlike other actors.

Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., who admits "I'm a square," will sing and dance with Betty Grable in 'This Is The Moment." There's no doubt about Betty's being the queen of 20th-Fox. She now has the biggest portable dressing room I've ever seen. A $5,000 job complete with kitchen. Everything but a bathroom. Greer Garson is the only star who has one on the set.

Jeanne Crain is running Grable a close second at 20th and has a hefty schedule lined up for her. After "You Were Meant For Me," she faces "Apartment for Susie," "Julie," "Mr. Cooper's Left Hand" and perhaps "Chicken Every Sunday." Her current film was set for color, but switched to black and white because the wait for color prints would have been costly.

Margaret O'Brien will next be "Peg O' My Heart." She is being groomed for such older parts because the little gal is shooting up. . . . Lew Ayres plans to visit Gotham after "Johnny Belinda." It'll be his first visit in seven years. . . . The movies can't seem to leave well enough alone. Paramount is now planning a sequel to the enormously successful "Dear Ruth."

Marie McDonald, who hasn't worked at M.-G.-M. for almost a year, was campaigning for a role in the studio's administration building. Told a couple of execs were in conference, she answered, "When they get back, ask them how many ducks they caught." . . . After seeing the length of Maria Montez' role in 'The Exile," few will wonder why she kicked up a fuss.

Alexis Smith, Warner's ace pinch-hitter, jests that she'll have to wait until someone turns down a role before she learns her assignment following "Christopher Blake." She added that she'd like a leading man tall enough so she wouldn't have to act in her stocking feet." . . . John Lund told me he got a "fan" letter saying, "Your performance in 'Perils of Pauline' is one of the year's ten worst." Another letter followed: "I just saw Pauline' again and your performance is one of the year's five worst."

If a caster in any of your furniture persists in falling out, fill the hole with wood putty. Then push in the caster. When the putty dries the caster will hold.

Boyle's Notebook

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—(AP)—This happened in a city whose welfare department has asked for a budget of $224,000,000 for next year:

A big well-dressed man walked into one of those Sixth Avenue cafeterias where characters who never saw a racehorse spend hours poring over racing forms. It was just after 4 a.m. The bars were closed and the place was crowded.

The big man wanted a snack to fortify him against the subway ride home. He took a tray to the counter and for forty-five cents bought two fried eggs and a one-sided piece of ham—it's cut too thin to have two sides. He also ordered two glasses of milk.

He carried his tray to a table at which two people were already sitting—a red-haired man of middle age and a slight, bent woman of about 65. He sat down. At first he thought the other two were together, but soon he saw he was wrong.

The red-haired man was eating, but the old woman had no plate before her. She wore a black dress of good material, but it verged on the shabby. A piece of adhesive tape on the bridge of her nose, worn sore by her glasses, had slipped from its mooring and gave a slightly rakish note to her air of faded gentility.

The woman watched with strange attentiveness the plate from which the red-haired man was eating. He finished, got up and left.

The old woman remained in her seat. The big man looked across the table and saw she was nervously fingering two nickels. She stared at the nickles and then glanced up at the signs over the cafeteria counter: Coffee and Muffins—15 cents; Chopped Steak and Potatoes—65 cents, Hot Cakes and Sausage—but nothing for two nickels.

The big man stopped eating. Moved by a sudden impulse, he gestured with his hand and pushed one of his glasses of milk toward the center of the table.

The old woman glanced furtively around as if fearful that a cafeteria attendant might see her, then took up the glass and drained the milk in quick steady gulps. Her withered lips formed a soundless word—"thanks"—and she lowered her eyes and again began fumbling with the two nickels.

Her thoughts seemed far away. Four men drinking coffee at the next table began arguing over which horse would take the third race at Jamaica.

The big man looked down at his plate. He had taken only a bite of the ham and a corner off one egg. For some reason he felt ashamed to see the food before him.

He got to his feet, pushed his plate to the center of the table, nodded good night to the old woman's half-averted face, and walked out.

Turning, he looked back through the plate glass window. The woman, using his discarded knife and fork, was cleaning up the partly-eaten good on his plate. She drank the milk left in his second glass.

The big man passed another lighted cafeteria, paused, then decided he was no longer hungry.

"Does she really have to?" he thought. "I wonder does she really have to?"

For in the city of many rackets there are people who even make a racket out of table scavenging. And you can't be sure.

COLLEGE PLACE TO CONDUCT REVIVAL

College Place Baptist Church, two blocks distant from the N. J. C. campus, will conduct a revival for the present week, through November 2, with Dr. Paul Brooks Leath, of New Orleans, as visiting evangelist. Dr. Leath is widely known through his connection as professor of evangelism at the New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary. His first service here will be this morning at the 11 o'clock service. Through the week services will be at night only at 7:30 o'clock, which will follow a 15-minute prayer group service.

The evangelist ranks as successful youthful revivalist with wide experience in the southland. In addition to his services as preacher he is also a talented pianist.

He is a graduate of Baylor University and received his master's degree in theology from Southwestern Seminary, and a doctor's degree from the New Orleans Seminary.

The public is cordially invited to attend all services.

This church will observe its third anniversary on November 9.

He also won his battalion pistol championship with the .45 calibre pistol, and in the same year placed second in the national rifle contest with a score of 19 out of 20 bulls eyes from 1,000 yards.

LeBlanc received training as a paratrooper at Ft. Benning, Ga. Following his graduation from Automotive Mechanics School, Atlanta, he transferred to AAF for cadet training, but was eliminated by an eye injury. His next assignment was to Airplane Mechanics School, Keesler Field, Miss. Serving as boxing instructor there, LeBlanc coached three airforce championship teams.

After graduating at Keesler, he was assigned to the troop carrier command at Las Vegas, as an aerial engineer. From there he was shipped to CBI and served in this theater until his discharge.

Miss Dean served as a nurse in North Africa, Italy, and the European theater of operations. Henry was distinguished as the shortest tail gunner in the 8th Air Force where he served in the European theater.

Bowen was assigned to Aviation Mechanics School, Norman, Okla. Later he was transferred to the Naval Academy Preparatory School, Bainbridge, Mr., where he was on duty until his discharge.

Faculty sponsors A. S. Huffman and E. C. Whatley, spoke enthusiastically of the high morale and standards of the Veterans Club's membership. The organization will include in the year's program the showing of battle films, talks on current significant topics and sponsorship of dances and other social activities.

CANDIDATES ARE TRADING PUNCHES

Former Governor Jones Begins Talking About 'Louisiana Scandals'

BATON ROUGE, La., Oct. 25.—(AP)—The candidates for governor, if they haven't actually started slugging, are at least trading solid punches after the preliminary sparring of the campaign.

Former Governor Sam Jones has begun talking about the "Louisiana Scandals" that preceded his administration and caused the reaction which had much to do with electing him in 1940.

Judge Robert Kennon, who insists he's the only real independent in the race, has been characterizing his opponents impartially as machine candidates.

Former Governor Earl K. Long has been bearing down on his $50 old age pension proposal—a live issue in view of the present difficulties of the state's welfare recipients.

And Representative James H. Morrison has centered much of his fire on the state road system, which admittedly suffered much under wartime traffic and post-war maintenance conditions.

A useful fund of political savvy was withdrawn from the governor's office with the departure of Lee L. Laycock as Governor Jimmie Davis' secretary.

A fixture on the staff of the house of representatives, a perennial campaigner, campaign arranger and meeting expediter first for one candidate then for another since the early days of the late Huey P. Long, later secretary to two governors, Laycock is literally at home in any town in Louisiana big enough to support a roadside sign. He knows everybody and his particular brand of impudent wit usually can jar a chuckle—and often an unguarded bit of information—from almost anybody.

There naturally has been much speculation as to who will get the benefit of Laycock's singular combination of experience and talents, now that the governor has decided to dispense with them.

Present indications are that they will serve Laycock's candidacy for state auditor and that only. Announced possibly with tongue in cheek, his campaign to be elected to a job he promises to help abolish has become intensely serious to the sometimes flippant clerk of the house of representatives.

He says the response from people who earnestly want the abolition of what he calls a useless office has been impressive and that he is determined to go through with it.

And Laycock so far seems determined to go the route—at least through the first primary—as an independent candidate. He has had some feelers about ticket affiliations and has rejected them.

Two gubernatorial tickets have a vacancy for a candidate for auditor—Earl Long's and Sam Jones'. But there is no doubt that D. Ross Banister announced for the post with the blessing of Jones forces, reportedly at Governor Davis' urging rather than Jones'. The governor has never shown much enthusiasm for Laycock's candidacy.

The delay in taking Banister formally on the ticket has caused a few cocked eyebrows, but it seems unlikely that Laycock now can become the Jones candidate.

If he doesn't, he probably won't be Long's or anybody's. As a complete independent, he can cultivate his staggering list of acquaintances of all shades of political sympathy on his own behalf, carefully saying nothing for or against any gubernatorial candidate. And that is exactly what he is likely to do.

If any gubernatorial candidate is in need of a full set of explosive issues—which is unlikely—he can find them in the proceedings of the recent Alexandria meeting of the Louisiana Parent-Teacher Association board.

The board went on record favoring the basic distribution of state school funds among the parishes in proportion to the number of children in each actually attending public schools, instead of the present "per educable" division.

The present system bases the ratio on the number of children in each parish of school age, whether they are attending public school, private school or no school.

The change would cut down state school apportionment to New Orleans, where a high proportion of children attend parochial or private schools, and to some other parishes, especially those rural ones with a high proportion of Negroes and a low proportion of school attendance.

The parent-teacher board also heard recommendations for passage of a stiff natural gas tax—one of the few proposals that really led to battle in the 1946 legislature; for relinquishment by the state to the parishes of the ad valorem tax, and for abolition of the ten-year tax exemption for new or industrial plants.

WARN MERCHANTS OF 'HOT CHECK' ARTISTS

Monroe police issued a warning yesterday to local merchants to be on the lookout for two "hot check" artists said to be working the larger cities of central and northern Louisiana.

The pair, police said, were in Alexandria last Friday and Saturday. Several checks made against the Ross Motor Company, Bunkie, and signed by William Ross were passed on Alexandria stores. All checks later proved to be "hot."

Merchants of Shreveport fell victims to the two last Tuesday. This time, police said, the checks were drawn against the Ross Motor Company of Minden but were signed by the same William Ross.

According to information furnished local officers the pair, a young man and woman, work as a husband and wife combination. They enter women's furnishings stores, buy a dress, then cash checks in payment.

Police said that the man was about 30, weighed 150 pounds and was 5 feet and 8 inches tall. He has thick shoulders, a dark complexion, gray eyes and dark hair. The woman was described as being 25 years old, weighing 120 pounds, with long dark hair and a dark complexion.

In every instance, police said, checks have been made out for exactly $48.65. The woman is said to wear a size 14 dress.

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 24.—(AP)—When Katharine Hepburn replaced Claudette Colbert in "State of the Union," some folks thought Katie was doing an unwilling favor. She assures that's not the case.

"The play was originally written for Helen Hayes," Katie told me.

When Miss Hayes turned it down, it was offered to Hepburn who also refused, foreseeing a two-year run and not wishing to get tied up. She campaigned vainly to have M.-G.-M. buy the film rights for her.

The play was sold to Liberty Films and earmarked for Colbert, much to Katie's disappointment. Then Claudette balked at working past five o'clock and Katie jumped at the chance to play the role.

Hume Cronyn is the latest to leave the M.-G.-M. talent roster. The studio figures it can hire that capable actor per film and avoid between-picture salary. That seems to be the new pattern. Danny Thomas, for example, has no contract with M.-G.-M. He is paid only when he's in a picture. But being a comic, he can earn money elsewhere, unlike other actors.

Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., who admits "I'm a square," will sing and dance with Betty Grable in 'This Is The Moment." There's no doubt about Betty's being the queen of 20th-Fox. She now has the biggest portable dressing room I've ever seen. A $5,000 job complete with kitchen. Everything but a bathroom. Greer Garson is the only star who has one on the set.

Jeanne Crain is running Grable a close second at 20th and has a hefty schedule lined up for her. After "You Were Meant For Me," she faces "Apartment for Susie," "Julie," "Mr. Cooper's Left Hand" and perhaps "Chicken Every Sunday." Her current film was set for color, but switched to black and white because the wait for color prints would have been costly.

Margaret O'Brien will next be "Peg O' My Heart." She is being groomed for such older parts because the little gal is shooting up. . . . Lew Ayres plans to visit Gotham after "Johnny Belinda." It'll be his first visit in seven years. . . . The movies can't seem to leave well enough alone. Paramount is now planning a sequel to the enormously successful "Dear Ruth."

Marie McDonald, who hasn't worked at M.-G.-M. for almost a year, was campaigning for a role in the studio's administration building. Told a couple of execs were in conference, she answered, "When they get back, ask them how many ducks they caught." . . . After seeing the length of Maria Montez' role in 'The Exile," few will wonder why she kicked up a fuss.

Alexis Smith, Warner's ace pinch-hitter, jests that she'll have to wait until someone turns down a role before she learns her assignment following "Christopher Blake." She added that she'd like a leading man tall enough so she wouldn't have to act in her stocking feet." . . . John Lund told me he got a "fan" letter saying, "Your performance in 'Perils of Pauline' is one of the year's ten worst." Another letter followed: "I just saw Pauline' again and your performance is one of the year's five worst."

Boyle's Notebook

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—(AP)—This happened in a city whose welfare department has asked for a budget of $224,000,000 for next year:

A big well-dressed man walked into one of those Sixth Avenue cafeterias where characters who never saw a racehorse spend hours poring over racing forms. It was just after 4 a.m. The bars were closed and the place was crowded.

The big man wanted a snack to fortify him against the subway ride home. He took a tray to the counter and for forty-five cents bought two fried eggs and a one-sided piece of ham—it's cut too thin to have two sides. He also ordered two glasses of milk.

He carried his tray to a table at which two people were already sitting—a red-haired man of middle age and a slight, bent woman of about 65. He sat down. At first he thought the other two were together, but soon he saw he was wrong.

The red-haired man was eating, but the old woman had no plate before her. She wore a black dress of good material, but it verged on the shabby. A piece of adhesive tape on the bridge of her nose, worn sore by her glasses, had slipped from its mooring and gave a slightly rakish note to her air of faded gentility.

The woman watched with strange attentiveness the plate from which the red-haired man was eating. He finished, got up and left.

The old woman remained in her seat. The big man looked across the table and saw she was nervously fingering two nickels. She stared at the nickles and then glanced up at the signs over the cafeteria counter: Coffee and Muffins—15 cents; Chopped Steak and Potatoes—65 cents, Hot Cakes and Sausage—but nothing for two nickels.

The big man stopped eating. Moved by a sudden impulse, he gestured with his hand and pushed one of his glasses of milk toward the center of the table.

The old woman glanced furtively around as if fearful that a cafeteria attendant might see her, then took up the glass and drained the milk in quick steady gulps. Her withered lips formed a soundless word—"thanks"—and she lowered her eyes and again began fumbling with the two nickels.

Her thoughts seemed far away. Four men drinking coffee at the next table began arguing over which horse would take the third race at Jamaica.

The big man looked down at his plate. He had taken only a bite of the ham and a corner off one egg. For some reason he felt ashamed to see the food before him.

He got to his feet, pushed his plate to the center of the table, nodded good night to the old woman's half-averted face, and walked out.

Turning, he looked back through the plate glass window. The woman, using his discarded knife and fork, was cleaning up the partly-eaten good on his plate. She drank the milk left in his second glass.

The big man passed another lighted cafeteria, paused, then decided he was no longer hungry.

"Does she really have to?" he thought. "I wonder does she really have to?"

For in the city of many rackets there are people who even make a racket out of table scavenging. And you can't be sure.

ARMY FALLS UPSET PREY OF COLUMBIA, 21-20

PASSES TUMBLE FAVORED CADETS IN LAST QUARTER

Black Knights Of West Point Take First Beating In 33 Contests

By Gayle Talbot

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—(AP)—A dauntless band of Columbia Lions scored one of the most stunning upsets of gridiron history today when they sent Army's eleven tumbling into defeat, 21 to 20, with a spectacular passing attack which scored two touchdowns in the final quarter and brought gasps from an incredulous crowd of 35,000.

Unbeaten in their last 32 games and unscored upon previously this year, the Black Knights from West Point found themselves helpless to stem the light Blue once Gene Rossides, Columbia's brilliant quarterback, began throwing bullseyes to an equally brilliant receiver, End Bill Swiacki.

Less than seven minutes remained to play when the Lions drove 67 yards down the turf of Baker Field to score their third touchdown and Ventan Yablonski, their fullback, cleaved the posts with a kick for extra point which gave the Cadets their first reverse since Navy turned them back in November, 1943.

A desperate attempt by Army to drive to a score in the closing minutes came to nothing when Lou Kusserow of Columbia intercepted a pass by Arnold Galiffa near midfield. When the game ended and the crowd surged onto the field, the Lions were deep in Army territory again and giving the rattled Cadets no surcease.

Rossides, the individual hero of the amazing triumph, gave probably as dazzling exhibition of the passing art as ever was seen on any field. He connected on 18 out of 27 throws and accounted for most of the 263 yards gained by the Lions through the air. The Cadets found it virtually impossible to knock down his long pegs to Swiacki, who made several diving catches that were something to see.

In all, Coach Lou Little's team completed 20 of 30 passes, and Swiacki caught eight of them for 138 yards. In the decisive second half the light Blue completed a phenomenal 13 of 15 aerials while they were putting on their two great scoring drives of 60 and 67 yards. Columbia's total yardage was 363 to Army's 344. The losers, still badly needing a big league passer to replace Arnold Tucker, picked up only 42 yards through the air on four completions.

The Lions, beaten by Yale and Pennsylvania in their last two outings, scarcely were conceded a chance against Coach Earl Blaik's operatives. The odds-makers had rated the Plainsmen favorites by two touchdowns, though those who had seen Columbia's offense clicking at its best had doubted the light Blue would be held scoreless.

Army made the experts look good at the outset by pushing 55 yards for a score the first time they got hold of the ball. Galiffa plunged it across from the one-yard mark. Later in the first period the Cadets drove down to the Columbia nine-yard line.

Midway of the second quarter the Plainsmen banged their way 47 yards for another score, Rip Rowan going across from the one after Bill Gustafson had unreeled a pretty 27-yard run. Jack Mackmull placekicked both extra points to put Army in front 14-0.

The lineups:

Army	Pos.	Columbia
Rawers	LE	Swiacki
Galloway	LT	Briggs
Steffy	LG	Karas
Yeoman	C	Hampton

Battered Tulane Finds Auburn Easy Pickings, Wins 40-0

IMPOTENT TIGERS FALL TO GREEN'S LAST HALF POWER

Plainsmen Show No Offense Whatever As Wave Rolls To Total Of 533 Yards

By Kris Kreeger

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Tulane's thrice-beaten Green Wave found somebody it could beat today and beat 'em badly, winning 40 to 0 from the impotent Auburn Plainsmen before 30,000 spectators.

Tulane could score only once during a listless first half, but superior power and reserve strength wore down the crippled Plainsmen and the Wavemen were scoring freely during the late minutes.

The Wave touchdowns came on drives of 75, 56, and 30 yards, a 40-yard pass, 45-yard forward-lateral and a 56-yard run by Fullback Marvin McCain.

Auburn showed no offense whatever and never got inside Tulane's 41-yard line.

Tulane drove 75 yards in seven plays to a touchdown the first time the Wave got the ball. Ed Price gained most of the ground and circled left end 32 yards for the score.

Midway of the third period Tulane put together a 56-yard push, aided by a penalty which gave the Wave a first down on the eleven. Price went the last two yards through the line.

A few minutes later Marvin McCain, fullback, broke through the middle and made a beautiful broken field run 56 yards for another touchdown.

A fumble recovery on the Auburn 30 gave Tulane another chance early in the final period. A penalty put the ball on the one-yard line and Halfback Cliff Van Meter slammed across.

Tulane's next score came on a 45 yard forward-lateral. Quarterback Bennie Ellender shot the forward to Halfback Al Waller, who lateraled to Halfback Bob Jones on the Auburn 25, and Jones did the rest.

The last touchdown was a 40-yard four-down pass from Freshman Quarterback Ronald Chernick to Waller on the goal line.

Ed Heider kicked Tulane's extra points.

Tulane gained 533 net yards running and passing and Auburn only 16.

The lineups:

Auburn	Pos.	Tulane
Williams	LE	Wasieleski
Adcock	LT	Druen
Poundstone	LG	Holm
Herring	C	Kottemann
Fulmer	RG	Balen

WINNSBORO NOSES OUT BASTROP RAMS, 6 TO 0

WINNSBORO, La., Oct. 25.—(Special)—The Winnsboro High School Wildcats, met surprising resistance but turned back the Bastrop High School Rams, 6 to 0, here last night to celebrate homecoming by winning their first Class A conference game.

Billy Ray Wiggins, ace of the Wildcat backfield, scored the winning touchdown in the second quarter on a 15-yard run through the line, and the Wildcats were only ten yards from pay dirt when the game ended.

First downs were eight to five in favor of Winnsboro. The Wildcats completed three of nine passes, and Eastrop completed only one and had one interception out of eight tosses. The Rams were penalized only five yards, and Winnsboro drew 40 yards in penalties.

NIGHT BASEBALL DUE FOR RUSTON

Town Council Plans Lights For Fraser Field, Increase Park Facilities

RUSTON, La., Oct. 25.—(Special)—Night baseball will come to Ruston next spring with the installation of lights at Fraser Field, it has been announced.

The Ruston Baseball Association, sponsors of the Ruston Volunteers who won the championship of the Big Eight League the past season, will proceed with plans for lighting the field that developed at a meeting of the association here with Club President C. E. Barham.

Mayor Richardson reported at the meeting that the Ruston town council would install the lights. Ruston played to overflow crowds the past summer, and with night ball for next year, additional stands will be built for the accommodation of the expected increase in attendance.

Members of the association tomorrow will begin a campaign to raise $2,500 to be used for the construction of additional stands, and the construction of locker and dressing rooms.

According to present plans, Ruston will boast one of the best parks in North Louisiana and a playing field "second to none," association officials said.

League President Larry J. Fox also reported several other clubs in the Big Eight are planning to have lights next year. Hodge had lights a few years back, and plans call for a return to night ball at Hodge next summer. Bernice is also reported planning to perform under the arc lights.

The Louisiana Tech baseball team, winner of the Louisiana Intercollegiate Conference title last spring, might also accept the night facilities here. All around, Ruston enjoyed considerable baseball the past year with two teams in the Big Eight, the Tech club, an American Legion Junior team, and a kid's league at home in addition to having an entry in the Kid's League for clubs of northwest Louisiana that included Ruston, Homer, Haynesville, and Minden. The Ruston entry won in the district Kid's League, and also had a stellar American Legion Junior team.

Ruston also expects to field another fine Legion club next summer with ten players returning from this year's team.

PORKERS FOLLOW SCOTT IN 19 TO 14 WIN OVER REBELS

Conerly In Great Performance But Fails To Overshadow Smackover Kid

By Will Grimsley

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 25.—(AP)—Aroused Arkansas matched the nation's most potent air attack with a free-wheeling, strike-throwing lad from Smackover, Ark.—Clyde Scott—this rainy, miserable afternoon and stunned favored Mississippi, 19 to 14, in a thrill-packed contest played before 23,000.

Mississippi's great Charley Conerly, the top offensive man in intercollegiate football, gave one of his greatest all-around performances but it wasn't enough to offset the antics of the speedy Razorback senior halfback who used to star for Navy.

Twice during the body-rocking, up-and-down battle, Mississippi matched Arkansas touchdowns and went ahead on the proficiency of Bobby Oswalt's point-converting toe.

But with six minutes remaining and the Razorbacks trailing, 14 to 12, Scott unleashed a 41-yard pass to End Bud Canada to put the ball on the enemy's 26. Then he cut over left guard and sallied 23 yards to the three from which point Stacey Looney of Vinita, Okla., plunged over.

Little Kenny Holland kicked the extra point, the Razorbacks first of the day, and the scoring column was closed. But it was just a fraction of the day's pulsating events.

Scott, who had a day's ruling net of 92 yards, bulled over from the one for the first Arkansas touchdown with less than a minute to play in the first period and he set up the second in the third period with a 61-yard return.

The spectacular sprint put the ball on Mississippi's 24 and on the very next play Holland passed to Canada on the goal line for the marker.

Arkansas scored in the first and third and each time Mississippi came charging back in the following quarter like a stung Giant—with long Charley Conerly's arm furnishing the locomotion.

In the second period Ole Miss' Joe Johnson recovered a Scott fumble on the Arkansas 18 and two plays later Conerly found big Barney Poole, his main battery mate, in the clear for a 16-yard touchdown pass.

Early in the fourth period, trailing 12 to 7, Ole Miss rolled 65 yards on Conerly's passing and line-whacking by Fullback Earl Howell, Jr., but Arkansas held on the four.

Two minutes later, however, Ole Miss took the ball on the Razorbacks' 42 on a short kick and this time Conerly was not to be denied. He picked up 16 yards on the ground and then threw a 26-yard scoring pass to Howell.

Scott, ripping off runs of 15 and 20 yards, was knocking at the touchdown door again when the game ended.

Conerly completed 14 of 23 passes with a wet football for 138 yards and gained 38 yards on the ground.

Mississippi had 11 first downs to nine for Arkansas but the Porkers led in rushing 138 to 90 yards.

Unheralded Terry Brennan Shines As Notre Dame Trips Iowa

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Oct. 25.—(AP)—Out of a lineup including such worthy gladiators as Czarobski, Swistowicz, Kosikowski and others, rose Irishman Terry Brennan today to punch a pair of touchdowns which gave the unconquered Fighting Irish of Notre Dame a 21-0 triumph over Iowa.

Notre Dame's fourth straight football success was registered chiefly along the ground with Pitching Johnny Lujack taking the back seat. The Irish broke loose the 21-year-old Brennan and Emil "Red" Sitko on scatback scampers which aided greatly in piling up 223 yards by rushing while outmanned Iowa was tearing off 120.

Alfonso Di Marco, Iowa's fine little passer, was continually rushed by the Irish forwards and when he did have a quiet spell his rifle shots twice bounced out of the arms of Receiver Hal Shoener.

The great Negro halfback Emlen Tunnell provided most of Iowa's zip. He raced 65 yards in the third period before Lujack and Brennan forced him out of bounds on the Irish 10. Then he passed to Hal Shoener in the end zone, only to have the touchdown nullified by an Iowa offside.

Bill Walsh captured Bob Smith's fumble on the Iowa 30 to set up Notre Dame's first period score. Lujack passed nine yards to Jim Martin, Brennan ripped 13 then crashed over.

Sitko peeled off 10 and 15 yards at a crack and Brennan capped a 45-yard push by slashing over from the 12 for his second marker in the second period.

Notre Dame's third touchdown started in the final minutes of the third period and blossomed after two plays in the finale. Substitute Floyd Simmons and Brennan combined in a 53 yard scramble topped by a two-yard plunge by Reserve Halfback Larry Coutre.

Purdue Plays Errorless Ball To Hand Illini Their First Defeat Of Season

By Dale Burgess

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Oct. 25.—(AP)—An alert Purdue team never made a mistake today and knocked down an Illinois football machine that had gone ten games without defeat, 14 to 7, before an alumni-packed crowd of 42,000 homecoming fans.

Illinois, tied by Army but unbeaten since mid-season of 1946, made 17 first downs to Purdue's six, but the unflustered winners made the Illini do most of their running on the wrong side of the center stripe.

Purdue's five-man backfield on defense was calculated to stop Illinois' top passer, Perry Moss, and while it didn't keep him from passing for the one Illini touchdown, it knocked down most of his other tosses that might have mattered.

Moss reached receivers with 12 of 23 passes, but the net gain was only 133 yards, while Bob DeMoss of Purdue completed four of five for 58 yards and set up both of his teams touchdowns.

Illinois got a bad break early in the first quarter and it had others as the afternoon wore on. Dwight Eddleman had to kick from his own eight. The ball hit near midfield but bounced straight back toward the Illini goal line and stopped on the 31. Purdue went right to work.

DeMoss threw a 15-yard pass to Adams and Jack Milito plunged over.

Illinois tied it up in the last minute of the second quarter. The Illini fooled Purdue for one of the few times of the afternoon on the moldy Statue of Liberty play, Bernie Krueger posing to pass and then handing the ball to Eddleman for a 14-yard gain. A Moss pass to End Joe Buscemi added 13 more and then Moss threw a 24-yard touchdown pass to Chick Maggioli.

Then DeMoss and Purdue went to work in the third period. After Eddleman punted out of bounds on the Illinois 34, DeMoss threw the two passes that won the game. The lanky Purdue quarterback passed 32 yards to Adams on the Illini 6, then threw to End Bob Heck for the touchdown.

ARMY FALLS UPSET PREY OF COLUMBIA, 21-20

PASSES TUMBLE FAVORED CADETS IN LAST QUARTER

By Gayle Talbot

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—(AP)—A dauntless band of Columbia Lions scored one of the most stunning upsets of gridiron history today when they sent Army's eleven tumbling into defeat, 21 to 20, with a spectacular passing attack which scored two touchdowns in the final quarter and brought gasps from an incredulous crowd of 35,000.

Unbeaten in their last 32 games and unscored upon previously this year, the Black Knights from West Point found themselves helpless to stem the light Blue once Gene Rossides, Columbia's brilliant quarterback, began throwing bullseyes to an equally brilliant receiver, End Bill Swiacki.

Less than seven minutes remained to play when the Lions drove 67 yards down the turf of Baker Field to score their third touchdown and Ventan Yablonski, their fullback, cleaved the posts with a kick for extra point which gave the Cadets their first reverse since Navy turned them back in November, 1943.

A desperate attempt by Army to drive to a score in the closing minutes came to nothing when Lou Kusserow of Columbia intercepted a pass by Arnold Galiffa near midfield. When the game ended and the crowd surged onto the field, the Lions were deep in Army territory again and giving the rattled Cadets no surcease.

Rossides, the individual hero of the amazing triumph, gave probably as dazzling exhibition of the passing art as ever was seen on any field. He connected on 18 out of 27 throws and accounted for most of the 263 yards gained by the Lions through the air. The Cadets found it virtually impossible to knock down his long pegs to Swiacki, who made several diving catches that were something to see.

In all, Coach Lou Little's team completed 20 of 30 passes, and Swiacki caught eight of them for 138 yards. In the decisive second half the light Blue completed a phenomenal 13 of 15 aerials while they were putting on their two great scoring drives of 60 and 67 yards. Columbia's total yardage was 363 to Army's 344. The losers, still badly needing a big league passer to replace Arnold Tucker, picked up only 42 yards through the air on four completions.

The Lions, beaten by Yale and Pennsylvania in their last two outings, scarcely were conceded a chance against Coach Earl Blaik's operatives. The odds-makers had rated the Plainsmen favorites by two touchdowns, though those who had seen Columbia's offense clicking at its best had doubted the light Blue would be held scoreless.

Army made the experts look good at the outset by pushing 55 yards for a score the first time they got hold of the ball. Galiffa plunged it across from the one-yard mark. Later in the first period the Cadets drove down to the Columbia nine-yard line.

Midway of the second quarter the Plainsmen banged their way 47 yards for another score, Rip Rowan going across from the one after Bill Gustafson had unreeled a pretty 27-yard run. Jack Mackmull placekicked both extra points to put Army in front 14-0.

The lineups:

Battered Tulane Finds Auburn Easy Pickings, Wins 40-0

IMPOTENT TIGERS FALL TO GREEN'S LAST HALF POWER

By Kris Kreeger

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Tulane's thrice-beaten Green Wave found somebody it could beat today and beat 'em badly, winning 40 to 0 from the impotent Auburn Plainsmen before 30,000 spectators.

Tulane could score only once during a listless first half, but superior power and reserve strength wore down the crippled Plainsmen and the Wavemen were scoring freely during the late minutes.

The Wave touchdowns came on drives of 75, 56, and 30 yards, a 40-yard pass, 45-yard forward-lateral and a 56-yard run by Fullback Marvin McCain.

Auburn showed no offense whatever and never got inside Tulane's 41-yard line.

Tulane drove 75 yards in seven plays to a touchdown the first time the Wave got the ball. Ed Price gained most of the ground and circled left end 32 yards for the score.

Midway of the third period Tulane put together a 56-yard push, aided by a penalty which gave the Wave a first down on the eleven. Price went the last two yards through the line.

A few minutes later Marvin McCain, fullback, broke through the middle and made a beautiful broken field run 56 yards for another touchdown.

A fumble recovery on the Auburn 30 gave Tulane another chance early in the final period. A penalty put the ball on the one-yard line and Halfback Cliff Van Meter slammed across.

Tulane's next score came on a 45 yard forward-lateral. Quarterback Bennie Ellender shot the forward to Halfback Al Waller, who lateraled to Halfback Bob Jones on the Auburn 25, and Jones did the rest.

The last touchdown was a 40-yard four-down pass from Freshman Quarterback Ronald Chernick to Waller on the goal line.

Ed Heider kicked Tulane's extra points.

Tulane gained 533 net yards running and passing and Auburn only 16.

The lineups:

WINNSBORO NOSES OUT BASTROP RAMS, 6 TO 0

WINNSBORO, La., Oct. 25.—(Special)—The Winnsboro High School Wildcats met surprising resistance but turned back the Bastrop High School Rams, 6 to 0, here last night to celebrate homecoming by winning their first Class A conference game.

Billy Ray Wiggins, ace of the Wildcat backfield, scored the winning touchdown in the second quarter on a 15-yard run through the line, and the Wildcats were only ten yards from pay dirt when the game ended.

First downs were eight to five in favor of Winnsboro. The Wildcats completed three of nine passes, and Bastrop completed only one and had one interception out of eight tosses. The Rams were penalized only five yards, and Winnsboro drew 40 yards in penalties.

NIGHT BASEBALL DUE FOR RUSTON

Town Council Plans Lights For Fraser Field, Increase Park Facilities

RUSTON, La., Oct. 25.—(Special)—Night baseball will come to Ruston next spring with the installation of lights at Fraser Field, it has been announced.

The Ruston Baseball Association, sponsors of the Ruston Volunteers who won the championship of the Big Eight League the past season, will proceed with plans for lighting the field that developed at a meeting of the association here with Club President C. E. Barham.

Mayor Richardson reported at the meeting that the Ruston town council would install the lights. Ruston played to overflow crowds the past summer, and with night ball for next year, additional stands will be built for the accommodation of the expected increase in attendance.

Members of the association tomorrow will begin a campaign to raise $2,500 to be used for the construction of additional stands, and the construction of locker and dressing rooms.

According to present plans, Ruston will boast one of the best parks in North Louisiana and a playing field "second to none," association officials said.

League President Larry J. Fox also reported several other clubs in the Big Eight are planning to have lights next year. Hodge had lights a few years back, and plans call for a return to night ball at Hodge next summer. Bernice is also reported planning to perform under the arc lights.

The Louisiana Tech baseball team, winner of the Louisiana Intercollegiate Conference title last spring, might also accept the night facilities here. All around, Ruston enjoyed considerable baseball the past year with two teams in the Big Eight, the Tech club, an American Legion Junior team, and a kid's league at home in addition to having an entry in the Kid's League for clubs of northwest Louisiana that included Ruston, Homer, Haynesville, and Minden. The Ruston entry won in the district Kid's League, and also had a stellar American Legion Junior team.

Ruston also expects to field another fine Legion club next summer with ten players returning from this year's team.

PORKERS FOLLOW SCOTT IN 19 TO 14 WIN OVER REBELS

Conerly In Great Performance But Fails To Overshadow Smackover Kid

By Will Grimsley

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 25.—(AP)—Aroused Arkansas matched the nation's most potent air attack with a free-wheeling, strike-throwing lad from Smackover, Ark.—Clyde Scott—this rainy, miserable afternoon and stunned favored Mississippi, 19 to 14, in a thrill-packed contest played before 23,000.

Mississippi's great Charley Conerly, the top offensive man in intercollegiate football, gave one of his greatest all-around performances but it wasn't enough to offset the antics of the speedy Razorback senior halfback who used to star for Navy.

Twice during the body-rocking, up-and-down battle, Mississippi matched Arkansas touchdowns and went ahead on the proficiency of Bobby Oswalt's point-converting toe.

But with six minutes remaining and the Razorbacks trailing, 14 to 12, Scott unleashed a 41-yard pass to End Bud Canada to put the ball on the enemy's 26. Then he cut over left guard and sallied 23 yards to the three from which point Stacey Looney of Vinita, Okla., plunged over.

Little Kenny Holland kicked the extra point, the Razorbacks first of the day, and the scoring column was closed. But it was just a fraction of the day's pulsating events.

Scott, who had a day's ruling net of 92 yards, bulled over from the one for the first Arkansas touchdown with less than a minute to play in the first period and he set up the second in the third period with a 61-yard return.

The spectacular sprint put the ball on Mississippi's 24 and on the very next play Holland passed to Canada on the goal line for the marker.

Arkansas scored in the first and third and each time Mississippi came charging back in the following quarter like a stung Giant—with long Charley Conerly's arm furnishing the locomotion.

In the second period Ole Miss' Joe Johnson recovered a Scott fumble on the Arkansas 18 and two plays later Conerly found big Barney Poole, his main battery mate, in the clear for a 16-yard touchdown pass.

Two minutes later, however, Ole Miss took the ball on the Razorbacks' 42 on a short kick and this time Conerly was not to be denied. He picked up 16 yards on the ground and then threw a 26-yard scoring pass to Howell.

Scott, ripping off runs of 15 and 20 yards, was knocking at the touchdown door again when the game ended.

Conerly completed 14 of 23 passes with a wet football for 138 yards and gained 38 yards on the ground.

Mississippi had 11 first downs to nine for Arkansas but the Porkers led in rushing 138 to 90 yards.

TENNESSEE J.C. NEXT FOE FOR N.J.C INDIANS

TRIBE WILL END LONG SERIES AT HOME THIS WEEK

Redskins Accept New Rival In Quest Of Fifth Victory Here Friday Night

The Northeast Junior College of L. S. U. Indians, seeking their fifth triumph of the season in six contests, will open football relations with a new rival when they take on the University of Tennessee Junior College eleven at Brown Field here next Friday night.

The game will be the last of a series of six straight home games for the Redskins who will take to the road after the Tennessee invasion and won't appear here again until their last battle of the season against Alabama State College on Thanksgiving Day.

The Junior Volunteers will be coming here this week with a record of five victories and only one defeat, and the impending game looms as another rough struggle for the Malonemen who have won four and stumbled only once.

From his hospital bed at Vaughan-Wright-Bendel Clinic yesterday, after he had entered the institution for treatment of a head infection, Coach James L. Malone reported his charges had emerged from their Friday night scrap with the Copiah-Lincoln Wolves in good condition, except for the usual bruises, and that, barring injuries in drills this week, the squad should be in top form for the Tennessee invasion.

Right now the Indian mentor is his club's chief casualty, but he expects to be out and around again this week. He underwent a head operation last Monday morning for relief of the infection, left the direction of his squad's training through the past week in the hands of Assistant Coaches Guy Sievers and Russell Kynock, but returned to direct the play in the 26-0 conquest of Copiah-Lincoln. He entered the clinic again shortly after the game.

The Indians functioned as a well-groomed team against Copiah-Lincoln and while the backfield was grabbing headlines with touchdowns, it was again the power in the Redskin line that stifled the Wolfpack.

Particularly impressive was the work at guard by Claude Brawner, stellar 190-pound guard from Wynne, Ark. Brawner looked like th bulwark of the Indian line all night against the Wolves and he got able support from such forwards as Charles "Red" Dillon, Bob Lively, Charles "Bud" Cain, Martin Biddy, Rudy Broussard, Lee Dunaway, J. M. McBeth, Hugh Smith, Thomas Moncrief, Miller Frey, and Jim Minnis.

Reserve Guard James L. Malone, no relation to the Indian mentor of the same name, stamped himself with glory when he blocked a Copiah-Lincoln punt that was gobbled up by Minnis and parked on the Co-Lin six as a setup for a touchdown by little Al Carter, substitute back, in the last quarter.

The most remarkable play of the game, however, went to the backfield boys and was a spectacular pass by Woody Boyles, standing on his own ten in the second quarter, and passing 45 yards to Jerry Gregg who romped 45 more to pay dirt. Boyles contributed a touchdown on a short line plunge in the first quarter, kicked one extra point and passed to Frey for another. Ray Hannon pushed over a TD in the third on a one-yard plunge.

After the date with University of Tennessee Junior College, the Indians invade Magnolia, Ark., on Novembr 8 for a clash with Arkansas A. and M.'s Muleriders, and then go to Great Lakes naval base on November 21.

SPORTS ROUND UP

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Catawba College, a little North Carolina school whose team is coached by the able and vocal chubby Kirkland, is out to bust all modern football scoring records and to tie the best mark it can find anywhere for consecutive non-shutout games. . . . If Catawba makes even a safety against Elon tonight, it will mark the 72nd consecutive game in which the Indians have scored. . . . From the time they began counting points in college football in 1883 to the final game against Princeton in 1889, Yale ran through 72 games without being blanked. . . . That's counted as a record, but actually Yale scored in 80 consecutive games. The Elis went through eight games in 1882 in the same steamroller fashion but then the Big Three—the only colleges that meant anything in football—hadn't reached an agreement on scoring.

Hospital Squad

Bob Higgins, Penn State's rugged coach, may have lost Punter Joe Colone and a few other members of his big squad through injuries—but not his sense of humor. . . . When one of the team managers, tiny Frank Philippbar, got in front of a big lineman during practice the other day and was flattened as if a truck had hit him, Higgins merely groaned: "I guess Doc Griess (the team physician) wants a manager for his team."
his team."

Sports Before Your Eyes

Gradoville, the punter recently "discovered" on the Army B squad, played on the weak Nebraska wartime teams of 1944-45 and was only the second-best punter then. . . . In the ten years of Mike Jacobs' tenure at Madison Square Garden, 25 boxers have won world championships, 18 of them in the Garden itself. Acting Director Sol Strauss now is working on a Rinty Monaghan-Dado Marino tilt for the flyweight title. . . . Quarterback for the Phillips Exeter Academy team which plays Harvard's freshmen today is 183-pound Robert Blaik of West Point, N. Y. . . . Part of the Giants' purchase price of Paul Vovernali was the National League draft rights to Notre Dame's George Connor, who also is on the Cleveland Browns' draft list in the All-America conference.

Wrong Lineup

When Mississippi's Jimmy Crawford blocked a Tulane punt last week, Buck Buchanan grabbed the ball and galloped toward the sideline. . . . As he turned in front of the bench and headed for pay dirt, Buck called out: "Hey, Coach, send Buddy Bowen in. I'm the defensive quarterback."

Weak End Notes

Babe Didrikson has signed a contract to write a book on championship golf, due to be published in April. . . . Bob Brannum, who quit the U. of Kentucky because of over-population in the basketball department has begun early practice with the Michigan State cage team. . . . BARKDULL FAULK GRABS GRID LEAD

Pass Beats Georgia Tucker, 6-0; Sherrouse, Central Battle To 0-0 Tie

Barkdull Faulk took the lead in the Grammar School Football League here yesterday, defeating Georgia Tucker, 6 to 0, at Neville Stadium in one half of a twin bill. In the other half of the program Sherrouse and Central Grammar battled to a scoreless tie.

Barkdull Faulk and Georgia Tucker battled for three quarters with the ball near the midfield stripe, but in the last few minutes of play, George Fontana, sub quarterback for Barkdull Faulk, passed down the middle to his cousin, Gabe Fontana, who ran 30 yards for the winning touchdown.

The Sherrouse-Central scrap was a nip and tuck affair all the way. Central had the heavier team but a 59-pound quarterback, "Bootsey" McClanahan, was Central's outstanding player.

About 500 fans turned out to watch the kids in their first organized contests here. Officials for the Barkdull-Faulk-Georgia Tucker game were Ruple, Breard, Nash, and Kahn. Officials for the other scrap were Breard, Nash, Jones, and Sanders.

Starting lineups and reserves were:

Barkdull Faulk—Curry and G. Fontana, ends; Tullos and Stewart, tackles; Cherrier and Lacy, guards; Hampton, center; Keever, quarterback; Barr and Gamble, halfbacks; and Shatzer, fullback. Subs: Wright, Crawley, Heslep, Vickers, Hart, Boyles, and G. Fontana.

Georgia Tucker—Watson and Rizzo, ends; Portman and Waddell, tackles; McCready and Allen, guards; Means, center; Reeves, quarterback; Kalil and Bruscato, halfbacks; and Broughton, fullback. Subs: Knight, McHaffnery, Haddad, Trousdale, Alton, Marchman, Hinton, and Slater.

Sherrouse—May and Young, ends; Webb and Holt, tackles; Jolly and Wood, guards; Nash, center; Peterson, quarterback; Seiler and Dupriest, halfbacks; and Causey, fullback. Subs: McBride, Womack, Jay Cummins, Joe Cummins, Holloway, Day, Wainwright, Thompson, Brown, Carter, and Huckalbee.

Central—Lessing and Pippin, ends; Cochran and Justice, tackles; Hancock and Bryant, guards; Witt, center; McClanahan, quarterback; Takewell and Woolsey, halfbacks; and Walpole, fullback. Subs: Sedberry, Gates, and Thomas.

Next games for the league are slated for next Sunday afternoon with Georgia Tucker meeting Sherrouse and Central facing Barkdull Faulk, but Director Jack Hesketh of the Monroe Recreation department last night said the games might be changed to be played as curtain-raisers at high school or college games here this weekend.

It was also reported that Central Grammar might change to Ouachita Grammar because Central is short on players. A decision on the proposed change is expected tomorrow.

THE END

GAINESVILLE, Fla.—Frank Dempsey, ,208 pound Miamian, took a long time to get around to playing end, but he's playing the flank position up to the hilt for Florida's Gators now. He was a tackle last year and a guard the first three games this year.

PENN RALLIES LATE TO OVERCOME NAVY

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Pennsylvania's ponderous football machine rolled up impressive hunks of yardage and a 21 to 0 victory over the Navy today, but it wasn't until the final quarter that the Quakers moved fast enough to make their fourth straight triumph a certainty.

The home team took a 7-0 lead in the first quarter and held grimly onto it through an unimpressive display of power football until the weary midshipmen crumbled in the last period.

Statistically, it was all Penn's game, but the red and blue clad team wasted many of its opportunities through fumbling and poor passing.

Penn blew one touchdown right at the outset and fumbled away another in the third quarter while Navy's two scoring chances both were fumbled away.

Tony Minisi, a one-time Midshipman, led Penn to victory, gaining 58 yards on running plays and 67 on passes.

The Quakers got their final score when Bob Evans began flinging passes and completed five in a row. The last to Sub End Wayne Helman for nine yards and a score.

GOLDEN GOPHERS SHOW NO RESPECT FOR FOE'S POWER

Nation's No. 1 Team Loses Some Of Gloss In Face Of Surprising Resistance

By Ted Smits

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Oct. 23.—(AP)—Vaunted Michigan barely managed to defeat surprisingly stubborn Minnesota today, 13 to 6, thereby keeping alive Wolverine hopes for a Big Nine championship and a bid to the Rose Bowl.

It was Minnesota's great line that threw the sand in the hitherto high-scoring Michigan machine, and for four and a half minutes a stunned crowd of 85,938 that jam-packed Michigan's big stadium saw Minnesota lead the nation's number one team 6-0 on the strength of a methodical march from mid-field.

Then Bob Chappius, Michigan's great half back, threw a fast low pass from the Minnesota 40 to Chalmers (Bump) Elliott, who caught it on his fingertips on the Minnesota 15 and went on to score just before the half ended. Jim Brieske's 101st extra point of his college career put Michigan ahead 7-6.

Gene Derricotte added the second touchdown in the last period on a 21 yard run off his left tackle.

Humbled last week by Illinois 40-13, Minnesota was expected to become victim number five in Michigan's touchdown parade that up to today has rolled at almost a point a minute pace.

But the Gophers, seeking to win back the Little Brown Jug, traditional prize held by Michigan since 1943, played an inspired game. An attempted place kick by Don Bailey in the third period that would have put Minnesota ahead 9-6 hit the cross bar and bounced back. The ball had been held on the Michigan 33, only 20 yards from the side lines. Again with less than five minutes to play Minnesota drove to Michigan's 33 where John White intercepted a pass by Everette Faunce.

Before the game Michigan supporters talked glibly of how many points the polished team perfected by Coach on Bernie Bierman's Gophers. As it was Minnesota rubbed a lot of glitter off Michigan's still undefeated record.

Michigan started the game with a rush when Chappius passed to Elliott, who lateralled to End Bob Mann for a net gain of 49 yards. This put the ball on Minnesota's 25.

Another pass by the skilled Chappius made it first down on the Minnesota 14, but Minnesota stiffened to take the ball on downs and from then almost to the end of the half played Michigan off its feet.

Minnesota's touchdown was achieved in the second period with 24 plays

STYMIE REGAINS LEAD AS TURF'S TOP-MONEY NAG IN JAMAICA RACE

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Stymie regained the world money-winning title with a smashing two-length triumph in the $75,000 Added Gallant Fox Handicap at Jamaica today, boosting his bankroll to $816,060.

Mrs. Ethel D. Jacobs' six-year-old "Iron Horse" added $56,350 to his total as he led home two South American stars which were coupled as the favored entry. R. N. Ryan's Talon, carrying equal topweight of 125 pounds with Stymie, was second by four lengths over Mrs. Barclay K. Douglas' Miss Grillo.

Harmonica, which had battled it out with Why Not, another prize three-year-old filly, in the early stages, was beaten a half length by Miss Grillo in a photo finish for the show money but took down fourth place cash of $3,750. Talon earned $15,000 for second place and Miss Grillo took home $7,500.

FINK HORSES WIN AT BATON ROUGE

Three thoroughbreds owned by Herbert J. Fink, Monroe walking horse enthusiast, won high honors at the Dixie Jubilee Horse Show at Baton Rouge this week. The Dixie show is the annual windup of all walking horse shows, and the champions of champions of the world in that field are selected each year.

Fink's Wilson Allen 4th was judged the reserve champion stallion, his Miss Monroe was given the ribbon as the reserve junior walking horse, and Makers Igo placed third in the two-year-old stake. These three were judged in competition with horses from Tennessee, Texas, Louisiana, Arkansas, Mississippi, Florida and Georgia. Mr. Fink was invited to show his horses at the Kansas City show later.

Others who attended the show from Monroe are Richard Mary and J. C. Liner.

The show at Baton Rouge was staged at a cost of approximately $25,000, and attracted large crowds each day. Officers of the association are T. W. Kent, Flunker, La., president; R. F. NATCHEZ BOOMS ANEW IN GRIP OF BASEBALL FEVER

Indians' Entry In Cotton States Recalls 1902 Championship Club

By W. A. Sullivan, Jr.

NATCHEZ, Miss., Oct. 25.—(AP)—While most baseball fans here are spending their spare time speculating on what Natchez' entrance into the Cotton States League will mean next season in the way of a better brand of play, a sprinkling of greyheads are thinking back almost a half century to 1902, and wishing history might repeat itself.

When the Natchez Baseball Club got its release from the Evangeline League last week and joined up with the Class C circuit of Mississippi and Arkansas teams, most folks thought that previous Natchez baseball history began and ended with recent seasons in south Louisiana's colorful tobasco loop.

But the old-timers remembered. They particularly remembered 1902.

That was the year of the Cotton States League's organization, with four river towns of the lower Mississippi valley—Natchez, Vicksburg and Greenville, in Mississippi, and Baton Rouge, La.—enrolling as charter members of the infant four-club circuit.

That was the year the Natchez Indians won the only baseball pennant Natchez has ever had, won it in perhaps as hot a championship race as professional baseball ever saw anywhere.

After a see-saw season in which every team had a chance at the flag until the final week, the Indians clawed down the stretch with Baton Rouge. Tied in a deadlock for the lead, the two clubs squared off here on September 8, 1902, to play the last three games of the season at old Concord Park, a site where a factory building now stands.

More than 2,000 fevered fans rode the electric trolleys (not long since dismantled) out to see the Indians go one-up by taking the series-opener, 11-1.

Enthusiasm for baseball in Natchez reached an all-time peak on September 9, when the largest crowd in local diamond history—before or since—saw the Indians cinch the Cotton States league's first championship in an epic 11-inning battle.

In the bottom of the eleventh, with two men out, balding, fortyish Centerfielder "Dad" Gittinger dealt the blow that is booming still in Cotton

TENNESSEE J.C. NEXT FOE FOR N.J.C INDIANS

TRIBE WILL END LONG SERIES AT HOME THIS WEEK

Redskins Accept New Rival In Quest Of Fifth Victory Here Friday Night

The Northeast Junior College of L. S. U. Indians, seeking their fifth triumph of the season in six contests, will open football relations with a new rival when they take on the University of Tennessee Junior College eleven at Brown Field here next Friday night.

The game will be the last of a series of six straight home games for the Redskins who will take to the road after the Tennessee invasion and won't appear here again until their last battle of the season against Alabama State College on Thanksgiving Day.

The Junior Volunteers will be coming here this week with a record of five victories and only one defeat, and the impending game looms as another rough struggle for the Malonemen who have won four and stumbled only once.

From his hospital bed at Vaughan-Wright-Bendel Clinic yesterday, after he had entered the institution for treatment of a head infection, Coach James L. Malone reported his charges had emerged from their Friday night scrap with the Copiah-Lincoln Wolves in good condition, except for the usual bruises, and that, barring injuries in drills this week, the squad should be in top form for the Tennessee invasion.

Right now the Indian mentor is his club's chief casualty, but he expects to be out and around again this week. He underwent a head operation last Monday morning for relief of the infection, left the direction of his squad's training through the past week in the hands of Assistant Coaches Guy Sievers and Russell Kynock, but returned to direct the play in the 26-0 conquest of Copiah-Lincoln. He entered the clinic again shortly after the game.

The Indians functioned as a well-groomed team against Copiah-Lincoln and while the backfield was grabbing headlines with touchdowns, it was again the power in the Redskin line that stifled the Wolfpack.

Particularly impressive was the work at guard by Claude Brawner, stellar 190-pound guard from Wynne, Ark. Brawner looked like th bulwark of the Indian line all night against the Wolves and he got able support from such forwards as Charles "Red" Dillon, Bob Lively, Charles "Bud" Cain, Martin Biddy, Rudy Broussard, Lee Dunaway, J. M. McBeth, Hugh Smith, Thomas Moncrief, Miller Frey, and Jim Minnis.

Reserve Guard James L. Malone, no relation to the Indian mentor of the same name, stamped himself with glory when he blocked a Copiah-Lincoln punt that was gobbled up by Minnis and parked on the Co-Lin six as a setup for a touchdown by little Al Carter, substitute back, in the last quarter.

Tied in a deadlock for the lead, the two clubs squared off here on September 8, 1902, to play the last three games of the season at old Concord Park, a site where a factory building now stands.

More than 2,000 fevered fans rode the electric trolleys (not long since dismantled) out to see the Indians go one-up by taking the series-opener, 11-1.

Enthusiasm for baseball in Natchez reached an all-time peak on September 9, when the largest crowd in local diamond history—before or since—saw the Indians cinch the Cotton States league's first championship in an epic 11-inning battle.

In the bottom of the eleventh, with two men out, balding, fortyish Centerfielder "Dad" Gittinger dealt the blow that is booming still in Cotton

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Catawba College, a little North Carolina school whose team is coached by the able and vocal chubby Kirkland, is out to bust all modern football scoring records and to tie the best mark it can find anywhere for consecutive non-shutout games. . . . If Catawba makes even a safety against Elon tonight, it will mark the 72nd consecutive game in which the Indians have scored. . . . From the time they began counting points in college football in 1883 to the final game against Princeton in 1889, Yale ran through 72 games without being blanked. . . . That's counted as a record, but actually Yale scored in 80 consecutive games. The Elis went through eight games in 1882 in the same steamroller fashion but then the Big Three—the only colleges that meant anything in football—hadn't reached an agreement on scoring.

Hospital Squad

Bob Higgins, Penn State's rugged coach, may have lost Punter Joe Colone and a few other members of his big squad through injuries—but not his sense of humor. . . . When one of the team managers, tiny Frank Philippbar, got in front of a big lineman during practice the other day and was flattened as if a truck had hit him, Higgins merely groaned: "I guess Doc Griess (the team physician) wants a manager for his team."

Wrong Lineup

When Mississippi's Jimmy Crawford blocked a Tulane punt last week, Buck Buchanan grabbed the ball and galloped toward the sideline. . . . As he turned in front of the bench and headed for pay dirt, Buck called out: "Hey, Coach, send Buddy Bowen in. I'm the defensive quarterback."

BARKDULL FAULK GRABS GRID LEAD

Pass Beats Georgia Tucker, 6-0; Sherrouse, Central Battle To 0-0 Tie

Barkdull Faulk took the lead in the Grammar School Football League here yesterday, defeating Georgia Tucker, 6 to 0, at Neville Stadium in one half of a twin bill. In the other half of the program Sherrouse and Central Grammar battled to a scoreless tie.

Barkdull Faulk and Georgia Tucker battled for three quarters with the ball near the midfield stripe, but in the last few minutes of play, George Fontana, sub quarterback for Barkdull Faulk, passed down the middle to his cousin, Gabe Fontana, who ran 30 yards for the winning touchdown.

The Sherrouse-Central scrap was a nip and tuck affair all the way. Central had the heavier team but a 59-pound quarterback, "Bootsey" McClanahan, was Central's outstanding player.

About 500 fans turned out to watch the kids in their first organized contests here. Officials for the Barkdull-Faulk-Georgia Tucker game were Ruple, Breard, Nash, and Kahn. Officials for the other scrap were Breard, Nash, Jones, and Sanders.

Starting lineups and reserves were:

Barkdull Faulk—Curry and G. Fontana, ends; Tullos and Stewart, tackles; Cherrier and Lacy, guards; Hampton, center; Keever, quarterback; Barr and Gamble, halfbacks; and Shatzer, fullback. Subs: Wright, Crawley, Heslep, Vickers, Hart, Boyles, and G. Fontana.

Georgia Tucker—Watson and Rizzo, ends; Portman and Waddell, tackles; McCready and Allen, guards; Means, center; Reeves, quarterback; Kalil and Bruscato, halfbacks; and Broughton, fullback. Subs: Knight, McHaffnery, Haddad, Trousdale, Alton, Marchman, Hinton, and Slater.

Sherrouse—May and Young, ends; Webb and Holt, tackles; Jolly and Wood, guards; Nash, center; Peterson, quarterback; Seiler and Dupriest, halfbacks; and Causey, fullback. Subs: McBride, Womack, Jay Cummins, Joe Cummins, Holloway, Day, Wainwright, Thompson, Brown, Carter, and Huckalbee.

Central—Lessing and Pippin, ends; Cochran and Justice, tackles; Hancock and Bryant, guards; Witt, center; McClanahan, quarterback; Takewell and Woolsey, halfbacks; and Walpole, fullback. Subs: Sedberry, Gates, and Thomas.

Next games for the league are slated for next Sunday afternoon with Georgia Tucker meeting Sherrouse and Central facing Barkdull Faulk, but Director Jack Hesketh of the Monroe Recreation department last night said the games might be changed to be played as curtain-raisers at high school or college games here this weekend.

It was also reported that Central Grammar might change to Ouachita Grammar because Central is short on players. A decision on the proposed change is expected tomorrow.

THE END

GAINESVILLE, Fla.—Frank Dempsey, ,208 pound Miamian, took a long time to get around to playing end, but he's playing the flank position up to the hilt for Florida's Gators now. He was a tackle last year and a guard the first three games this year.

PENN RALLIES LATE TO OVERCOME NAVY

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Pennsylvania's ponderous football machine rolled up impressive hunks of yardage and a 21 to 0 victory over the Navy today, but it wasn't until the final quarter that the Quakers moved fast enough to make their fourth straight triumph a certainty.

The home team took a 7-0 lead in the first quarter and held grimly onto it through an unimpressive display of power football until the weary midshipmen crumbled in the last period.

Statistically, it was all Penn's game, but the red and blue clad team wasted many of its opportunities through fumbling and poor passing.

Penn blew one touchdown right at the outset and fumbled away another in the third quarter while Navy's two scoring chances both were fumbled away.

Tony Minisi, a one-time Midshipman, led Penn to victory, gaining 58 yards on running plays and 67 on passes.

The Quakers got their final score when Bob Evans began flinging passes and completed five in a row. The last to Sub End Wayne Helman for nine yards and a score.

LITTLE KICKING

GAINSVILLE, Fla.—Florida's Gators, who unhappily are not overburdened with good kickers, have happily been forced to kick only 19 times in four games for a 33.5 average.

L. S. U. SQUEAKS PAST VANDERBILT, 19 TO 13

TIGERS RUN INTO SURPRISING SHOW OF VANDY POWER

Commodores Take Play From Tigers In Last Half But Fail To Produce

BATON ROUGE. Oct. 25.—(AP)—Louisiana State's high-powered but sputtering football team squeaked out a 19 to 13 football victory tonight over a Vanderbilt eleven which found an offensive punch and threatened until the last moment.

Rip Collins saved the game for the Tigers, to the delight of a homecoming crowd of some 40,000 with a final-minute kick that travelled 63 yards to go out of bounds on the six.

Even then, the Vandy eleven which scored almost as many points tonight as it had put over in four previous games, almost pulled a Marriwell finish on Jamie Wade's passes.

The Commodores, who trailed 19 to 6 at the half, had reached the Louisiana 44 when Wade was dumped for a big loss on the last play. It was a surprising performance for the Vandy eleven, which up until tonight had distinguished itself by a stern defense.

But Louisiana's second period surge which netted two touchdowns spelled the difference.

L. S. U. drew first blood in the opening period on a 35-yard drive after recovering a Vandy fumble. Y. A. Tittle hit Abner Wimberly with a pass that ate up 22 yards of the distance, then sneaked to the one from where Jimmy Cason banged his way over. Holly Heard missed with his placement.

Bobby Berry took personal command of a 63-yard Vandy drive that tied the score after the next kickoff. He hit John North with a pass good for 18 yards, put the Commodores on the Louisiana eight with a series of rushes, then passed to Jimmy Allen for a touchdown early in the second, Zack Clinard's placement missed.

Louisiana came back with two touchdown drives before the intermission. The first, good for 69 yards, was made possible by Tittle's 29 yard pass to Ray Bullock.

Zollie Toch hit center for three yards and the score. Heard's placement was good this time. The second was on a 56-yard parade, which Tittle ended by sneaking over from the one. Again, Heard missed with his placement.

Denied a touchdown in the third period when Louisiana stopped a drive on the two, Vandy came right back to score on a 47-yard march with Dean Davidson in the drum major's role. Davidson picked up most of the distance on rushes before he strode over from the 10. This time Clinard's placement was good.

In the fourth Lee Nally touched off a serious Vandy threat by scampering 41 yards on a punt return to the Louisiana 31. Then, while Louisiana supporters held their breath, Al Heroman intercepted a Wade pass on the goal line and ran to the Louisiana 23. Collins' game-clinching punt and Vandy's last fruitless serge told the rest of the story.

PLAYOFF FOR TWIN CITY NEGRO BALL TITLE BEGINS

The Monroe Royals Deluxe and the Monroe All-Stars, Negro semi-pro baseball clubs, tangle here this afternoon at 3 o'clock at Casino Park in a game that will determine the opponent for the Cinderella Sports in the Twin City championship series beginning next week.

Both the Royals and All-Stars are anxious for a shot at the highly regarded Cinderellas, and victory today will pit one of the outfits against the Cinderella Sports in a two-out-of-three series for the Negro title.

Rivalry between the contending teams has reached a high pitch and Manager Joe Gulley of the Royals, former skipper of the All-Stars, is predicting a hard fought game.

Special seats will be reserved for white fans, the park management has announced.

WORK STARTING ON AUTO TRACK

Miniature Car Racers Continue Plans For Armistice Day Meeting Here

Work on the miniature automobile race track at the Bernstein Park Hobby Center will get underway tomorrow, it was announced last night, and the new speedway is expected to be completed sometime next week, but the miniature race car group here still plans to hold its Armistice Day classic, which is attracting entries from throughout the nation, at their Lakeside Country Club track.

However, the event at Lakeside November 11 will be the last on that oval since the old country club property is being broken up into residential plots, necessitating the removal to Bernstein Park.

It was also announced yesterday that Glen Matthews, president of the American Miniature Race Car Association, of Rockford, Ill., was planning to return to Monroe to witness the Armistice Day events, and many other reservations by out of town contestants are also coming in.

Trophies for the "speedway classic" are on display at Sears department store here.

Local operators of the tiny cars, many of which attain speeds in excess of 100 miles per hour, will be out for their usual Sunday afternoon tune-ups this afternoon at Lakeside between 1 and 5 o'clock. The race car events are open to the public free of charge.

Craig Puts State Wrestling Title On Line Against Carlos Rodriquez

Newcomers, Billy Sandow And Bob Castle, Billed For Semi-Final Event

Carlos Rodriquez, burly Mexican villain, returns to Gus Kallio's arena here Tuesday night for a shot at the Louisiana state light heavyweight title against Champion George Craig, Tulsa, Okla., and a pair of newcomers will make their debut locally in the semi-final skirmish, Promoter Kallio announced last night.

Rodriquez, who barely missed out on an opportunity to lift the world's title from Jack Curtis recently, feels the Louisiana belt is practically in the bag.

"Craig isn't half the man Curtis is," Rodriquez commented, "I don't see how he's held on to the state title so long, but it looks like Craig's time is about due, and I'm just the hombre to finish him off."

The semi-final stacks up as a build-up for a challenge to Champion Curtis since the two newcomers—Billy Sandow, the Florida hurricane from Miami, and Bob Castle, the wildcat from Toledo, O.—are reputedly on the trail of the world's kingpin and are accepting their billing here as a build-up for the title scramble.

Both Sandow and Castle are reputedly good and tough wrestlers.

Sandow, invading this area after triumphs on the Pacific coast, says he's here strictly for the purpose of getting an engagement with Curtis. "I'm in a hurry to get a match with this Curtis," Sandow told Kallio. "But if there are other challengers in my way, just get them ready and I will clear the way."

Castle indicated he was in the south for the same purpose since the champion is currently working this territory, but he asked Kallio to give him a "build-up" first and "let the fans decide whether they think I'm good enough for Curtis."

"I'm willing to go to the test and let the fans say the rest," Castle declared. "It'll be up to the customers whether or not I ever come back to your arena.

"I have just one thing to say that may sound a bit boastful, however. I always do my wrestling by the rules. Sometimes it takes a little longer this way, but when it's over the customers are usually satisfied. If it's impossible to wrestle by the rules because an opponent refuses to do so, then I may employ the tactics that have resulted in my being tagged "The Wildcat" wherever I appear. There are times when even the fans don't like my wildcat operations, but I don't care. It depends upon my opponents which style I use."

The Craig-Rodriquez main event will have a time limit of 90 minutes with two falls to win. The semi-final will be over an hour time limit distance, also with two falls to win.

BRUINS UNABLE TO STOP TROJAN ROSE BOWL BID

Southern Cal Builds Prestige With Impressive 39 To 14 Triumph

By Russ Newland

BERKELEY, Calif., Oct. 25.—(AP)—Crashing, whirling giants from Southern California charged a long and important lap toward the Rose Bowl today by battering California's hitherto unbeaten Bears, 39 to 14, in a thrilling football classis before a capacity crowd estimated at 80,000 fans.

The big Trojans, passing and punting relentlessly, scored two touchdowns in the first period; one each in the second and third quarters and crossed the goal line of a demoralized California eleven twice in the last period.

California counted touchdowns in the first and second quarters, but except for these scoring flurries, was outplayed by a team the huge crowd cheered at the end as possible coast conference champions and western representatives in the Rose Bowl on New Year's Day.

The Trojans, pre-game favorites, not only justified the rating but completely outclassed a California team that had chalked up five successive victories.

Leading 20-7 at halftime, the Trojans came bac kto open the third period with the game's greatest play—a 95-yard kickoff return by Right Half Don Doll with his teammates applying timely blocks. That run just about broke the spirit of the Bears. They began fumbling and had poorly-directed passes intercepted.

A pass interception late in the third period gave Southern California the ball on its own 37-yard line.

The Trojans passed and pounded from there to score early in the fourth quarter. Shortly afterward they ecovered a California fumble on California's 27 but lost the ball the same way eight yards from the goal.

Bulldogs Romp Over Louisiana College In L. I. C. Game, 38 To 7

LAFAYETTE, La., Oct. 25.—(AP)—The Bulldogs of Southwestern Louisiana Institute toppled the Wildcats of Louisiana College 38 to 7 here this afternoon.

With reserves playing most of the time, the Bulldogs punched over scores in each quarter. The Wildcats made their lone tally in the second.

The traditional L. I. C. rivals played on fairly even terms in the first half, but Southwestern's power told in the last two frames.

Leo Landry, Bulldog left end, sailed over for the first score with a pass from H. T. Smith. Donald Petit, right tackle, converted.

Maurice Chappius, fullback, tallied next in the second quarter after the Bulldogs tromped down from their own 26 yard line. In the same frame the Bulldogs repeated their march and this time Jack Brignac, fullback, scored from the two.

The Wildcats' passes clicked later in the quarter and after two heaves by Philip Tiller, quarterback, Jonnie Oden, end, snagged one on the goal line and fell over. Charles McFee, back, converted.

Brignac scored again for Southwestern in the third quarter from the 8 line.

O. S. Johnson, S. L. I. quarterback, went over after Smith's passes to John Caesar and Herman Zeringue moved the pigskin to the Louisiana College half yard line. Petit's wild kick was ruled good for the extra point.

Caesar garnered the last S. L. I. touchdown by a four-yard jump through his left tackle. Petit's attempt to convert was not good.

NAME WILLIE HUTCHINS TO HEAD LETTER CLUB

BATON ROUGE, La., Oct. 25.—(AP)—The L Club of Louisiana State University held its first statewide meeting here today and elected T. Willie Hutchins, of Shreveport, Ia., president.

Other officers elected were A. "Teeter" Chandler of Shreveport, vice-president R. Q. "Red" Davis of Baton Rouge, secretary Buck Gladden of Baton Rouge, treasurer and Jack Torrence of Baton Rouge, sergeant-at-arms.

Named committee chairmen were Paul Carroll of Baton Rouge, Glen "Slats" Hardin of Shreveport, and Billy Brown of Baton Rouge.

The organization, broadened to include all former lettermen, became the "National L Club" at the reorganization meeting.

RAMS VISIT EAST FOR CLASH WITH PRO GRID EAGLES

Waterfield-Sparked Los Angeles Looms Bigger In National Football Loop

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 25.—(Special)—Los Angeles, sparked by Bob Waterfield's brilliant all-around play, and with a forward wall that last week thwarted the Chicago Cardinals' powerful offense, will make its second invasion of the east tomorrow when it meets the Philadelphia Eagles in Shibe Park.

Four other National Football League games will be played during the day with the Pittsburgh Steelers meeting the New York Giants in New York, the Chicago Bears engaging Washington in the Capital, Boston opposing the Chicago Cardinals in the Windy City, and Detroit meeting Green Bay in the latter city.

On its first eastern trip early in the season the Rams vanquished Pittsburgh to establish itself as one of the outstanding teams in the league.

The Eagles and the Rams have met only once, in the opening game for each in 1946, when Greasy Neale's eleven won 25 to 14.

Sharing first place in the Western division with the Chicago Cards and the Green Bay Packers, Los Angeles will have to be at top form if it hopes to win from the Eagles who are determined to emerge from the slump that cost them road games to both the Bears and the Steelers. Tommy Thompson's passing and Steve Van Buren's ball carrying are the potent factors the Eagles hope will bring them victory over their coast rivals.

Boston, which won its first victory of the season last week, will oppose the Cardinals in Chicago. Greatly encouraged by their good showing against the Giants, and the acquisition of Bill Paschal, the Yanks' much needed fullback, may yet become the dark horse of the eastern division. The Cards, on the other hand, will be on the rebound after their first defeat of the season which cost them undisputed possession of first place.

Paul Governali's return to his home town, where he gained fame as a passed at Columbia, should make the New York Giants one of the most dangerous teams in the league. In his first four games Governali threw 55 passes, and completed 23 for a gain of 314 yards. Three of his passes resulted in touchdowns.

The most recent addition to the Giants' roster will get his first opportunity to show his capabilities when he and his teammates meet Pittsburgh, the eastern division leader. The Steelers have confounded the critics with their excellent ball carrying, good passing, and superb defensive play. aced by John Clement, a good passer and ranking ball carrier, the Pittsburgh team has displayed all the gridiron astuteness that has made Jock Sutherland one of the nation's foremost football mentors.

The cry "beware of the Bears" is resounding throughout the league as a result of the victories scored by the Halasmen over Philadelphia and Detroit. Defeated by Green Bay and the Cardinals in the first two games, the Bears are anxious to continue their string by winning over Washington.

The Redskins, tied for second place with the Eagles, only a half game off the pace, may put a stop to the Bears' march. With Sammy Baugh pitching touchdown passes—he has thrown ten for scores this season—Washington is a constant threat to any team in the league.

Detroit, which scored 24 points against the Bears last week and which has scored 89 points in its five games, engaged Green Bay, with 83 points for four games. The Lions, with LeForce and Zimmerman passing in mid-season form and with Bill Dudley playing great ball, may cause an upset. The Packers, one of the toughest teams in the league to defeat, is anxious to maintain its front-ranking position and will go all out to defeat the Lions.

The series among the clubs show New York leading Pittsburgh 17 to 5 with one tie; Washington and the Bears each have won five games; the Cards hold one decision over Boston, and Philadelphia the same over Los Angeles and Green Bay leads Detroit 22 to 5.

MAJORS FINALLY MASTER MISSISSIPPI COLLEGE, 7-0

JACKSON, Miss., Oct. 25.—(AP)—The Millsaps Majors tonight scored against the Mississippi College Choctaws for the first time in eleven years to win the annual grid grudge battle 7 to 0 before 5,000 fans at Tiger Stadium here.

The long-suffering Majors struck the fatal blow in the first period when Quarterback Jay Jackson plunged over the goal after an 86-yard march. The drive began when Dave McIntosh faked a punt on third down from his own 4 and dashed down the sidelines to the 44. A long pass, Jackson to McIntosh, then set the stage for Jackson's score. Jackson made the extra point on a quarterback sneak.

The Choctaws, who reaped the consolation of making 10 first downs as against six for Millsaps, three times appeared goalward bound. A 71-yard drive in the third period sputtered to a halt on the Major five, and another offensive got as far as the Major 20. Shortly before the game ended, the Indians rammed their way from their own 15 to the Millsaps 35.

S. M. U. NIPS BEARS IN CLOSE-TO-VEST SKIRMISH, 7 TO 0

Spectacular 86-Yard Pass Play Sets Up Winning Touchdown For Walker

By Bob Myers

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Electrifying 64,197 grid fans with a spectacular 86-yard pass play that set the stage for the winning touchdown, Southern Methodist University's Mustangs defeated hard charging U. C. L. A. today, 7 to 0, and remained on the nation's select list of untied and unbeaten elevens.

The climax came in the early moments of the fourth quarter. Backed down to their own 12 yard line, the Ponies' halfback, Gil Johnson, stepped back almost to his goal line, and sailed a pass toward the sidelines to Halfback Paul Page.

Page took it on about his own 45, and tore down the side stripe. U. C. L. A.'s Benny Reiges, who just a moment before had seen his field goal try blocked, managed to fell the flying Page on the Bruin two yard line.

Twice Bill Moxley hit the sturdy line, which once before had repelled a scoring thrust for four downs inside the three, and failed to get anywhere.

Then little Doak Walker—who had failed in those four previous whacks into the line—bounced off his right tackle for the winning touchdown.

Far from beaten, the Uclans, loser to S. M. U. in three of these intersectional games with the boys from Dallas, set up a passing-running march that swept them down to the SMU six yard line with less than three minutes to go.

But hard luck rode with the Bruins. Skip Rowe fumbled and SMU's Page recovered. It was the identical point where little Al Hoisch, the Bruins' chief offensive threat, fumbled away another scoring chance in the second quarter.

Except for the score, there was little to choose between the T-style Uclans of the Pacific Coast conference and Madison Bell's single wing steeds from the Southwest conference. Both face major rivals next week—SMU vs. Texas, UCLA vs. California—but both had to trot out their best to win or stay in this ball game.

Both played close-to-the-vest football, the Bruins outgaining the Ponies, 248 yards to 219, and marking up 13 first downs to seven.

L. S. U. SQUEAKS PAST VANDERBILT, 19 TO 13

TIGERS RUN INTO SURPRISING SHOW OF VANDY POWER

Commodores Take Play From Tigers In Last Half But Fail To Produce

BATON ROUGE, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Louisiana State's high-powered but sputtering football team squeaked out a 19 to 13 football victory tonight over a Vanderbilt eleven which found an offensive punch and threatened until the last moment.

Rip Collins saved the game for the Tigers, to the delight of a homecoming crowd of some 40,000 with a final-minute kick that travelled 63 yards to go out of bounds on the six.

Even then, the Vandy eleven which scored almost as many points tonight as it had put over in four previous games, almost pulled a Marriwell finish on Jamie Wade's passes.

The Commodores, who trailed 19 to 6 at the half, had reached the Louisiana 44 when Wade was dumped for a big loss on the last play. It was a surprising performance for the Vandy eleven, which up until tonight had distinguished itself by a stern defense.

But Louisiana's second period surge which netted two touchdowns spelled the difference.

L. S. U. drew first blood in the opening period on a 35-yard drive after recovering a Vandy fumble. Y. A. Tittle hit Abner Wimberly with a pass that ate up 22 yards of the distance, then sneaked to the one from where Jimmy Cason banged his way over. Holly Heard missed with his placement.

Bobby Berry took personal command of a 63-yard Vandy drive that tied the score after the next kickoff. He hit John North with a pass good for 18 yards, put the Commodores on the Louisiana eight with a series of rushes, then passed to Jimmy Allen for a touchdown early in the second, Zack Clinard's placement missed.

Louisiana came back with two touchdown drives before the intermission. The first, good for 69 yards, was made possible by Tittle's 29 yard pass to Ray Bullock.

Zollie Toch hit center for three yards and the score. Heard's placement was good this time. The second was on a 56-yard parade, which Tittle ended by sneaking over from the one. Again, Heard missed with his placement.

Denied a touchdown in the third period when Louisiana stopped a drive on the two, Vandy came right back to score on a 47-yard march with Dean Davidson in the drum major's role. Davidson picked up most of the distance on rushes before he strode over from the 10. This time Clinard's placement was good.

In the fourth Lee Nally touched off a serious Vandy threat by scampering 41 yards on a punt return to the Louisiana 31. Then, while Louisiana supporters held their breath, Al Heroman intercepted a Wade pass on the goal line and ran to the Louisiana 23. Collins' game-clinching punt and Vandy's last fruitless serge told the rest of the story.

PLAYOFF FOR TWIN CITY NEGRO BALL TITLE BEGINS

The Monroe Royals Deluxe and the Monroe All-Stars, Negro semi-pro baseball clubs, tangle here this afternoon at 3 o'clock at Casino Park in a game that will determine the opponent for the Cinderella Sports in the Twin City championship series beginning next week.

Both the Royals and All-Stars are anxious for a shot at the highly regarded Cinderellas, and victory today will pit one of the outfits against the Cinderella Sports in a two-out-of-three series for the Negro title.

Rivalry between the contending teams has reached a high pitch and Manager Joe Gulley of the Royals, former skipper of the All-Stars, is predicting a hard fought game.

Special seats will be reserved for white fans, the park management has announced.

Ancient coffee grinders are wired into lamps, and old fashioned bean pots filled with fresh flowers become living room adornment.

WORK STARTING ON AUTO TRACK

Miniature Car Racers Continue Plans For Armistice Day Meeting Here

Work on the miniature automobile race track at the Bernstein Park Hobby Center will get underway tomorrow, it was announced last night, and the new speedway is expected to be completed sometime next week, but the miniature race car group here still plans to hold its Armistice Day classic, which is attracting entries from throughout the nation, at their Lakeside Country Club track.

However, the event at Lakeside November 11 will be the last on that oval since the old country club property is being broken up into residential plots, necessitating the removal to Bernstein Park.

It was also announced yesterday that Glen Matthews, president of the American Miniature Race Car Association, of Rockford, Ill., was planning to return to Monroe to witness the Armistice Day events, and many other reservations by out-of-town contestants are also coming in.

Trophies for the "speedway classic"are on display at Sears department store here.

Local operators of the tiny cars, many of which attain speeds in excess of 100 miles per hour, will be out for their usual Sunday afternoon tune-ups this afternoon at Lakeside between 1 and 5 o'clock. The race car events are open to the public free of charge.

Craig Puts State Wrestling Title On Line Against Carlos Rodriquez

Newcomers, Billy Sandow And Bob Castle, Billed For Semi-Final Event

Carlos Rodriquez, burly Mexican villain, returns to Gus Kallio's arena here Tuesday night for a shot at the Louisiana state light heavyweight title against Champion George Craig, Tulsa, Okla., and a pair of newcomers will make their debut locally in the semi-final skirmish, Promoter Kallio announced last night.

Rodriquez, who barely missed out on an opportunity to lift the world's title from Jack Curtis recently, feels the Louisiana belt is practically in the bag.

"Craig isn't half the man Curtis is," Rodriquez commented, "I don't see how he's held on to the state title so long, but it looks like Craig's time is about due, and I'm just the hombre to finish him off."

The semi-final stacks up as a build-up for a challenge to Champion Curtis since the two newcomers—Billy Sandow, the Florida hurricane from Miami, and Bob Castle, the wildcat from Toledo, O.—are reputedly on the trail of the world's kingpin and are accepting their billing here as a build-up for the title scramble.

Both Sandow and Castle are reputedly good and tough wrestlers. Sandow, invading this area after triumphs on the Pacific coast, says he's here strictly for the purpose of getting an engagement with Curtis. "I'm in a hurry to get a match with this Curtis," Sandow told Kallio. "But if there are other challengers in my way, just get them ready and I will clear the way."

Castle indicated he was in the south for the same purpose since the champion is currently working this territory, but he asked Kallio to give him a "build-up" first and "let the fans decide whether they think I'm good enough for Curtis."

"I'm willing to go to the test and let the fans say the rest," Castle declared. "It'll be up to the customers whether or not I ever come back to your arena.

"I have just one thing to say that may sound a bit boastful, however. I always do my wrestling by the rules. Sometimes it takes a little longer this way, but when it's over the customers are usually satisfied. If it's impossible to wrestle by the rules because an opponent refuses to do so, then I may employ the tactics that have resulted in my being tagged "The Wildcat" wherever I appear. There are times when even the fans don't like my wildcat operations, but I don't care. It depends upon my opponents which style I use."

The Craig-Rodriquez main event will have a time limit of 90 minutes with two falls to win. The semi-final will be over an hour time limit distance, also with two falls to win.

BRUINS UNABLE TO STOP TROJAN ROSE BOWL BID

Southern Cal Builds Prestige With Impressive 39 To 14 Triumph

By Russ Newland

BERKELEY, Calif., Oct. 25.—(AP)—Crashing, whirling giants from Southern California charged a long and important lap toward the Rose Bowl today by battering California's hitherto unbeaten Bears, 39 to 14, in a thrilling football classis before a capacity crowd estimated at 80,000 fans.

The big Trojans, passing and punting relentlessly, scored two touchdowns in the first period; one each in the second and third quarters and crossed the goal line of a demoralized California eleven twice in the last period.

California counted touchdowns in the first and second quarters, but except for these scoring flurries, was outplayed by a team the huge crowd cheered at the end as possible coast conference champions and western representatives in the Rose Bowl on New Year's Day.

The Trojans, pre-game favorites, not only justified the rating but completely outclassed a California team that had chalked up five successive victories.

Leading 20-7 at halftime, the Trojans came bac kto open the third period with the game's greatest play—a 95-yard kickoff return by Right Half Don Doll with his teammates applying timely blocks. That run just about broke the spirit of the Bears. They began fumbling and had poorly-directed passes intercepted.

A pass interception late in the third period gave Southern California the ball on its own 37-yard line.

The Trojans passed and pounded from there to score early in the fourth quarter. Shortly afterward they ecovered a California fumble on California's 27 but lost the ball the same way eight yards from the goal.

Bulldogs Romp Over Louisiana College In L. I. C. Game, 38 To 7

LAFAYETTE, La., Oct. 25.—(AP)—The Bulldogs of Southwestern Louisiana Institute toppled the Wildcats of Louisiana College 38 to 7 here this afternoon.

With reserves playing most of the time, the Bulldogs punched over scores in each quarter. The Wildcats made their lone tally in the second.

The traditional L. I. C. rivals played on fairly even terms in the first half, but Southwestern's power told in the last two frames.

Leo Landry, Bulldog left end, sailed over for the first score with a pass from H. T. Smith. Donald Petit, right tackle, converted.

Maurice Chappius, fullback, tallied next in the second quarter after the Bulldogs tromped down from their own 26 yard line. In the same frame the Bulldogs repeated their march and this time Jack Brignac, fullback, scored from the two.

The Wildcats' passes clicked later in the quarter and after two heaves by Philip Tiller, quarterback, Jonnie Oden, end, snagged one on the goal line and fell over. Charles McFee, -back, converted.

Brignac scored again for Southwestern in the third quarter from the 8 line.

O. S. Johnson, S. L. I. quarterback, went over after Smith's passes to John Caesar and Herman Zeringue moved the pigskin to the Louisiana College half yard line. Petit's wild kick was ruled good for the extra point.

Caesar garnered the last S. L. I. touchdown by a four-yard jump through his left tackle. Petit's attempt to convert was not good.

NAME WILLIE HUTCHINS TO HEAD LETTER CLUB

BATON ROUGE, La., Oct. 25.—(AP)—The L Club of Louisiana State University held its first statewide meeting here today and elected T. Willie Hutchins, of Shreveport, la., president.

Other officers elected were A. "Teeter" Chandler of Shreveport, vice-president R. Q. "Red" Davis of Baton Rouge, secretary Buck Gladden of Baton Rouge, treasurer and Jack Torrence of Baton Rouge, sergeant-at-arms.

Named committee chairmen were Paul Carroll of Baton Rouge, Glen "Slats" Hardin of Shreveport, and Billy Brown of Baton Rouge.

RAMS VISIT EAST FOR CLASH WITH PRO GRID EAGLES

Waterfield-Sparked Los Angeles Looms Bigger In National Football Loop

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 25.—(Special)—Los Angeles, sparked by Bob Waterfield's brilliant all-around play, and with a forward wall that last week thwarted the Chicago Cardinals' powerful offense, will make its second invasion of the east tomorrow when it meets the Philadelphia Eagles in Shibe Park.

Four other National Football League games will be played during the day with the Pittsburgh Steelers meeting the New York Giants in New York, the Chicago Bears engaging Washington in the Capital, Boston opposing the Chicago Cardinals in the Windy City, and Detroit meeting Green Bay in the latter city.

On its first eastern trip early in the season the Rams vanquished Pittsburgh to establish itself as one of the outstanding teams in the league.

The Eagles and the Rams have met only once, in the opening game for each in 1946, when Greasy Neale's eleven won 25 to 14.

Sharing first place in the Western division with the Chicago Cards and the Green Bay Packers, Los Angeles will have to be at top form if it hopes to win from the Eagles who are determined to emerge from the slump that cost them road games to both the Bears and the Steelers. Tommy Thompson's passing and Steve Van Buren's ball carrying are the potent factors the Eagles hope will bring them victory over their coast rivals.

Boston, which won its first victory of the season last week, will oppose the Cardinals in Chicago. Greatly encouraged by their good showing against the Giants, and the acquisition of Bill Paschal, the Yanks' much needed fullback, may yet become the dark horse of the eastern division. The Cards, on the other hand, will be on the rebound after their first defeat of the season which cost them undisputed possession of first place.

Paul Governali's return to his home town, where he gained fame as a passed at Columbia, should make the New York Giants one of the most dangerous teams in the league. In his first four games Governali threw 55 passes, and completed 23 for a gain of 314 yards. Three of his passes resulted in touchdowns.

The most recent addition to the Giants' roster will get his first opportunity to show his capabilities when he and his teammates meet Pittsburgh, the eastern division leader. The Steelers have confounded the critics with their excellent ball carrying, good passing, and superb defensive play. aced by John Clement, a good passer and ranking ball carrier, the Pittsburgh team has displayed all the gridiron astuteness that has made Jock Sutherland one of the nation's foremost football mentors.

The cry "beware of the Bears" is resounding throughout the league as a result of the victories scored by the Halasmen over Philadelphia and Detroit. Defeated by Green Bay and the Cardinals in the first two games, the Bears are anxious to continue their string by winning over Washington.

The Redskins, tied for second place with the Eagles, only a half game off the pace, may put a stop to the Bears' march. With Sammy Baugh pitching touchdown passes—he has thrown ten for scores this season—Washington is a constant threat to any team in the league.

Detroit, which scored 24 points against the Bears last week and which has scored 89 points in its five games, engaged Green Bay, with 83 points for four games. The Lions, with LeForce and Zimmerman passing in mid-season form and with Bill Dudley playing great ball, may cause an upset. The Packers, one of the toughest teams in the league to defeat, is anxious to maintain its front-ranking position and will go all out to defeat the Lions.

The series among the clubs show New York leading Pittsburgh 17 to 5 with one tie; Washington and the Bears each have won five games; the Cards hold one decision over Boston, and Philadelphia the same over Los Angeles and Green Bay leads Detroit 22 to 5.

MAJORS FINALLY MASTER MISSISSIPPI COLLEGE, 7-0

JACKSON, Miss., Oct. 25.—(AP)—The Millsaps Majors tonight scored against the Mississippi College Choctaws for the first time in eleven years to win the annual grid grudge battle 7 to 0 before 5,000 fans at Tiger Stadium here.

The long-suffering Majors struck the fatal blow in the first period when Quarterback Jay Jackson plunged over the goal after an 86-yard march. The drive began when Dave McIntosh faked a punt on third down from his own 4 and dashed down the sidelines to the 44. A long pass, Jackson to McIntosh, then set the stage for Jackson's score. Jackson made the extra point on a quarterback sneak.

The Choctaws, who reaped the consolation of making 10 first downs as against six for Millsaps, three times appeared goalward bound. A 71-yard drive in the third period sputtered to a halt on the Major five, and another offensive got as far as the Major 20. Shortly before the game ended, the Indians rammed their way from their own 15 to the Millsaps 35.

S. M. U. NIPS BEARS IN CLOSE-TO-VEST SKIRMISH, 7 TO 0

By Bob Myers

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Electrifying 64,197 grid fans with a spectacular 86-yard pass play that set the stage for the winning touchdown, Southern Methodist University's Mustangs defeated hard charging U. C. L. A. today, 7 to 0, and remained on the nation's select list of untied and unbeaten elevens.

The climax came in the early moments of the fourth quarter. Backed down to their own 12 yard line, the Ponies' halfback, Gil Johnson, stepped back almost to his goal line, and sailed a pass toward the sidelines to Halfback Paul Page.

Page took it on about his own 45, and tore down the side stripe. U. C. L. A.'s Benny Reiges, who just a moment before had seen his field goal try blocked, managed to fell the flying Page on the Bruin two yard line.

Twice Bill Moxley hit the sturdy line, which once before had repelled a scoring thrust for four downs inside the three, and failed to get anywhere.

Then little Doak Walker—who had failed in those four previous whacks into the line—bounced off his right tackle for the winning touchdown.

Far from beaten, the Uclans, loser to S. M. U. in three of these intersectional games with the boys from Dallas, set up a passing-running march that swept them down to the SMU six yard line with less than three minutes to go.

But hard luck rode with the Bruins. Skip Rowe fumbled and SMU's Page recovered. It was the identical point where little Al Hoisch, the Bruins' chief offensive threat, fumbled away another scoring chance in the second quarter.

Except for the score, there was little to choose between the T-style Uclans of the Pacific Coast conference and Madison Bell's single wing steeds from the Southwest conference. Both face major rivals next week—SMU vs. Texas, UCLA vs. California—but both had to trot out their best to win or stay in this ball game.

Both played close-to-the-vest football, the Bruins outgaining the Ponies, 248 yards to 219, and marking up 13 first downs to seven.

STEERS DEFEAT STUBBORN RICE ELEVEN, 12 TO 0

Layne's Passing Sets Texas In Motion For Uneasy Victory Over Owls

By Bo Byers

AUSTIN, Tex., Oct. 25.—(AP)—The University of Texas Longhorns pieced together an un-sy 12-0 triumph over a valiant Rice Owl eleven here today before a record Southwest Conference game crowd of 45,400.

As usual, it was Bobby Layne's good right arm that set the Texas scoring machine in motion, but hard rushing by the Owls forced the Longhorns to stick to the ground for most of their gains.

Spectacular defensive work by Longhorn Left End Max Bumgardner helped Texas immeasurably and Bumgardner was the lad who took Layne's pass to lunge across for Texas' first marker.

He took a bullet heave directly across center on the Rice 4-yard line, wriggled out of the grasping hands of Owls Don Anderson and Harold Stockbridge, and dived across the double stripe on a play good for 18 yards.

The Longhorns picked up steam again in the final period with right halfback Jim Canady and Fullback Tom Landry piling through the line for short, steady gains. The payoff came on a three-yard drive by Canady over his right tackle to score standing up.

Layne exhibited his crafty generalship to perfection when he found the Owls rushing him so hard he had no time to spot receivers. He used the speed of his left halfback Byron Gillory and the hard driving of Canady and Landry in good proportions to give the Longhorns 167 yards on the ground, against 96 for Rice.

The blond bomber connected on five of 14 passes for 60 yards and suffered one interception. Rice attempted 15 passes, completed four for 50 yards.

Evidence of the shift of strength in Texas' favor during the second half was revealed by a statistical record of minus two yards rushing for Rice during the last two quarters while Texas was racking up 89.

As a result of today's victory, the Longhorns remain undefeated, untied in six games. The loss practically eliminated the pre-season favorite Owls from Southwest conference championship running.

The lineups:

Rice	Pos	Texas
W. Williams	LE	Bumgardner
Armstrong	LT	Harris
Magee	LG	Magliolo
Watson	C	Williams
Nicholson	RG	Tatom
Spruill	RT	Kelley
Taylor	RE	Schwartzkopf
Eikenberg	QB	Layne
Wamsley	LH	Pyle
Russ	RH	Canady
Anderson	FB	Landry

Score by quarters:

Rice	0	0	0	0	6

Texas scoring: Touchdown, Bumgardner, Canady.

TEXAS AGS BLANK BAYLOR'S BRUINS

COLLEGE STATION, Tex., Oct. 25.—(AP)—Texas A. and M. bounced back viciously from three straight defeats today to knock Baylor out of the nation's unbaten ranks, with a convincing 24-0 decision that kept the Aggies in the Southwest Conference championship race.

The passing of Burly Baty, the running of Ed Dusek and the magnificent punting of Stan Hollmig, were too much for a hard-fighting but fumbling Baylor team.

The game, which saw the Aggies vastly superior all the way, ended in confusion as thousands of happy A. and M. fans flooded the field thinking the contest was over as time ran out with Baylor on the Cadet seven-yard stripe. But pass interference was called on the last play and the gridiron had to be cleared to give Baylor another chance, this time from the two. Cal Crews took the ball in a try at right end but was thrown for a yard loss to end the game.

Baylor fumbled four times and lost the ball on each occasion. Twice A. and M. cashed in on the Bobbies for touchdown. It was also a fumble that gave Baylor its only chance to score, the Bears getting the ball on the Aggie 34 and sweeping down to the seven, making 14 of the yards on a pass interference penalty. It was here that the crowd came on the field after three passes had failed, thinking it was all over.

The kicking of Hollmig was phenomenal. Ten times he punted and seven times the ball went out of bounds inside the Baylor 12-yard line. Once he placed it on the two, another time on the four and a third time on the six.

Baylor made more first downs and outgained the Aggies 216 yards to 208 rushing and passing—but the Bears were backed up in their end of the field much of the time, mainly because of the kicking of Hollmig.

NEVILLE TACKLES WINNFIELD NEXT; OUACHITA IN OPEN DATE

Bengals In Action Here Thursday; Lions Prepare For Byrd Battle

Monroe's high school football teams, exclusive of little L. T. I. which managed to surprise Dubach, 7-0, ran into plenty of trouble over the week-end with the result that Neville's Tigers were virtually eliminated from the district Class A race in face of a 14-13 defeat by Ruston, and the Ouachita Parish Lions had their title aspirations in Class AA jarred as they bowed in defeat to Fair Park of Shreveport, 26 to 6.

Ouachita, still with a chance to win out and in a deadlock with Fair Park and Haynesville for the district lead since each had lost one conference game, will rest this week through an open date to prepare for the final scheduled conference duel with the Byrd High School Yellow Jackets at Shreveport the following week.

Neville, still hoping for upsets that could possibly send them back into a tie for the district title, will be in action on their home field again this week meeting the Winnfield Tigers at Neville Stadium Thursday night.

The Tigers will also be at home on November 7 for a tussle with the strong Class B Ferriday Bulldogs. Then they travel to Lafayette on November 14, and return home to end their regular schedule against Bastrop on November 21.

After the visit to Shreveport for their engagement with seven-times-beaten Byrd on November 7, Ouachita will travel to Vicksburg to end the Lion schedule against powerful Carr Central. Efforts to fill a November 14 open date for the Lions have so far failed to materialize.

ENGINEERS EASILY SIDESTEP CITADEL

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 25.—Unbeaten, untied Georgia Tech romped over the Citadel's outmanned Cadets today, winning a walk, 38 to 0, after punching out four touchdowns in the first 12 minutes of play.

Coach Bobby Dodd took out the first-string after 15 minutes, and the reserves knocked heads with Citadel on slightly better than even terms. They scored two more touchdowns.

The contest was never a ball game, however, Tech piling up mountainous yardage both aground and aloft. The Engineers were credited with 418 yards rushing, to 70 for Citadel, and 195 yards by forward passes against five for the Cadets.

LOUISIANA TECH MASTERS RIVAL DEMONS, 24 TO 0

Northwestern State Outclassed By Scrappy Bulldogs At State Fair

SHREVEPORT, La., Oct. 25.—(AP)—The Louisiana Tech Bulldogs romped to an easy 24-0 victory over an outclassed Northwestern State College Demon squad this afternoon, scoring in every period except the third, in a colorful contest played before approximately 10,000 fans at the Fair Grounds stadium.

Eddie Harrelson opened the scoring for the Bulldogs midway in the first quarter when he brought the crowd to its feet with a magnificent 70-yard run in which he pulled the entire Demon defense to one side of the gridiron, then reversed his field to gallop over the goal line, leaving the nearest would-be tackler some 30 yards behind him when he crossed the double stripe.

Austin Wilson had kicked out of bounds on the Tech 30. Sure-footed Joe Michael, who converted after each touchdown and also added a field goal to his day's chores, converted after the first tally to give Tech a 7-0 margin.

Shortly after the second quarter opened, Michael made three more points by kicking a field goal at a slight angle from the eight-yard line.

Tech iced the game late in the second period when Jack Brittain scooted around his right end from the 16-yard line for the second Tech touchdown. Britain's sortie climaxed a drive that started on the Bulldogs 44-yard line where Joe Rabb had returned Bobby Johnson's kick that he took of his own 26. Lindsey Aucoin and Rabb shared the major portion of carrying the mail to the Demons' 16, from where Brittain scored.

Again Michael converted to make the score 17-0 in favor of Tech.

J. R. Bres crashed over from the five-yard line for the Bulldogs' final touchdown. He scored on the eighth play after he had run Johnson's boot back to the N. S. C. 28-yard line. Michael again made his placement good.

The Demons never really threatened although they drove to the Tech 17-yard line late in the third quarter, but the drive stalled and the Bulldogs took over on downs. Late in the game, the Demons got a break when Ernest Howell blocked G. Dulaney's punt to give Northwestern the ball on the Tech 37-yard line. The Natchitoches crew drove to the Tech 18-yard line, but lost the ball on downs.

starting from the Gopher 45. Short passes and plunges moved the ball steadily towards Michigan's goal and the longest gain in this machine-like advance was a pass from Faunce to End Gordon Soltau for 14 yards. Finally on fourth down with the ball on Michigan's one-yard line, Everette Faunce dove over center John White. End Leonard Ford came in fast to block Bailey's try for point.

Michigan's first touchdown came with stunning unexpectedness only a minute and 10 seconds before the half ended. Jack Weisenburger had kicked out of bounds on the Minnesota 11. Three line plunges resulted in a loss of one yard, and Harry Elliott punted to Chappius on the Minnesota 40. On the next play Chappis faded back, and passed to Elliott. He cut back in from close to the side lines and scored with no one near him.

Brieske methodically made the extra point to put Michigan ahead, 7-6, but failed after Michigan's second touchdown to give him a record of 31 conversions out of 34 attempts this season.

Not until the last period did Michigan really come alive. Weisenburger, the Wolverine fullback, intercepted one of Harry Elliott's passes on the Minnesota 35 and returned to the 22. Then Derricotte darted off tackle for the touchdown that put the game on ice. A few moments later Chappius, Elliott and Weisenburger took turns moving the ball from the Michigan 20 to Minnesota's 12 just before the game ended.

Bill Marcotte, 180 pound, led a Minnesota defense so tight that the Wolverine rushing attack was held to four yards net in the first half. Michigan's second half bursts still left Minnesota leading in rushing for the entire game, 131 yards to 112, and in first downs, 13 to 9. In passing, however, Michigan had the edge with eight completed for 131 yards against seven for 91 yards by Minnesota. Michigan tried 12 all by Chappius, and the Gophers 18.

Michigan, still sticking to its system of a different team for offense and defense, only used 24 players against the customary 40 or more that saw action in defeating Michigan State, Pittsburgh, Stanford and Northwestern.

PLENTY JITTERS

GAINNESVILLE, Fla.—Football jitters may come and jitters may go, but Florida's Gators had their share in the N. C. State game. With a death grip on a 7 to 6 lead, the Floridians saw State attempt a 20 yard field goal with a minute remaining in the first half and a five yard three-pointer with 45 seconds remaining in the ball game.

MAROONS DEFEAT COWBOYS, 27 TO 7

McWilliams Brings Mississippi State From Behind In Last Quarter

STARKVILLE, Miss., Oct. 25.—(AP)—Mississippi State's great t ll back, Tom (Shorty) McWilliams, paced the Maroons to a 27-7 victory over a stubborn Hardin-Simmons team before a crowd of 9,000 today.

McWilliams first score was the culmination of a 49-yard drive with Shorty going over from the four yard stripe. His second touchdown was a beautiful 69-yard punt return shortly after the start of the second half.

The Maroons third touchdown was set up when Guard Jesse Hughes recovered a Hardin--Simmons fumble mid-way in the third quarter on the Cowboy 33. Harper Davis and McWilliams alternated in running the ball to the Maroon 4 and Davis went went over for the touchdown.

State's final touchdown came with just a few seconds remaining in the game when Sonny Jones ran over from the two. Jones made a 28-yard run to set up the score.

Hardin-Simmons got their lone score in the first quarter as a result of a 60-yard drive that started on the kickoff following State's touchdown. Al Johnson and Wilton Davis alternated in passing and running the ball to the Marons 4 and Davis went around end for the score.

Max Stainbrook converted three our of four extra point attempts for the Maroons with Tom Proctor kicking the extra point after the Cowboy's score.

Outstanding in the State line were Captain and Dub Garrett and Murray Alexander, Center Pete Ray and Guard Jesse Hughes. In the Cowboy line Red Cleveland and Jack Ellison, center and guard respectively, played a jam-up game.

The Hardin-Simmon backfield stars were Wilton Davis and Al Johnson.

The win was State's fourth of the year against one defeat and was Hardin-Simmons second defeat against three wins.

time Midshipman, was the main cog.

California, Baylor, West Virginia and Wake Forest all were spilled from the ranks of the unbeaten, an honor retained by Texas by virtue of its 12 to 0 triumph over Rice.

For the second straight week the Rice Owls were hold scoreless and also for the second straight Saturday Texas surprised by making its important advances via the ground.

California was dumped by Southern California, 39 to 14, in a struggle that likely determined the West Coast team in the Jan. 1 Rose Bowl. It was the first loss for California since Lynn Waldorf became coach. The Bears, however, counted first on a 54-yard touchdown run.

Baylor, also operating under a new coach, was spilled by Texas A. and M., 24 to 0, while West Virginia grabbed an early lead and then lost it to Penn State, 21 to 14, in a battle between two previously unbeaten outfits.

A furious last period rally gave duke a 13 to 6 edge over Wake Forest to keep intact Coach Wallace Wade's record of never having lost a team tutored by Peahead Walker.

Northwestern continued its impressive showing by edging past Indiana, 7 to 6, with the Hoosiers scoring on Bob Young's 59-yard pass and the Chicago Wildcats intercepting one of the same player's tosses for their touchdown. Wisconsin won its second straight by downing Marquette, 35 to 12.

Missouri got 13 points in a rainy first quarter, then played just hard enough to roll over Iowa State, 26 to 7, for its second Big Six win. Nebraska found Kansas State especially tough, 14 to 7, and Oklahoma was subdued by Texas Christian, 20-7.

Georgia Tech had no difficulty maintaining its unbeaten rating, blanking the Citadel while scoring 39 points itself. The firm of Tew and Gilmer brought Alabama a 17 to 7 decision over Georgia and Florida's homecoming was ruined by North Carolina, 35 to 7. The Tar Heels' famed Charles Justice played only a minor part in his team's triumph.

Tulane pounced on Auburn, 40 to 0. Mississippi State and Tennessee racked up non-Southeastern Conference wins while Mississippi's attempt to master Arkansas was voided by Clyde Scott, 19 to 14.

The Duke triumph shared the day's headlines in the Southern Conference with a football doubleheader at Lexington, Va. In the first game Washington and Lee drubbed Davidson, 32 to 0, and in the second Virginia easily disposed of Virginia Military, 35 to 6.

Dartmouth's 14 to 13 triumph over Harvard was a minor eastern surprise as was Cornell's comeback to upend Princeton, 28 to 21. Holy Cross's heavy squad halted Syracuse's lightweights, 26 to 0, while the games pairing bates against Maine and sending Colby against Bowdoin were postponed because of the Maine forest fire.

U. C. L. A., the defending coast champion, was overcome by Southern Methodist's great Doak Walker, 7 to 0, and Nevada repulsed Tulsa, 21 to 13, in another insectional affair.

In major night games, Louisiana State outlasted Vanderbilt, 19-13, and William and Mary, prominent in the Southern Conference flag chase, outclassed Boston University, 47-13.

NATCHEZ BOOMS

States League history. Left Fielder McDivitt had socked a two-bagger to get on with the winning run. Gittinger followed up to smash a three-two pitch out of the park.

The Cotton States League management apparently didn't provide an actual pennant for the first champions. Natchez lady fans made one, though, of red, white and blue silk. On an excursion steamed bound upriver September 12 from Natchez to St. Joseph, La., for a post-season exhibition game and a celebration ball, the pennant was completed. Everyone aboard placed at least one stitch in the flag.

In a special ceremony on the boat ride to St. Jo, the Natchez ladies presented each member of the 13-man Indian squad with a pair of gold cuff links as token of appreciation.

Describing Natchez' 1902 baseball team, the Vicksburg American said: "George Blackburn (Natchez pitcher-manager) has the scrubbiest team in the league, but every mother's son of them can bat the ball all over the lot . . ."

The old-timers here are hoping that the next Natchez entry in the Cotton States League will be another aggregation of "scrubby" hard-hitting baseballers. Since they have heard that the road to the majors is open from Natchez, via Birmingham of the Southern Association, all the way to the Boston Red Sox, they wouldn't be surprised.

STEERS DEFEAT STUBBORN RICE ELEVEN, 12 TO 0

Layne's Passing Sets Texas In Motion For Uneasy Victory Over Owls

By Bo Byers

AUSTIN, Tex., Oct. 25.—(AP)—The University of Texas Longhorns pieced together an un-asy 12-0 triumph over a valiant Rice Owl eleven here today before a record Southwest Conference game crowd of 45,-400.

As usual, it was Bobby Layne's good right arm that set the Texas scoring machine in motion, but hard rushing by the Owls forced the Longhorns to stick to the ground for most of their gains.

Spectacular defensive work by Longhorn Left End Max Bumgardner helped Texas immeasurably and Bumgardner was the lad who took Layne's pass to lunge across for Texas' first marker.

He took a bullet heave directly across center on the Rice 4-yard line, wriggled out of the grasping hands of Owls Don Anderson and Harold Stockbridge, and dived across the double stripe on a play good for 18 yards.

The Longhorns picked up steam again in the final period with right halfback Jim Canady and Fullback Tom Landry piling through the line for short, steady gains. The payoff came on a three-yard drive by Canady over his right tackle to score standing up.

Layne exhibited his crafty generalship to perfection when he found the Owls rushing him so hard he had no time to spot receivers. He used the speed of his left halfback Byron Gillory and the hard driving of Canady and Landry in good proportions to give the Longhorns 167 yards on the ground, against 96 for Rice.

The blond bomber connected on five of 14 passes for 60 yards and suffered one interception. Rice attempted 15 passes, completed four for 50 yards.

Evidence of the shift of strength in Texas' favor during the second half was revealed by a statistical record of minus two yards rushing for Rice during the last two quarters while Texas was racking up 89.

As a result of today's victory, the Longhorns remain undefeated, untied in six games. The loss practically eliminated the pre-season favorite Owls from Southwest conference championship running.

The lineups:

Rice	Pos	Texas
W. Williams	LE	Bumgardner
Armstrong	LT	Harris
Magee	LG	Magliolo
Watson	C	Williams
Nicholson	RG	Tatom
Spruill	RT	Kelley
Taylor	RE	Schwartzkopf
Eikenberg	QB	Layne
Wamsley	LH	Pyle
Russ	RH	Canady
Anderson	FB	Landry

Score by quarters:

Rice	0	0	0	0	6

Texas scoring: Touchdown, Bumgardner, Canady.

TEXAS AGS BLANK BAYLOR'S BRUINS

COLLEGE STATION, Tex., Oct. 25. —(AP)—Texas A. and M. bounced back viciously from three straight defeats today to knock Baylor out of the nation's unbaten ranks, with a convincing 24-0 decision that kept the Aggies in the Southwest Conference championship race.

The passing of Burly Baty, the running of Ed Dusek and the magnificent punting of Stan Hollmig, were too much for a hard-fighting but fumbling Baylor team.

The game, which saw the Aggies vastly superior all the way, ended in confusion as thousands of happy A. and M. fans flooded the field thinking the contest was over as time ran out with Baylor on the Cadet seven-yard stripe. But pass interference was called on the last play and the gridiron had to be cleared to give Baylor another chance, this time from the two. Cal Crews took the ball in a try at right end but was thrown for a yard loss to end the game.

Baylor fumbled four times and lost the ball on each occasion. Twice A. and M. cashed in on the Bobbies for touchdown. It was also a fumble that gave Baylor its only chance to score, the Bears getting the ball on the Aggie 34 and sweeping down to the seven, making 14 of the yards on a pass interference penalty. It was here that the crowd came on the field after three passes had failed, thinking it was all over.

The kicking of Hollmig was phenomenal. Ten times he punted and seven times the ball went out of bounds inside the Baylor 12-yard line. Once he placed it on the two, another time on the four and a third time on the six.

Baylor made more first downs and outgained the Aggies 216 yards to 208 rushing and passing—but the Bears were backed up in their end of the field much of the time, mainly because of the kicking of Hollmig.

NEVILLE TACKLES WINNFIELD NEXT; OUACHITA IN OPEN DATE

Bengals In Action Here Thursday; Lions Prepare For Byrd Battle

Monroe's high school football teams, exclusive of little L. T. I. which managed to surprise Dubach, 7-0, ran into plenty of trouble over the week-end with the result that Neville's Tigers were virtually eliminated from the district Class A race in face of a 14-13 defeat by Ruston, and the Ouachita Parish Lions had their title aspirations in Class AA jarred as they bowed in defeat to Fair Park of Shreveport, 26 to 6.

Ouachita, still with a chance to win out and in a deadlock with Fair Park and Haynesville for the district lead since each had lost one conference game, will rest this week through an open date to prepare for the final scheduled conference duel with the Byrd High School Yellow Jackets at Shreveport the following week.

Neville, still hoping for upsets that could possibly send them back into a tie for the district title, will be in action on their home field again this week meeting the Winnfield Tigers at Neville Stadium Thursday night.

The Tigers will also be at home on November 7 for a tussle with the strong Class B Ferriday Bulldogs. Then they travel to Lafayette on November 14, and return home to end their regular schedule against Bastrop on November 21.

After the visit to Shreveport for their engagement with seven-times-beaten Byrd on November 7, Ouachita will travel to Vicksburg to end the Lion schedule against powerful Carr Central. Efforts to fill a November 14 open date for the Lions have so far failed to materialize.

ENGINEERS EASILY SIDESTEP CITADEL

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 25.—Unbeaten, untied Georgia Tech romped over the Citadel's outmanned Cadets today, winning a walk, 38 to 0, after punching out four touchdowns in the first 12 minutes of play.

Coach Bobby Dodd took out the first-string after 15 minutes, and the reserves knocked heads with Citadel on slightly better than even terms. They scored two more touchdowns.

The contest was never a ball game, however, Tech piling up mountainous yardage both aground and aloft. The Engineers were credited with 418 yards rushing, to 70 for Citadel, and 195 yards by forward passes against five for the Cadets.

LOUISIANA TECH MASTERS RIVAL DEMONS, 24 TO 0

Northwestern State Outclassed By Scrappy Bulldogs At State Fair

SHREVEPORT, La., Oct. 25.—(AP)—The Louisiana Tech Bulldogs romped to an easy 24-0 victory over an outclassed Northwestern State College Demon squad this afternoon, scoring in every period except the third, in a colorful contest played before approximately 10,000 fans at the Fair Grounds stadium.

Eddie Harrelson opened the scoring for the Bulldogs midway in the first quarter when he brought the crowd to its feet with a magnificent 70-yard run in which he pulled the entire Demon defense to one side of the gridiron, then reversed his field to gallop over the goal line, leaving the nearest would-be tackler some 30 yards behind him when he crossed the double stripe.

Austin Wilson had kicked out of bounds on the Tech 30. Sure-footed Joe Michael, who converted after each touchdown and also added a field goal to his day's chores, converted after the first tally to give Tech a 7-0 margin.

Shortly after the second quarter opened, Michael made three more points by kicking a field goal at a slight angle from the eight-yard line.

Tech iced the game late in the second period when Jack Brittain scooted around his right end from the 16-yard line for the second Tech touchdown. Britain's sortie climaxed a drive that started on the Bulldogs 44-yard line where Joe Rabb had returned Bobby Johnson's kick that he took of his own 26. Lindsey Aucoin and Rabb shared the major portion of carrying the mail to the Demons' 16, from where Brittain scored.

Again Michael converted to make the score 17-0 in favor of Tech.

J. R. Bres crashed over from the five-yard line for the Bulldogs' final touchdown. He scored on the eighth play after he had run Johnson's boot back to the N. S. C. 28-yard line. Michael again made his placement good.

The Demons never really threatened although they drove to the Tech 17-yard line late in the third quarter, but the drive stalled and the Bulldogs took over on downs. Late in the game, the Demons got a break when Ernest Howell blocked G. Dulaney's punt to give Northwestern the ball on the Tech 37-yard line. The Natchitoches crew drove to the Tech 18-yard line, but lost the ball on downs.

GOLDEN GOPHERS

starting from the Gopher 45. Short passes and plunges moved the ball steadily towards Michigan's goal and the longest gain in this machine-like advance was a pass from Faunce to End Gordon Soltau for 14 yards. Finally on fourth down with the ball on Michigan's one-yard line, Everette Faunce dove over center John White. End Leonard Ford came in fast to block Bailey's try for point.

Michigan's first touchdown came with stunning unexpectedness only a minute and 10 seconds before the half ended. Jack Weisenburger had kicked out of bounds on the Minnesota 11. Three line plunges resulted in a loss of one yard, and Harry Elliott punted to Chappius on the Minnesota 40. On the next play Chappis faded back, and passed to Elliott. He cut back in from close to the side lines and scored with no one near him.

Brieske methodically made the extra point to put Michigan ahead, 7-6, but failed after Michigan's second touchdown to give him a record of 31 conversions out of 34 attempts this season.

Not until the last period did Michigan really come alive. Weisenburger, the Wolverine fullback, intercepted one of Harry Elliott's passes on the Minnesota 35 and returned to the 22. Then Derricotte darted off tackle for the touchdown that put the game on ice. A few moments later Chappius, Elliott and Weisenburger took turns moving the ball from the Michigan 20 to Minnesota's 12 just before the game ended.

Bill Marcotte, 180 pound, led a Minnesota defense so tight that the Wolverine rushing attack was held to four yards net in the first half. Michigan's second half bursts still left Minnesota leading in rushing for the entire game, 131 yards to 112, and in first downs, 13 to 9. In passing, however, Michigan had the edge with eight completed for 131 yards against seven for 91 yards by Minnesota. Michigan tried 12 all by Chappius, and the Gophers 18.

Michigan, still sticking to its system of a different team for offense and defense, only used 24 players against the customary 40 or more that saw action in defeating Michigan State, Pittsburgh, Stanford and Northwestern.

PLENTY JITTERS

GAINNESVILLE, Fla.—Football jitters may come and jitters may go, but Florida's Gators had their share in the N. C. State game. With a death grip on a 7 to 6 lead, the Floridians saw State attempt a 20 yard field goal with a minute remaining in the first half and a five yard three-pointer with 45 seconds remaining in the ball game.

MAROONS DEFEAT COWBOYS, 27 TO 7

McWilliams Brings Mississippi State From Behind In Last Quarter

STARKVILLE, Miss., Oct. 25.—(AP)—Mississippi State's great t-il back, Tom (Shorty) McWilliams, paced the Maroons to a 27-7 victory over a stubborn Hardin-Simmons team before a crowd of 9,000 today.

McWilliams first score was the culmination of a 49-yard drive with Shorty going over from the four yard stripe. His second touchdown was a beautiful 69-yard punt return shortly after the start of the second half.

The Maroons third touchdown was set up when Guard Jesse Hughes recovered a Hardin--Simmons fumble mid-way in the third quarter on the Cowboy 33. Harper Davis and McWilliams alternated in running the ball to the Maroon 4 and Davis went went over for the touchdown.

State's final touchdown came with just a few seconds remaining in the game when Sonny Jones ran over from the two. Jones made a 28-yard run to set up the score.

Hardin-Simmons got their lone score in the first quarter as a result of a 60-yard drive that started on the kickoff following State's touchdown. Al Johnson and Wilton Davis alternated in passing and running the ball to the Marons 4 and Davis went around end for the score.

Max Stainbrook converted three our of four extra point attempts for the Maroons with Tom Proctor kicking the extra point after the Cowboy's score.

Outstanding in the State line were Captain and Dub Garrett and Murray Alexander, Center Pete Ray and Guard Jesse Hughes. In the Cowboy line Red Cleveland and Jack Ellison, center and guard respectively, played a jam-up game.

The Hardin-Simmon backfield stars were Wilton Davis and Al Johnson.

The win was State's fourth of the year against one defeat and was Hardin-Simmons second defeat against three wins.

time Midshipman, was the main cog.

California, Baylor, West Virginia and Wake Forest all were spilled from the ranks of the unbeaten, an honor retained by Texas by virtue of its 12 to 0 triumph over Rice.

For the second straight week the Rice Owls were hold scoreless and also for the second straight Saturday Texas surprised by making its important advances via the ground.

California was dumped by Southern California, 39 to 14, in a struggle that likely determined the West Coast team in the Jan. 1 Rose Bowl. It was the first loss for California since Lynn Waldorf became coach. The Bears, however, counted first on a 54-yard touchdown run.

Baylor, also operating under a new coach, was spilled by Texas A. and M., 24 to 0, while West Virginia grabbed an early lead and then lost it to Penn State, 21 to 14, in a battle between two previously unbeaten outfits.

A furious last period rally gave duke a 13 to 6 edge over Wake Forest to keep intact Coach Wallace Wade's record of never having lost a team tutored by Peahead Walker.

Northwestern continued its impressive showing by edging past Indiana, 7 to 6, with the Hoosiers scoring on Bob Young's 59-yard pass and the Chicago Wildcats intercepting one of the same player's tosses for their touchdown. Wisconsin won its second straight by downing Marquette, 35 to 12.

Missouri got 13 points in a rainy first quarter, then played just hard enough to roll over Iowa State, 26 to 7, for its second Big Six win. Nebraska found Kansas State especially tough, 14 to 7, and Oklahoma was subdued by Texas Christian, 20-7.

Georgia Tech had no difficulty maintaining its unbeaten rating, blanking the Citadel while scoring 39 points itself. The firm of Tew and Gilmer brought Alabama a 17 to 7 decision over Georgia and Florida's homecoming was ruined by North Carolina, 35 to 7. The Tar Heels' famed Charles Justice played only a minor part in his team's triumph.

Tulane pounced on Auburn, 40 to 0. Mississippi State and Tennessee racked up non-Southeastern Conference wins while Mississippi's attempt to master Arkansas was voided by Clyde Scott, 19 to 14.

The Duke triumph shared the day's headlines in the Southern Conference with a football doubleheader at Lexington, Va. In the first game Washington and Lee drubbed Davidson, 32 to 0, and in the second Virginia easily disposed of Virginia Military, 35 to 6.

Dartmouth's 14 to 13 triumph over Harvard was a minor eastern surprise as was Cornell's comeback to upend Princeton, 28 to 21. Holy Cross's heavy squad halted Syracuse's lightweights, 26 to 0, while the games pairing bates against Maine and sending Colby against Bowdoin were postponed because of the Maine forest fire.

U. C. L. A., the defending coast champion, was overcome by Southern Methodist's great Doak Walker, 7 to 0, and Nevada repulsed Tulsa, 21 to 13, in another insectional affair.

In major night games, Louisiana State outlasted Vanderbilt, 19-13, and William and Mary, prominent in the Southern Conference flag chase, outclassed Boston University, 47-13.

NATCHEZ BOOMS

States League history. Left Fielder McDivitt had socked a two-bagger to get on with the winning run. Gittinger followed up to smash a three-two pitch out of the park.

The Cotton States League management apparently didn't provide an actual pennant for the first champions. Natchez lady fans made one, though, of red, white and blue silk. On an excursion steamed bound upriver September 12 from Natchez to St. Joseph, La., for a post-season exhibition game and a celebration ball, the pennant was completed. Everyone aboard placed at least one stitch in the flag.

In a special ceremony on the boat ride to St. Jo, the Natchez ladies presented each member of the 13-man Indian squad with a pair of gold cuff links as token of appreciation.

Describing Natchez' 1902 baseball team, the Vicksburg American said: "George Blackburn (Natchez pitcher-manager) has the scrubbiest team in the league, but every mother's son of them can bat the ball all over the lot . . ."

The old-timers here are hoping that the next Natchez entry in the Cotton States League will be another aggregation of "scrubby" hard-hitting baseballers. Since they have heard that the road to the majors is open from Natchez, via Birmingham of the Southern Association, all the way to the Boston Red Sox, they wouldn't be surprised.

STATE HOROLOGICAL PARLEY SET HERE

The State Horological Association will hold its 1948 State Convention in Monroe May 2, 3 and 4, according to reports from W. L. Huckabay, president of the organization who has just returned from a meeting of the state officers in New Orleans.

The program, which will include lectures of special interest to watchmakers on the various phases of watch-repairing, multiple uses of the Watch-Master Timing machine, and other timely angles of the trade, is now in the making, with special attention being given to the entertainment features as well as to the educational phases of the convention.

Horological Guilds composed of the progressive watchmakers in their particular areas are rapidly organizing themselves in the principal towns of Louisiana, where they are gaining much popularity due to the friendly relationships and the sharing of practical watch-repairing methods which are being established among the guild members. The fast-organizing guilds which compose the State Horological Association promise a large representation of watchmakers from all over Louisiana at the spring convention.

FIRES

destruction in York and Washington counties—at the opposite ends of the Maine seacoast—and state arson investigators probed firebug reports. One man was held for questioning at Biddeford.

Fires still burned on Mt. Desert Island, scene of the Dunkerque-like evacuation Thursday night of Bar Harbor by sea. Shifts in wind direction eased the threat to Northeast Harbor, but brought a new menace to Salisbury Cove, another island village. In the Biddeford area, a fire roared along the Biddeford pool road, destroying one house in its advance toward the latter community.

Massachusetts—Fires were reported out of control in Fitchburg, Falmouth and Gloucester. One man was jailed for setting a fire in leaves "on a dare." The fire for a time threatened a hospital, which had to be evacuated.

New Hampshire—a million dollar loss was reported in the city of Rochester. Two fresh fires sprang up there today and one is still spreading.

New York—Fire fighters, bringing under control seven major woods fires, were called to two new blazes spotted in southeastern New York state near the Kensico reservoir, north of White Plains.

New Jersey and Pennsylvania officials reported a number of woods fires, but the worst were under control.

The Maine situation was the most serious in the nation as freshening winds fanned into life fires which wiped out seven communities and part of the summer resort colony at Bar Harbor.

In all, Maine counted tonight a toll of 13 dead, 6,000 homeless or displaced and 100,000 acres—much of it valuable timber land—burned over.

The damage in Maine rose over the $25,000,000 mark, with 1,000 houses destroyed. Many of these were those of year around residents.

In the two serious fire fronts, further devastation in the York county manufacturing city of Biddeford was threatened by a fire that raged along the road to Biddeford pool, in the outskirts of the city proper. It consumed one house today.

Far to the northeast, 15 farms were overrun by a fire three miles from Machias.

Smoke weary fire fighters, including thousands of volunteers, national guards and army men, 200 of whom were flown in from Mitchel Field, New York, were disheartened by weather bureau predictions of rising winds, with no rain in sight.

A helpful development was the president's proclamation in Washington.

Mr. Truman acted on the recommendation of Major General Philip Fleming, federal works administrator, to whom Maine's Gov. Horace A. Hildreth and U. S. Senator Wallace H. White, Jr., had appealed.

Fleming announced that free shipments of blankets, clothing and medical supplies already were enroute to Maine from Boston WAA warehouses, and said the work agency could lend such heavy equipment as trucks and bulldozers needed for fighting the fire.

The army was flying 2,000 booster pumps here from Wisconsin, and other air forces brought 22 miles of fire hose to the Bangor Airport for distribution.

In all 2,700 soldiers, from Dow Field, Bangor, and from other army bases, were working side by side with firemen in the Washington county area.

Bar Harbor's relief workers felt a shortage of perishable foods, particularly meat, in the absence of electric power for refrigeration but supplies were being brought from Ellsworth on the mainland.

Work crews systematically patrolled the streets shutting off water escaping from broken house taps. The leakage had been reducing water pressure vitally needed for firefighting.

Town officials expressed concern about finding housing for the almost 300 homeless with winter's cold weather approaching.

Many persons lost their jobs with the destruction of estates for which they were caretakers. Some who looked beyond today's worries wondered about reestablishment of ruined recreational facilities which gave them employment.

But the general reaction was: "We are not licked."

Even 62-year-old John Parsons, a bricklayer, had this to say:

"I had nothing when I started. I have nothing now. So I will start up again."

HOLLYWOOD

send down some Broadway actors and producers.

Monday's witness list starts off with Eric Johnston, president of the Motion Picture association, and possibly Roy Brewer, Hollywood labor union leader.

Johnston got in an advance argument by distributing a statement saying that the investigation "serves to emphasize my thinking on the need for reform" in congressional investigative procedures. He said in a letter to Senate-House leaders:

"With no vested right to be heard and no vested right to challenge accusations against him, the innocent citizen is helpless. He can be indicted in the public mind on the unchallenged say-so of a witness."

Rep. Vail (R.-Ill.) of the committee, has complained that Johnston has improperly criticized the group as making an effort to establish that films are purposely colored.

After Johnston will come screen Writers John Howard Lawson, Dalton Trumbo, Alvah Bessie and Emmett Lavery. Numerous witnesses have said they believe, or think, or are sure, one or another of the quartet are Communists or act like it.

Nobody has proved anybody is a Red.

The first week of the hearing brought to the witness stand such movie stars as Robert Taylor, Gary Cooper, Robert Montgomery, Ronald Reagan and George Murphy. A number of writers and directors testified. So did Producers Louis B. Mayer, Jack L. Warner and Walt Disney.

Several points of agreement stood out in what they said. They agreed:

1. Communists definitely have established a beachhead in Hollywood.
2. The Reds are a small but dangerous minority.
3. The greatest Red element is among screen writers.
4. Communists have fallen far short of dominating the industry.
5. Counter attacks have met with considerable success.
6. Congress ought to outlaw the Communist party, not as a political party but as a subversive agency of a foreign government.

day that they were comfortable, well looked after, and lacked nothing. They include former Ambassador de Pimentel Brandao and his two sons; Embassy Counselor Cardos Buarque de Macedo, his wife and small son; Secretaries Manuel Pio Correa, Jr., and L. Soroa Garcia Goina and Mrs. Correa. The staff members said that while they could not leave their hotel, their Russian servants were doing their shopping.

The former Chilean ambassador, whose government also has broken relations with the Soviet Union, said he too was being treated well but that he did not know when he would leave. (Enrique Bernstein, Chilean undersecretary of foreign affairs, said at Santiago that the Chilean ambassador "apparently is having difficulty" in communicating with his government from Moscow.)

Meanwhile, Pravda, Communist party newspaper, declared Brazil and Chile were "slaves carrying out the orders of imperialistic bosses." The newspapser asserted the diplomatic and trade break would "inflict moral and material damage only on Brazil and Chile," and that the Soviet Union does not "need their aid nor trade relations with such governments."

Informed foreign observers said the appointment of Alexander S. Panyushkin as Soviet ambassador to Washington to succeed Nikolai Novikov should not be interpreted as meaning any significant change in Russia's policy toward the U. S. They said it would be hasty to advance a theory it meant "a softening" or "a hardening" policy on the part of the Russians. These sources said Novikov was probably headed for "another important post."

had purchased. May keep it as a souvenir.

Frank Krogmire is happy these days because he is regaining the use of his right arm after six weeks' "vacation" taken by this part of his body when he made a too sudden exit from a softball game on Barkdull Faulk campus. He tripped on some obstruction and when he picked himself up he found his right arm was useless. A physician found that it was a clean break.

Two West Monroe clubs, the Lions and Kiwanis, are planning a big public frolic in Gentry arena Friday night when they are to stage a "donkey ball game." and George Campbell, of the Kiwanis club, master of ceremonies for that club, assures there will be more fun than a box of monkeys.

In a "donkey game," players ride burros to field the ball and to run the bases. A bridle is used to steer the donkey, but he seldom responds to this gentle urging—unless it suits his momentary whim.

Of course there will be purveyors of all accessories as are necessary for a ball game or circus, such as pop, hot dogs, balloons, popcorn and peanuts.

The time of the game has been set for Halloween night and there will be big doings in which young and old will participate.

NEWS

ing to the white-collar people, the bigger ones to the unskilled workers.

Giornale Della Sera and other Rightist and Centrist newspapers reported that the fall of prices began in northern Italy's wholesale meat market early this week, spread slowly southward and reached Rome today.

Nobody in the Italian government was prepared to say with assurance that tumbling meat, butter, oil, lard, wheat and egg prices in Milan, Turin, Genoa, Bologna and other cities meant that inflation had been licked.

The best that Guiseppe Togni, minister of industry and commerce, would say was that his information indicated the deflation "is not transitory and will be accentuated over the next few months."

American financial experts said there were "technical and seasonal" reasons for the price declines, ranging from 70 per cent in commodities were:

1. The govenrment's tightening of federal and bank credit. This action squeezed some marginal speculators in food, forcing them either to dump their holdings or shell out hoarded foreign exchange.
2. August-October is Italy's peak production period, and consumer goods are more plentiful now, as a result.
3. The inflation reduced the public buying power.
4. The inflation also operated to make sales at home more profitable than sales abroad. Exports have been going down for six months.

But if the price swing-back was technical and seasonal in origin, the government was doing what it could to make it permanent. Instructions were sent to all provincial prefects to see that retailers passed the wholesalers' cuts along to the consumer.

FIRE ALARMS

Firemen of company 3 extinguished a small gasoline blaze at 805 Arkansas avenue yesterday at 4:30 p. m.

Company 4 answered an alarm at 520 Wilson street, residence of V. B. Saragusa, at 7:21 p. m. yesterday. Firemen said the blaze was started by a short in wiring and that it was out on their arrival.

SOVIETS

Soviet proposal, repeating many of his old charges against "reactionary" circles in the United States, Greece and Turkey.

In the 57-nation social committee, meeting in a nearby chamber, Russia's V. A. Zorin said "the time has come for us to cease to believe in the myth of the freedom of the press in America." He ridiculed stories about "flying saucers" in the American press and said they were published by "American newspapers as a part of their propaganda for war."

Zorin declared that "the United States press is poisoning relations between the nations of the world." He spoke in support of Yugoslav resolution calling on U. N. members to take measures against those "who publish or spread false and tendentious reports calculated to aggravate relations between nations, provoke conflicts and incite to war."

With the general debate in its final stages, only White Russia, Poland, Yugoslavia, the Soviet Ukraine and Czechoslovakia had supported the Soviet demand. Russia wants the U. N. to condemn "criminal propaganda for a new war" and to call on member governments to prohibit "war propaganda."

Also under discussion were three counter proposals from Australia, France and Canada. Delegates indicated there was a possibility one of them would be adopted by the 57-nation political committee despite blanket U. S. opposition to any plan growing out of Russia's keystone proposal of the 1947 general assembly.

The Soviet bloc, headed by Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky, carried its fight to the very end of general debate.

Soviet Ukrainian Foreign Minister Dmitri Manuilsky warned the U. S. that if the U. S. persisted "in the role of a policeman" other countries might decide to interfere in American affairs.

Declaring that the U. S. was "preaching against the working people of the world," the fiery Ukrainian cried out:

"If the United States continues this role then other countries may decide to interfere in the affairs of the United States."

He said that although there are "powerful Communist parties in Europe" there is no powerful Communist party in the U. S. "It's a game today—a game similar to the old anti-Comintern campaign," he added.

The proposals briefly are these:

Russia—Asks the U. N. to "condemn the criminal propaganda for a new war," citing specifically the dissemination in the U. S., Greece and Turkey of "all types of fabricationist the press, radio, cinema and public speeches." Calls on all governments to "prohibit, on pain of criminal penalties, the carrying on of war propaganda in any form."

France—Condemns all manifestations and all propaganda in all countries and in any form likely to provoke or encourage a threat to peace. Further expresses hope that the world conference on freedom of information next spring will study the resolution and make recommendations.

Canada—Condemns all propaganda inciting to aggressive war or civil strife which might lead to war and urges U. N. members to promote by all means of publicity and propaganda friendly relations among nations.

Australia—Condemns all forms of propaganda designed to encourage any act of aggression and which falsely imputes to officials or other responsible persons of any nation the desire of encouraging aggression. Also requests all U. N. member governments to take appropriate steps to counter such propaganda—not by censorship—but by taking positive measures to encourage fair and accurate reporting of statements coming from any nation.

After the committee acts, the issue will go to the full assembly. There was speculation today that the assembly would hold its next sessions next Friday and Saturday.

South Africa's H. G. Lawrence said Vishinsky was making "a direct request for some limit on freedom of expression," whether it be the press, radio or films. He noted that South Africa had not been named in the "trinity of Bolshevik bogies" (U. S., Greece and Turkey) despite that the Moscow radio had been paying a lot of attention to South African affairs.

"Therefore, we have expected to be included in Mr. Vishinsky's international rogues gallery," Lawrence said. At this point, Vishinsky cut in to say: "You are not too late."

Foreign Minister Jan Masaryk, of Czechoslovakia, supported the Russian plan and said "explosive headlines" must be eliminated in the press. He complained that many articles about Czechoslovakia were "far-fetched."

Belgium, Brazil, Bolivia, Columbia and Cuba also announced their opposition to the Soviet proposal.

"If Russia really wishes to end this propaganda," Cuba's Guillermo Belt said, "it would suffice if it would order the Communist parties to cease their campaigns of propaganda."

JONES

prosperity unprecedented in its history."

The number of permanent industries has risen from 1861 in 1939 to 2,505 in 1947, Jones reported, with a concommitant increase of 70,000 new jobs.

Shipping, during that time, has jumped from 20 million tons to 36 millions tons; farmers' incomes have bounded from an average of $359 in 1939 to $1,329 in 1947, and teachers salaries have climbed from an average of $1,182 to $2,249 last year, Jones said.

Describing the paper industry as one of the mainstays of the state's economy, Jones said that its future depends upon protection of the state's forests.

"Louisiana has 16,000,000 acres of cutover lands," he continued. "In 1939 only two and a half million acres were being protected, while in 1947 that figure had increased to six and three quarter millions. In addition, he pointed out, 54 per cent of the land protected by the state is owned by farmers with less than 80 acres."

"Although we are still getting less than 47 per cent of potential production, it is possible to multiply that amount at least eight-fold," he declared.

Taking vigorous exception to critics of his gas and oil conservation policies, Jones charged that the policies inaugurated by his administration and that of Gov. Jimmie Davis have been responsible for production of 482 thousand barrels of oil a day in 1947 compared with half that amount, or 250 thousand barrels daily, in 1939.

"No longer are the gas and oil interests afraid to come into the state for fear of discriminatory competition and political shakedowns," he asserted.

Moreover, he reported, natural gas wasteage has been reduced from 510 million cubic feet in 1939 to 310 million cubic feet this year.

Nevertheless, Jones warned the audience of about a 100 persons, property owners "are still being victimized by unscrupulous profiteers who have fought to keep royalties to a shockingly low level."

The wellhead price for natural gas in Louisiana, he said, is only three cents per thousand cubic feet, but in West Virginia it is 12 cents.

"Our wellhead price amounts to robbery," he declared. "It would be more profitable to plant the oil fields with timber."

Reviewing "the scandalous abuses" of administrations of the last decade, Jones said with the advent of his party into power "the deducts, double-dipping and all the other rotten practices have been abolished."

"In 1939," he continued, "250 firms were getting all of the state's business. In 1947, 17,000 firms are getting a share of public projects.

"In 1939 when the political bigshots were obtaining leases on public lands for a pittance of four cents an acre, the state received only $1,600,517 from those leases. Today the taxpayers are receiving $11,439,483 in royalties from state lands."

Among the other accomplishments of the past eight years which Jones cited were an increase in public health units, welfare services, school lunches, reduction of automobile license fees from $15 to $3, and abolition of poll-tax requirements for voting.

Welfare payments, Jones said, have been doubled—from $11.90 in 1939 to an average of $23 in 1947. In Ouachita parish alone, he reported, the amount available for welfare benefits has increased from $322,535 in 1939 to $766,157 this year.

Educational funds, he related, have almost tribled—from $12,860,000 when he took office to $31,030,000 in 1947. Veterans appropriations, he continued, have been augmented from "practically nothing" to upwards of $36,000,000.

Jones assumed a major share of credit for the interstate commerce commission and supreme court decisions eliminating freight schedules "discriminatory to southern industry."

The previous rates, he said, "held the South in economic bondage since the Civil War and prohibited it from developing its resources and industries."

"Now," he predicted, "the South will emerge into an era of industrial development never envisioned in its history."

All but two of the 45 pledges he made when he first sought office have been fulfilled, Jones said. These he listed as the goal of raising old-age benefits to $30 monthly, and eliminating the sales tax.

The latter failure he attributed to "the supreme will of the people who defeted at the polls a substitute measure which would have made the sales tax unnecessary.

Now underway, he reported, are construction projects involving $60,000,000 in new roads, $25,000,000 in new drainage systems, $25,000,000 for expanded hospital facilities, and $15,000,000 for new colleges.

Outlining the program to be instituted if he is elected, Jones said it calls for drainage of 5,000,000 additional acres, reforestation of 10,000,000 more acres, a 3,000,000 increase in pastures, restoration of fish and wildlife reserves, development of natural resources and new industries, expansion of foreign trade, and "training of our people."

Jones and other candidates on his ticket spoke earlier at Farmerville, Gibsland and Ruston. Traveling with him were Lt. Gov. Emile Verrett, who is seeking reelection; Fred LeBlanc, attorney general also seeking reelection; Grady Durham, candidate for secretary of state, and Mrs. Ellen Bryan Moore, candidate for registrar of state lands.

Also in the Jones encampment yesterday was Hillyer S. Parker, formerly assistant district attorney for Ouachita and Morehouse parishes who resigned October 1 to become Jones' assistant state campaign manager.

1945, when Labor won its big majority in the House of Commons, the Labor party has remained unshaken.

In the event of a full-scale Labor rout in the borough voting, which appeared unlikely, nothing in the British constitution would compel the national government to resign. A route followed by other evidence of important loss of support might do so, however, in the view of both sides.

Voters will ballot next Saturday in the 83 "count boroughs" and 309 "non-county boroughs" of England and Wales, and the following Tuesday in the 24 "large burghs" and 168 in "small burghs" of Scotland.

These units of Britain's complex system of local government embrace about 15,000,000 of the nation's 21,000,000 voters. The other 6,000,000, among whom anti-Laborite farming people are a majority, are concentrated in "urban districts," "rural districts," "parish councils," and "parish meetings," which do not vote at this time.

Prime Minister Attlee claimed "another great advance" for the Labor party after the last municipal elections a year ago before the economic crisis developed. The party scored a net gain of 159 new municipal seats. The conservatives registered a net gain of four.

The alignment after the 1946 elections was: Labor, 1,041 seats; Conservatives, 647; Liberals, 96; Communists, one; Independents, 534.

Many of those running as Independents were Conservative party members. A CCVL appealed to fellow members this year to run under a Conservative rather than an independent label.

BODIES

from an emergency landing field just after clearing a 200-feet deep canyon.

This small settlement in Southern Utah filled today with onlookers and scores of officials representing the CAB, Civil Aeronautics Authority, United Air Lines, Douglas Aircraft company, maker of the plane, and the National Park Service which has charge of the canyon park.

As teams of aircraft experts examined burned wreckage the bodies, most of them unrecognizable, were released to UAL offiicals. In a morgue at Richfield, 100 miles north of here, attempts at identification began.

There was no inquest. The Coroner, Hans P. Ipson, noted only that the crash caused the deaths and left the rest to federal and UAL officials.

Currency, papers and clothes were widely strewn with the shattered wreckage. Postal inspectors picked up scattered mail.

Largest piece of the plane still intact was a tail section eight by 15 feet.

Reporters who had covered major crashes in mountainous Utah said they never saw wreckage scattered so widely and so many bodies unidentifiable. Two of the victims were infants and a score or more were women, one an expectant mother.

Employes of the Civil Aeronautics Authority at the airport here and residents of Tropic, five miles away, rushed to the flaming scene yesterday, but their hand fire extinguishers had little effect on the flames.

been blocked for the present, but it remains a continual threat.

Continued importation of food—provided by the United States—on at least the present level is held by all quarters to be an absolute "must" for avoiding unrest and Communist influence.

Current talk of peace has not affected the mechanics of occupation.

Few officials in Tokyo expect any preliminary peace treaty activities before the first of the year, and nearly all of them estimate that even in the most united and cordial of atmospheres a conference might require a year or more to complete its work. Some express optimism that Russia may finally join a peace parley.

There are no plans for immediate withdrawal of military forces, predominantly American, which probably will remain for considerably longer than another year.

During recent weeks occupation officials have stiffened their attitude towards Japanese political squabbles threatening to delay economic recovery. They have pressed for important reforms which were implied in previous directives but which were ignored by the Japanese government.

Japanese politicians also have made this a period for illuminating tests of strength. To them this has become increasingly important, as they still hope for an early peace treaty and a consequent return of autonomy.

PLANE ATTACKED BY ANOTHER CUB

Pilot Sought After Forcing Small Craft To Crash Into Power Highline

SHREVEPORT, La., Oct. 25.—(AP)— A frightened young pilot crashed his light cub plane into an 11,000-volt highline two miles east of Forbing this morning during frantic maneuvers to evade diving "attacks" by the pilot of another of another cub.

The student, 24-year-old Sgt. Tom McMillin of Barksdale Field, escaped from his overturned plane with only a knot on his head.

The pilot of the "attacking" cub had not been identified today but was the object of a determined search. What caused him to make the "combat passes" at McMillin's plane was just as much a mystery.

McMillin was flying in the Forbing-Lucas road area today, practicing maneuvers. He had soloed only a few days before and has five solo hours of flying to his credit. He went into a turn at about 800 feet when he glanced back and saw another cub diving straight toward him.

He turned quickly and evaded the diving plane, but the latter pulled around and came back straight for him. McMillin said this maneuver was repeated three times and finally brought him down so low that he was barely skimming the ground.

Then the attacker dived on him again and there was no place for McMillin to turn, so he pulled up and into the electric wires. Both of the high voltage wires broke, but one of them wrapped around McMillin's propeller hub. The other end of this wire was still attached to a pole some distance away, so McMillin's cub buzzed around in a wide arc, like a gasoline model plane on a control line.

McMillin finally pulled the plane down, dug his left wing into the ground and the plane flipped onto its back. After scrambling from the plane, McMillin found the impact had torn his shoes off, so he dived back into the plane, which was filled with leaking gasoline, and retrieved the shoes.

McMillin was flying out of Shirley Field, a new airport three miles south of Barksdale on Highway 71, and managed by A. C. Decker. Fliers there said that another plane from the field was "attacked" during the morning, apparently by the same pilot who went to war with McMillin.

In announcing his candidacy, Stinson said he had decided to enter the race at a late hour, having previously considered but rejected the idea.

Citing the need for direct representation from Jackson parish in the upper house of the legislature, Stinson said he would make a detailed platform available later.

"THESE DAYS"

by GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

THIS vigilant observer and brilliant analyst of public affairs will write his column "THESE DAYS" six times weekly for this newspaper.

With many years in Europe and the Far East, with personal knowledge of Communism, learned at its very cradle in Russia. Sokolsky will not only bring you timely comment but add greatly to your store of necessary information.

"THESE DAYS" will solve many puzzling problems for you and give you a clearer understanding of world developments.

STATE HOROLOGICAL PARLEY SET HERE

The State Horological Association will hold its 1948 State Convention in Monroe May 2, 3 and 4, according to reports from W. L. Huckabay, president of the organization who has just returned from a meeting of the state officers in New Orleans.

The program, which will include lectures of special interest to watchmakers on the various phases of watch-repairing, multiple uses of the Watch-Master Timing machine, and other timely angles of the trade, is now in the making, with special attention being given to the entertainment features as well as to the educational phases of the convention.

Horological Guilds composed of the progressive watchmakers in their particular areas are rapidly organizing themselves in the principal towns of Louisiana, where they are gaining much popularity due to the friendly relationships and the sharing of practical watch-repairing methods which are being established among the guild members. The fast-organizing guilds which compose the State Horological Association promise a large representation of watchmakers from all over Louisiana at the spring convention.

FIRES

destruction in York and Washington counties—at the opposite ends of the Maine seacoast—and state arson investigators probed firebug reports. One man was held for questioning at Biddeford.

Fires still burned on Mt. Desert Island, scene of the Dunkerque-like evacuation Thursday night of Bar Harbor by sea. Shifts in wind direction eased the threat to Northeast Harbor, but brought a new menace to Salisbury Cove, another island village. In the Biddeford area, a fire roared along the Biddeford pool road, destroying one house in its advance toward the latter community.

Massachusetts—Fires were reported out of control in Fitchburg, Falmouth and Gloucester. One man was jailed for setting a fire in leaves "on a dare." The fire for a time threatened a hospital, which had to be evacuated.

New Hampshire—a million dollar loss was reported in the city of Rochester. Two fresh fires sprang up there today and one is still spreading.

New York—Fire fighters, bringing under control seven major woods fires, were called to two new blazes spotted in southeastern New York state near the Kensico reservoir, north of White Plains.

New Jersey and Pennsylvania officials reported a number of woods fires, but the worst were under control.

The Maine situation was the most serious in the nation as freshening winds fanned into life fires which wiped out seven communities and part of the summer resort colony at Bar Harbor.

In all, Maine counted tonight a toll of 13 dead, 6,000 homeless or displaced and 100,000 acres—much of it valuable timber land—burned over.

The damage in Maine rose over the $25,000.000 mark, with 1,000 houses destroyed. Many of these were those of year around residents.

In the two serious fire fronts, further devastation in the York county manufacturing city of Biddeford was threatened by a fire that raged along the road to Biddeford pool, in the outskirts of the city proper. It consumed one house today.

Far to the northeast, 15 farms were overrun by a fire three miles from Machias.

Smoke weary fire fighters, including thousands of volunteers, national guards and army men, 200 of whom were flown in from Mitchel Field, New York, were disheartened by weather bureau predictions of rising winds, with no rain in sight.

A helpful development was the president's proclamation in Washington.

Mr. Truman acted on the recommendation of Major General Philip Fleming, federal works administrator, to whom Maine's Gov. Horace A. Hildreth and U. S. Senator Wallace H. White, Jr., had appealed.

Fleming announced that free shipments of blankets, clothing and medical supplies already were enroute to Maine from Boston WAA warehouses, and said the work agency could lend such heavy equipment as trucks and bulldozers needed for fighting the fire.

The army was flying 2,000 booster pumps here from Wisconsin, and other air forces brought 22 miles of fire hose to the Bangor Airport for distribution.

In all 2,700 soldiers, from Dow Field, Bangor, and from other army bases, were working side by side with firemen in the Washington county area.

Bar Harbor's relief workers felt a shortage of perishable foods, particularly meat, in the absence of electric power for refrigeration but supplies were being brought from Ellsworth on the mainland.

Work crews systematically patrolled the streets shutting off water escaping from broken house taps. The leakage had been reducing water pressure vitally needed for firefighting.

Town officials expressed concern about finding housing for the almost 300 homeless with winter's cold weather approaching.

Many persons lost their jobs with the destruction of estates for which they were caretakers. Some who looked beyond today's worries wondered about reestablishment of ruined recreational facilities which gave them employment.

But the general reaction was: "We are not licked."

Even 62-year-old John Parsons, a bricklayer, had this to say:

"I had nothing when I started. I have nothing now. So I will start up again."

HOLLYWOOD

send down some Broadway actors and producers.

Monday's witness list starts off with Eric Johnston, president of the Motion Picture association, and possibly Roy Brewer, Hollywood labor union leader.

Johnston got in an advance argument by distributing a statement saying that the investigation "serves to emphasize my thinking on the need for reform" in congressional investigative procedures. He said in a letter to Senate-House leaders:

"With no vested right to be heard and no vested right to challenge accusations against him, the innocent citizen is helpless. He can be indicted in the public mind on the unchallenged say-so of a witness."

Rep. Vail (R.-Ill.) of the committee, has complained that Johnston has improperly criticized the group as making an effort to establish that films are purposely colored.

After Johnston will come screen Writers John Howard Lawson, Dalton Trumbo, Alvah Bessie and Emmett Lavery. Numerous witnesses have said they believe, or think, or are sure, one or another of the quartet are Communists or act like it.

Nobody has proved anybody is a Red.

The first week of the hearing brought to the witness stand such movie stars as Robert Taylor, Gary Cooper, Robert Montgomery, Ronald Reagan and George Murphy. A number of writers and directors testified. So did Producers Louis B. Mayer, Jack L. Warner and Walt Disney.

Several points of agreement stood out in what they said. They agreed:

1. Communists definitely have established a beachhead in Hollywood.
2. The Reds are a small but dangerous minority.
3. The greatest Red element is among screen writers.
4. Communists have fallen far short of dominating the industry.
5. Counter attacks have met with considerable success.
6. Congress ought to outlaw the Communist party, not as a political party but as a subversive agency of a foreign government.

day that they were comfortable, well looked after, and lacked nothing. They include former Ambassador de Pimentel Brandao and his two sons; Embassy Counselor Cardos Buarque de Macedo, his wife and small son; Secretaries Manuel Pio Correa, Jr., and L. Soroa Garcia Goina and Mrs. Correa. The staff members said that while they could not leave their hotel, their Russian servants were doing their shopping.

The former Chilean ambassador, whose government also has broken relations with the Soviet Union, said he too was being treated well but that he did not know when he would leave. (Enrique Bernstein, Chilean undersecretary of foreign affairs, said at Santiago that the Chilean ambassador "apparently is having difficulty" in communicating with his government from Moscow.)

Meanwhile, Pravda, Communist party newspaper, declared Brazil and Chile were "slaves carrying out the orders of imperialistic bosses." The newsapper asserted the diplomatic and trade break would "inflict moral and material damage only on Brazil and Chile," and that the Soviet Union does not "need their aid nor trade relations with such governments."

Informed foreign observers said the appointment of Alexander S. Panyushkin as Soviet ambassador to Washington to succeed Nikolai Novikov should not be interpreted as meaning any significant change in Russia's policy toward the U. S. They said it would be hasty to advance a theory it meant "a softening" or "a hardening" policy on the part of the Russians. These sources said Novikov was probably headed for "another important post."

Frank Krogmire is happy these days because he is regaining the use of his right arm after six weeks' "vacation" taken by this part of his body when he made a too sudden exit from a softball game on Barkdull Faulk campus. He tripped on some obstruction and when he picked himself up he found his right arm was useless. A physician found that it was a clean break.

Two West Monroe clubs, the Lions and Kiwanis, are planning a big public frolic in Gentry arena Friday night when they are to stage a "donkey ball game.." and George Campbell, of the Kiwanis club, master of ceremonies for that club, assures there will be more fun than a box of monkeys.

In a "donkey game," players ride burros to field the ball and to run the bases. A bridle is used to steer the donkey, but he seldom responds to this gentle urging—unless it suits his momentary whim.

Of course there will be purveyors of all accessories as are necessary for a ball game or circus, such as pop, hot dogs, balloons, popcorn and peanuts.

The time of the game has been set for Halloween night and there will be big doings in which young and old will participate.

NEWS

ing to the white-collar people, the bigger ones to the unskilled workers.

Giornale Della Sera and other Rightist and Centrist newspapers reported that the fall of prices began in northern Italy's wholesale meat market early this week, spread slowly southward and reached Rome today.

Nobody in the Italian government was prepared to say with assurance that tumbling meat, butter, oil, lard, wheat and egg prices in Milan, Turin, Genoa, Bologna and other cities meant that inflation had been licked.

The best that Guiseppe Togni, minister of industry and commerce, would say was that his information indicated the deflation "is not transitory and will be accentuated over the next few months."

American financial experts said there were "technical and seasonal" reasons for the price declines, ranging from 70 per cent in commodities were:

1. The govenrment's tightening of federal and bank credit. This action squeezed some marginal speculators in food, forcing them either to dump their holdings or shell out hoarded foreign exchange.
2. August-October is Italy's peak production period, and consumer goods are more plentiful now, as a result.
3. The inflation reduced the public buying power.
4. The inflation also operated to make sales at home more profitable than sales abroad. Exports have been going down for six months.

But if the price swing-back was, technical and seasonal in origin, the government was doing what it could to make it permanent. Instructions were sent to all provincial prefects to see that retailers passed the wholesalers' cuts along to the consumer.

FIRE ALARMS

Firemen of company 3 extinguished a small gasoline blaze at 805 Arkansas avenue yesterday at 4:30 p. m.

Company 4 answered an alarm at 520 Wilson street, residence of V. B. Saragusa, at 7:21 p. m. yesterday. Firemen said the blaze was started by a short in wiring and that it was out on their arrival.

SOVIETS

Soviet proposal, repeating many of his old charges against "reactionary" circles in the United States, Greece and Turkey.

In the 57-nation social committee, meeting in a nearby chamber, Russia's V. A. Zorin said "the time has come for us to cease to believe in the myth of the freedom of the press in America." He ridiculed stories about "flying saucers" in the American press and said they were published by "American newspapers as a part of their propaganda for war."

Zorin declared that "the United States press is poisoning relations between the nations of the world." He spoke in support of Yugoslav resolution calling on U. N. members to take measures against those "who publish or spread false and tendentious reports calculated to aggravate relations between nations, provoke conflicts and incite to war."

With the general debate in its final stages, only White Russia, Poland, Yugoslavia, the Soviet Ukraine and Czechoslovakia had supported the Soviet demand. Russia wants the U. N. to condemn "criminal propaganda for a new war" and to call on member governments to prohibit "war propaganda."

Also under discussion were three counter proposals from Australia, France and Canada. Delegates indicated there was a possibility one of them would be adopted by the 57-nation political committee despite blanket U. S. opposition to any plan growing out of Russia's keystone proposal of the 1947 general assembly.

The Soviet bloc, headed by Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky, carried its fight to the very end of general debate.

Soviet Ukrainian Foreign Minister Dmitri Manuilsky warned the U. S. that if the U. S. persisted "in the role of a policeman" other countries might decide to interfere in American affairs.

Declaring that the U. S. was "preaching against the working people of the world," the fiery Ukrainian cried out:

"If the United States continues this role then other countries may decide to interfere in the affairs of the United States."

He said that although there are "powerful Communist parties in Europe" there is no powerful Communist party in the U. S. "It's a game today—a game similar to the old anti-Comintern campaign," he added.

The proposals briefly are these:

Russia—Asks the U. N. to "condemn the criminal propaganda for a new war," citing specifically the dissemination in the U. S., Greece and Turkey of "all types of fabricationist the press, radio, cinema and public speeches." Calls on all governments to "prohibit, on pain of criminal penalties, the carrying on of war propaganda in any form."

France—Condemns all manifestations and all propaganda in all countries and in any form likely to provoke or encourage a threat to peace. Further expresses hope that the world conference on freedom of information next spring will study the resolution and make recommendations.

Canada—Condemns all propaganda inciting to aggressive war or civil strife which might lead to war and urges U. N. members to promote by all means of publicity and propaganda friendly relations among nations.

Australia—Condemns all forms of propaganda designed to encourage any act of aggression and which falsely imputes to officials or other responsible persons of any nation the desire of encouraging aggression. Also requests all U. N. member governments to take appropriate steps to counter such propaganda—not by censorship—but by taking positive measures to encourage fair and accurate reporting of statements coming from any nation.

After the committee acts, the issue will go to the full assembly. There was speculation today that the assembly would hold its next sessions next Friday and Saturday.

South Africa's H. G. Lawrence said Vishinsky was making "a direct request for some limit on freedom of expression," whether it be the press, radio or films. He noted that South Africa had not been named in the "trinity of Bolshevik bogies" (U. S., Greece and Turkey) despite that the Moscow radio had been paying a lot of attention to South African affairs.

"Therefore, we have expected to be included in Mr. Vishinsky's international rogues gallery," Lawrence said. At this point, Vishinsky cut in to say: "You are not too late."

Foreign Minister Jan Masaryk, of Czechoslovakia, supported the Russian plan and said "explosive headlines" must be eliminated in the press. He complained that many articles about Czechoslovakia were "far-fetched."

Belgium, Brazil, Bolivia, Columbia and Cuba also announced their opposition to the Soviet proposal.

"If Russia really wishes to end this propaganda," Cuba's Guillermo Belt said, "it would suffice if it would order the Communist parties to cease their campaigns of propaganda."

prosperity unprecedented in its history."

The number of permanent industries has risen from 1861 in 1939 to 2,505 in 1947, Jones reported, with a concommitant increase of 70,000 new jobs.

Shipping, during that time, has jumped from 20 million tons to 36 millions tons; farmers' incomes have bounded from an average of $359 in 1939 to $1,329 in 1947, and teachers salaries have climbed from an average of $1,182 to $2,249 last year, Jones said.

Describing the paper industry as one of the mainstays of the state's economy, Jones said that its future depends upon protection of the state's forests.

"Louisiana has 16,000,000 acres of cutover lands," he continued. "In 1939 only two and a half million acres were being protected, while in 1947 that figure had increased to six and three quarter millions. In addition, he pointed out, 54 per cent of the land protected by the state is owned by farmers with less than 80 acres."

"Although we are still getting less than 47 per cent of potential production, it is possible to multiply that amount at least eight-fold," he declared.

Taking vigorous exception to critics of his gas and oil conservation policies, Jones charged that the policies inaugurated by his administration and that of Gov. Jimmie Davis have been responsible for production of 482 thousand barrels of oil a day in 1947 compared with half that amount, or 250 thousand barrels daily, in 1939.

"No longer are the gas and oil interests afraid to come into the state for fear of discriminatory competition and political shakedowns," he asserted.

Moreover, he reported, natural gas wasteage has been reduced from 510 million cubic feet in 1939 to 310 million cubic feet this year.

Nevertheless, Jones warned the audience of about a 100 persons, property owners "are still being victimized by unscrupulous profiteers who have fought to keep royalties to a shockingly low level."

The wellhead price for natural gas in Louisiana, he said, is only three cents per thousand cubic feet, but in West Virginia it is 12 cents.

"Our wellhead price amounts to robbery," he declared. "It would be more profitable to plant the oil fields with timber."

Reviewing "the scandalous abuses" of administrations of the last decade, Jones said with the advent of his party into power "the deducts, double-dipping and all the other rotten practices have been abolished."

"In 1939," he continued, "250 firms were getting all of the state's business. In 1947, 17,000 firms are getting a share of public projects.

"In 1939 when the political bigshots were obtaining leases on public lands for a pittance of four cents an acre, the state received only $1,600,517 from those leases. Today the taxpayers are receiving $11,439,483 in royalties from state lands."

Among the other accomplishments of the past eight years which Jones cited were an increase in public health units, welfare services, school lunches, reduction of automobile license fees from $15 to $3, and abolition of poll-tax requirements for voting.

Welfare payments, Jones said, have been doubled—from $11.90 in 1939 to an average of $23 in 1947. In Ouachita parish alone, he reported, the amount available for welfare benefits has increased from $322,535 in 1939 to $766,157 this year.

Educational funds, he related, have almost tribled—from $12,860,000 when he took office to $31,030,000 in 1947. Veterans appropriations, he continued, have been augmented from "practically nothing" to upwards of $36,000,000.

Jones assumed a major share of credit for the interstate commerce commission and supreme court decisions eliminating freight schedules "discriminatory to southern industry."

The previous rates, he said, "held the South in economic bondage since the Civil War and prohibited it from developing its resources and industries."

"Now," he predicted, "the South will emerge into an era of industrial development never envisioned in its history."

All but two of the 45 pledges he made when he first sought office have been fulfilled, Jones said. These he listed as the goal of raising old-age benefits to $30 monthly, and eliminating the sales tax.

The latter failure he attributed to "the supreme will of the people who defeated at the polls a substitute measure which would have made the sales tax unnecessary.

Now underway, he reported, are construction projects involving $60,000,000 in new roads, $25,000,000 in new drainage systems, $25,000,000 for expanded hospital facilities, and $15,000,000 for new colleges.

Outlining the program to be instituted if he is elected, Jones said it calls for drainage of 5,000,000 additional acres, reforestation of 10,000,000 more acres, a 3,000,000 increase in pastures, restoration of fish and wildlife reserves, development of natural resources and new industries, expansion of foreign trade, and "training of our people."

Jones and other candidates on his ticket spoke earlier at Farmerville, Gibsland and Ruston. Traveling with him were Lt. Gov. Emile Verrett, who is seeking reelection; Fred LeBlanc, attorney general also seeking reelection; Grady Durham, candidate for secretary of state, and Mrs. Ellen Bryan Moore, candidate for registrar of state lands.

Also in the Jones encampment yesterday was Hillyer S. Parker, formerly assistant district attorney for Ouachita and Morehouse parishes who resigned October 1 to become Jones' assistant state campaign manager.

ATTLEE

1945, when Labor won its big majority in the House of Commons, the Labor party has remained unshaken.

In the event of a full-scale Labor rout in the borough voting, which appeared unlikely, nothing in the British constitution would compel the national government to resign. A route followed by other evidence of important loss of support might do so, however, in the view of both sides.

Voters will ballot next Saturday in the 83 "count boroughs" and 309 "non-county boroughs" of England and Wales, and the following Tuesday in the 24 "large burghs" and 168 in "small burghs" of Scotland.

These units of Britain's complex system of local government embrace about 15,000,000 of the nation's 21,000,000 voters. The other 6,000,000, among whom anti-Laborite farming people are a majority, are concentrated in "urban districts," "rural districts," "parish councils," and "parish meetings," which do not vote at this time.

Prime Minister Attlee claimed "another great advance" for the Labor party after the last municipal elections a year ago before the economic crisis developed. The party scored a net gain of 159 new municipal seats. The conservatives registered a net gain of four.

The alignment after the 1946 elections was: Labor, 1,041 seats; Conservatives, 647; Liberals, 96; Communists, one; Independents, 534.

Many of those running as Independents were Conservative party members. A CCVL appealed to fellow members this year to run under a Conservative rather than an independent label.

BODIES

from an emergency landing field just after clearing a 200-feet deep canyon.

This small settlement in Southern Utah filled today with onlookers and scores of officials representing the CAB, Civil Aeronautics Authority, United Air Lines, Douglas Aircraft company, maker of the plane, and the National Park Service which has charge of the canyon park.

As teams of aircraft experts examined burned wreckage the bodies, most of them unrecognizable, were released to UAL offiicals. In a morgue at Richfield, 100 miles north of here, attempts at identification began.

There was no inquest. The Coroner, Hans P. Ipson, noted only that the crash caused the deaths and left the rest to federal and UAL officials.

Currency, papers and clothes were widely strewn with the shattered wreckage. Postal inspectors picked up scattered mail.

Largest piece of the plane still intact was a tail section eight by 15 feet.

Reporters who had covered major crashes in mountainous Utah said they never saw wreckage scattered so widely and so many bodies unidentifiable. Two of the victims were infants and a score or more were women, one an expectant mother.

Employes of the Civil Aeronautics Authority at the airport here and residents of Tropic, five miles away, rushed to the flaming scene yesterday, but their hand fire extinguishers had little effect on the flames.

been blocked for the present, but it remains a continual threat.

Continued importation of food—provided by the United States—on at least the present level is held by all quarters to be an absolute "must" for avoiding unrest and Communist influence.

Current talk of peace has not affected the mechanics of occupation.

Few officials in Tokyo expect any preliminary peace treaty activities before the first of the year, and nearly all of them estimate that even in the most united and cordial of atmospheres a conference might require a year or more to complete its work. Some express optimism that Russia may finally join a peace parley.

There are no plans for immediate withdrawal of military forces, predominantly American, which probably will remain for considerably longer than another year.

During recent weeks occupation officials have stiffened their attitude towards Japanese political squabbles threatening to delay economic recovery. They have pressed for important reforms which were implied in previous directives but which were ignored by the Japanese government.

Japanese politicians also have made this a period for illuminating tests of strength. To them this has become increasingly important, as they still hope for an early peace treaty and a consequent return of autonomy.

PLANE ATTACKED BY ANOTHER CUB

Pilot Sought After Forcing Small Craft To Crash Into Power Highline

SHREVEPORT, La., Oct. 25.—(AP)—A frightened young pilot crashed his light cub plane into an 11,000-volt highline two miles east of Forbing this morning during frantic maneuvers to evade diving "attacks" by the pilot of another of another cub.

The student, 24-year-old Sgt. Tom McMillin of Barksdale Field, escaped from his overturned plane with only a knot on his head.

The pilot of the "attacking" cub had not been identified today but was the object of a determined search. What caused him to make the "combat passes" at McMillin's plane was just as much a mystery.

McMillin was flying in the Forbing-Lucas road area today, practicing maneuvers. He had soloed only a few days before and has five solo hours of flying to his credit. He went into a turn at about 800 feet when he glanced back and saw another cub diving straight toward him.

He turned quickly and evaded the diving plane, but the latter pulled around and came back straight for him. McMillin said this maneuver was repeated three times and finally brought him down so low that he was barely skimming the ground.

Then the attacker dived on him again and there was no place for McMillin to turn, so he pulled up and into the electric wires. Both of the high voltage wires broke, but one of them wrapped around McMillin's propeller hub. The other end of this wire was still attached to a pole some distance away, so McMillin's cub buzzed around in a wide arc, like a gasoline model plane on a control line.

McMillin finally pulled the plane down, dug his left wing into the ground and the plane flipped onto its back. After scrambling from the plane, McMillin found the impact had torn his shoes off, so he dived back into the plane, which was filled with leaking gasoline, and retrieved the shoes.

McMillin was flying out of Shirley Field, a new airport three miles south of Barksdale on Highway 71, and managed by A. C. Decker. Fliers there said that another plane from the field was "attacked" during the morning, apparently by the same pilot who went to war with McMillin.

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Stocks nibbled selectively at recovery today although many market leaders remained notably indifferent.

Professionals covered short commitments here and there in the wake of Friday's sharp drop. Numerous customers inclined to stand aside or trim accounts pending more light on what Congress will do with the president's plea for inflation weapons and quick European relief.

Grain futures rallied at the start but soon reacted to further liquidation. Bonds were narrow.

Transfers for the two hours ran to around 500,000 shares.

New York

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Heavy trade and commission house replacement buying imparted a firm tone to cotton futures today.

Nearby deliveries led the advance while switching held rallying tendencies in deferred contracts to minimum.

Some of the buying was based on the belief that the sharp setback on Friday was overdone in view of the tightening statistical supply position in cotton.

Futures closed 55 cents to $1.60 a bale higher than the previous close.

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Stocks nibbled selectively at recovery today although many market leaders remained notably indifferent.

Professionals covered short commitments here and there in the wake of Friday's sharp drop. Numerous customers inclined to stand aside or trim accounts pending more light on what Congress will do with the president's plea for inflation weapons and quick European relief.

Grain futures rallied at the start but soon reacted to further liquidation. Bonds were narrow.

Transfers for the two hours ran to around 500,000 shares.

AVERAGE COTTON PRICE

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 25.—(AP)—The average price of middling 15/16 inch cotton at ten southern spot markets today was $1 a bale higher at 32.54 cents a pound; average for the past thirty market days 31.55. Middling 7/8 inch average 30.74 cents a pound.

New York

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Heavy trade and commission house replacement buying imparted a firm tone to cotton futures today.

Nearby deliveries led the advance while switching held rallying tendencies in deferred contracts to minimum.

Some of the buying was based on the belief that the sharp setback on Friday was overdone in view of the tightening statistical supply position in cotton.

Futures closed 55 cents to $1.60 a bale higher than the previous close.

2—Cards of Thanks

CARD OF THANKS

WE WISH to thank our many friends and relatives for the acts of kindness, messages of sympathy, and beautiful floral offerings received during our recent bereavement in the loss of our beloved wife and mother, Mrs. J. F. Dumas, of Cheniere. These many helpful gestures shall forever be remembered. Especially do we want to thank Dr. E. A. Autrey, pastor of the First Baptist Church of West Monroe, of which she was a member, and Rev. Filer J. Seals of Trinity Baptist Church for their kind words and deeds; also Kilpatrick Funeral Home for their services.

Breard-Milner Wedding At St. Matthew's Claims Society Almost En Masse

Miss Breard Weds Louis Milner, Jr.

Reception On Terrace Of Frances Hotel Is A Brilliant Social Event

Sentiment, dignity and deep religious fervor characterized the wedding of Miss Cecile Pauline Breard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Breard and Mrs. Louis Pyron Milner, Jr., son of Mrs. L. P. Milner and the late Mr. Milner, Wednesday afternoon, October 22, at four-thirty o'clock at St. Matthew's Catholic Church with Monsignor John Marsh, wearing the ecclesiastical robes of his high office, performing the ceremony in the presence of relatives and friends who filled the church to capacity. Sentiment prompted the bride to marry on her parent's twenty-third wedding anniversary. Sentiment also prompted her to carry the heirloom rose-point lace handkerchief belonging to her grandfather and carried by generations of brides in the Breard family.

Myriads of cathedral tapers pricked the dimness of the altar and gleamed in the background in seven-branched candelabra. The entrance to the nave was flanked with classic-shaped urns filled with white chrysanthemums. The communion rail was studded with white chrysanthemums and at either end were artistic arrangements of white chrysanthemums.

The lighting of the candles by the two acolytes, Armand E. Breard, brother of the bride and Bill Shipp, Jr., was a distinct part of the impressive ceremony.

While the guests were being seated the organist, Mr. J. F. Monroe, rendered a brilliant concert featuring "Ave Maria" by Gounod-Bach, "Melodie" by Jules Massenet, "Serenade" by Franz Schubert and "Du List die Ruh," op. 59, No. 3 by Schubert-Koch. The processional was the wedding march from Lohengrin and the recessional from "A Midsummer Night's Dream" by Mendelssohn was featured.

Mr. Monroe accompanied the soloist, Mrs. Thomas Bryon Pugh III, in black velvet model, who sang in beautiful voice, "Panis Angelicus" by Franck and "Ave Maria" by Schubert.

Miss Cornelia McHenry, maid of honor and the bridesmaids, Mrs. Malcolm Duncan of Atlanta, Ga., Miss Rosalie Riley, Miss Catherine Winter and Miss Sue Dickard, all wore portrait gowns of turquoise blue velvet. The long, tight fitting, basques were fashioned with deep pointed yokes of blue mousseline outlined with a fold of velvet. The skirts long and with short trains were bustle effect. They all wore above the elbow gloves of blue velvet and wore headdresses of braided blue velvet and carried Colonial bouquets of bronze colored chrysanthemums tied with long lengths of bronze satin ribbon.

Mr. Milner's best man was Mr. Joseph Fuller and his groomsmen were Captain A. G. McHenry, Jr., Dr. Frederick Millsaps, Jr., David Garrett, Jr., Herbert Land, Jr., and Thomas Hamilton, Jr., of Marion, S. C.

The bride's gleaming satin wedding gown swept into a magnificent Cathedral train as she walked down the white carpeted aisle to the altar with her father who gave her in marriage. It was a gown of elegant simplicity. The tight fitting basque with deep yoke of net was outlined with a fold of the heavy ivory satin. The long sleeves were pointed over the hands.

FINGERTIP VEIL

The bride's veil of illusion was caught to the hair with a braided satin coronet with a frill of net next to the face. She wore a string of oriental pearls for something old and observed all the old time superstitions by wearing something old and something new. She carried a white ivory prayer book marked with a spray of gardenias and valley lilies tied with long lengths of narrow satin ribbons.

The reception on the terrace of the Frances Hotel, following the ceremony, was a brilliant one with a long line of friends and relatives waiting to press forward to congratulate the groom and extend their best wishes to the bride.

The terrace, resembling a garden, was banked in palms, ferns and southern smilax. The wedding party and the parents of the bride and groom stood at the far end of the terrace. Mrs. Breard wore a cinnamon brown crepe dinner model with long gloves and slippers of the same lovely shade. Her small hat was fashioned of brown tulle and satin. She wore a corsage of green orchids.

Mrs. Milner wore a ballerina length model of gold colored satin fashioned with a long basque hand embroidered in small black beads on black net. The skirt was quite full. She wore a corsage of valley lilies, and a headdress of tulle and feathers.

White coated attendants stood at the end of the receiving line with trays of sauterne punch and individual wedding cakes. Mrs. Thomas Hamilton of Marion, S. C., the bridegroom's aunt, also in the receiving line, wore a beautiful ankle length gown of figured crepe and net with elbow length gloves and a small headdress of black.

Guests were extended courtesies by Mrs. Carl McHenry, Mrs. W. J. Riley, Mrs. Joseph Fuller, Mrs. Floyd Taylor, Mrs. D. A. Breard, Mrs. Herbert Dickard, Mrs. Frank Thompson and Miss Mary Edith Breard.

The bride's table in a palm banked alcove, was developed in white and silver. The cake, an unusally luscious confection, was of three tiers, beautifully embossed and surmounted with a wedding bouquet of crystalized gardenias. It was placed on masive, oval reflector encircled with valley lilies and gardenias. The bride and groom cut their cake before departing on a honeymoon in the Smoky mountains via the automobile route.

BRIDE WEARS TAILLEUR

The bride traveled in a handsome tailleur of cinnamon brown. The coat was trimmed in rhinestone buttons. Her hat, shoes and purse were of cinnamon brown and her corsage was of green orchids.

When Mr. and Mrs. Milner return they will be at home to their friends in an apartment at 109 Hilton street.

The bride is a graduate of the Ouachita Parish High School and Randolph Macon Woman's college, Virginia. She is a member of Delta Beta Sigma and Alpha Omicron Pi.

Mr. Milner is a graduate of Neville High School, the New Mexico Military academy and the University of Arizona. He is a member of Delta Sigma fraternity.

Mr. Milner, a prominent young businessman of this city is identified with Milner-Fuller Incorporated.

Among the out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Tabb of Lake Charles; Mr. and Mrs. Aubin Bennett of Alexandria; Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Duncan of Atlanta, Ga.; Mrs. Thomas Hamilton and son, Mr. Thomas Hamilton, Jr., of Marion, S. C.; Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Enochs of Memphis, Tenn., and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Breard of Dallas, Texas.

HOME FROM CONFERENCE IN NEW ORLEANS

Mrs. Thelma Bond, left, and Miss Emma Lee Short attended the southern district meeting of Altrusa in New Orleans last week. Miss Short is the president of the local club and Mrs. Bond is vice-president.

Reader's Clique Observe Better Parenthood Week

Concern for keeping the world a bright, happy place for children, prompted members of the Reader's Clique to devote the entire month of October to observance of "Better Parenthood Week." The last meeting for the month was held in the home of Mrs. Joseph Bennett with Miss Marjorie Oliver speaking on the subject of "Parenthood and Child Behavior." Club members felt they had been presented with a cross section of psychologist's views after hearing Miss Oliver speak on this subject for three successive meetings. The contacts which these parents have made with modern theories bring them up-to-date on their responsibilities.

Most parents are interested in how the world treats his child. So we find many a mother and father pondering over this question: How can I best prepare my child to fit into society?" Miss Oliver gives the answer in one word "Education." She pointed out that education is a process of development rather than a process of instruction. In part she said: "Creative activity must be the main factor in a youth's education. He learns by doing and the parents must not make the way too smooth. Let the children try things for themselves. It is important to inspire a childs' independent nature when they are young. If self-direction is not taught, as they get older they become used to having everything done for themselves."

As a summary of her subject, the speaker presented a page from her scrapbook as follows:

Keep the sparkle in the children's eyes; don't forget a real boy is an intensely active animal; do more than your duty; keep up your enthusiasm; don't forget that everything is fresh and new to children, even though it may be stale to you; help the child to self-mastery even though it takes more time; a bit of tact is worth a ton of nagging; variety is the spice of life—try it today.

Don't waste time scolding; a bright little story clears the atmosphere; find the squeak and grease it today; distinguish between the essentials and non-essentials; don't wear the children out demanding a thousand fussy little things; don't try to cut the children all out with the same cookie cutter, it can't be done. They are sure to come out different sizes and shapes according to their varying mental capacities and natural trends. Don't worry if you can't show uniform results.

Life is not enriched by selfishness but by joyful service. Make a child happy now—make him happy twenty years hence by the memory of it.

'House Divided' Is Reviewed By Mrs. Murphy

The regular meeting of Miro Book Club was held in the home of Mrs. H. V. Collins last week. The topic, "Louisiana Colleges" was given by Mrs. Leila Guyton. Beginning with the College of Orleans, its origin, its method of financing and its struggle for existence, together with the histories of our present day colleges, such as: Tulane, Newcomb, Loyola, Louisiana State University, Centenary and others, the courses for which they are noted and the advancement they are achieving, was related. Mrs. W. G. Murphy reviewed the book, "House Divided", by Ben Ame. Williams.

This book is a story of the Civil War and of the Currain family. Mr. Williams was born in Mississippi. He understood the people, the issues involved and the attitude of the different groups of the population toward the war. He shows the weakness of the South which contributed to its defeat.

The leading characters are Anthony Currain and Lucy Hanks. Anthony had a love affair with Lucy which resulted in the birth of an illegitimate daughter named, Nancy Hanks, who married Tom Lincoln and became the mother of Abe Lincoln.

Anthony Currain married Sally Williber who died a few years later. He then married Lucy Coyboy. They had five children and the story concerns them. The affect on them of the discovery that Nancy Hanks was their father's child was interestingly told. Delicious refreshments were served to the following members: Mrs. S. M. Collins, Mrs. H. V. Collins, Mrs. W. M. Greenwell, Mrs. Leila Guyton, Mrs. W. C. Holstein, Mrs. H. M. James, Mrs. J. W. Murphy, Mrs. W. G Murphy, Mrs. A. L. Peters, Mrs. John Pracher, Mrs. A. S. Tidwell and Mrs. C. R. Tidwell.

BUSTER BROWN SHOES at the YORK SHOP for the perpetually motion crowd. . . . For school. . . . For play and for parties. Someone told the gang about them and now the YORK SHOP is having difficulty in filling orders. Little girls are simply wild over those cherry red party slippers. BUSTER BROWN SHOES, found at the YORK SHOP, never scuff up. . . . They are water-proof and are made of soft, pliable, leather. All mothers should outfit their children with BUSTER BROWN shoes. . . . They are priced very low.

MODERN GIRLS are reviving the old-time custom of starting a "hope chest" and with the aid of the R & A JEWELRY SHOP are starting their Sterling silver. Some are buying it, piece by piece, on the R & A credit plan. You'll be amazed how quickly a service grows with friends and relatives adding pieces on birthdays and Christmas. R & A patrons are already laying away Christmas gifts. The finest collection of diamond rings, watches and antique jewelry in the south is here in Monroe at the R & A.

NOTHING LIKE a suit in your favorite color, made to your measurements by FINK, to build up your morale. Your extra pounds never show when FINK tailors your suit. So skilfully is your suit tailored it does just the opposite—streamlines your figure. Every distinctive detail completes the slender look. I doubt if a single bride this season started off on a honeymoon without a suit tailored by FINK. It's the essence of smartness, the best materials money can buy and in colors never found in ready-to-wear shops.

YOU'LL FEEL like a Cinderella after a few slenderizing and beauty treatments at MARIE WAMSLEY'S BEAUTY SALON. It's almost like having a fairy godmother wave a magic wand, so completely are you transformed after a course of NORMATONE FIGURE NORMALIZING treatments. If only your stomach is flattened after a course of treatments, it would be worth the price and time, but that's not all, your waist will be smaller, bulges have vanished, and best of all, you will feel like a million dollars. Don't wait another day. . . . Get started on the path to new beauty and better health tomorrow at MARIE WAMSLEY'S.

I ALWAYS GO ON a shopping binge when I visit STERN'S A & A PACKAGE STORE, behind the Palace. I can't resist those crunchy bread sticks, those little stuffed onions, cheese crackers, artichoke hearts, cocktail cherries with stems, pineapple and cherry conserve, imported sardines, chocolate-filled sticks. I stocked up on those miniature cocktail frankfurters (there's 70 in a bottle). I sampled the imported benedictine. . . . It's made by the Monks in France and is simply grand. Bourbon comes in cut glass decanters for Christmas gifts at STERN'S. . . . There's also bottles of sparkling burgandy, and famous wines, liqueurs and cordials.

THE VIGILANT EYE of BOBBY PAPPAS, proprietor of the RENDEZVOUS, keeps watch over every detail when a party is in progress in the beautiful new Fireside Room. Cafe society now turns to the RENDEZVOUS where a gay interlude is enjoyed in the patio and cocktail terrace before luncheon, dinner or supper is served in the Fireside Room. There's always something tempting on the menu. Just walk into the RENDEZVOUS any time and enjoy the gracious hospitality extended by your genial host . . . BOBBY PAPPAS.

HOW SWEETLY feminine is a corsage, fashioned especially for you at WEST SIDE FLOWER AND GIFT SHOP. THE WEST SIDE FLOWER SHOP now has equipment to make your wedding more beautiful. . . . Trellises, unique baskets and urns, candelabra and high arches. . . . They transform drab surroundings into a place of enchantment. THE WEST SIDE FLOWER AND GIFT SHOP is prepared to erect an altar in your own home. . . . Just leave the details to them and everything will be perfect.

WHAT MAKES A PARTY tick? You know and I know that hospitality is the sum total of amenities. . . . The perfect hostess always serves delicious sandwiches, made from the famous MEL-O-TOAST BREAD from the CITY BAKERY. She also always has on hand a jar of macaroons, sand tarts and chocolate squares from the CITY BAKERY. They keep for weeks in a covered tin box. By the way, now's the time to order your Thanksgiving fruitcake from the CITY BAKERY. . . . They are packed with fruit and nuts.

I SUDDENLY REALIZED that Christmas is just around the corner when I walked down the aisles at FERD LEVI'S and watched the throng of Christmas shoppers. The toys, and especially those big, flaxen-haired dolls were the favorites with shoppers. The children's books at FERD LEVI'S are more attractive than ever this year. . . . They make grand gifts. Never have Christmas cards been so alluring. Don't await until they are all picked over. Also select your wrapping paper at FERD LEVI'S.

HERE'S SIX REASONS why I heartily endorse BROGAN'S SUREBEST BREAD. . . . It's fresher, has a better flavor, a better texture, makes better toast, better sandwiches and is enriched. No other bread on the market today has that fine, close texture. . . . That's why it makes such even, golden brown toast. SUREBEST BREAD is gently kneaded and is enriched with important B vitamins and food iron for better nutrition. I had the pleasure of watching this kneading process and I know whereof I speak.

THE CHARM OF eating away from home is enhanced when you dine at the LA CASA, where the food has that rich, home-cooked flavor. Special wines and sauces are used in the cooking. The pastries taste like those mother used to make. You don't pay for frills and folderols at the LA CASA. . . . You get good, wholesome food, expertly cooked. Men are patronizing the LA CASA in ever-increasing numbers because they like the home-like atmosphere and the substantial appetizing food.

SIMPLY WONDERFUL. . . . That's the way you'll look and feel when you wear a CHARMODE GIRDLE from SEARS, ROEBUCK AND CO. It's especially designed for women with figure problems. . . . Bulging hip line, protruding stomach, thick waist. Most women think a girdle that makes the waist smaller, flattens the stomach and conceals every bulge, must of necessity feel like cast-iron. A CHARMODE is comfortable whether you are sitting or walking. It never pushes the flesh up.

Breard-Milner Wedding At St. Matthew's Claims Society Almost En Masse

Miss Breard Weds Louis Milner, Jr.

Reception On Terrace Of Frances Hotel Is A Brilliant Social Event

Sentiment, dignity and deep religious fervor characterized the wedding of Miss Cecile Pauline Breard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Breard and Mrs. Louis Pyron Milner, Jr., son of Mrs. L. P. Milner and the late Mr. Milner, Wednesday afternoon, October 22, at four-thirty o'clock at St. Matthew's Catholic Church with Monsignor John Marsh, wearing the ecclesiastical robes of his high office, performing the ceremony in the presence of relatives and friends who filled the church to capacity. Sentiment prompted the bride to marry on her parent's twenty-third wedding anniversary. Sentiment also prompted her to carry the heirloom rose-point lace handkerchief belonging to her grandfather and carried by generations of brides in the Breard family.

Myriads of cathedral tapers pricked the dimness of the altar and gleamed in the background in seven-branched candelabra. The entrance to the nave was flanked with classic-shaped urns filled with white chrysanthemums. The communion rail was studded with white chrysanthemums and at either end were artistic arrangements of white chrysanthemums.

The lighting of the candles by the two acolytes, Armand E. Breard, brother of the bride and Bill Shipp, Jr., was a distinct part of the impressive ceremony.

While the guests were being seated the organist, Mr. J. F. Monroe, rendered a brilliant concert featuring "Ave Maria" by Gounod-Bach, "Melodie" by Jules Massenet, "Serenade" by Franz Schubert and "Du List die Ruh," op. 59, No. 3 by Schubert-Koch. The processional was the wedding march from Lohengrin and the recessional from "A Midsummer Night's Dream" by Mendelssohn was featured.

Mr. Monroe accompanied the soloist, Mrs. Thomas Bryon Pugh III, in black velvet model, who sang in beautiful voice, "Panis Angelicus" by Franck and "Ave Maria" by Schubert.

Miss Cornelia McHenry, maid of honor and the bridesmaids, Mrs. Malcolm Duncan of Atlanta, Ga., Miss Rosalie Riley, Miss Catherine Winter and Miss Sue Dickard, all wore portrait gowns of turquoise blue velvet. The long, tight fitting, basques were fashioned with deep pointed yokes of blue mousseline outlined with a fold of velvet. The skirts long and with short trains were bustle effect. They all wore above the elbow gloves of blue velvet and wore headdresses of braided blue velvet and carried Colonial bouquets of bronze colored chrysanthemums tied with long lengths of bronze satin ribbon.

Mr. Milner's best man was Mr. Joseph Fuller and his groomsmen were Captain A. G. McHenry, Jr., Dr. Frederick Millsaps, Jr., David Garrett, Jr., Herbert Land, Jr., and Thomas Hamilton, Jr., of Marion, S. C.

The bride's gleaming satin wedding gown swept into a magnificent Cathedral train as she walked down the white carpeted aisle to the altar with her father who gave her in marriage. It was a gown of elegant simplicity. The tight fitting basque with deep yoke of net was outlined with a fold of the heavy ivory satin. The long sleeves were pointed over the hands.

FINGERTIP VEIL

The bride's veil of illusion was caught to the hair with a braided satin coronet with a frill of net next to the face. She wore a string of oriental pearls for something old and observed all the old time superstitions by wearing something old and something new. She carried a white ivory prayer book marked with a spray of gardenias and valley lilies tied with long lengths of narrow satin ribbons.

The reception on the terrace of the Frances Hotel, following the ceremony, was a brilliant one with a long line of friends and relatives waiting to press forward to congratulate the groom and extend their best wishes to the bride.

The terrace, resembling a garden, was banked in palms, ferns and southern smilax. The wedding party and the parents of the bride and groom stood at the far end of the terrace. Mrs. Breard wore a cinnamon brown crepe dinner model with long gloves and slippers of the same lovely shade. Her small hat was fashioned of brown tulle and satin. She wore a corsage of green orchids.

Mrs. Milner wore a ballerina length model of gold colored satin fashioned with a long basque hand embroidered in small black beads on black net. The skirt was quite full. She wore a corsage of valley lilies, and a headdress of tulle and feathers.

White coated attendants stood at the end of the receiving line with trays of sauterne punch and individual wedding cakes. Mrs. Thomas Hamilton of Marion, S. C., the bridegroom's aunt, also in the receiving line, wore a beautiful ankle length gown of figured crepe and net with elbow length gloves and a small headdress of black.

Guests were extended courtesies by Mrs. Carl McHenry, Mrs. W. J. Riley, Mrs. Joseph Fuller, Mrs. Floyd Taylor, Mrs. D. A. Breard, Mrs. Herbert Dickard, Mrs. Frank Thompson and Miss Mary Edith Breard.

The bride's table in a palm banked alcove, was developed in white and silver. The cake, an unusally luscious confection, was of three tiers, beautifully embossed and surmounted with a wedding bouquet of crystalized gardenias. It was placed on masive, oval reflector encircled with valley lilies and gardenias. The bride and groom cut their cake before departing on a honeymoon in the Smoky mountains via the automobile route.

BRIDE WEARS TAILLEUR

The bride traveled in a handsome tailleur of cinnamon brown. The coat was trimmed in rhinestone buttons. Her hat, shoes and purse were of cinnamon brown and her corsage was of green orchids.

When Mr. and Mrs. Milner return they will be at home to their friends in an apartment at 109 Hilton street.

The bride is a graduate of the Ouachita Parish High School and Randolph Macon Woman's college, Virginia. She is a member of Delta Beta Sigma and Alpha Omicron Pi.

Mr. Milner is a graduate of Neville High School, the New Mexico Military academy and the University of Arizona. He is a member of Delta Sigma fraternity.

Mr. Milner, a prominent young businessman of this city is identified with Milner-Fuller Incorporated.

Among the out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Tabb of Lake Charles; Mr. and Mrs. Aubin Bennett of Alexandria; Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Duncan of Atlanta, Ga.; Mrs. Thomas Hamilton and son, Mr. Thomas Hamilton, Jr., of Marion, S. C.; Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Enochs of Memphis, Tenn., and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Breard of Dallas, Texas.

BUSTER BROWN SHOES at the YORK SHOP for the perpetually motion crowd. . . . For school. . . . For play and for parties. Someone told the gang about them and now the YORK SHOP is having difficulty in filling orders. Little girls are simply wild over those cherry red party slippers. BUSTER BROWN SHOES, found at the YORK SHOP, never scuff up. . . . They are water-proof and are made of soft, pliable, leather. All mothers should outfit their children with BUSTER BROWN shoes. . . . They are priced very low.

MODERN GIRLS are reviving the old-time custom of starting a "hope chest" and with the aid of the R & A JEWELRY SHOP are starting their Sterling silver. Some are buying it, piece by piece, on the R & A credit plan. You'll be amazed how quickly a service grows with friends and relatives adding pieces on birthdays and Christmas. R & A patrons are already laying away Christmas gifts. The finest collection of diamond rings, watches and antique jewelry in the south is here in Monroe at the R & A.

NOTHING LIKE a suit in your favorite color, made to your measurements by FINK, to build up your morale. Your extra pounds never show when FINK tailors your suit. So skilfully is your suit tailored it does just the opposite—streamlines your figure. Every distinctive detail completes the slender look. I doubt if a single bride this season started off on a honeymoon without a suit tailored by FINK. It's the essence of smartness, the best materials money can buy and in colors never found in ready-to-wear shops.

YOU'LL FEEL like a Cinderella after a few slenderizing and beauty treatments at MARIE WAMSLEY'S BEAUTY SALON. It's almost like having a fairy godmother wave a magic wand, so completely are you transformed after a course of NORMATONE FIGURE NORMALIZING treatments. If only your stomach is flattened after a course of treatments, it would be worth the price and time, but that's not all, your waist will be smaller, bulges have vanished, and best of all, you will feel like a million dollars. Don't wait another day. . . . Get started on the path to new beauty and better health tomorrow at MARIE WAMSLEY'S.

I ALWAYS GO ON a shopping binge when I visit STERN'S A & A PACKAGE STORE, behind the Palace. I can't resist those crunchy bread sticks, those little stuffed onions, cheese crackers, artichoke hearts, cocktail cherries with stems, pineapple and cherry conserve, imported sardines, chocolate-filled sticks. I stocked up on those miniature cocktail frankfurters (there's 70 in a bottle). I sampled the imported benedictine. . . . It's made by the Monks in France and is simply grand. Bourbon comes in cut glass decanters for Christmas gifts at STERN'S. . . . There's also bottles of sparkling burgandy, and famous wines, liqueurs and cordials.

THE VIGILANT EYE of BOBBY PAPPAS, proprietor of the RENDEZVOUS, keeps watch over every detail when a party is in progress in the beautiful new Fireside Room. Cafe society now turns to the RENDEZVOUS where a gay interlude is enjoyed in the patio and cocktail terrace before luncheon, dinner or supper is served in the Fireside Room. There's always something tempting on the menu. Just walk into the RENDEZVOUS any time and enjoy the gracious hospitality extended by your genial host . . . BOBBY PAPPAS.

HOW SWEETLY feminine is a corsage, fashioned especially for you at WEST SIDE FLOWER AND GIFT SHOP. THE WEST SIDE FLOWER SHOP now has equipment to make your wedding more beautiful. . . . Trellises, unique baskets and urns, candelabra and high arches. . . . They transform drab surroundings into a place of enchantment. THE WEST SIDE FLOWER AND GIFT SHOP is prepared to erect an altar in your own home. . . . Just leave the details to them and everything will be perfect.

WHAT MAKES A PARTY tick? You know and I know that hospitality is the sum total of amenities. . . . The perfect hostess always serves delicious sandwiches, made from the famous MEL-O-TOAST BREAD from the CITY BAKERY. She also always has on hand a jar of macaroons, sand tarts and chocolate squares from the CITY BAKERY. They keep for weeks in a covered tin box. By the way, now's the time to order your Thanksgiving fruitcake from the CITY BAKERY. . . . They are packed with fruit and nuts.

I SUDDENLY REALIZED that Christmas is just around the corner when I walked down the aisles at FERD LEVI'S and watched the throng of Christmas shoppers. The toys, and especially those big, flaxen-haired dolls were the favorites with shoppers. The children's books at FERD LEVI'S are more attractive than ever this year. . . . They make grand gifts. Never have Christmas cards been so alluring. Don't await until they are all picked over. Also select your wrapping paper at FERD LEVI'S.

HERE'S SIX REASONS why I heartily endorse BROGAN'S SUREBEST BREAD. . . . It's fresher, has a better flavor, a better texture, makes better toast, better sandwiches and is enriched. No other bread on the market today has that fine, close texture. . . . That's why it makes such even, golden brown toast. SUREBEST BREAD is gently kneaded and is enriched with important B vitamins and food iron for better nutrition. I had the pleasure of watching this kneading process and I know whereof I speak.

THE CHARM OF eating away from home is enhanced when you dine at the LA CASA, where the food has that rich, home-cooked flavor. Special wines and sauces are used in the cooking. The pastries taste like those mother used to make. You don't pay for frills and folderols at the LA CASA. . . . You get good, wholesome food, expertly cooked. Men are patronizing the LA CASA in ever-increasing numbers because they like the home-like atmosphere and the substantial appetizing food.

SIMPLY WONDERFUL. . . . That's the way you'll look and feel when you wear a CHARMODE GIRDLE from SEARS, ROEBUCK AND CO. It's especially designed for women with figure problems. . . . Bulging hip line, protruding stomach, thick waist. Most women think a girdle that makes the waist smaller, flattens the stomach and conceals every bulge, must of necessity feel like cast-iron. A CHARMODE is comfortable whether you are sitting or walking. It never pushes the flesh up.

LET'S HAVE FUN. . . . Instantly you think of Monroe's most beautiful night club, the RAINBOW INN. There's fun aplenty at the RAINBOW INN, where an orchestra plays nightly. There's always a party going on in the Empire Room and there's always couples dining tete-a-tete in the booths in the lounge. I give you my word, you'll never find better steaks if you search the world over than those served at the RAINBOW INN. . . . That's just one of the reasons why men like to eat at the RAINBOW INN.

Reader's Clique Observe Better Parenthood Week

Concern for keeping the world a bright, happy place for children, prompted members of the Reader's Clique to devote the entire month of October to observance of "Better Parenthood Week." The last meeting for the month was held in the home of Mrs. Joseph Bennett with Miss Marjorie Oliver speaking on the subject of "Parenthood and Child Behavior." Club members felt they had been presented with a cross section of psychologist's views after hearing Miss Oliver speak on this subject for three successive meetings. The contacts which these parents have made with modern theories bring them up-to-date on their responsibilities.

Most parents are interested in how the world treats his child. So we find many a mother and father pondering over this question: How can I best prepare my child to fit into society?" Miss Oliver gives the answer in one word "Education." She pointed out that education is a process of development rather than a process of instruction. In part she said: "Creative activity must be the main factor in a youth's education. He learns by doing and the parents must not make the way too smooth. Let the children try things for themselves. It is important to inspire a childs' independent nature when they are young. If self-direction is not taught, as they get older they become used to having everything done for themselves."

As a summary of her subject, the speaker presented a page from her scrapbook as follows:

Keep the sparkle in the children's eyes; don't forget a real boy is an intensely active animal; do more than your duty; keep up your enthusiasm; don't forget that everything is fresh and new to children, even though it may be stale to you; help the child to self-mastery even though it takes more time; a bit of tact is worth a ton of nagging; variety is the spice of life—try it today.

Don't waste time scolding; a bright little story clears the atmosphere; find the squeak and grease it today; distinguish between the essentials and non-essentials; don't wear the children out demanding a thousand fussy little things; don't try to cut the children all out with the same cookie cutter, it can't be done. They are sure to come out different sizes and shapes according to their varying mental capacities and natural trends. Don't worry if you can't show uniform results.

Life is not enriched by selfishness but by joyful service. Make a child happy now—make him happy twenty years hence by the memory of it.

'House Divided' Is Reviewed By Mrs. Murphy

The regular meeting of Miro Book Club was held in the home of Mrs. H. V. Collins last week. The topic, "Louisiana Colleges" was given by Mrs. Leila Guyton. Beginning with the College of Orleans, its origin, its method of financing and its struggle for existence, together with the histories of our present day colleges, such as: Tulane, Newcomb, Loyola, Louisiana State University, Centenary and others, the courses for which they are noted and the advancement they are achieving, was related. Mrs. W. G. Murphy reviewed the book, "House Divided", by Ben Ames Williams.

This book is a story of the Civil War and of the Currain family. Mr. Williams was born in Mississippi. He understood the people, the issues involved and the attitude of the different groups of the population toward the war. He shows the weakness of the South which contributed to its defeat.

The leading characters are Anthony Currain and Lucy Hanks. Anthony had a love affair with Lucy which resulted in the birth of an illegitimate daughter named, Nancy Hanks, who married Tom Lincoln and became the mother of Abe Lincoln.

Anthony Currain married Sally Williber who died a few years later. He then married Lucy Coyboy. They had five children and the story concerns them. The affect on them of the discovery that Nancy Hanks was their father's child was interestingly told. Delicious refreshments were served to the following members: Mrs. S. M. Collins, Mrs. H. V. Collins, Mrs. W. M. Greenwell, Mrs. Leila Guyton, Mrs. W. C. Holstein, Mrs. H. M. James, Mrs. J. W. Murphy, Mrs. W. G Murphy, Mrs. A. L. Peters, Mrs. John Fracher, Mrs. A. S. Tidwell and Mrs. C. R. Tidwell.

INTEREST IS CENTERED IN APPEARANCE OF CELEBRATED MUSICIAN AND HIS ORCHESTRA

"American Serenade," with Morton Gould conducting, and starring soprano Mimi Benzell and Baritone Wilbur Evans, will be heard here at Neville Auditorium, Octover 30, under the auspices of the Junior Charity League.

The program offers a cross-section of what American music-makers have been up to since the turn of the century. There are nostalgic tunes from Victor Herbert's "Fortune Teller," and new arrangements fresh from Mr. Gould's ball-point pen. There are imperishable pop songs from Tin Pan Alley, like Hoagy Carmichael's "Stardust," and a ballet suite by Aaron Copland, a name to conjure with among the longhairs.

It's American music, made by our own composers and presented for home consumption by native talent.

Morton Gould, who will supply cues and downbeats, began life in Richmond Hill, Long Island. He has been composing since he was six. He has written music in virtually every known form—for orchestras large and small, instrumental combinations, voices with orchestra, voices without orchestra and solo numbers.

Morton Gould is one of the few composers who have won equal popularity with Philharmonic audiences and with the juke-box smart set. His pop tunes have been whistled from coast to coast. His large orchestral works have been played by Arturo Toscanini, Leopold Stokowski, Arthur Rodzinski, Dimitri Mitropoulos, Fritz Reiner and other celebrated conductors.

Mimi Benzell, who comes from Bridgeport, Connecticut, is a stunning youngster who is the delight of glamour photographers. And for good measure—that is, extra special good measure—she can sing, too.

Miss Benzell, who began life as a pianist, never studied singing until three years ago. Her doctor said she was killing herself with piano practice, and advised her to find a vocal teacher instead. She did so, with the result that she landed a part in the Broadway musical, "Rosalinda," which led her to opera in Mexico, under Sir Thomas Beechem. Upon Sir Thomas' warm recommendation she was engaged by the Metropolitan.

Last summer Miss Benzell was presented in London by Lee Ephriam in a musical, "The Nightingale." The result was an overwhelming personal triumph.

She will return to the Metropolitan this winter, in between appearances with "American Serenade."

Wilbur Evans, a Philadelphian, studied at the Curtis Institute of Music, winning the $5,000 Atwater Kent prize his second year there. His first goal was concert and oratorio. In his barnstorming days, Mr. Evans appeared in every state in the union except North Dakota.

But good-looking straight men who can also sing are hard to come by on Broadway. Soon Mr. Evans was singing in a revival of "The Merry Widow." Other roles in "The New Moon" and "La Vie Parisienne" followed. Producer Mike Todd spotted the baritone in "The Vagabond King," and signed him for long runs in two Todd productions, "Mexican Hayride" and "Up In Central Park."

In between, Mr. Evans has managed to make five record albums for Decca, star in his own radio show over ABC, and make guest appearances with the New York Philharmonic-Symphony, the Pittsburgh Symphony, the Chicago Symphony, the Philadelphia Orchestra and the Denver Symphony.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Smith

Mr. And Mrs. Smith Celebrate Fiftieth Wedding Anniversary

Celebration of an anniversary is always a wonderful occasion, but it is especially so when you celebrate fifty years of life together.

Sunday, October 12, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Eugene Smith of Choudrant, La., celebrated their Golden Anniversary and all their children, except one, was able to be with them to receive the many guests who called upon them during the day.

Yellow carnations were placed at every vantage point throughout the reception suite and dining room.

The table in the dining room was developed exclusively in gold. The central decor was a luclous wedding cake embossed in gold. Individual cakes were passed among the guests by Mrs. Gerturde Dumas and Mrs. L. J. Hulin while Mrs. Clifford Foster and Mrs. Malcolm Norris presided over the coffee urn.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith's children celebrating with them at this time were: Mrs. Malcolm Norris of Choudrant, La.; Mrs. Clifford Foster of Calhoun, La.; Mr. Carroll B. Smith of Choudrant, La.; Mr. Howard Jackson of Monroe, La.; Mr. Guy Smith of Monroe, La.; Mr. A. Hester Smith, of Houston, Tex., was unable to attend.

Monroe Man Weds California Girl

Point Loma church, Ocean Beach, Calif., was the scene of an interesting wedding when Marjorie Frances Hall, daughter of Captain and Mrs. C. B. McKinstry became the bride of Mr. Terry LaGrone, son of Mrs. Dolly LaGrone of this city, October 4 with Rev. Dean S. McBride, officiating.

Baskets of white gladioli were placed on the altar and in the background where candles gleamed in the midst of palms and ferns. White satin bows marked the pews reserved for the family and close friends.

The bride's maid of honor, her sorority sister, Miss Marie Quist, wore a lovely lavendar moire model with Juliet cap and carried a colorful nosegay. The bridesmaids, Miss Doris Jean Meserve of San Diego and Miss Betty Jean Peacock of Chula Vista, wore pale rose colored moire models and carried nosegays of mixed flowers.

The bridegroom was attended by Mr. Roger Le Lanne of San Francisco.

Messrs. Laird Swan and Hugh Marx served as ushers.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception for 200 guests was held at the Commissioned Officers' Mess at the Marine Corps base. At that time the couple received relatives and friends, including the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Morris E. Sweet of Haverill, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Brewer of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. Thaddeus Loud of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas LaMond of Arcadia, and Col. and Mrs. George Potter of Oceanside.

The young couple left on a month's visit in Mexico City. Mrs. LaGrone traveled in a wine colored tailleur with grey accessories.

The bride attended Kathryn Gibbs Business college in Boston, Mass., and graduated from San Diego college with the class of 1946. She is a member of Shen-Yo and Xolotle sororities and of the American Association of University Women. She was employed for some time as receptionist for Dr. S. Kuntz of Ocean Beach.

Mr. LaGrone was educated in schools of Monroe, La., and Louisiana Polytechnic Institute, from which he graduated in 1939. He is a member of Kappa Sigma fraternity. During the war he served with the United States army for five years and saw duty in the European Theatre of Operations. Upon retirement he held the rank of major.

P.-T. A. Observes Annual Back To School Night

"Back to School Night," planned by members of St. Matthew's P.-T. A. attracted a representative gathering of parents and teachers with the president, Mrs. Stanley Hodges, presiding. Monsignor John Marsh led the assemblage in prayer. The minutes of the previous meeting were read by Mrs. Charles Brogan and the treasurer's report given by Mrs. John Spatafora. The president's message was read by Mrs. Leo Ritter. She said in part "I, Mabel W. Hughes, president of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, do hereby designate the month beginning October 1 as membership enrollment month, and I call upon every parent-teacher unit and every member to proclaim the supreme value of the services that can be rendered through our organization. If we honestly believe that children can be educated to think freely and intelligently and that parents and teachers are their educators, then we shall work singly and as a group to bring all parents and teachers in the land into our membership."

The new P.-T. A. year books, unusually attractive, were presented to each member by Mrs. Will Hanrahan, chairman of the year book committee.

Mgr. Marsh talked on the "Objects of Parent Teacher Associations," namely:

To promote the welfare of children and youth in home, school, church and community; to raise the standards of home life; to secure adequate laws for the care and protection of children and youth; to bring into closer relations the home and the school, that parents and teachers may cooperate intelligently in the training of the child; to develop between educators and the general public such united efforts as will secure for every child the highest advantages in physical, mental, social and spiritual educations.

Report on membership was given by the membership chairman, Mrs. Tom Mulhearn.

Mrs. Hodges announced that the Twin City Council would present Miss Marjorie Oliver in a series of lectures on "Child Development" in the auditorium of the Central Grammar School, on November 5 and 19, at 10 a. m., and urged all members to attend.

Plans were completed for the annual Hallowe'en party to be held Wednesday, October 29 at the school and the following chairmen and their committees were named:

Hamburgers—Chairman; Mrs. E. L. Ritter, Mrs. R. H. Hoffler, Mrs. H. O. Hayes, Mrs. A. L. Embanato, Mrs. Nick Jungina, Mrs. E. P. Jeneveign, Mrs. J. P. Evans, Mrs. John Browne, Mrs. D. M. Obermeyer, Mrs. A. V. Saucier, Mrs. Fluitt, Mrs. Morris DeLarot, Mrs. Fred Hill.

INTEREST IS CENTERED IN APPEARANCE OF CELEBRATED MUSICIAN AND HIS ORCHESTRA

"American Serenade," with Morton Gould conducting, and starring soprano Mimi Benzell and Baritone Wilbur Evans, will be heard here at Neville Auditorium, Octover 30, under the auspices of the Junior Charity League.

The program offers a cross-section of what American music-makers have been up to since the turn of the century. There are nostalgic tunes from Victor Herbert's "Fortune Teller," and new arrangements fresh from Mr. Gould's ball-point pen. There are imperishable pop songs from Tin Pan Alley, like Hoagy Carmichael's "Stardust," and a ballet suite by Aaron Copland, a name to conjure with among the longhairs.

It's American music, made by our own composers and presented for home consumption by native talent.

Morton Gould, who will supply cues and downbeats, began life in Richmond Hill, Long Island. He has been composing since he was six. He has written music in virtually every known form—for orchestras large and small, instrumental combinations, voices with orchestra, voices without orchestra and solo numbers.

Morton Gould is one of the few composers who have won equal popularity with Philharmonic audiences and with the juke-box smart set. His pop tunes have been whistled from coast to coast. His large orchestral works have been played by Arturo Toscanini, Leopold Stokowski, Arthur Rodzinski, Dimitri Mitropoulos, Fritz Reiner and other celebrated conductors.

Mimi Benzell, who comes from Bridgeport, Connecticut, is a stunning youngster who is the delight of glamour photographers. And for good measure—that is, extra special good measure—she can sing, too.

Miss Benzell, who began life as a pianist, never studied singing until three years ago. Her doctor said she was killing herself with piano practice, and advised her to find a vocal teacher instead. She did so, with the result that she landed a part in the Broadway musical, "Rosalinda," which led her to opera in Mexico, under Sir Thomas Beechem. Upon Sir Thomas' warm recommendation she was engaged by the Metropolitan.

Last summer Miss Benzell was presented in London by Lee Ephriam in a musical, "The Nightingale." The result was an overwhelming personal triumph.

She will return to the Metropolitan this winter, in between appearances with "American Serenade."

Wilbur Evans, a Philadelphian, studied at the Curtis Institute of Music, winning the $5,000 Atwater Kent prize his second year there. His first goal was concert and oratorio. In his barnstorming days, Mr. Evans appeared in every state in the union except North Dakota.

But good-looking straight men who can also sing are hard to come by on Broadway. Soon Mr. Evans was singing in a revival of "The Merry Widow." Other roles in "The New Moon" and "La Vie Parisienne" followed. Producer Mike Todd spotted the baritone in "The Vagabond King," and signed him for long runs in two Todd productions, "Mexican Hayride" and "Up In Central Park."

In between, Mr. Evans has managed to make five record albums for Decca, star in his own radio show over ABC, and make guest appearances with the New York Philharmonic-Symphony, the Pittsburgh Symphony, the Chicago Symphony, the Philadelphia Orchestra and the Denver Symphony.

Mr. and Mrs. Donnan B. Lomax of Bernice, La., announce the arrival of their first child, a daughter, Donna Dianne at Ruston-Lincoln sanitarium, October 20. The maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Dollar of this city. Mrs. Lomax was formerly Miss Mildred Dollar.

OBSERVE 50TH ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Smith

Mr. And Mrs. Smith Celebrate Fiftieth Wedding Anniversary

Celebration of an anniversary is always a wonderful occasion, but it is especially so when you celebrate fifty years of life together.

Sunday, October 12, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Eugene Smith of Choudrant, La., celebrated their Golden Anniversary and all their children, except one, was able to be with them to receive the many guests who called upon them during the day.

Yellow carnations were placed at every vantage point throughout the reception suite and dining room.

The table in the dining room was developed exclusively in gold. The central decor was a lucious wedding cake embossed in gold. Individual cakes were passed among the guests by Mrs. Gerturde Dumas and Mrs. L. J. Hulin while Mrs. Clifford Foster and Mrs. Malcolm Norris presided over the coffee urn.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith's children celebrating with them at this time were: Mrs. Malcolm Norris of Choudrant, La.; Mrs. Clifford Foster of Calhoun, La.; Mr. Carroll B. Smith of Choudrant, La.; Mr. Howard Jackson of Monroe, La.; Mr. Guy Smith of Monroe, La.; Mr. A. Hester Smith, of Houston, Tex., was unable to attend.

Monroe Man Weds California Girl

Point Loma church, Ocean Beach, Calif., was the scene of an interesting wedding when Marjorie Frances Hall, daughter of Captain and Mrs. C. B. McKinstry became the bride of Mr. Terry LaGrone, son of Mrs. Dolly LaGrone of this city, October 4 with Rev. Dean S. McBride, officiating.

Baskets of white gladioli were placed on the altar and in the background where candles gleamed in the midst of palms and ferns. White satin bows marked the pews reserved for the family and close friends.

The bride's maid of honor, her sorority sister, Miss Marie Quist, wore a lovely lavendar moire model with Juliet cap and carried a colorful nosegay. The bridesmaids, Miss Doris Jean Meserve of San Diego and Miss Betty Jean Peacock of Chula Vista, wore pale rose colored moire models and carried nosegays of mixed flowers.

The bridegroom was attended by Mr. Roger Le Lanne of San Francisco.

Messrs. Laird Swan and Hugh Marx served as ushers.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a white satin wedding gown beautifully embroidered in seed pearls. Her veil of illusion was caught to the hat with a coronet of orange blossoms. She carried a white Bible surmounted with orchids.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception for 200 guests was held at the Commissioned Officers' Mess at the Marine Corps base. At that time the couple received relatives and friends, including the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Morris E. Sweet of Haverill, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Brewer of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. Thaddeus Loud of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas LaMond of Arcadia, and Col. and Mrs. George Potter of Oceanside.

The bride's mother received in a dark lavendar model with corsage of Talisman roses. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. LaGrone, wore a leaf green crepe model with corsage of Talisman roses.

The young couple left on a month's visit in Mexico City. Mrs. LaGrone traveled in a wine colored tailleur with grey accessories.

The bride attended Kathryn Gibbs Business college in Boston, Mass., and graduated from San Diego college with the class of 1946. She is a member of Shen-Yo and Xolotle sororities and of the American Association of University Women. She was employed for some time as receptionist for Dr. S. Kuntz of Ocean Beach.

Mr. LaGrone was educated in schools of Monroe, La., and Louisiana Polytechnic Institute, from which he graduated in 1939. He is a member of Kappa Sigma fraternity. During the war he served with the United States army for five years and saw duty in the European Theatre of Operations. Upon retirement he held the rank of major.

Claiming widespread interest is the announcement made by Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Wilds of the engagement of their daughter, Betty Jane, to Mr. James E. Davidson, son of Mrs. Alice Davidson of Little Falls, Minn., and the late Dr. Edward Clark Davidson.

The wedding will be a prominent event of November 26, at St. Matthew's Catholic church at a 9:30 nuptial mass.

Miss Wilds is a graduate of St. Matthew's school of this city and Maryville College, St. Louis.

Mr. Davidson is a graduate of the Darlington School, Rome, Ga., and Emory University, Atlanta, Ga., where he was a member of Kappa Alpha fraternity.

P.-T. A. Observes Annual Back To School Night

"Back to School Night," planned by members of St. Matthew's P.-T. A. attracted a representative gathering of parents and teachers with the president, Mrs. Stanley Hodges, presiding. Monsignor John Marsh led the assemblage in prayer. The minutes of the previous meeting were read by Mrs. Charles Brogan and the treasurer's report given by Mrs. John Spatafora. The president's message was read by Mrs. Leo Ritter. She said in part "I, Mabel W. Hughes, president of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, do hereby designate the month beginning October 1 as membership enrollment month, and I call upon every parent-teacher unit and every member to proclaim the supreme value of the services that can be rendered through our organization. If we honestly believe that children can be educated to think freely and intelligently and that parents and teachers are their educators, then we shall work singly and as a group to bring all parents and teachers in the land into our membership."

The new P.-T. A. year books, unusually attractive, were presented to each member by Mrs. Will Hanrahan, chairman of the year book committee.

Mgr. Marsh talked on the "Objects of Parent Teacher Associations," namely:

To promote the welfare of children and youth in home, school, church and community; to raise the standards of home life; to secure adequate laws for the care and protection of children and youth; to bring into closer relations the home and the school, that parents and teachers may cooperate intelligently in the training of the child; to develop between educators and the general public such united efforts as will secure for every child the highest advantages in physical, mental, social and spiritual educations.

Report on membership was given by the membership chairman, Mrs. Tom Mulhearn.

Mrs. Hodges announced that the Twin City Council would present Miss Marjorie Oliver in a series of lectures on "Child Development" in the auditorium of the Central Grammar School, on November 5 and 19, at 10 a. m., and urged all members to attend.

Plans were completed for the annual Hallowe'en party to be held Wednesday, October 29 at the school and the following chairmen and their committees were named:

Hamburgers—Chairman; Mrs. E. L. Ritter, Mrs. R. H. Hoffler, Mrs. H. O. Hayes, Mrs. A. L. Embanato, Mrs. Nick Jungina, Mrs. E. P. Jeneveign, Mrs. J. P. Evans, Mrs. John Browne, Mrs. D. M. Obermeyer, Mrs. A. V. Saucier, Mrs. Fluitt, Mrs. Morris DeLarot, Mrs. Fred Hill.

Cake and coffee—Chairman; Mrs. Vaughan Gardner, Mrs. Henry Crawford, Mrs. G. H. Cunningham, Mrs. Allen Ritter, Mrs. R. J. Monoca.

Aprons and pot holders booth—Chairman; Mrs. Marcel Renaud, Mrs. Charles Brogan and Mrs. L. M. McCarthy.

Bingo—Chairman, Mrs. Tom Mulhearn; Mrs. Jules Eberts, Mrs. R. H. Hoffler, Mrs. J. B. Eaton, Mrs. Tony Cohron, Mrs. Allen Ritter, Mrs. E. P. Jeneveign, Mrs. Frank Ticheli, Mrs. Roy Colquette, Mrs. T. J. Canizaro, Mrs. Tony Jacola, Mrs. Rene Dominques.

Christmas cards and greeting cards—Chairman, Mrs. George Tonore: Mrs. Ralph Norman and Mrs. Burl Hollis. Home-made candy booth—Mrs. R. H. Duran, Mrs. J. P. McDonald, Mrs. Joe Maggio, Mrs. M. A. Peterson, Mrs. T. W. Hardy, Mrs. Joseph Ragusa.

Grab bag, fish pond and children's games, Mrs. Ed Pohlman, Mrs. R. L. Esdorn, Mrs. Fred Ammons.

The room count awards were presented to the first grade in grammar school and the seniors in high school.

After the business meeting Sister Christina and Sister Mercedes presented the pupils from the primer and first grade in a musical program.

All parents were invited to visit their children's class rooms and get acquainted with their teachers, after which delicious refreshments were served in the cafeteria by Mrs. Renaud and her hospitality committee.

FACTS ABOUT YOUR LIBRARY

A talk on the subject of books with Miss Frances Flanders, librarian at the Ouachita Parish Public library, is always refreshing as she is well informed on almost every subject and especially on books, old and new.

When one seeks a bit of information invariably the public library is called. In all probability the correct information is received immediately.

The library answers numerous questions every day. Those answered recently were "How many parishes are there in Louisiana?" "An acre contains how many square feet?" "Please complete the quotation and tell me who wrote 'The time has come, the Walrus said, to talk of many things'?" "How many women in the United States were employed in 1930?" "Who are the people who sit on the security council of the United Nations?" "Please complete the quotation 'The best laid plans of mice and men'." These and many other questions the library will be glad to answer for you.

We hear a great deal now about Russia and our danger from her. If you really want to be informed about the Russian situation, there are several new books that you should read.

"Stalin by Leon Trotsky is the result of his own knowledge and of years of careful research. Trotsky, as you remember, was a political opponent of Stalin. This book traces Stalin's career from his early school days through his rise to power and leadership in the communist party. If you want a clear picture of Stalin, read this book.

John R. Deane has written the story of our efforts at wartime cooperation with Russia in "The Strange Alliance." Dr. Deane was the head of our military mission to Moscow, 1943-45. This book is a vital document on the difficulties of keeping peace with Russia—a peace that depends to a great extent upon our understanding the motives of her leaders and knowing how to deal with them.

Edgar Snow, who is one of our outstanding foreign correspondents has written a clear appraisal of the Russian situation in his "Stalin Must Have Peace." He says that Russia is incapable of waging another war now. Whether you agree with Mr. Snow or not, get the book and see what he has to say.

Richard Dauterbach is another correspondent who has an excellent understanding of the Russian situation. His "Through Russia's Back Door" is an account of a trip he took across Russia from Vladivostok to Moscow on the Trans-Siberian railroad. He talked to Russians of all classes and quotes their opinions and reactions. This is a lively and warm-hearted book and should be read to get a picture of life in Russia today.

If you still want more books about Russia, we have ordered the new book by Louis Fischer "Gandhi and Stalin." It should be here soon and will make interesting reading. If you want to be informed about world affairs use your library.

"Who are the people who sit on the security council of the United Nations?" "Please complete the quotation 'The best laid plans of mice and men'." These and many other questions the library will be glad to answer for you.

We hear a great deal now about Russia and our danger from her. If you really want to be informed about the Russian situation, there are several new books that you should read.

"Stalin by Leon Trotsky is the result of his own knowledge and of years of careful research. Trotsky, as you remember, was a political opponent of Stalin. This book traces Stalin's career from his early school days through his rise to power and leadership in the communist party. If you want a clear picture of Stalin, read this book.

John R. Deane has written the story of our efforts at wartime cooperation with Russia in "The Strange Alliance." Dr. Deane was the head of our military mission to Moscow, 1943-45. This book is a vital document on the difficulties of keeping peace with Russia—a peace that depends to a great extent upon our understanding the motives of her leaders and knowing how to deal with them.

Edgar Snow, who is one of our outstanding foreign correspondents has written a clear appraisal of the Russian situation in his "Stalin Must Have Peace." He says that Russia is incapable of waging another war now. Whether you agree with Mr. Snow or not, get the book and see what he has to say.

Richard Dauterbach is another correspondent who has an excellent understanding of the Russian situation. His "Through Russia's Back Door" is an account of a trip he took across Russia from Vladivostok to Moscow on the Trans-Siberian railroad. He talked to Russians of all classes and quotes their opinions and reactions. This is a lively and warm-hearted book and should be read to get a picture of life in Russia today.

If you still want more books about Russia, we have ordered the new book by Louis Fischer "Gandhi and Stalin." It should be here soon and will make interesting reading. If you want to be informed about world affairs use your library.

HELPS RESTORE SPRING FLOWER BEAUTY TO FADING SKIN

If you're a younger woman, you want to protect the loveliness of your face and throat skin that wins you so many compliments. If you're an older woman, you want to regain such skin loveliness so that these compliments will again come your way. In either case, you ought to try the unduplicated benefits of ENDOCREME. For a decade now, this scientific face cream has been helping thousands of women retain or recapture firm, fresh, smooth, youthful-looking face and throat skin in a way hitherto thought impossible through cosmetics. ENDOCREME alone contains ACTIVOL, an effective replacement for a certain natural feminine substance essential to skin beautification. Absorbed by the skin, it helps restore normal growth to ageing cells and tissue. Many report marked results in only 30 days. $3.50 (plus tax), 30 days' supply.

(Statement typical of thousands received from grateful ENDOCREME users.)

FIRST LECTURE OF SEASON HEARD BY MEMBERS OF LOCAL CHAPTER OF DELTA RHO DELTA

Members of Delta Rho Delta, ever on the alert to learn more and more about the affairs of state, nation and the world, have prepared a series of lectures to be presented from time to time during the months ahead. The first speaker of the season was Thomas Davenport, local attorney, who addressed Delta Rho Delta members on the subject of "The High Road of the Future."

An appreciative audience gathered in the assembly room of the Frances hotel to hear Mr. Davenport who said, in part:

The nations of this world are today divided into factions and making the all important decision as to whether they shall travel the High Road or the Low Road—and the final destination is not Scotland. Nations must now serve themselves or serve the world, and those who elect to take the low road may well reach their destination unless the thinking people of this world properly chart and set their course on the High Road of the Future.

The world is watching us very closely, more closely than ever before, because the peoples of this world have become convinced that only under the leadership of the United States of America can the last best hope on earth be saved. There is no denial of that fact. The only question which can be raised in the period of our present paralysis can be bluntly put: "Is the United States of America Fit to lead the world along the High Road of the Future?"

The chaos in Washington, the spectacle of two wings of government at war with one another, the clash of arms between capital and labor at the expense of us all. The day to day improvisations and the private bewilderment of men, who must, in public, appear to know exactly where they are going and why—all this is not evidence of a process of disintegration. It is evidence of new growth and new strength. We are watching the most powerful nation ever devised by man writhing in agony of construction, and not in a spasm of decay. We are watching the American people adjusting their political system, their economic system, and above all, their inner minds to the kind of world which their own genius unwittingly played a large part in inventing.

The United States was founded by men who left behind on foreign shores the distasteful prejudice and regimentation of Monarchial systems, and from Washington's farewell address down to the isolationist speeches on the eve of December 7, 1941, the central theory of American politics—That the United State's paramount concern lay within its own boundaries—always triumphed over every threat to repeal it. It is one of the great ironies of history that the American people, themseles, by creating the atomic bomb destroyed overnight the theory on which it climbed to a position of undoubted mastery.

There is yet wisdom in the words of Lincoln as he stood on the windswept hills of Gettysburg. Then as now the task was great:

"It is for us, the living, rather to be dedicated here to the unfinished work which they who fought have thus far so nobly advanced. It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us, that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they gave the last full measure of devotion; that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain; That this nation under go, shall have a new birth of freedom, and that government of the people, by the people and for the people, shall not perish for the earth."

And so, my friends, as to whether we complete the unfinished task." We shall find the answer in the millions of unknown homes of the United States of America, among the obscure and forgotten men and women who must choose to march forward on the high road of the future and who today, almost without realizing it, are the last best hope of the world.

MISS MICKEL REVIEWS ONE OF LIEBMAN'S BOOKS AT WESLEYMAN GUILD MEETING

Joshua L. Liebman's book "Peace of Mind" contains some wonderful passages brought to mind by Miss Freeda Mickel when she received this book at a recent meeting of the Wesleyan Service Guild in the home of Mrs. Charles Chisholm.

Mrs. Helen Smith introduced Miss Mickel, who said in part:

"I want to bring you this evening some thoughts from a book that is proving to be a vital influence in American life. Since its publication in March 1946, Peace of Mind by Joshua L. Liebman has continued to hold its place as the best selling non fiction book on the market. It is packed full of sound and engaging human psychology, and blends the great truths of religion with the new and latest developments in the field of psychology. This book is meeting a profound need in helping people to understand themselves. Love, fear, grief, the urge to succeed. These are some of the moods and motives that make or undermine the happiness of individuals and any man or woman can liberate himself from the constant assault of life's complications by a more thorough understanding of how to acquire Peace of Mind. This Mr. Liebman says is a gift that God reserves for his special proteges." Talent and health he gives to many. Wealth is not commonplace, fame, not rare,—But Peace of Mind He bestows charily. "God, Lord of the Universe, say the wise ones of history," heap worldly gifts at the feet of foolish men. Give me the gift of the untroubled mind." Mr. Liebman says that after a quarter of a century of personal experience and professional observation that he has come to understand that Peace of Mind is the true goal of life. It can flourish without the support of material wealth or even physical health. It can transform from a cottage into a regal residence and the lack of it can make a spacious manor hall an imprisoning shell.

Where shall we look for Peace of mind? Not in association with noble works of art and literature, though they may help, not in wealth, which slips like quicksilver through our fingers. Not even in the sublime sharing of human love is it to be found.

The key to the problem is to be found in the lines from Mathew Arnold.

We would have inward peace,
But will not look within.

But will not look within. Here in a single phrase, our willfulness is bared.

If we analyze the prayers of mankind we will find that the petitions are narrowed down to common denominators of daily bread and inward peace. They seek an inner equilibrium which will enable us to overcome life's buffetings.

It is striking irony that, while religious teaching emphasizes man's obligations to others, it says little about his obligation to himself. One of the greatest discoveries of modern psychology is that our attitudes towards ourselves are even more complicated than our attitudes towards others. The great commandment "Thou Shalt love thy neighbor as thyself" might be interpreted to mean "Thou Shalt love thyself properly, and then thou will love thy neighbor."

CUT THEIR WEDDING CAKE

Mr. and Mrs. Harold F. Kennedy, bride and groom whose marriage was of interest to friends, are seen cutting their wedding cake at the reception following the ceremony.

MISS RHODA KELLOGG WILL WED MR. DAVID R. NORMAN DURING MONTH OF DECEMBER

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Leigh announce the engagement and approaching marriage of Mrs. Leigh's daughter, Miss Rhoda Kellogg, to Mr. David R. Normann, son of Mr .and Mrs. Frank S. Normann, of New Orleans.

Miss Kellogg is a daughter of the late Robert L. Kellogg, and a granddaughter of Mrs. O. M. Grisham and the late Mr. Grisham of Monroe. She is a graduate of Louise S. McGehee School in New Orleans, and also attended Ward Belmont College, and Springside School for Girls in Philadelphia. She is now a student at Sophie Newcomb College, where she is a member of the Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority.

Mr. Normann attended Washington & Lee University and, since his discharge from the army, has been a student at Tulane University, where he is enrolled in the Law School and a member of the Beta Theta Pi fraternity. His mother is the former Miss Ruth Hernandez of New Orleans.

Mrs. Lester Smith of New Orleans, the former Miss Maybelle Vaughan of this city was among the out-of-town guests in attendance at the marriage of her niece, Miss Pauline Breard and Mr. Louis Milner, Jr.

The average copper ore in the United States in 1944 contained about 96 hundredths of one per cent of copper.

Purely Personal

"God Bless America!" These words, we feel sure, were on the lips of everyone who listened to the lecture delivered by Mrs. David S. Simms at the last Town Hall meeting. She told of conditions in South America and particularly of life on "The Top of the Andes." She spoke of the pangs of hunger suffered by those who are "under the whip" Mrs. Simms didn't touch upon the glamour spots of South America . . . she took her audience to "the top of the Andes" and gave them a glimpse of life as lived by women of the lower strata of society.

Mrs. Alfred Reid, instructor of French at Neville high school introduced Mrs. Simms and did a fine job of it. Mrs. Reid keeps abreast of the times, is mentally alert and has her finger on the pulse of things. The potent question she asked the speaker at the conclusion of her lecture was quite characteristic.

Mrs. Gladys Miles, state president of the Louisiana Federated Business and Professional Women's club was on hand to take Mrs. Simms off to a little supper party following her lecture. Mrs. Simms is a member of the International Public Relations committee of the General Federation of Business Women's clubs and local members keenly anticipated the pleasure of having her in their midst for a few precious hours. Mrs. Simms was a charming figure on the lecture platform in a gown of gold colored satin. The skirt was long and full and the basque was an overblouse of black lace.

There's a book at the Ouachita Parish Public Library you'll enjoy reading It's Mother Shipton's Prophecy", and dates back to the time Columbus discovered America. A rather accurate forecast of the World Wars is contained in Mother Shipton's Prophecy. Other things were predicted, such as carriages without horses shall go forth and accidents shall fill the world with woe." (the automobile of course.) "Around the world thoughts fly in the twinkling of an eye" (Nobody ever dreamed of the telegraph). Beneath the water men shall walk and ride, shall sleep and even talk" (which brings to our mind diving suits and submarines). "Through towering hills man shall ride and yet no horse be at his side." (Could be a railroad tunnel.) "And in the air men shall be seen, in white, in black, as well as green" (Aeroplanes?). "And waters shall great wonders do, how strange and yet it shall be true." "Iron in the water shall flow as easily as wooden boat."

In fiercest strife, and seek to take each other's life, the North shall thus divide the South; the Eagle will build in the Lion's Mouth" (At that time there were not even any United States, yet this prophecy came to pass and the U. S. Eagle did supercede the British Lion in the Western hemisphere.) "When pictures look alive, with movements free; when ships like fishes swim beneath the sea; when men outstripping birds can soar the sky; then half the world, deep drenched in blood shall die"—

"And now a word in uncouth rhyme, of what shall be in future time; for in these wondrous far off days, the women shall adopt a craze to dress like men and trousers wear, and cut off all their locks of hair; they'll ride astride with brazen brow as witches do on broomsticks now!"

Always at this time of the year we recall the words of the poet, "There is something in the autumn that is native to my blood, touch of manner, hint of mood; and my heart is like a rhyme, with the yellow, and the purple and the crimson keeping time. October's gypsy mood prompest us to shunt the daily routine. . . the out-of-doors calls and we all want to go places and do things. And there's plenty of things to do these days. The social tempo will be increasing daily with the holidays getting closer and closer. Weddings will continue to hold the spotlight of social attention, however, with the marriage of Billie O'Neal and Mr. Amos Smelser claiming prominence on the early November calendar. The ceremony will take place at Grace Episcopal November 5, at high noon. The bride and groom-elect extend an invitation to their friends to be present at their wedding through this medium. Another wedding looming with prominence on the November calendar is that of Betty Jane Wilds and James E. Davidson. It will be a nuptial mass at nine-thirty in the morning at St. Matthew's church.

Lest we forget! Encircle the date of November 14 on your calendar. It will be a red letter day in Monroe as Harnett Kane will be here and will review one of his most popular books, "Natchez On The Mississippi." This review will take place in the assembly room of the Frances hotel. Mr. Kane will be presented by the Pilot club and the public is invited to attend. The hour is 7:45 p. m.

Another date to remember is November 28, when Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Anspach will be presented in joint piano and vocal concert at Neville auditorium under the auspices of the First Methodist church. This concert will highlight the entire winter season and is being eagerly anticipated by music lovers of the Twin Cities.

The traditional excellence of the fine pianos of the House of Kimball has been established and maintained for several generations of the same family. It is no small wonder that more Kimballs have been made and sold than any other make, thus becoming "The Keyboard of the Nation!" See and play the new Kimball Consolettes with the three exclusive tone-touch features—now on display.

NEW CALL LETTERS ON OUR STATION...

Liner's Broadcasting Station Announces Another Step In the Progress in Radio...

F M

FREQUENCY MODULATION

Beginning November 1st-are

KMFM

TUNE YOUR DIAL TO KMFM—104.1 MC. FOR PERFECT F. M. RECEPTION

When you buy a new Radio...be sure it has FM for a no-static reception!

After Many Months of Planning . . . at a Tremendous Expense . . . We Now Have F. M., and Are Indeed Proud to Announce the Operation as of Nov. 1st of the First F. M. Station in North Louisiana.

WHAT ARE THE ADVANTAGES OF F M ?

1. Clear, Bell-Like Reception. In musical programs particularly, FM reception is so clear that you will imagine you are seated in the orchestra or studio. FM will faithfully reproduce all the high and low notes as well as essential overtones that are not picked up on ordinary AM radio sets.

2. Virtual Elimination of All Static and Electrical Disturbances. With FM, no buzz or hum usually caused by electrical appliances in your home, can mar the full enjoyment of your program. Even the most severe thunder storm or outside electrical disturbance will fail to interfere with your FM reception.

WHAT IS MODULATION?

Modulation is the method by which electrical sound waves are broadcast by the radio station and are finally received by your radio.

The function of the microphone is to change sound waves into electrical sound waves.

When you tune in this station, you merely adjust your radio to our particular carrier wave which delivers the electrical sound waves to your set. The loud speaker on your radio changes the electrical sound waves back into regular sound waves which you hear!

The type of modulation used in ordinary broadcasting is called "Amplitude Modulation" or AM.

The new system of broadcasting is called "Frequency Modulation" or FM.

HOW DOES F M OPERATE?

Perhaps the best way to understand the technical operation of FM is to compare the standard method of broadcasting, AM, to an old fashioned road and FM, the new method of broadcasting, to a new super-highway of the air.

When sound waves leave the studio on the old AM road, they are bumped around and often damaged and impaired in their travels. The narrowness of the road combined with the obstacles and disturbances along the way results in a sound wave that is often battered and weary when it finally reaches your old AM set.

On the new super-highway of FM, a broad, modern skyway 20 times as wide as the old AM road . . . the sound waves travel without interruption or interference . . . and reach your new FM set as clear as they started.

SHOULD YOU PURCHASE AN F M SET?

Yes . . . because eventually, all broadcasting in this country will be on FM basis.

Most new FM sets have an AM band, which will enable you to continue to enjoy the present broadcasts of this station, as well as the new FM band, which will double the enjoyment of your listening because this station is equipped for FM.

NOTICE TO LISTENERS WHO DO NOT HAVE FM ON YOUR SET—

Your radio dealer can tell you how you can convert your present radio to a combination FM-AM set at a reasonable cost. Bring your late model AM set up to date.

SPIRITUALIZING FORCE OF MUSIC DISCUSSED BY THE MEMBERS OF MUSIC GUILD

In the subject for this year's study, "Musical Portraits of God," the Music Guild feels that it is helping to carry forward the purpose of the Music Federation—"to bring the spiritualizing force of music to the inner life of our nation."

Guild members met for their October program meeting in the home of Mrs. H. D. Holmes, with Mrs. Lloyd Walters assisting the hostess. The business session was presided over by the president, Mrs. B. B. Martin, at which time matters of interest to the members and plans for the year's work were discussed. The Music Guild is the only adult Choral Group in Monroe and this talented group is often called on by religious and civic groups to furnish choral numbers. Mrs. H. D. Holmes is the capable chorus director.

The program for the afternoon, presented by Mrs. W. W. Watson, program chairman, featured a splendid talk, "Is Sacred Music Progressing?" by Mrs. Lloyd Walters. Musical numbers on the program by an outstanding American composer, Alfred Hay Malotte were: Vocal solo—"The Twenty-Third Psalm, Mrs. E. E. Lawson; piano solo—"The Lord's Prayer," Mrs. Raymond Spence; vocal solo—"The Beautitudes," Mrs. M. J. Coalson.

Discussing the subject, "Is Sacred Music Progressing?" Mrs. Walters said in part "In our country conditions in sacred music have changed considerably in the last quarter of a century. Several factors at work have been responsible for new trends in sacred music. The first of these is the constant rise of the cultural level in our country. Second is the fact that since World War II our country is gradually becoming the musical capital of the world. The third, is the coming of the radio age. I consider the last factor the most important. Through the medium of radio the American public has become musically educated. One can hear, whether living in city or country, the finest music performed by the greatest singers, instrumentalists, choruses and orchestras. Our cultural level has been raised by the increased music education being given to our children in public schools and high schools, with many schools specializing in the devlopment of bands, orchestras and choruses. Increases in the number of orchestras, both amateur and professional, in many communities, and the growth of choruses with the increased knowledge of of choral technique and choral singing throughout our country, have also contributed largely towards the development of music and music appreciation in the United States.

This upsurge of musical understanding and appreciation has led to a sort of silent revolt against prevalent conditions in sacred music. This has been led by eminent contemporary musicians of all faiths. Against what did they revolt? (1) Against unchurchlike music; (2) against those who were entrusted with the direction of sacred music; (3) the mediocre performers; (4) the low level of performance.

Until about a quarter of a century ago the musical profession looked down with scorn upon the musician associated with sacred music. Today we find many talented and highly competent musicians in the service of many churches and synagogues throughout the country. A new office in the church has been created, the "Ministry of Music," which occupies a very important place in the religious life of many communities. There seems to be a renewed interest in worship through music.

This renewed interest manifests itself in better and greater quantities of sacred music being purchased all over the country, as publishers tell us; by plans for many new edifices to be built throughout the country with chancels capable of holding large choirs; in the increasing number of summer institutes on sacred music; in youth conferences and summer camps, where young people receive first-hand contact with music in worship; in the increasing number of neighborhood choirs which are trained during the week by a competent leader and split up on Sunday to provide religious music in the neighboring towns from which they come.

The recent series of lecture-recitals at Town Hall, New York, entitled "Music in the Faiths," represented a long step forward in the field of sacred music in our country, and its power to foster inter-faith and good will.

The success of this series and its nation-wide approval proved that the religious spirit of our people is moving upward and that this spirit wishes the best in music to accompany it on its journey."

At the conclusion of the program, Mrs. Holmes and Mrs. Walters served refreshments to the following members: Mrs. M. J. Coalson, Mrs. J. Norman Coon, Mrs. R. W. Cretney, Mrs. E. W. Cruse, Mrs. Cecil Hill, Mrs. Willys Hopkins, Mrs. J. E. Jarman, Mrs. E. Everett Lawson, Mrs. B. B. Martin, Mrs. Paul Newman, Mrs. Raymond Spence, Mrs. W. W. Watson and Mrs. R. W. Irby.

ENGAGEMENT IS ANNOUNCED

Rev. and Mrs. W. N. Ferguson of this city announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Erma Blanche, to Mr. Raymond Vernon Kay, son of Mrs. L. L. Kay, and the late Mr. Kay, of Provencal, La.

Tea At The Y. W. C. A. Given By Teachers

When the Monroe City Classroom teachers entertained the new members at a reception in the parlors of the Y. W. C. A. they named the administrators, special guests.

An atmosphere of festivity was created by the placement of beautiful pink radiance roses in the background. Pink roses also graced the lace-covered tea table in the dining room presided over by Miss Eloise Cann, outgoing president of the organization. Trays of delicious confections were passed among the guests by Miss Rosa Belle McDonald, Mrs. Howard Williard, Mrs. E. H. Miller, Miss Mae Coker, Mrs. G. E. Boggs and Miss Marie Minard.

A program of music was presented as follows:

Violin solo—First and second movement Dvorak's Sonatina, Opus 100, for violin and piano by Mr. Francis H. Burke, accompanied by Mr. Monroe, both from music department of N. J. C.

Solo—Under the Greenwood Tree, by Longfellow, arranged by Bugi Picti, Mrs. A. M. Serex. As an encore Mrs. Serex read and then sang "Life" by Pearl Currin. She dedicated this number to the teachers as a special recognition and tribute to their work.

Solo—Mrs. Gladys Seymour—"The Greatest Wish in the World," by Del Riglo, accompanied by Miss Clara Hall.

Receiving were: Mrs. Will Duncan, Mrs. Eugene Scott, Mrs. Crowell, Mrs. Wilkins, Mrs. Austin Miller, Mrs. Louise Brown.

Dodson

Hugh Walker Stovall and Jack Emmons attended homecoming at La., Tech Saturday.

Harold Temple of Natchez, Miss., spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Temple.

Newt Norred of New Orleans spent last week at his home with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Norred and Clayton Norred.

Mrs. Wesley Johns visited her sister, Mrs. Eva Britt in Glenmore Sunday.

Mrs. Mack Hutson is a patient in a Pineville hospital.

H. J. Waters of Alexandria spent the week-end at home with his family.

PRESIDENT OF CULTURAL CLUB

Mrs. John C. Kenton, president of the Alto Cultural Club, will preside at the celebration in observance of the club's twenty-fifth anniversary in Alto, November 1.

Of 1,000 rheumatic fever cases, 10 years later 439 of the persons afflicted will resume their normal activity, 200 will be slightly limited, 135 will be seriously limited, and 203 will have died. The records of 14 will be missing.

Welcome Garden Club Views Film Showing Tulips

The Welcome Garden club of the Twin Cities met in the Agricultural building of West Monroe with Mrs. O. R. Brauer, Mrs. P. E. Massey, Mrs. J. F. Stone, Mrs. Ben S. Parnell, and Mrs R. M. Kettenring serving as hostesses.

A film showing the lovely tulips given to America by Holland in appreciation of the help given them during and after the recent war created a desire to plant more tulips this year.

The talk on "Bulbs" by Mrs. Jack Bagwell emphasized the importance of planning and planting now for a garden of spring-blooming bulbs. The work must be done now for the pleasure of having blossoms in the spring.

Her talk was divided into two parts—how to plant and what to plant. She stressed the importance of good drainage and of spading deeply any good garden soil, adding humus and commercial fertilizer. The bulbs should be planted at least three times as deep as the size of the bulb. Tulips and hyacinths should be planted even deeper.

A few of the many bulbs to plant were the tulips and hyacinths to be planted in late November or early December; the narcissuses and daffodils (many new and unusual ones are on the market) should be planted now; Easter lilies must be planted at once; white callas can be planted now but the pink and yellow ones will do better with a later planting; lilies should be planted now. Other bulbs for spring bloom are crocus, grape hyacinth, scilla, anemone, Dutch iris, amaryllis, and ranunculus. These all should be planted soon.

Mrs. R. B. Henry reviewed the National Bulletin telling of the new plants especialy the new azaleas that will be on the market for this year.

The tea table was most attractive with its autumn centerpiece of autumn flowers and silver trays of delicious confections.

In general, most crops grow and produce best when the soil is slightly acid to neutral.

Farmerville

Mrs. Agnes Johnson of El Dorado was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Lee and Mr. and Mrs. Ben M. Lee Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Stansberry and daughter, Peggy Jean and son, Bennie Wayne and Miss Bettye Lou Carthers of El Dorado spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Gordon and Mr. Frank Stansberry.

PRESIDENT OF CULTURAL CLUB

Mrs. John C. Kenton, president of the Alto Cultural Club, will preside at the celebration in observance of the club's twenty-fifth anniversary in Alto, November 1.

Welcome Garden Club Views Film Showing Tulips

The Welcome Garden club of the Twin Cities met in the Agricultural building of West Monroe with Mrs. O. R. Brauer, Mrs. P. E. Massey, Mrs. J. F. Stone, Mrs. Ben S. Parnell, and Mrs R. M. Kettenring serving as hostesses

A film showing the lovely tulips given to America by Holland in appreciation of the help given them during and after the recent war created a desire to plant more tulips this year.

The talk on "Bulbs" by Mrs. Jack Bagwell emphasized the importance of planning and planting now for a garden of spring-blooming bulbs. The work must be done now for the pleasure of having blossoms in the spring.

Her talk was divided into two parts—how to plant and what to plant. She stressed the importance of good drainage and of spading deeply any good garden soil, adding humus and commercial fertilizer. The bulbs should be planted at least three times as deep as the size of the bulb. Tulips and hyacinths should be planted even deeper.

A few of the many bulbs to plant were the tulips and hyacinths to be planted in late November or early December; the narcissuses and daffodils (many new and unusual ones are on the market) should be planted now; Easter lilies must be planted at once; white callas can be planted now but the pink and yellow ones will do better with a later planting; lilies should be planted now. Other bulbs for spring bloom are crocus, grape hyacinth, scilla, anemone, Dutch iris, amaryllis, and ranunculus. These all should be planted soon.

Mrs. R. B. Henry reviewed the National Bulletin telling of the new plants especialy the new azaleas that will be on the market for this year.

The tea table was most attractive with its autumn centerpiece of autumn flowers and silver trays of delicious confections.

In general, most crops grow and produce best when the soil is slightly acid to neutral.

THE FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH
Grammont At Catalpa
Ernest D. Holloway, Minister

Since this is the Home Missions week, when we are asked to pray and deny ourselves in the interest of Home Missions, October 26-November 2, it is our purpose to think about the Home Missions program of the church. Our subject for the morning message is "The Home Missions Program, Its Needs, Its Labors, and Its Outlook."

At the evening hour we will think about the Christ and the opposition to his ministry, considering "The First Opposition."

The Sabbath School attendance is on the increase. We are much encouraged. Our leadership is excellent, and with teh cooperation of the membership it will increase in attendance from Sabbath to Sabbath.

An invitation is extended to worship. A cordial greeting awaits you at all hours of worship.

M. B. Hearne, Sunday School Supt.

"True success comes only by doing the things God asks and doing them by His help."

There are times when great hearts desire to do "great" things. This service is within the grasp of all. There is nothing greater than obedience to God, and to manifest that obedience in service to and worship of him. You are cordially invited to worship with us, this week-end, in the following services:

Sunday School at 9:45 a.m.

Morning worship, beginning promptly at 10:50. Youth Fellowship meetings at 6:45 p.m. Evening service at 7:30. A gospel message will be delivered at these services. The evening service will be, in part, a Bible drill. Bring your Bible and join with us.

The worship will be in the hall of the annex, as the main auditorium is being remodeled. Entrance to the

WHEN KIDNEYS Work Too Often

Are you embarrassed and inconvenienced by too frequent elimination during the day or night? This symptom as well as Smarting Passages, Backache, Leg Pains, Nervousness, Rheumatic Pains and Swollen Ankles may be due to non-organic and non-systemic Kidney and Bladder troubles. In such cases the very first dose of the scientifically compounded medicine called Cystex usually goes to work right now helping you these 3 ways: 1. Helps nature remove irritating excess acids, poisonous wastes and certain germs. 2. This cleansing action helps nature alleviate many pains, aches, soreness and stiffness. 3. Helps reduce frequent night and day calls, thus promoting better sleep.

Get Cystex from your druggist today. Give it a fair trial as directed on package. Money back guaranteed unless Cystex satisfies you.

Rheumatic Pain

For quick, delightfully comforting help for aches and pains of Rheumatism, Arthritis, Neuritis, Lumbago, Sciatica, or Neuralgia try Romind. A pleasant tasteless medicine that works through the blood. First dose usually starts alleviating pain so you can work, enjoy life and sleep more comfortably. Get Romind at druggist today. Take as directed. Satisfaction or money back guaranteed.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES
224 Auburn Avenue

"Probation After Death" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, October 26, 1947.

The Golden Text is: "The hour is coming, and now is, when the dead shall hear the voice of the Son of God: and they that hear shall live" (John 5:25).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil: for thou art with me; thy rod and thy staff they comfort me" (Ps. 23:4).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Death will occur on the next plane of existence as on this, until the spiritual understanding of life is reached" (p. 77).

Listen in on a 15-minute radio broadcast Sunday at 9:30 a. m. over radio station KNOE.

Mrs. Thelma Bond And Miss Emma Short Are Delegates To Convention

Mrs. Thelma Bond, past president and Miss Emma Lee Short of the Altrusa Club of Monroe attended Altrusa International convention last week in New Orleans. It was the 16th annual conference of the Seventh District of Altrusa and was held in Hotel Roosevelt.

D. J. Devlin, president of the Association of Commerce addressing the group stated that from time immemorial men have made war but women have tried to keep the peace. He cited education as the only means of keeping the peace.

Acting Mayor B. J. McCloskey presented the key of the city to Miss Mamie Larsh, Indianapolis, immediate past president of Altrusa International.

The meeting voted to establish a fund to honor Dr. Nina Faye Calhoun, Dallas, Tex., a former international president. The fund will bear the name of Dr. Calhoun and will be used to educate a young woman from Korea in nursing, Dr. Calhoun was presented a diamond-studded national president's pin by the membership.

The banquet was one of the outstanding features with the king and queen of the last Mardi Gras attending in their royal regalia. There was an elaborate fashion show presented at this time and decorations were said to have been gorgeous.

EIGHTH GRADE OF A. L. SMITH ELECTS

The eighth grade of the A. L. Smith School in Sterlington elected officers for the coming year the past week. Those named were as follows: Bobbye Currey, president; Max Burson, vice president; Bobbie White, secretary; Lloyd Gill, treasurer.

In the business session, the class voted to share with the room mothers the expenses for a Halloween party.

Although the number of U. S. families increased 175 per cent between 1890 and 1940, the total population gained only 110 per cent.

MISS STRAUSS TO VISIT STATE

League Of Women Voters' President To Speak In Alexandria

Ten members of the Monroe League of Women Voters will attend an open meeting in Alexandria, Monday, at which Miss Anna Lord Strauss, of Washington, D. C., president of the League of Women Voters of the United States, will speak.

Those journeying to Alexandria to hear Miss Strauss will be: Mrs. John Fox, Mrs. A. D. Tisdale, Mrs. Carl McHenry, Mrs. H. S. Chilton, Miss Emy Lou Biedenharn, Mrs. Shep Girault, Mrs. R. M. Troy, Mrs. Julius Chandler, Mrs. E. N. Jackson, Miss Jean Bonham, Mrs. Elmer Slagle and Mrs. DeWitt Henry.

The open meeting, called by members of the Alexandria League, will be held in connection with a state board meeting of the Louisiana League of Women Voters which representatives of all local and provisional leagues in Louisiana will attend.

Miss Strauss will arrive in Shreveport, La., on October 25, attend a meeting there on the 26th and proceed to Alexandria on the 27th. Her interest in national and international affairs dates back to World War I when she chose to go into war service with the shipping board and in the state department in preference to formal college education.

In 1919 she accompanied her father, Albert Strauss, vice-governor of the federal reserve board, to Paris, France, where he served as United States financial adviser at the peace conference.

Miss Strauss later joined the staff of the "Century" magazine and left after six years, managing editor of the publication. For several years she was a volunteer in the New York state labor department; in 1943 she became personnel administrator for United Aircraft Corporation at Stratford, Conn., and in 1945 she went into volunteer USO work.

President of the New York City League of Women Voters for six years, and national president since 1944, Miss Strauss is currently one of the 25 members of the national committee for strengthening Congress and is the only women on its board of trustees. She was a member of the consumers' advisory committee to the OPA and of the famine emergency committee during the war. Miss Strauss is also the only woman member on the food and agriculture organization of the United Nations and was its delegate at the Toronto Conference.

FOUR QUALIFY IN SENATORIAL RACE

Judge E. L. Gladney, Jr., announced Saturday that the deadline for qualifying in the coming primary for the 28th senatorial district, expired Friday at 5 p. m.

The following candidates had qualified up to that time, the judge stated:

C. E. Barham of Ruston, W. Brooks Oliver of Bastrop, Jack Liddell of Bastrop, and Jack Yeldell of Mer Rouge.

Here's Good News!

Are you between the ages of 38 and 52 and going through that trying functional 'middle-age' period peculiar to women? Does this make you suffer from hot flashes, feel clammy, so nervous, irritable, weak? Then do try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve such symptoms! It's famous for this!
Many wise 'middle-age' women take Pinkham's Compound regularly to help build up resistance against this distress.
Pinkham's Compound contains no opiates—no habit-forming drugs. It helps nature (you know what we mean!). This great medicine also has what Doctors call a stomachic tonic effect.

OPTIMISTS HOLD WEEKLY LUNCH

The regular weekly meeting of the Optimist Club of Greater Monroe was held Friday noon at the Frances Hotel. Guests present were J. Cannon Carter with the American Hardware Corporation, Memphis, Tenn., and V. O. Allen with Ritchie Grocer Company, of Monroe.

Optimist George Taylor announced that the advertising campaign was well underway for the three Broadway shows and that boxoffice sales would start November 1.

R. E. WALTERS IS AGAIN IN RACE

Inadvertently the name of R. E. Walters was omitted in a list of candidates for police jury in Ward seven, Richland parish.

He has served faithfully in the past and is now seeking to return to the same office.

EIGHTH GRADE OF A. L. SMITH ELECTS

The eighth grade of the A. L. Smith School in Sterlington elected officers for the coming year the past week. Those named were as follows: Bobbye Currey, president; Max Burson, vice president; Bobbie White, secretary; Lloyd Gill, treasurer.

In the business session, the class voted to share with the room mothers the expenses for a Halloween party.

Although the number of U. S. families increased 175 per cent between 1890 and 1940, the total population gained only 110 per cent.

MISS STRAUSS TO VISIT STATE

League Of Women Voters' President To Speak In Alexandria

Ten members of the Monroe League of Women Voters will attend an open meeting in Alexandria, Monday, at which Miss Anna Lord Strauss, of Washington, D. C., president of the League of Women Voters of the United States, will speak.

Those journeying to Alexandria to hear Miss Strauss will be: Mrs. John Fox, Mrs. A. D. Tisdale, Mrs. Carl McHenry, Mrs. H. S. Chilton, Miss Emy Lou Biedenharn, Mrs. Shep Girault, Mrs. R. M. Troy, Mrs. Julius Chandler, Mrs. E. N. Jackson, Miss Jean Bonham, Mrs. Elmer Slagle and Mrs. DeWitt Henry.

The open meeting, called by members of the Alexandria League, will be held in connection with a state board meeting of the Louisiana League of Women Voters which representatives of all local and provisional leagues in Louisiana will attend.

Miss Strauss will arrive in Shreveport, La., on October 25, attend a meeting there on the 26th and proceed to Alexandria on the 27th. Her interest in national and international affairs dates back to World War I when she chose to go into war service with the shipping board and in the state department in preference to formal college education.

In 1919 she accompanied her father, Albert Strauss, vice-governor of the federal reserve board, to Paris, France, where he served as United States financial adviser at the peace conference.

Miss Strauss later joined the staff of the "Century" magazine and left after six years, managing editor of the publication. For several years she was a volunteer in the New York state labor department; in 1943 she became personnel administrator for United Aircraft Corporation at Stratford, Conn., and in 1945 she went into volunteer USO work.

President of the New York City League of Women Voters for six years, and national president since 1944, Miss Strauss is currently one of the 25 members of the national committee for strengthening Congress and is the only women on its board of trustees. She was a member of the consumers' advisory committee to the OPA and of the famine emergency committee during the war. Miss Strauss is also the only woman member on the food and agriculture organization of the United Nations and was its delegate at the Toronto Conference.

FOUR QUALIFY IN SENATORIAL RACE

Judge E. L. Gladney, Jr., announced Saturday that the deadline for qualifying in the coming primary for the 28th senatorial district, expired Friday at 5 p. m.

The following candidates had qualified up to that time, the judge stated:

C. E. Barham of Ruston, W. Brooks Oliver of Bastrop, Jack Liddell of Bastrop, and Jack Yeldell of Mer Rouge.

Here's Good News!
Are you between the ages of 38 and 52 and going through that trying functional 'middle-age' period peculiar to women? Does this make you suffer from hot flashes, feel clammy, so nervous, irritable, weak? Then do try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve such symptoms! It's famous for this!
Many wise 'middle-age' women take Pinkham's Compound regularly to help build up resistance against this distress.
Pinkham's Compound contains no opiates—no habit-forming drugs. It helps nature (you know what we mean!). This great medicine also has what Doctors call a stomachic tonic effect.

NOTE: Or you may prefer LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S TABLETS with added iron.

OH! I'M SO THRILLED IN OUR NEW APARTMENT - NOTHING BUT PEOPLE OF SOCIAL STANDING LIVE HERE - SO BE CAREFUL OF YOUR MANNERS - I'M SO HAPPY - THIS PLACE IS DEAR!!!
I KNOW IT - I JUST GOT THE BILL FER TH' RENT!!
HOW MANY TIMES MUST I TELL YOU - I OBJECT TO THOSE BOYS UPSTAIRS PLAYING FOOTBALL OUT IN THE HALL?
I'VE BIN WORKIN' HERE FOR FIVE YEARS AND I HAVEN'T HEARD A GOOD WORD ABOUT ANYONE IN THE BUILDIN' - AND YOU'RE NUMBER ONE!!
CAN'T YOU KEEP THOSE BRATS OF YOURS QUIET? I CAN'T PLAY THE PIANO WITH THAT RACKET-
YOU CAN'T PLAY - ANYWAY - PIPE DOWN OR I'LL GIVE YOU A WORSE BEATING THAN YOU DO THE PIANO!!!
GO ON - MA - SOCK HIM LIKE YOU DID POP THIS MORNING!!
YOU BETTER GET HOME EARLY - IF YOU KNOW WHAT'S GOOD FOR YOU!!!
WHY SHE EVER MARRIED YOU I DON'T KNOW - DON'T - YOU EVER THINK OF YOUR HOME?
NOT WHEN I CAN HELP IT - AN' TALK ONE AT A TIME -- I'M NOT A RECEIVING SET!!
I TOLD YOU TO TELL THE FAMILY IN APT. SIX THEY CAN'T KEEP THOSE TRAINED SEALS IN THE APARTMENT!!!
I CAN'T GET NEAR TH' DOOR - TH' GUY NEXT TO THEM IS BUILDIN' A YACHT AN' IT TAKES UP ALL OF TH' HALL-
I'M SORRY - MRS. HANSANFEET - EVERY TIME I CALL UP TO COMPLAIN OF THE RACKET IN APT. TEN - THEY SAY THEY CAN'T HEAR ME DUE TO THE NOISE IN YOUR FLAT-
THIS CAN'T BE THE "FOUR HUNDRED" THAT LIVE HERE!! THERE COULDN'T BE FOUR HUNDRED LIKE THIS!!
I'M GOING TO QUIT THIS JOB - MORE PATROL WAGONS STOP HERE THAN TAXIS AN' AUTOS!
LISTEN! DO YOU KNOW WHO PUTS THOSE GARBAGE PAILS IN FRONT OF MY DOOR EVERY MORNING?
-AN' TO THINK I GAVE UP LIVIN' IN THIS NEIGHBORHOOD TO BE WHERE I AM!

TARZAN
by EDGAR RICE BURROUGHS
WEAKENED FROM MANY WOUNDS, THE EXHAUSTED APE-MAN STRUGGLED TO RISE. AFTER HIS ORDEAL IN THE TIDAL WAVE, AND HIS ENCOUNTER WITH THE CROCODILE, THE EFFORT WAS TOO MUCH EVEN FOR THE MIGHTY APE-MAN. HE FELL BACK.
A GREAT THIRST TOOK POSSESSION OF THE FALLEN JUNGLE LORD, AND IN HIS BODY A FEVER WAS BEGINNING TO MOUNT.
"NKIMA--!" TARZAN CALLED WEAKLY. THE LITTLE MONKEY HASTENED TO HIS SIDE. "NKIMA---BRING WATER!"
BUT PUZZLED NKIMA DID NOT COMPREHEND. TARZAN KNEW HE MUST HAVE WATER SOON---OR HE WOULD PERISH.
THEN TARZAN THOUGHT OF TANTOR. "LITTLE NKIMA--" HE WHISPERED. "TARZAN IS DYING--FETCH TANTOR--QUICKLY!"
Distr by United Feature Syndicate, Inc.
IN A FLASH, THE MONKEY LEAPED TREE-WARD ON HIS MISSION-- WHILE TARZAN, LYING IN THE HOT AFRICAN SUN, WAS CONSUMED BY A RAGING FEVER!

THE WHOLE JUNGLE SHALL HEAR IT! NO ONE WILL DARE STAND AGAINST US!
Copr. 1947, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved.
WAMBO WAMBO, DRAGON-GOD OF THE VAMBESI WILL KILL THE PHANTOM THIS NIGHT
THE TRIBE GATHERS--AS THE STARTLING NEWS IS BROADCAST BY TOM-TOM BEAT--
KILL THE PHANTOM THIS NIGHT
THE SUPERSTITIOUS PYGMIES ARE TORN BETWEEN THEIR LOVE OF THE PHANTOM AND THEIR FEAR OF THE DRAGON-GOD--
SLOWLY, THE TEMPLE DOOR OPENS. BREATHING FIRE, THE LIVING DRAGON-GOD, WAMBO-WAMBO, EMERGES--CONT'D.

TARZAN
EDGAR RICE BURROUGHS
A GREAT THIRST TOOK POSSESSION OF THE FALLEN JUNGLE LORD, AND IN HIS BODY A FEVER WAS BEGINNING TO MOUNT.
"NKIMA--!" TARZAN CALLED WEAKLY. THE LITTLE MONKEY HASTENED TO HIS SIDE. "NKIMA---BRING WATER."
BUT PUZZLED NKIMA DID NOT COMPREHEND. TARZAN KNEW HE MUST HAVE WATER SOON---OR HE WOULD PERISH.
THEN TARZAN THOUGHT OF TANTOR "LITTLE NKIMA--" HE WHISPERED. "TARZAN IS DYING--FETCH TANTOR--QUICKLY!"

LOOKIT 'EM A-SCREAMIN' FO' TH' PAPER WIF "JACK JAWBREAKER" IN IT!! IT'S TH' BIGGEST THING EVAH CREE-AY-TED!! MACKINTOSH AN' BALDWIN SHORE IS A COUPLE O' SMART APPLES!!
JACK JAWBREAKER
MACKINTOSH and BALDWIN
DO YOU MIND IF I KISS YOU, FLOOZIE-BELLE?
NOT AT ALL!!-- THIS, I GOTTA SEE!!
HELP! HELP!!
FAREWELL, FLOOZIE-BELLE!! "JACK JAWBREAKER" FIGHTS CRIME!!
SOB! NOW, I'LL NEVER KNOW HOW IT'S DONE!!
MORE ORDERS FO' "JACK JAWBREAKER"!! BIG CHECKS IN TH' ENVELOPES!!--MY! THEM BOYS'LL BE RICH!!
THEM?--RICH?--NONSENSE, LAD!!--LUCKILY THEY'RE PROTECTED FROM THE CURSE OF WEALTH BY THE SQUEEZEBLOOD SYNDICATE!!
THOSE BOYS CREATED "JACK JAWBREAKER" IN POVERTY!! POVERTY IS THE GREATEST INSPIRATION TO CREATIVE GENIUS!! I WON'T LET ALL THIS WEALTH SPOIL THOSE INNOCENT BOYS!!
BUT ?-?-HAIN'T THEY ENTITLED TO 50 PERCENT O' WHUT THAR COMICAL STRIP MAKES?--
OF COURSE, LAD!!--AND THAT'S WHAT THEY'LL GET--FAIR AND SQUARE!! THIS IS THE WAY WE WORK IT--
I'M THE OWNER OF THE "BLATTSVILLE BUGLE"!! I MUST HAVE "JACK JAWBREAKER"!!--I'LL PAY $500.00 A WEEK FOR IT!!
(--FIFTY PUSSENT O' THET IS $250.00 A WEEK FO' MACKINTOSH AN' BALDWIN, FUM THET PAPER ALONE!!--)
YOU CAN HAVE "JACK JAWBREAKER"--ON ONE CONDITION--THAT YOU PAY ME $5.00 A WEEK FOR IT, INSTEAD OF $500.00!!
--BUT YOU MUST ALSO BUY "MOTHER SQUEEZEBLOOD'S DAILY RECIPE". THAT'LL COST YOU $495.00 A WEEK!!
IT ISN'T WORTH A NICKEL--BUT, IF IT'S THE ONLY WAY I GET "JACK JAWBREAKER" I'LL TAKE 'EM BOTH. IT DOESN'T COST ME ANY MORE!!
SO YOU SEE--INSTEAD OF GETTING AN EXTRA $250.00 A WEEK--THEY GET A SAFE, SANE TWO AND A HALF BUCKS!! THE REST GOES TO MOTHER SQUEEZEBLOOD!! ER--AHEM--I AM "MOTHER SQUEEZEBLOOD"!!
YO' SHORE IS PERTECTIN' THEM BOYS FUM TH' MISERIES O' WEALTH, SUH!!
--AND THE NICEST PART OF IT ALL IS--IT'S PERFECTLY LEGAL!!
ANY CARTOONIST WHO DON'T APPREESHEEATE TH' TYPE O' THING TH' SQUEEZEBLOOD SYNDICATE DOES FO' HIM IS A ONGRATEFUL RAT!!

FLASH GORDON
Registered U. S. Patent Office
"DOUBLE OUR WATCH ON SULTRA'S APARTMENT," FLASH TELLS M.B.I. CHIEF, DEFTO. "SHE CLAIMS SHE HAS A TIP ON KANG'S HIDE-OUT WHICH SHE'LL ONLY TELL ME IN SECRET."
FLASH IGNORES SULTRA'S EFFORTS TO CHARM HIM AND IS SURPRISED AT HER CLUMSY RUSE OF POURING A POWDER INTO THE DRINK SHE OFFERS HIM.
FLASH DISTRACTS SULTRA'S ATTENTIONS LONG ENOUGH TO SWITCH THE GLASSES. SHE CHEERFULLY SWALLOWS THE DRINK INTO WHICH SHE HAD POURED THE COLORLESS POWDER.
BUT CLEVER SULTRA USED A NEW TRICK. BOTH DRINKS WERE DRUGGED AND THE POWDER WAS AN ANTIDOTE. SHE WAS SURE THE SUSPICIOUS FLASH WOULD TRY TO SWITCH GLASSES.
SULTRA FOOLS FLASH BY FEIGNING DROWSINESS. SHE TURNS ON THE TELESCREEN--WHICH IS A DISGUISED HYPNORAY MACHINE. FLASH FIGHTS VAINLY AGAINST THE POTION AND THE HYPNOTIC DEVICE....
HALF-CONSCIOUS, BUT HELPLESS, FLASH SEES SULTRA OPEN A SECRET PASSAGE TO ADMIT A KANG MAN SPY, BRUTO WHO GROWLS, "CAN I KILL HIM NOW?"
Copr. 1947, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved.
NEXT WEEK: SULTRA'S REVENGE.

You Haven't Got a Ghost of a Chance!
NO USE TRYING TO GRAB A WHIRL WITH THAT GIRL, JOE! SUE DOESN'T BELIEVE IN GHOSTS—NOT GHOSTS LIKE YOU ANYWAY!
WHO LET YOU INTO THE ACT, SAM? AND JUST WHAT ARE YOU SUPPOSED TO BE—A MIND READER OR SOMETHING?
IT DOESN'T TAKE A MIND READER TO KNOW HOW SUE FEELS ABOUT BAD BREATH, JOE! CATCH?
OUCH! ME? OKAY, CHUM! I'LL DO A FADE-OUT UNTIL I SEE MY DENTIST!
JOE SEES HIS DENTIST!
"HERE'S WHY: COLGATE DENTAL CREAM HAS AN ACTIVE PENETRATING FOAM THAT GETS INTO THE HIDDEN CREVICES BETWEEN TEETH—HELPS CLEAN OUT DECAYING FOOD PARTICLES—STOP STAGNANT SALIVA ODORS—REMOVE THE CAUSE OF MUCH BAD BREATH. AND COLGATE'S SOFT POLISHING AGENT CLEANS ENAMEL THOROUGHLY, GENTLY, SAFELY!"
COLGATE DENTAL CREAM DOES A SUPER JOB OF POLISHING TEETH, TOO! AND HOW I GO FOR COLGATE'S GRAND WAKE-UP FLAVOR!
LATER—THANKS TO COLGATE DENTAL CREAM
JOE'S SURE IN LUCK SINCE I SET HIM RIGHT! NOW SUE LETS HIM HAUNT HER HOUSE EACH NIGHT!
IT CLEANS YOUR BREATH WHILE IT CLEANS YOUR TEETH!
COLGATE RIBBON DENTAL CREAM
Always use COLGATE DENTAL CREAM after you eat and before every date
Tune In! DENNIS DAY Wed. Night NBC
